HERE'S HOW TO RECOGNIZE QUACKERY

Quacks are still in business, thriving on the hopes and fears of persons looking for smaller waistlines, larger bustlines, bulging biceps and a full head of hair. The Federal Drug Administration suggests a quick check of these favorite ploys of medical con artists.

- Is the product touted as a "new scientific breakthrough"?
- Does the promoter call his product a "secret cure"?
- Do the ads give testimonials from "satisfied users"?
- Does the product claim to cure everything under the sun"?
- Do ads refer to ill-defined pains and feelings"?

A mother's love begins before she feels the first faint flutter of life. It grows as she awaits this new individual who is developing as a unique person with his or her own distinct qualities.

A mother's love continues through endless diaper changes and sleepless nights, through report cards and puppy love. She rejoices in each triumph and grieves with each tragedy . . . always there . . . nurturing and loving.

God is like that . . . always there . . . watching over us as we learn and grow . . . or stumble and fall. He has created each of us as a unique individual. Yet, we share one common need . . . God's strong and loving care which can guide us along the paths we encounter as we travel through our lives.

Reach out to God with faith as we pray for His guidance and as we thank Him for mothers everywhere.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

IF YOU WANT TO KNOW GOD

May 13, 1990

Background Scripture: 1 John 4:7-21.
Devotional Reading: 1 John 4:1-9.

A little girl was busy at work with a piece of paper and some crayons. "What are you drawing?" asked her mother. "A picture of God," was the confident reply. The mother smiled and said, "But, darling, no one knows what God looks like." Without looking up from her work, the daughter snapped, "They will when I'm finished!"

The writer of 1 John said: "No man has ever seen God" (4:12). But he also goes on to suggest that, although God can not really be seen, he can be known. The key is love: "Beloved, let us love one another; for love is of God, and he who loves is born of God and knows God" (4:8).

CASTRO, KHADAFI & CO.

He goes even further: "He who does not love does not know God; for God is love." Notice, 1 John is not saying that loving God is enough: "...we also ought to love one another" (4:11). And to make it even plainer: "If any one says, 'I love God,' and hates his brother, he is a liar, for he who does not love his brother whom he has seen, cannot love God whom he has not seen" (4:20).

We are not talking about loving just those who are closest to us. Jesus said that anyone can love those who love us. It is something else to love those who are strange to us. It is difficult for a Democrat to love a Republican, or a Conservative to love a Liberal. Methodists may not find it all that easy to love Baptists and Baptists may find difficulty in loving Jews, Moslems or Hindus. And then there are Castro, Khadafi and the Ayatollah! Must we not love them?

TRUST VS. FEAR

The prerequisite is not lovability. Thomas Merton says, "If a man has to be pleasing to me, comforting, reassuring, before I can love him, then I cannot truly love him." This is true whether he be Jew or Christian, black or white. "If he has to belong to my political party or social group before I can love him...then my love is no longer love because it is not free...It is dominated by an appetite other than love. I love not the person, but his classification..."*

Why do we find it so hard to love the "unlovely"? Often it is fear that lies behind the hate. Hatred becomes our means of responding to and protecting ourselves from what threatens us. And if fear lies behind the hate, it is lack of faith that is the bedrock on which the fear is founded. If we are afraid of God's other children, it is because we do not trust God as Creator. It is as if we think he fouled-up in creating people who are different from us. "There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear." If we live in fear, if we cannot bring ourselves to love others, then we cannot know God. For when we love, we are as close to God as we can be.

'People Like Us' amazed author

Dominick Dunne proud of work

By Shelia Odak

Dominick Dunne is in awe over the new miniseries People Like Us, which airs May 13 and 14 on NBC. After all, the program is based on his book of the same name, so he is getting to watch the people and places step out of his imagination and into real life.

Dunne describes a visit he made to the set while filming was being done for the great ball scene. "There were all these, I don't know how many hundred, people there and they were all in evening clothes. There were these spectacular sets, and in one area of the sound stage there was a guy giving people samba lessons or something. I have to tell you something," his voice drops down to an amazed whisper, "I just, I thought, 'I'm responsible for this.' Ahhhh. It was such a feeling. I can't just be blase. It was fabulous."

The story, which stars Ben Gazzara and Connie Sellecca, deals with a journalist who is obsessed with avenging his daughter's murder and teams up with a young woman who hides a dangerous past. It is a very personal one for Dunne. The central character of the journalist is based upon himself, and deals with the feelings he had after the brutal murder of his own daughter, actress Dominique Dunne.

Though the book only touched upon that aspect of the story, the film will look at the murder more closely. Dunne, who did not have control of the final script, is not sure whether he likes this change. "I don't know how I feel about that, quite honestly. That's why I'm sort of nervous about that. I had only wanted to deal, and only did deal in the book, not at all with the death of Gus' (the journalist) daughter. I only dealt with the feelings of revenge Gus felt toward Lefty (the murderer)."

Dunne describes the experience of writing about something so painful as a way of acting out feelings and actions he couldn't and wouldn't take in real life. But, when the time came for Gus to kill Lefty, Dunne discovered that what he wouldn't do in real life, he also couldn't do in fantasy.

"And that's not because I felt any compassion for that man, believe me. It had nothing to do with him at all. It had something to do with me, and it was a very interesting thing for me to find out about myself," Dunne said.

Fans of the author will be pleased to note that along with the miniseries, Dunne has a new book coming out titled An Inconvenient Woman. Though some writers dread the accompanying round of personal appearances that follows a new publication, he is looking forward to it. Then again, Dunne is in love with all aspects of his profession.

"I just think it's counterproductive to bitch about how awful it is, 'cause it's not all that awful. I just think it's flattering that they want you. All they're doing is talking about you, and all you're doing is selling books. So, what's so awful? It's a nice problem to have."

NEWS & GOSSIP

Announcer set own records in major league

Can you guess who was the last player to steal home in a World Series? It was Tim McCarver, a catcher not known for his speed afoot. McCarver is on CBS Sports team covering Major League Baseball this year.

Whoopi Goldberg got a good review for her performance in Bagdad Cafe from a most important critic. "My mom said to me, 'How nice to see you grow again.'" Goldberg gives some of the credit to her co-star. "Every role is a challenge, but I was so delighted to be working with Jean Stapleton—and learning something new as an actress."

After filming the season finale of Knots Landing, Kevin Dobson traveled to Durham, N.C. and Richmond, Va. to visit veterans hospitals. Dobson, an Army veteran, is the official spokesman for the Veterans Administration.

Fashion fans will have a visual delight when they watch People Like Us, May 13 and 14 on NBC. The miniseries called for more than 1,100 costumes; Connie Sellecca's costume changes alone amounted to 32, and Ben Gazzara's to 38. The menswear worn by Gazzara, Paul Williams and Dennis Farina were from Cerruti, while the fashions worn by Sellecca, Teri Polo and Eva Marie Saint were from such noted designers as Scaasi, Donna Karan, Mary McFadden, Valentino, Escada, Christian Dior and Carolyn Roehme.

SOAP TALK

'Days' should clean up some roles

By Candace Havens

Dear Candace: First of all, I love Generations. I wish it was on for an hour. The fashions worn by the characters and the richness of the soap is really breathtaking.

Secondly, I am getting fed up with Days Of Our Lives. Steve plays the part of street gut and he has no employment, dresses terribly, his hair looks dirty and greasy and yet he always seems to have money for other things. The writers should give him a job and clean him up. Also Mike Horton, would you see a doctor looking like him? He dresses weird and is unshaven. He is not professional looking at all. I would like to see Days start shaping up the appearance of their characters. Let's find Steve a job and put him into society. Thanks for letting me sound off. —Harriet Slagle, East Liverpool, Ohio.

Dear Candace: I have watched Days Of Our Lives for several years and am very upset that the real Kim has left the show. She and Shane are my favorite couple. Without her the show isn't worth watching. —Upset in Conroe, Texas.

Dear Reader: Patsy Pease left Days Of Our Lives because she is pregnant. She was scheduled to work until mid-April, but she had complications early in her pregnancy and became very ill. She thought it was best to leave early, rather than risk the health of her baby. She does plan to return to the show several months from now.

I want to hear from you! If you have a favorite soap scenario you would like to sound off about, or a question about the soaps, write to Candace Havens, Soap Talk, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, TX 76102-0748.

Original cast members 'Return To Green Acres'

Role has become part of Alvy Moore

By Mary Ann Townsend

Alvy Moore regards his role as county agent Hank Kimball on Green Acres as one of his greatest career achievements. It's no wonder. Now nearly 20 years after the series ended, he continues to be recognized for that lovable character throughout the country.

The semi-retired actor/producer reprises that role when Return To Green Acres airs Friday, May 18, on CBS. Eight original cast members recreate their roles in the comedy.

"I don't think that we ever thought that Hank Kimball had a great deal of smarts. We try to make him the fun character that he was originally. I think that that was what people enjoyed about the role. I think it was that bumbling—and you can only take so much of him."

But Moore has been taking a lot of Kimball with him through the years. Having diverted off into producing (A Boy And His Dog) when the series ended in 1971, Moore said fans at the celebrity golf tournaments he frequents still love him in the role.

"When I first got out of Green Acres," he explained, "I'd sign my name 'Alvy Moore, Hank Kimball, Green Acres.' My wife said, 'Shouldn't you start just signing it Alvy Moore, kind of drop that image?' I tried that for a few times, but people wouldn't let me do that, so the majority of my life, even today, I just sign it, 'Alvy Moore, Hank Kimball, Green Acres.' I just put my name on it, that's part of the autograph that I sign."

Anthony Andrews makes most of roles in period pieces

By Shelia Odak

Period pieces. That seems to be the forte of cool, debonair British actor Anthony Andrews. He will be featured in yet another of these when CBS airs the Sherlock Holmes thriller Hands Of A Murderer.

Andrews has played such great historical roles as King Edward VII, the Scarlet Pimpernel and Nero. Even with these characters behind him, he is perhaps still best known as the teddy bear-carrying Sebastian Flyte of Brideshead Revisited.

Born in Hampstead, North London, Andrews made his stage debut at age 5. At 13, he went to the Royal Masonic school where he concentrated on his military training and drama.

He left school at 17 and went from job to job. After getting a position moving scenery at a theater, he realized that this was where he belonged. Eventually he broke into London's West End (the equivalent of Broadway) and British television.

His big break came when he was cast in the series Danger UXB, followed by Brideshead.

Andrews admitted that when he was filming Brideshead, he had no idea it would launch him into stardom in England and recognition in the States. "You never know for sure—everything you do, you hope will be special — but Brideshead just felt right."

Perseverance paid off big for the Divine Miss M

By Polly Vonetes

Q: I am a great admirer of Bette Midler. Could you please tell me how she got started acting, and where I could write her? —S.M. Marie, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

Bette Midler

A: Bette Midler was born in Paterson, N.J., Dec. 1, 1944. She owes her rather peculiar name to the fact that her movie buff mother thought Bette Davis' first name was pronounced the way it looked. Growing up Jewish and unhappy in Honolulu, she had few friends and she often felt lonely and different from other girls her age. Landing a role as an extra in the film Hawaii while a freshman at the University of Hawaii gave her a chance to change her life. She used her earnings to move to New York. It was 1965 and Bette supported herself as a file clerk at Columbia University, as a gloves sales clerk at Sterns department store and as a go-go dancer in a New Jersey bar. A year later she landed a role in Fiddler On The Roof. In 1972, she won a Grammy for her debut album, The Divine Miss M. In 1973, she won a special Tony for her one-woman concerts. In 1984, she married Harry Kipper. They have a daughter and live in Beverly Hills, Calif. Try writing her at: P.O. Box 46703, Los Angeles, Calif. 90046.

Q: Could you tell me the names of the twin sisters from the early '80s TV sitcom Double Trouble? —D.M. Robinson, Lincoln, N.H.

A: Liz and Jean Sagal played the Foster twins, Allison and Kate on Double Trouble. Being from a family of show business professionals, both girls were exposed to the business from an early age. Although, they have distinct personalities, they are both involved in acting, appearing in films, television and commercials.

Q: I would like to know about the actress Kate Jackson. I think she's a great actress and a beautiful, classy lady. I loved her show Scarecrow And Mrs. King. I haven't seen her since the series ended and I would like to know if she is still acting. I would also like to write to her just to say "hello" and tell her how much she is loved. —Karen Wright, Sault St. Marie, Mich.

A: During the last season of Scarecrow And Mrs. King, Jackson had breast cancer and had to cut back drastically on the hours she put into the final few episodes of that series. That also kept her from jumping into another series or movie after the demise of her series. In 1988 she starred in a new series for NBC called Baby Boom, which was canceled after a few airings. She is currently filming a CBS movie, The Stranger Within, in Minneapolis. Write her at: Rogers and Cowan, 122 E. 42nd St., New York, N.Y. 10168.

HOROSCOPE

May 13 through May 19

By A. Murphy

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Devote yourself to your garden this week. Resolutions to minor conflicts or misunderstandings can be revealed to you when your mind is busy with other work.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Recreation in the outdoors will bring you a needed break. Are the family finances all on one person's shoulders? Be sure to discuss what everyone can do to help out.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Reexamine your goals. Are you challenging yourself sufficiently? Are you accounting for all of your needs? If you feel completely happy, what more can you do?

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Remain friends with those from your past, but live in the present. There are messages for you in the words of those nearby. Look for the truth around you.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Without hurting anyone, cut out the deadwood around you to get closer to your goals. Leave the past behind. Invite family and friends to gather for a party.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
Investigate whether or not your art can pay off financially as well as self-satisfactorily. Spend a lot of time talking with new friends. Take a walk around town.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 22)
Despite what is fashionable today, wear the colors and styles that you like, those that make you feel good about yourself. Give up whatever is holding you back from your dreams.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
You can count on help from your family. Your abilities will be noticed and limitations previously felt will fall away. Visualize your own success and goals.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
Stay clear of anyone who frightens or annoys you. Write down your daily goals in the morning. Be reasonable. Include time for yourself and your art.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
When major plans fall through, there is always a drive in the country with a close friend, or movies or taking a walking tour of the flowers in your neighborhood.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
It takes a great deal of unselfishness to care for children. Make time for yourself to keep your mind fresh. Think of ways to become self-motivated.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Don't waste your time on a past love. This is your life right before you. Look at others as potential friends, not lovers. Your desired relationship will come soon enough.

TIME OUT

Indianapolis 500 time trials start off the week on ABC

By Jeff Thompson

Memorial Day weekend is nearly here, and ABC is getting into the spirit of things early by airing the time trials of the Indy 500 on Sunday, May 13.

A different mode of transportation will be making laps around the track on Saturday, May 19, also on ABC, when the prestigious Preakness Stakes airs.

ABC sports continues to win awards for its coverage of the sport of thoroughbred racing. As mentioned in an earlier column, the network received the 1989 Eclipse Award, thoroughbred racing's highest honor for "national television achievement." It had received the award in 1986 and 1987 as well. In 1987 it also received an Emmy for Outstanding Live Sports Special for its coverage of the Kentucky Derby.

The network plans to continue utilizing its isolated replay of the winner, which it has done the past four years. Fixed position, hand-held and unmanned, remote controlled cameras will offer views from the starting gate to the finish line when the Preakness Stakes, the second event in the prestigious Chrysler Triple Crown, airs on Saturday.

Don't forget to tune in to NBC on May 19 for the Master's Baseball Classic. The game will be played in Las Vegas.

CBS will carry live coverage of the Southwestern Bell Colonial NIT Golf Tournament, also on Saturday.

Edward Woodward (left) stars as Sherlock Holmes, and John Hillerman is his faithful friend, Dr. John Watson, in Hands Of A Murderer, Wednesday on CBS.

Moriarty still taunts in Sherlock Holmes story

John Hillerman plays Watson

By Mary Ann Townsend

John Hillerman, born and raised in Denison, Texas, has used a phony British accent in so many roles that many of his fans consider him a blue-blooded Briton. He utilizes that dialect again when he co-stars in the new Sherlock Holmes adventure Hands Of A Murderer, Wednesday, May 16, on CBS.

Hillerman plays the very British Dr. John Watson, Holmes' faithful friend. Edward Woodward stars as Holmes, and Anthony Andrews plays arch enemy Professor Moriarty.

An avid reader and book collector, Hillerman said he had never been a big fan of the mystery genre, but working on Hands Of A Murderer piqued his interest. He had seen all the Basil Rathbone-Nigel Bruce Sherlock Holmes movies, however, and said he added his own touch to the character of Watson.

"In the Basil Rathbone-Nigel Bruce things he was kind of saying, 'Golly, gee whiz, how brilliant you are,' and, although I still play Watson as fascinated by Holmes' deductive powers and as his chronicler, I play him more as a friend and collaborator, and as a man of intelligence. So it's slightly different than I've seen it played before," Hillerman explained.

Not an original Conan Doyle story, Hands Of A Murderer was written by Charles Edward Pogue, and as Hillerman reveals, "Moriarty has finally been captured by Holmes and is on his way to the gallows and cleverly escapes, which infuriates Holmes. And the chase is on, as they say."

SUNDAY: A breath of fresh air has hit our TVs as the May Sweeps usher in new programming. Take your pick: On CBS Lindsay Wagner stars in Shattered Dreams, a drama of a battered wife whose husband is a prominent Washington official; ABC airs the award-winning film Platoon; and NBC starts the evening with Do It Yourself Television, a tribute to American mothers, as captured by their children on video tape, followed by People Like Us, a four-hour miniseries based on Dominick Dunne's novel.

MONDAY: The Young Riders face the beginnings of the Civil War on ABC, while Corky announces her engagement on CBS' Murphy Brown. NBC airs part II of People Like Us.

Shelley Duvall special blends rock music and fairy tales

By Shelia Odak

Shelley Duvall, the creative drive behind such programs as the innovative Faerie Tale Theatre and Tall Tales and Legends, has done it again. She has managed to create a program which will appeal equally to all ages. The show is Mother Goose Rock 'N' Rhyme, and it premieres on The Disney Channel Saturday, May 19.

Shelley Duvall

Mother Goose Rock 'N' Rhyme is a musical romp through Rhymeland, featuring the best-loved characters from childhood as played by some of the entertainment industry's hottest performers.

Mother Goose (Jean Stapleton) has disappeared, so Little Bo-Peep (Shelley Duvall) and Mother Goose's son Gordon Goose (Dan Gilroy of the pop group Breakfast Club) set out to find her. On their journey they encounter other favorite characters including the Itsy Bitsy Spider (Ben Vereen), Old King Cole (Little Richard), Jack and Jill (Garry Shandling and Teri Garr) and Mary and her lamb (Cyndi Lauper and Woody "Cheers" Harrelson), to name just a few.

"Well, I just had for several years wanted to do a rock and roll Mother Goose," Duvall explained on the origin of the show. "That way it would be attractive to everybody and not just kids, because I like to make programs that we all can enjoy."

Duvall, as well as starring in this production, also wore the hat of executive producer. Though she only had 21 days in which to shoot, and 47 speaking roles to contend with, she and the entire cast and crew pulled together, intent on making the program a success. "Everyone who worked on Mother Goose gave their best performances—from the writers, artists and designers to the director, stars and crew—and the results are amazing," she stated. "It was a truly weird, wonderful experience."

Also premiering on May 19 is the HBO original film By Dawn's Early Light. In this powerful drama, the Soviet Union is tricked into launching missiles at the U.S. Then the president must decide whether to launch an equal attack, do nothing or launch a massive attack that would endanger life as we know it. Powers Boothe, Rebecca De Mornay, James Earl Jones and Martin Landau star.

In a time where peace seems to be the watchword, the question has been posed whether this film is actually relevant, or believable, against the backdrop of current events. James Earl Jones, who was also featured in the similar film The Hunt For Red October, says that it is. "Yes, (it remains relevant) the same way Hunt For Red October remained relevant. I think the closer we get to the dangerous area that precedes peace, the trickier it gets."

Garfield's imagination gets better of him in new special

By Anne Wheeler

Garfield, America's favorite nap-loving cat, goes on a hair-raising Walter Mittyish adventure as he resourcefully uses his own imagination to overcome his deepest fears in Garfield's Feline Fantasies.

Airing Friday, May 18, on CBS, the 30-minute show is an all-new comedy special created by cartoonist Jim Davis. Davis has been drawing the Garfield comic strip since 1978 and has produced dozens of best-selling books based on Garfield's adventures. Garfield And Friends, the top-rated CBS Saturday morning series, begins its third season this fall.

In Garfield's Feline Fantasies, Garfield's persistent daydreaming gets him into serious trouble. It takes him away from the comfort and safety of Jon's predictable home and puts him into several far-out and heroic roles, such as a submarine commander and a fast-draw Old West gunslinger. But that is only the beginning.

As smooth international adventurer Lance Sterling, for example, Garfield and his faithful canine pal Odie meet up against thieves in their search for the priceless Banana of Bombay. With cutthroats hot on their trail, even Garfield suspects he has gone too far, and it begins to look like he and Odie will never make it back to their home.

Lorenzo Music again is the voice of Garfield. Past Garfield television specials have received four Emmy Awards.

Mancuso (Robert Loggia) risks the wrath of his niece (Laura Leigh Hughes) when he tries to discredit her fiance on NBC's Mancuso FBI, Friday.

Angela Channing (Jane Wyman) proves she's back to her old self again as she plans to gain control of Falcon Crest, airing Thursday on CBS.

Oakland Chapter Of Eastern Star Honors Mothers

Oakland Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday, May 1, at the Paul B. Naylor Masonic Temple. Judy Travis, Worthy Matron opened with a reading "A Mother's Love." She then greeted Wilda Hile, Deputy Grand Lecturer, of the Grand Chapter of Maryland, and Juanita Bosley, Deputy Instructor of West Virginia, Joy Lou Fogle, Worthy Matron, of McKinley Chapter, of Cumberland; Archie Minor, Grand Representative; Elizabeth Mullennex, Past Matron, of Olive Branch Chapter, Keedysville; Past Matrons and Past Patrons, officers and members of Oakland Chapter.

May birthdays were celebrated, and the Worthy Matron gave her report of Grand Chapter recently held in Hagerstown. The Worthy Matron and Star Point officers presented a program "Tribute of Love to Mother," and a solo was rendered by Debbie Raynovich, followed by each mother receiving a bud vase and silk roses.

The Worthy Patron, Dick Travis, then honored Juanita Bosley and presented her with a gift.

A letter of communication from P. Edwina Wilkerson, Worthy Grand Matron was read, announcing that Mary Alice Millholland has been appointed Deputy Grand Lecturer for Oakland for the ensuing year.

The Worthy Matron announced the next meeting will be Tuesday, May 15, with an official visit from the Deputy Grand Lecturer and a Memorial Day program.

After closing, refreshments were served by Marie Shrout and her committee.

Safety Stressed During National Bicycle Month

Maryland's Drive to Survive Program, announced by Governor William Donald Schaefer, is calling on motorists to share the highway with bicyclists.

May is National Bicycle Month and bicycle safety experts in Maryland are gearing up for a public awareness capaign aimed at reducing the number of deaths and injuries among bicyclists on Maryland highways.

"There are approximately 10,000 Marylanders injured every year as the result of bicycle accidents," said John T. Overstreet Jr., chairman of the Safety Awareness Committee of the Baltimore Bicycling Club.

Appearing on the Maryland State Police Radio Program, a weekly public service radio broadcast, Overstreet said most of the injuries were among children. "Children 15 years of age or younger account for nearly two-thirds of all bicycle accidents," stated Overstreet.

There have been three bicylists killed on Maryland highways so far this year. There were nine bicycle fatalities recorded in Maryland during 1989.

"Safety is a team effort," said Overstreet, referring to the three "C's" of highway safety: communication, care and courtesy. Overstreet is urging bicyclists to wear protective head gear to help reduce unnecessary injuries and deaths on the highway. "Every bicyclist should wear a helmet," Overstreet said. "A helmet (also) gives you greater visibility," Overstreet added.

Although most accidents involving bicyclists are the result of operator error, bicycle safety experts recommend frequent bike inspections to help insure a safe ride. The National Safety Council suggests some important things to look for:

•Is the saddle tight and at the proper height?

•Are the reflectors clean, unbroken and positioned to pick up head light beams?

•Are the tires firm, properly inflated and free of cuts and cracks?

•Are the pedals wearing out? Do they have reflectors?

•Are the handlebars tight and set at the right height for the user?

•Are any spokes bent or broken?

•Are the tire valves straight and free of leaks?

•Are the headlight and taillight bright enough to be seen at night from 500 feet away? Check your state and local regulations for mandatory use.

•Does the bike have a horn or bell that sounds loudly and clearly?

•Is the chain snug, without broken or damaged links?

•Do the brakes, whether coaster or hand, stop the bike quickly and smoothly? With hand brakes, check the shoes to make sure they grip the rims.

The Maryland State Police Radio Program is a weekly public service broadcast carried on approximately 50 radio stations in Maryland and the District of Columbia. The program is supported by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration and the Maryland Department of Transportation.

Engineers Added To B&L Staff

Raymond Fowler

Dustin Hagg

Two persons have been added to the Engineering Department staff at the local Bausch & Lomb plant, according to Keith O'Daniels, department manager.

Raymond Fowler will report to Rich Rohrbaugh, manager of manufacturing engineering. Fowler is a graduate of Ohio State University with a bachelor of science degree and a master's degree in mechanical engineering. He will be responsible for all aspects of mechanical engineering at the plant, with emphasis on plastic frame manufacturing.

Dustin Hagg will report to Julie Schneider, supervisor of industrial engineering. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State University with a bachelor of science degree in industrial and management systems engineering. His duties will include supporting Dedicated Line section standards, design layout with work station design, and all other aspects of industrial engineering at the plant.

Fowler will reside in the Oakland area and Hagg resides at Deep Creek Lake.

Census Bureau Hiring Census Takers In Area

The U.S. Census Bureau is entering the non-response follow-up of the 1990 census. In order to complete this operation the Census Bureau must hire hundreds of census takers in each district office area.

With the end of the school year approaching quickly, now is the time for college students to apply for census work. Students may apply at the district office nearest their school. They do not have to wait to arrive back in their hometown. Applicant folders will be transferred. This is the perfect opportunity for temporary full- and part-time employment for the early summer.

These census takers will pick-up questionnaires from residents, interview them to obtain missing or incomplete census information from processed questionnaires and/or interview residents who did not return their forms. Enumerators are paid $6 per hour and $.24 per mile car allowance.

For further information persons may call the Hagerstown District Office at (301) 739-8520.

Women's Aglow To Meet May 16

The Cumberland Chapter of Women's Aglow Fellowship monthly meeting will be held May 16 at the Kensington Algonquin.

The speaker will be Pat Reedy, Frederick. She serves on the Maryland West Area Board as vice president of outreach.

Fellowship begins at 9:30 a.m., meeting from 10 a.m. to noon.

For babysitting or more information persons may call 895-5041.

Paralysis Assoc. To Host 1990 Pre-Teen Pageant

The American Paralysis Association (APA) will host the 1990 Maryland National Pre-Teen Pageant on August 24-25, at Days Inn, Timonium.

Garrett County girls between the ages of 8-12 who are involved in their community and have a good academic standing are eligible.

For more information, persons may call (301) 554-5413.

Tourism Grant Is Awarded To Western Maryand

Governor William Donald Schaefer has announced that Western Maryland will receive an $18,000 grant for the promotion of tourism in Allegany, Washington and Garrett counties. The grant funds, administered by the Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED), include $6,000 that requires matching monies from the region and a $12,000 direct grant.

"Tourism is a clean industry and an important source of jobs and income for all Marylanders," said the governor. "Western Maryland is ready to market itself as a prime visitor destination, and we want to help them do that," he said.

According to DEED Secretary J. Randall Evans, the Regional Grants program coordinated by DEED's Office of Tourism Development is in its third year. Grants are made annually to regional tourism promotional councils for use in media or print advertising, brochure production, participation in travel and consumer shows or expenses incurred for familiarization tours for writers, tour operators or meeting planners.

Other allowable expenses under the Regional Grants program include postage, market research and entertainment at a tourism-oriented event where all counties in the region are represented. The total amount of grants awarded for FY 91 to the six major Maryland regions is $150,000.

Christian Women To Convene At Will O' Wisp

The Oakland Chapter of Christian's Women's Club will host a luncheon May 16 at Will O' the Wisp, Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Pam Rowland, a native of Johnstown, Pa., will be the featured guest speaker and soloist. Mrs. Rowland is a homemaker with three grown children. She will share how her marriage was "transformed."

Becky Knox, Oakland, will demonstrate various techniques with scarf-tying. She will be providing information on color analysis. She is owner of Beauty Control in Oakland.

For more information about reservations and the free nursery, persons may call 334-8550 by May 14. Cost of the luncheon is $6.50. Reservations must be honored.

Maryland Arts Receive 25% Funding Boost

Sue Hess, chairman of Maryland Citizens for the Arts, has announced that the Maryland General Assembly passed Governor William Donald Schaefer's unprecedented $2.4 million increase for the Maryland State Arts Council. "This tremendous victory for the Maryland arts community represents a 25 percent budget increase," Hess said.

Hess, who led the aggressive statewide lobbying campaign for the increase, added, "This incredible — heralded increase will give qualified arts organizations across the state up to 10 percent of their operating budgets, which translates into continuity and stability for over 100 Maryland arts organizations. This is the first state in the country to mount such a program and it places Maryland at the forefront — the cutting edge — of the arts nationally."

Maryland Citizens for the Arts' original goal was to have a stable funding base of 10 percent for every qualified Maryland arts organization. In its 13 years of operation, Maryland Citizens for the Arts has been a catalyst in raising state funding for the Maryland State Arts Council from $460,836 in 1977 to $8,706,916 in 1991. In addition to the increase for arts organizations, every county arts council in Maryland will receive the largest increase ever to its basic grant from the Maryland State Arts Council.

Hess believes the success of this budget increase lies in the total statewide commitment to this lobbying effort. "It's wonderful when diverse arts organizations — large and small — relinquish proprietary interests and work for the good of all," she said.

In January, over 800 arts enthusiasts from every county attended Maryland Arts Day in Annapolis "to convince their state legislators that the arts are not a frill, but a vital, integral part of their lives," Hess said. "The results show the Maryland General Assembly agreed!"

Commencement Excercises Set At Frostburg State

Frostburg State University will hold its 96th commencement exercises this Saturday, May 12, beginning at 1:30 p.m. in the Physical Education Center on the University campus.

President Herb F. Reinhard will confer degrees on over 500 undergraduate and graduate students during the ceremony. Commencement addresses will be given by President Reinhard, and Marc Shapiro, student representative of the class of 1990.

Gaduating students from the University's Center in Hagerstown and program at Frederick have also been invited to participate in the ceremonies in Frostburg, however, a special reception set for May 11 at 7 p.m. at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts has also been planned.

Sponsored by the FSU Foundation and the Alumni Association, speakers at the reception will include Ronald L. Bowers, president of the Washington County Commissioners; Steve Sager, mayor of Hagerstown; and delegate Peter Calas, chair of the Washington County Legislative Delegation. Recognition of the graduating students will be given by Dr. Peter Ward, director of the FSU Center in Hagerstown.

Increasing enrollment and a capacity attendance at commencement ceremonies last December have also prompted University officials to require tickets for admission to the May 12 ceremony. Commencement coordinator Dr. David Gillespie said each graduate has received six guest tickets. He said students not needing the allotted six tickets have been asked to return any extras to him to be distributed on a first-come basis at the door on commencement day.

The main area will be open for ticket holders only from 12:15 p.m. to 1:10 p.m. The arena will open for non-ticket holders (if seats are available) at 1:10 p.m.

The Saturday ceremony will begin with a processional by the FSU Commencement Ensemble, followed by the National Anthem, led by senior Susan M. Knisley, and an invocation by Rev. Lawrence A. Newmark of the FSU United Campus Ministry. The Grand Marshal is Dr. Harold J. Cordts, and the Faculty Marshals are Dr. Paul P. Hunt and Dr. Gordon E. Kershaw.

A President's Reception will be held immediately following the ceremonies on the outer concourse of the Physical Education Center.

All graduates are required to attend commencement rehearsal on Friday, May 11, at 10 a.m. in the Physical Education Center.

NUTRITIONIST TO SPEAK — Amy Shuman, nutritionist with the Allegany Health Department, will speak on "Improving Health Through Good Nutrition" on Wednesday, May 16, at 7:30 p.m. at St. Mark's Lutheran Church. She will discuss ways to incorporate vegetables, whole grains, carbohydrates and vegetable proteins into the diet. A question and answer session will follow her talk and refreshments and informational literature will also be available. St. Mark's Lutheran Church is located at 6 South Second Street, Oakland.

Domenick Retains AAFP Membership

Dr. Mark Thomas Domenick, Oakland, has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The Academy, the country's largest medical specialty association with more than 68,000 members, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

As a family physician, Dr. Domenick is qualified to work in all major medical areas and trained to treat up to 90 percent of all patients. Family physicians care for all family members — all ages and both sexes.

The Academy, headquartered in Kansas City, MO, was instrumental in establishing the medical specialty of family practice in 1960. The Academy is the advocate for patients and endeavors to educate the public in all health-related matters. The organization works to preserve and promote quality, cost-effective health care. It promotes the science and art of family medicine and works to ensure an optimum supply of well-trained family physicians. The Academy also provides advocacy, representation and leadership for the specialty of family practice.

Public Hearing On Growth Issues Set In Hagerstown

Michael D. Barnes, chairman of the Governor's Commission on Growth in the Chesapeake Bay Region, has announced the commission will meet May 15 in Hagerstown to conduct a public hearing for Western Maryland residents to comment on growth management issues.

"How Maryland will manage its growth over the next 30 years may be the most important issue facing the state today," Barnes said.

"Each Marylander should have the opportunity to voice his opinion on the direction he believes Maryland should take," he added.

The meeting will be held Tuesday, May 15, from 7-9 p.m. at the Courthouse Annex, 2nd floor Conference Hall, Washington County Commissioners' Chambers, Summit Avenue in Hagerstown.

Governor William Donald Schaefer appointed the 33-member commission of Growth in the Chesapeake Bay Region in October 1989 to study future growth in the Chesapeake Bay watershed. Commission chairman Barnes is a former U.S. Congressman from Montgomery County.

Since its creation, the commission has been conducting semi-monthly fact-gathering sessions in Baltimore and Annapolis, learning of the many issues involved in proper growth management. Following the regional hearings the commission will continue to hold semimonthly public sessions during June and July.

Drafting of the commission's final report is scheduled to begin in August, with the final "action agenda" to be delivered to Governor Schaefer's office in late 1990.

Receives Degree, Honors At Pitt

Lisa Major received a bachelor of science degree in physical therapy from the School of Health Related Professions at the University of Pittsburgh during commencement exercises April 28.

She is the daughter of John and Sandy Major, Oakland, and a 1986 graduate of Richland High School in Gibsonia.

While at the University of Pittsburgh, Major received several awards. She was a University of Pittsburgh Valedictorian Scholar, a member of the dean's list, the Alison Bentley Kephart Award winner, and an Emma Locke Award Nominee. She is also a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the Golden Key national honor society and an Honors Convocation-University scholar.

Major was a member of the Pitt Marching Band, the Pep Band, and a Resident Student Association representative. She also acted as an one-on-one volunteer for the Hand-in-Hand Festival, student liaison for the Pennsylvania Physical Therapy Association, and a little sister to Pi Kappa Phi.

Fever Mounting Locally For Annual National Pike Festival

by Esther Bender

Grantsville, Maryland, the highest incorporated town on our nation's first national road, is the place to drive for the National Pike Festival, May 19-20.

Travelers from the east may celebrate as they drive: this is the second year activities are scheduled in towns from Frederick west along scenic (old) Route 40. Travelers from the west may take in activities in Pennsylvania towns, where this is the sixteenth year for the festival. Traveling the Old Pike during the festival is a great way to take a leisurely family tour. But end up in Grantsville.

Why? Grantsville is top of the Pike. Come see the mountains the early settlers climbed. Travel the road over Negro Mountain and Keyser's Ridge where the first road was built by General Braddock's men, one of whom wrote, the "baggage was with cruel labor drawn," and cannon and wagons were "lowered with block and tackle," and "deep morasses were threaded where troops sank ankle deep in the clinging mire."

Why come to Grantsville? To see "Casselman Bridge," a restored single-span stone bridge across the Casselman River which was the longest span in the nation at the time of its building. The location is a river ford named by George Washington, "Little Crossings."

Why come to Grantsville? There are free things to do for the whole family. Here are some of them:

See the wagon train. With horses and wagons of many early styles, the train will travel west on Old 40. You are welcome to walk through the wagon train at any of the stops, take photographs, and talk to the train members and their families. One wagon will be pulled by what is known locally as "Decker's Budweiser Horses." The following schedule gives touch-points to help you pick a place to see the train sometime during the festival.

Saturday, May 19:

9:00 a.m. — Train leaves traveling west from the top of Big Savage Mountain (slightly east of Finzel exit from Route 48).

Noon — Lunch at Green Lantern (no exit from Route 48).

1:30 p.m. on the road again.

3:30 p.m. Arrive at the Casselman Bridge State Park where they will camp for the night in Spruce Forest Artisan Village (restored log houses).

Sunday, May 20:

8:30 a.m. Short worship service at the camp given by a costumed minister, open to public.

9:00 a.m. Start west through Grantsville. While no parade is planned, the train with its flags and costumed riders will be a colorful attraction.

Noon — Rest at valley between Negro Mountain and Keyser's Ridge.

1:30 p.m. On the road again, promptly pass Keyser's Ridge exit of Route 48 and continue on to the Pennsylvania State line.

Spruce Forest Artisan Village (895-5985) will have artisans working all day Saturday. Some crafts demonstrated there are wool-dyeing, weaving, stained glass, bird carving, and pottery making.

Potter-in residence, Lynn Lais, has studied under European potters and makes a distinctive style of pottery. Bird-carver, Gary Yoder has won world class carving competitions. All artisan demonstrations are free for the Pike Festival. Demonstrations are housed in log and plank buildings dating in age from pre-Revolutionary War to 1880. A genuine old stagecoach will be there as well as an antique gun collection from the Friend Museum.

In adjoining Penn Alps Restaurant and Crafts Store (895-5985), ask to see the dining room where plaster has been removed to reveal the logs of an 1818 stagecoach inn.

Then walk across the Casselman Bridge, known locally as "Old Sensation" because it gave tummy tickles when going across by car. On the other side of the bridge is a small state park. A full evening of events is planned for Saturday night at Spruce Forest and the park.

At 4:30 Saturday afternoon, local elementary school children will present the Walt Disney musical, "Davy Crockett" on outdoor stage.

There will be a bonfire at the park, food concessions by Northern High Band Boosters, and the following scheduled events:

5:30 String Band Performance by Ron Dolan Family.

6:30 Hammers and Strings (dulcimer folk instruments).

7:30 History of the Stone Arch Bridge by Dr. Alta Schrock.

8:00 Fiddles and Guitars by the Allen Birkby Family, past winners of the Maryland State Fiddling Championship.

8:30 Tales of the National Pike by Jack Caruthers, local historian and story-teller.

9:00 Presentation of award to Ivan J. Miller family in memory of Mr. Miller's contributions to the town of Grantsville and its first Pike Festival. Announcement of winners of the National Pike Elementary School Poster Contest.

The Grantsville Sportsman's Club will have a Saturday Muzzle Loader Match beginning at 1:00 p.m., followed by a dance featuring country and western music by The Aspen from 9:30 to 12:30. The Club will open at 7:00 Sunday morning for breakfast and serve food all day. A Shotgun Match will begin at 1:00 p.m.

The Grantsville Holiday Inn (895-5993) will hold an Antique Show, Saturday and Sunday from 11:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Other places to visit on Saturday while in the area are Yoder's Country Market and Meat Packers (895-5148); historic Casselman Restaurant and Motor Lodge (895-5266); Casselman Lumber's Kitchen and Bath Designer Showroom (895-3271); Casselman Ventures (895-5266) which houses an antique mini-mall, thrift store, quilting supply and fabric store, and import gift shop; Little Meadows Campground and Lake (895-5675), Grantsville Lion's Town Park offers tennis courts, ball fields, pavilion, bathrooms, and play equipment.

Sponsoring organization for the festival is the Grantsville Rotary Club. The festival is supported by the National Pike Organizing Committee, Garrett County Wagon Train Association, Mountain Top Wagon Train Association, Garrett County Commissioners, Garrett County Arts Council, Garrett County Public Schools, and Mayor and Town of Grantsville.

For general information about the festival, call Washington County Visitor's Bureau, 1-800-228-STAY.

NATIONAL PIKE FESTIVAL
MAY 19-20

THE HISTORIC CASSELMAN BRIDGE, at one time the largest single span stone bridge in the nation, will be among the many sights to be enjoyed by participants in the annual National Pike Festival, slated for May 19-20. The Garrett County Commissioners visited the bridge this week to help local festival organizers kick-off the event. Pictured left to right are Commissioner Elwood Groves, Danny Klotz, coordinator of the festival for Grantsville; Commissioner Ernie Gregg; Ken Resh, coordinator of the wagon train; Grantsville Mayor Fred Holliday; and Commissioner John Braskey. The festival, now in its 16th year, features scores of activities along scenic U.S. Route 40. The community of Grantsville, where the Casselman Bridge is located, will be hosting a number of activities during the festival. See story for details.

THANK YOU

The Gorman Volunteer Fire Department along with the Ladies Auxillary would like to thank everyone for attending and supporting our annual Ramp Dinner. We would also like to thank those who donated items to make the dinner a success.

Lorna Knotts, Alan Roth United In Marriage In July Ceremony

Lorna Hope Knotts and Alan Ray Roth exchanged wedding vows in a July 22 ceremony held at Maple Springs Church of the Brethren, Eglon, W.Va., with the Rev. Bradley Shaffer officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Clarence J. and Alma L. Knotts, Amboy, W.Va., and the groom is the son of Carol Roth of Horse Shoe Run, W.Va.

The bride wore a gown of bridal satin with a bead appliqued lace bodice. The dress was made by Teresa DeLauder of Design Your Own, Amboy.

Maid of honor was Beverly Snyder, friend of the bride. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Wotring and Beth Bishop, also friends of the bride. Crystal Massey, niece of the bride, served as flower girl.

Serving as best man was Derrick Radford, friend of the groom. Ushers were Floyd Massey, brother-in-law of the groom, and Ed Roth, brother of the groom. Grant Harsh, friend of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Following a honeymoon trip to Ohio, the couple established residence in Horse Shoe Run.

Open House Slated For Gaither Couple

An open house will be held on Saturday, May 12, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the Bayard United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall to celebrate the 40th wedding anniversary of Edwin (Dude) and Edith Gaither, Bayard, W.Va.

All friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Correction Noted

In the engagement and wedding announcement of Tina Friend and Charles Francis Fox, which appeared in last week's issue of The Republican, it was stated that the two would be married on June 7.

The announcement should have read that the wedding would take place June 17 at 2:30 p.m. in the Hoyes United Methodist Church, Elder Hill.

We apologize for any inconvenience.

Mellott-Buchert Wedding Slated

Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Mellott, Swallow Falls, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Lavinia Christine, to Richard Roy Burhert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buchert, Boyertown, Pa.

Miss Mellott is a 1988 graduate of Swallow Falls Academy, and has attended Cshey School of Music, Muncy, Pa., and Elim Bible Institute, Lima, N.Y. Mr. Buchert is a 1987 graduate of Boyertown Sr. High School and a 1990 graduate of Elim Bible Institute, where he majored in pastoral ministry.

The wedding will take place on May 19 at 2 p.m. at Crellin Assembly of God, Crellin. A reception will be held at the Deer Park Fire Hall. Though some invitations have been sent, all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Lipscomb-Snyder Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne K. Lipscomb, Morgantown, W.Va., announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Lesa Ruth, to James Alan Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jackie E. Snyder, Aurora, W.Va.

The bride-elect is a 1984 graduate of Morgantown High School and is currently employed by First United National Bank and Trust of Oakland.

Mr. Snyder is a 1984 graduate of East Preston Sr. High and is currently employed by Bausch and Lomb, Mt. Lake Park.

The wedding will take place June 16, 1990, at 12:30 p.m. at the Aurora United Methodist Church, Aurora, W.Va. Although some invitations have been sent, family and friends are welcome to attend.

Ms. Criss To Wed Mr. Wiles

The wedding of Kathryn Marie Criss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Moon, Mtn. Lake Park, and Michael Allen Wiles, son of Sam Miligaccio and Marjorie Wiles Miligaccio, also of Mtn. Lake Park, will take place on Saturday, May 19, at 4 p.m. at the Bethel United Methodist Church, Mtn. Lake Park.

A reception will follow the ceremony at the VFW in Deer Park. Although some invitations have been sent, all friends and relatives are welcome to attend.

Bateman/Nicklin Couple To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. John Bateman, Oakland, have announced the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Debra Michelle, to Shawn Douglas Nicklin, son of Mrs. Donna Garman, Deer Park, and George Nicklin, Wilmington, N.C.

The couple are both 1989 graduates of Southern High School and currently attend Garrett Community College. They are both majoring in secondary education.

No date has been set for the wedding.

GCC Students Inducted Into Phi Theta Kappa

Thirty-eight new members were inducted into the Phi Theta Kappa National Honorary Society at Garrett Community College's second annual induction ceremony last month. The dinner was attended by last year's inductees and planned by Phi Theta Kappa officers and advisor George McDowell.

Following an introduction by McDowell, Dr. Steve Herman, GCC president, welcomed everyone and Conrad Maust gave the invocation. President Philip Rodeheaver and Vice President Linda Oester spoke about Phi Theta Kappa ideals and symbols, after which Dr. Lillian Mitchell presented certificates of membership to new inductees and Dr. Nancy Priselac supervised the signing of the roster.

New members inducted were: Pamela Ashby, Rebecca Amtower, Denise Bachtel, Deborah Baker, Debra Bateman, Jennifer Birkby, Norma Broadwater, Peggy Brown, Diane Davis, Tiffany Dunithan, Mary Durst, Deanna Everly, Wilma Friend, Janet Glotfelty, Linda Gordon, Ruth Groves, Donna Hall, Pamela Hook, Patty Jackson, Scott Kapel, Mindy Lee, Jeri S. Lewis, Diana Liller, Rita Liller, Elizabeth Louie, Daniel Malone, Jason Maust, Linda May, Chad McCullough, Shawn Nicklin, Dianne Rice, Brenda Robinette, Edith Sheppard, Mary Stemple, Richard Stevens Jr., Vonda Swaney, Lisa Swauger, and Lisa Sweitzer.

In order to be eligible for membership in Phi Theta Kappa, a student must have completed a minimum of 12 credit hours and must have at least a 3.5 grade point average.

INDUCTED INTO PHI THETA KAPPA — Over three dozen Garrett Community College students were recently inducted into the GCC chapter of Phi Theta Kappa National Honor Society. To be eligible for membership a student must earn at least a 3.5 grade point average for a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester. Pictured above are 28 of the 38 inductees. They are: front row, left to right, Patty Jackson, Mary Durst, Jennifer Birkby, Linda May, Vonda Swaney, Elizabeth Louie, Rebecca Amtower, Debra Bateman, Lisa Sweitzer, and Donna Hall. In the second row, same order, are Richard Stevens, Peggy Brown, Lora Evans, Rita Liller, Janet Glotfelty, Wilma Friend, Brenda Robinette, Linda Gordon, Mary Stemple, Deanna Everly, and Shawn Nicklin. In the third row, same order, are Ruth Groves, Dianna Liller, Dianne Rice, Denise Bachtel, Deborah Baker, Tiffany Dunithan, and Jeri Lewis.

REAL ESTATE

BY ROBERT HUEBNER
DEEP CREEK REALTY

"POINTS" OF INTEREST!

One key aspect of buying or selling a home is financing. Unless a buyer pays cash for a home, a mortgage loan must be obtained. Like other types of loans, three factors will be present — the amount being borrowed, the term of the loan and the interest rate.

Using the example of a $100,000 mortgage loan at 10% for a 30-year period, the monthly payments would be $877.57. On the surface that seems simple enough — the purchaser is paying 10% interest for use of the lender's money.

Enter the term "points" or "discount points" however and the loan picture changes. The mortgage money market is a volatile one and changes daily. Rather than change interest rates on a daily basis to provide the lender with an acceptable "yield" on the mortgage, lenders may require payment of a one-time fee at closing called "points". Each "point" is equal to one percent of the original loan amount.

If the lender requires a yield of 10.31%, a fee of three discount points may be charged. This means that a fee equal to three percent of the loan or $3,000 would be paid to the lender by either buyer or seller on the day of closing. This payment has the net effect of reducing the amount of the loan to $97,000. The ten percent interest rate is still paid, however, on the $100,000 loan amount. Having loaned only $97,000, but receiving 10% interest on $100,000 raises the lender's yield to an acceptable level.

On most loans, points may be paid by either buyer or seller, thus they become a negotiated item in a real estate transaction. For details about discount points and financing, ask a REALTOR® .

G&T STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN EARTH DAY — The Garrett County gifted And talented elementary students were well represented at the recent Environmental Fair held at Garrett Community College on Earth Day, April 22. All four G&T teachers and 14 students from Accident, Broad Ford, Dennett Road, Friendsville, and Grantsville Schools presented products which were the result of individual and group research. Activities and demonstrations included pollution, oil spills, acid rain, landfills, recycling, overpopulation, the ozone layer, the greenhouse effect and beach erosion. The students were involved in "real life" problem solving, a curricula goal of the G&T program. Shown above left, left to right, are Matthew Schick and Sam Tuomisto from Dennett Road; above right, same order, standing, are Amanda Downton, Jamie Jo Vent, David Butler, and Kristy Spiker. Seated, in the same order, are Nathan Rawe and Jeannette Slagle, all from Grantsville Elementary School. Shown below, at left, is Abigail Nichols, Dennett Road, and below right, Adam Herbert, left, and Nathan Rickman, representing Broad Ford Elementary School. At far right is Megan Sines, displaying a global warming project from Friendsville Elementary School.

Maryland 4-H Natural Resources Camp Scheduled

Earth Day 1990 is over, but Maryland youngsters age 12 through 18 will have an opportunity to continue their environmental education at the 4-H Natural Resources Summer Camp scheduled July 2-6. The camp, sponsored by the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service (MCES), will be held at the Rocks 4-H Camp north of Bel Air in Harford County.

"Our goal is to make learning about the environment fun," says Bob Tjaden, a regional natural resources specialist with MCES. "The camp agenda is based on the planning committee's philosophy of 'tell me, I'll forget; show me, I may remember; but involve me, and I'll understand.'"

Involvement for the campers will include tubing down Deer Creek, exploring wildlife habitats, measuring and determining the age of trees, conducting water quality tests and hiking to King and Queen Seat, an historic landmark.

The youngsters also will investigate a sensitive water quality issue during a role-playing game called "Hometown USA." Afterward, they will get a chance to see how a panel of farmers, developers, elected officials and agency representatives deals with the same issue.

Three field trips, including visits to a wildlife farm, the Conowingo Dam and a wastewater treatment facility, will round out the camping experience.

Anyone interested in attending the 4-H Natural Resources Summer Camp should contact the Garrett County Extension Office, 334-1990. A $60 registration fee is due by June 8.

Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up

Potomac Edison's Kaelin To Retire

Potomac Edison President Elmer B. Kaelin will retire on June 1, 1990, following nine years as president and 25 years of service with the Allegheny Power System, PE's parent company. Kaelin, a member of the Maryland Higher Education Committee and the State Board of Education, will continue his involvement in education following his retirement.

A dinner honoring Kaelin and his achievements will be held Friday, May 25, at the Sheraton Inn on the Dual Highway in Hagerstown. A reception will begin at 6:30 p.m. with dinner at 7:30 p.m. The program will follow at 8:15 p.m.

Among those paying tribute to Kaelin at the dinner will be Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer, Potomac Edison Chief Executive Officer Klaus Bergman, Maryland Public Service Commission Chairman Frank Heintz, Maryland Delegate Casper Taylor, Virginia Delegate Al Smith and other dignitaries and officials.

Annual Scholarship Fund Established

The Bethel United Methodist Board of Trustees is coordinating an annual scholarship fund that has been established by the John S. Williams Family in memory of Margaret E. Williams.

The first annual scholarship will be awarded in February of 1991 in the amount of $500. A memorial scholarship fund has also been established.

Recipients will be selected on academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, enthusiasm, responsibility, motivation to learn and improve, attitude and cooperative spirit.

Any person wishing to contribute to the scholarship fund or to obtain more information about the scholarship should contact the Bethel United Methodist Board of Trustees or Connie Trickett.

Suit Settled Just Prior To Jury Selection

A case arising from a motor vehicle collision was settled out of court immediately prior to jury selection recently in the Garrett County Circuit Court. According to the claimants' attorney, Paul C. Sullivan, the claim of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Smith, Bloomington, was settled with Erie Insurance Company for an undisclosed amount. Erie required nondisclosure of the amount as a condition of the settlement.

According to documents filed in the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Mr. and Mrs. Smith were traveling west on Route 135 in Garrett County and Mark W. Lipscomb, Swanton, was operating a 1969 Chevrolet Camaro owned by Wanda J. Ward, Swanton, westbound on the same roadway directly behind the Smith vehicle. According to the Smiths, Lipscomb was pulling too close, dropping back, pulling close again and repeating that driving behavior to harass the Smiths. There was a history of an employment dispute between Lipscomb and the Smiths' son. As Mr. Smith attempted to slow down and pull off the side of the roadway, Mr. Lipscomb's vehicle collided with the rear end of the Smith vehicle.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were transported to the Potomac Valley Hospital by Tri-Town Rescue Squad, having suffered injuries. Mr. Smith is employed by D&L Coal Company. Mrs. Smith is a housewife and claimed a permanent impairment to her earning capacity for which there was a recovery.

This case was additionally unusual in that the Smiths appeared in court prepared to try the case, despite having previously accepted a settlement offer from Erie. Erie denied a settlement was agreed to, alleging that its offer of settlement was withdrawn before it was accepted by the Smiths. The Smiths threatened to dismiss the suit against Lipscomb and Ward and then sue Erie directly on the basis of settlement agreement. Erie finally, and immediately before jury selection, agreed again to the settlement originally offered. The settlement agreement was put on the court record to avoid any additional complications with the terms of settlement.

As the case was settled favorably to the claimants, the defendants were required to pay the costs of the proceedings in addition to the settlement amount to the Smiths. Lipscomb and Ward were represented by William M. Rudd, Cumberland, and Richard Green, Oakland.

DCL Lions Club Gives $2,000 To Quest Program

The Deep Creek Lake Lions Club recently donated $2,000 to the "Quest" program currently in place in Garrett County's two middle schools.

Duane Weaver, club president, made the presentation to Gerry Beachy, Lions Club District 22-W Drug Awareness co-chairman April 24, after Beachy showed the film, "Quest — It Works," to the Deep Creek Lake organization. Also present were the two area "Quest" teachers, Linda Youmans and Michelle Zollner-Gnegy, who have been teaching the program since its local inception three years ago.

According to Beachy, "Quest — Skills for Adolescents" is more than simply an anti-drug abuse program. It centers on teaching 10-14 year-olds to develop and use positive methods of dealing with life choices and problems they are likely to encounter. They study and practice decision-making techniques, communication skills and ways of dealing effectively with peer pressure.

The program was initiated in Western Maryland by District Governor Tom Jefts and the Lions of District 22-W, a district which encompasses the western portion of Maryland, extending from Garrett County to an area east of Westminster and Gaithersburg. Since the program's inception local Lions Clubs and area businesses have worked together to raise over $27,000 to train 15 teachers and counselors and to purchase student and parent workbooks, teacher manuals and student textbooks.

Since the program originated in 1984, more than 12,000 communities and schools throughout the world have participated in the "Quest" program, "Skills for Adolescents."

Persons or members of organizations interested in hearing more about the local "Quest" program may schedule a viewing of "Quest — It Works!" by calling Gerry Beachy at 895-5177 or 826-8204.

Yard Sale Set By Kitzmiller Seniors

The Area Agency on Aging "Eating Together" site at Kitzmiller is sponsoring a yard sale on May 18, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., in front of the Kitzmiller Community Building. Anyone wishing to donate items may take them to the meal site on Tuesday, Wednesday, or Thursday of the same week.

On April 26, 20 seniors attended a birthday dinner in honor of Gerald Iman, Billy Marley, Clyde Griffith, Kay Friend, Isabella Elliott, Nellie Junkins, Lena Uphold, and Lula White. Each celebrant received a gift.

Leanna Marks, R.N., Garrett County Health Department, visited the site on April 3 and May 1. Seniors received blood pressure and blood sugar screenings and health education materials. Ms. Marks is scheduled to visit again on June 5.

Cathy A. Helbig Receives Award To Attend FSU

Cathy A. Helbig, Oakland, has been selected to receive a Meritorious Achievement Award from Frostburg State University for the upcoming 1990-91 academic year.

Mrs. Helbig, who will graduate from Garrett Community College this spring, plans to major in elementary education at FSU.

While at GCC, she was elected to Phi Theta Kappa, named twice to "Who's Who" and was a Dean's List student for three semesters. She is a graduate of Southern High School.

She and her husband, Eugene Jr., have two children.

Funding for the award is provided by the University of Maryland System and is administered by the Frostburg State University Scholarship Committee. Selection is based on academic achievement leadership qualities, or demonstrated abilities in the visual or performing arts.

For more information about the awards, persons may contact the FSU Financial Aid Office, (301) 689-4301.

Marylanders Spend $89 Million On Entertainment

Marylanders spent more than $89 million on taxable entertainment during January, February and March 1990, 11.4 percent more than during the same three months of the previous year, according to State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein.

"This year's mild winter weather provided some surprises in how Marylanders spent their entertainment dollars," Goldstein said. "The success of the professional sports teams in Maryland also contributed to increased spending."

Marylanders spent more than $17 million for athletic events, a 69.6 percent increase over the same period last year. The increase seems to be largely due to fan support of Maryland's various professional sports teams.

"The weather created some unusual patterns of spending," Goldstein said. "For example, golf greens fees, cart rentals and driving ranges were responsible for consumer spending of $1.5 million, up 22 percent. The warmer weather apparently drew golfers out in force, while spending on skiing and ski rentals, normally at its peak, actually declined by 7.6 percent, to $1.8 million."

Skating and skate shoe rentals, another favorite wintertime activity, declined by nearly 24 percent, to just over $1 million.

Admissions to nightclubs totalled $2.8 million, off 125 percent, reflecting the closing of some major entertainment facilities.

Marylanders increased their spending for theatre and concerts by 69 percent, to more than $3 million. However, spending for movie tickets, another popular wintertime activity, was off by about two-thirds of one percent, to $17.1 million.

"All of this spending for entertainment generates admissions and amusement tax revenue which our office collects for Maryland's counties, cities and towns," Goldstein said. "We are now sending checks totalling $6,405,903 to local governments as their share of these admissions and amusement tax receipts."

"This distribution is 15.4 percent more than the $5,549,118 we returned to the local governments for the same period of 1989," he said. "We collect this revenue at rates set by local officials and return the money to local governments each quarter."

The amounts being returned to Garrett County for the quarter was $81,763.77, compared to $81,673.59 for the same quarter the previous year.

Friendsville Man Sentenced To 30 Days In Jail

A Friendsville man was sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail by Judge Jack Turney during recent trials at Garrett County District Court.

William Sines, 62, Friendsville, was found guilty of a charge of battery. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then placed Sines on six months unsupervised probation.

The charge was filed by Cpl. G.A. Berkebile, Maryland State Police, after an incident which occurred February 27 at the Riverside Lounge in Friendsville. John R. Toston represented Sines.

Dannie A. Stemple, 35, Mt. Lake Park, was found guilty of a charge of inhaling a harmful substance. He was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. The charge was filed by Chief J.K. Sines, Oakland Police Department, after an incident which occurred March 9 on Liberty Street in Oakland.

Leslie Alan Bittinger, 24, Oakland, was found guilty of two counts of uttering bad checks. For each charge, he was fined $25 and sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Bittinger on two years probation.

Charges of theft and felony theft were not prosecuted. The charges were filed by Eisentrout's Used Cars, after Bittinger apparently uttered two checks on November 28 and December 6 in the amounts of $2,323 and $600. Bittinger was found guilty at a trial held March 13 and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Barbara J. Davis, Swanton, was found guilty of four counts of uttering bad checks. She was fined $25 for each charge and sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Davis on 12 months unsupervised probation.

The charges were filed by Sharon Perando, manager of Plaza Deli, after Davis apparently wrote the checks between November 28 and December 5. Three of the checks were uttered for $200 and one was uttered for $50.

Lisa Marie Fike, Friendsville, was found guilty of a charge of uttering a bad check. She was fined $25 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Fike on 12 months unsupervised probation. The charge was filed by Marsha Smith, Mt. Lake IGA, after Fike apparently uttered a check for $45 on December 4.

Charges of reckless endangerment, assault and battery against Richard Alvin Burgess, 34, Kitzmiller, were placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed by Ralph A. Lucas Jr., Kitzmiller, after an incident which occurred December 2. Robert Watson represented Burgess.

A charge of battery against Daniel Richard Michaels, 37, Kitzmiller, was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Ralph A. Lucas Jr., Kitzmiller, after an incident which occurred December 2. Robert Watson represented Michaels.

Charges of fourth degree sex offense and battery against Paul E. Kuhn Jr., 50, Mt. Lake Park, were placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed by Brenda Sue Rose, Oakland, after incidents which occurred in January of 1990. John R. Toston represented Kuhn.

A charge of theft against Robert Lee Hutzel, 23, Grantsville, was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Arti Ellen Lantz, Oakland, after Hutzel supposedly stole a car stereo valued at less than $300 on February 22.

Charges of breaking and entering, malicious destruction of property and battery against Mark Jennings Wells, 24, Deer Park, were placed on the stet docket. The charges were filed by Shirley Ann Schrock, Oakland, after an incident which occurred March 7.

Another charge of battery against Wells was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Linda Marie Wells, Oakland, after an incident which occurred March 7.

A charge of battery against Robin Elaine Rohrbaugh, 18, Oakland, was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Eric L. Germain, Oakland.

A charge of battery against Albert Neal Sweitzer, Deer Park, was placed on the stet docket. The charge was filed by Eric L. Germain, Oakland.

SENIORS COMPLETE RAFFLE QUILT — Ladies at the Oakland Senior Center have recently completed a quilt (which included embroidering, piecing and quilting) to benefit the Area Agency on Aging nutrition program, the Southern Rescue Squad and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department. The quilt will be on display at the Ruth Enlow Library during the month of May — which has also been designated as Older Marylanders Week. The quilt will be raffled during Autumn Glory festivities. Shown above are those women who helped construct the quilt, left to right, Mabel Cassidy, Hilda Winters, Nettie Peck, Mildred White, Edith Rodeheaver, Mary Browning, Lorna Dodge, Evelyn Harvey, Ruth Mateer, Betty Wilt and Chris Fischetti. Others who participated in the project (not pictured) were Mildred Savage, Freda Brown, Marion Wright, Dessie Bell, Grace Quinet, Edna Lewis, and Genevieve Schleigh.

ARMED SERVICES REVIEW

Airman 1st Class Michael R. Bittinger has graduated from the U.S. Air Force aircraft maintenance course at Sheppard Air Force Base, Texas.

During the course, students were taught aircraft maintenance fundamentals to repair and service one- and two-engine jet aircraft. Maintenance management and documentation was also taught to assess aircraft readiness capability.

Graduates of the course earned credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

Bittinger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bittinger, Bittinger. He is a 1989 graduate of Northern High School.

U.S. Airman Richard E. Goad has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

Airman Goad is the son of retired Air Force Master Sgt. Robert W. and Elnora Goad, Oakland. His wife, Pamela, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Evans, also of Oakland.

The airman is a 1987 graduate of Southern High School.

Pvt. Robert H. Sines Jr. has completed training at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga.

During the course, students received training which qualified them as light-weapons infantrymen and as indirect-fire crewman in a rifle or mortar squad.

Instruction included weapons qualifications, patrolling, land mine warfare, field communications and combat operations.

Sines is the son of Robert H. Sines Sr, Oakland. He is a 1989 graduate of Southern High School.

PROMOTED TO COLONEL — James C. Hinebaugh Jr., a former Garrett Countian and a current resident of Chambersburg, Pa., was recently promoted to the rank of colonel in the United States Army by Major General Harry Karegeannes, commmanding general, depot system command. Hinebaugh is the son of Adra Hinebaugh, Swallow Falls, and the late James C. Hinebaugh. He graduated from Southern High School in 1964 and attended Frostburg State University, received a B.S. degree in computer science from the University of Southern Mississippi and an M.B.A. degree in public administration from Shippensburg University. Military awards he has received include two Bronze Stars, Meritorious Service Medal, Air Medal, Army Commendation Medal, Valorous Unit Award and the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry. Hinebaugh has served overseas tours in Vietnam, Korea and Germany and his next duty assignment will be as commander of the Red River Army Depot in Texarkana, Tex. He is currently stationed at Letterkenny Army Depot in Chambersburg where he serves as director of maintenance. He is shown above, center, with his wife, Barbara, and Major General Karegeannes. He and Barbara are the parents of two children and Hinebaugh is also the father of two children from a previous marriage.

Woodlot Owners, Managers Sought To Attend Coverts Project Workshop

Tree farmers, along with other woodlot owners and managers, are invited to apply for one of 30 slots available for a forest and wildlife training workshop planned for September 6-9 at Fairview Outdoor School in Clear Springs, Washington County.

The workshop is part of a new outreach and training program called the Coverts Project, which is sponsored by the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and funded in part by the Ruffed Grouse Society. The program has been developed in cooperation with state and private forest and wildlife organizations, and gets its name from thickets that provide shelter for wildlife.

The Coverts Project is designed to educate Maryland residents about multiple-use forest management practices that can improve wildlife habitat while simultaneously enhancing timber growth, aesthetics and other forest benefits.

"The Coverts Project emphasizes education through demonstration," said Jonathan Kays, a regional natural resources specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. "We want to develop a network of trained woodlot owners and managers across the state who can work with Extension, state forestry and wildlife agencies and the private sector to educate hundreds and ultimately thousands of Marylanders about good forest management."

The September workshop will include both classroom training and visits to demonstration areas where participants will observe — and learn — how forest management practices can be used to meet various woodland objectives. Community outreach training and a set of reference materials for use during and after the workshop also will be provided.

The workshop and materials are free. Participants become Coverts cooperators and are asked to make a different sort of contribution.

"In return for the training," says Kays, "cooperators agree to develop and implement a sound forest and wildlife management plan for their own woodlands.

"We also ask that for one year they make a sincere effort — in conjunction with other cooperators — to reach out to other landowners in their communities and share the information they've received. Outreach activities could include helping nearby woodland owners set objectives for management of their woodlands, as well as providing information on where to get assistance to implement those objectives. There are a host of possibilities that will be discussed at the workshop."

Those interested in more information, or in applying to be a Coverts cooperator, should call Kays at (301) 432-2735 or write to him at the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, Western Maryland Research and Education Center, 18330 Keedysville Road, Keedysville, MD 21756.

Blood Services Now Testing For Hepatitis Virus

American Red Cross Blood Services, Johnstown Region, has implemented testing for the presence of hepatitis C on all units of blood donated in its 41-county area, Thomas S. Angle Jr., assistant manager, blood and regional services, has announced.

Effective May 4, the Johnstown Region, which includes Garrett County, added the anti-HCV test, which detects the presence of antibodies to the hepatitis C virus, to the nine screenings it performs to maintain the safest possible blood supply.

Hepatitis C, the most common form of non-A non-B hepatitis, may lead to chronic liver disease. Hepatitis is the most common serious infectious complication of blood transfusion.

"The addition of anti-HCV testing supports our continuing efforts to maintain an adequate, readily available blood supply that's as safe as medically and humanly possible," Angle commented.

The region also screens blood donations for ABO and Rh blood types and a typical red cell antibodies, plus performs infectious disease testing to detect the presence of syphilis, hepatitis B virus, HIV antibody, HTLV-I antibody, as well as two surrogate tests for non-A non-B hepatitis, which detect risk factors associated with that disease.

Angle explained that these tests are performed by licensed professional staff in the blood center's laboratory within 24 hours of donation; units of blood made available for transfusion must test negative for infectious disease before release to the region's 65 hospitals.

Hepatitis C can cause liver disease ranging from mild to severe. In some cases, the disease can progress to a chronic hepatitis condition, and even death. As in the case of hepatitis B, the transmission of hepatitis C can be associated with transfusion of blood and blood products and intravenous drug use.

Angle said that prior to the implementation of hepatitis C testing, the risk of contracting hepatitis from transfused blood ranged from 1 to 4 percent. "We expect that use of the new screening test together with other safeguards already in place will eliminate an additional 50 percent of current cases of post-transfusion hepatitis C, decreasing the risk to 0.5 to 2.5 percent per transfusion," he said.

He noted that approximately four percent of blood collected in the Johnstown Region is not made available for transfusion due to positive tests for infectious diseases, primarily risk factors associated with non-A non-B hepatitis. Units testing positive for infectious diseases are sterilized and destroyed, and the donors are permanently deferred from future donations.

"Through regular, repeat donations by established blood donors we can limit the number of testing losses and maintain the safest possible blood supply in the most cost-effective manner," Angle said. "In the case of repeat, multiple gallon donors, their blood has repeatedly and consistently met the high standards followed by the Red Cross.

"Athough we always need new donors to meet growing demands, more frequent donation by current blood donors help the Red Cross control recruitment costs and lower testing losses."

He explained that the Johnstown Region is willing to meet the total blood needs of residents of its 41-county area and of patients in the 65 hospitals it serves in Maryland, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.

Financed by recovering expenses from users of it services, Red Cross Blood Services charges hospitals a fee to cover the expenses of recruiting, collecting, testing, processing and distributing blood and blood products. "This fee is passed on to the patient's health insurance plan, which ususally covers the expense," Angle stated. "There is never a charge for blood itself because it is a volunteer's free gift."

He added that the Johnstown Region has the lowest proceeding fee structure in the 55-region Red Cross Blood Services system.

From July 1, 1989, through June 30, 1990, the Johnstown Region anticipates collecting 121,000 units of blood, an 8.2 percent increase over the previous year. Blood product distribution is forecasted at 314,600 units.

In addition, the Johnstown Region provides specialized blood screening services for its participating hospitals. Specialized blood services include apheresis and alternative transfusion services, such as Intra-operative Autologous Transfusion (IAT), autologus and directed blood donations.

Specialized screening services include reference laboratory, specialized antibody screening, paternity testing and provision of CMV negative blood products.

STATE HIGHWAY ADMINISTRATION HOLDS AWARDS CEREMONY — In celebration of the First Anniversary of the Adopt-A-Highway Program in Garrett County and the "Give A Day For The Bay," a litter pickup and Awards Ceremony was held recently by the State Highway Administration (SHA). The litter pickup was held in the morning throughout the state in celebration of Earth Day and "Give A Day For The Bay." A "First Anniversary Adopt-A-Highway Awards Ceremony" and picnic was held in the afternoon at Deep Creek State Park. Of the 15 groups in Garrett County participating in the Adopt-A-Highway program, 11 were represented at the awards ceremony and picnic which was hosted by Paul McIntyre, resident maintenance engineer; Bob Rowan, assistant resident maintenance engineer; and the Garrett County Quality Circle. Awards were presented to the Adopt-A-Highway group representatives by Delegate George Edwards and Paul McIntyre. Groups represented at the ceremony were: the Flowery Vale Senior Center, the Oakland Senior Center, the Bittinger Homemakers, the Woodmen of the World Lodge 6043 and Local Citizens, the Grantsville Area Business and Professional Women, the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department, the Garrett County Quality Circle, the Employees of the Youghiogheny Overlook, the Grantsville Lions, the Loch Lynn G.S.U.S.A. Troop 5020/5027 and the Loyal Order of Moose Lodge No. 292. Groups in the program, but not able to attend the ceremony were the Employees of the Marsh Run Nursery, the League of Women Voters, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints and the Kitzmiller Civic Association. Pictured above are Delegate Edwards, left, and Paul McIntyre, at the awards ceremony.

FUNCTIONAL READING TEST ADMINISTERED — The Garrett County Board of Education recently administered a functional reading test to students studying for their GED certificate. The Board provided the testing through the direction of the Maryland State Department of Education, which has been administering the functional testing throughout Maryland. The purpose of the testing is to see how students in other programs compare to students in school. Paul Harr, testing coordinator, and Patricia Baer, Garrett Community College, helped to administer the tests. Garrett Community College and the Board of Education have been working jointly to better serve students. Pictured above, sitting left to right, are: Rebecca Butts and Michael Stemple. Standing, same order, are Harr and Baer.

Garrett Co. Commissioners Invite Farm Bureau Input On Pond Issue

At the Garrett County Commissioners' invitation, Garrett County Farm Bureau directors met with them this week to provide input on the pond permitting problem facing farmers and property owners in the county. The directors opened the meeting by thanking the commissioners for their concern and the letter they wrote to Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Wayne A. Cawley Jr. asking for his department's support in this issue.

The commissioners stated that the problem stems from the fact that all Garrett County streams are rated as Class III streams, or trout habitat. Pond permits have been denied by the Maryland Department of the Environment because ponds would allegedly raise the thermal temperature downstream enough to kill trout.

An answer to the commissioners' letter from Secretary Cawley was read to the Farm Bureau directors. In his letter, the secretary said that the commissioners' frustration about the length of time it is taking to resolve this issue is understandable.

"Members of my staff have been working with the Maryland Department of the Environment (MDE) for the past year on this issue," Cawley wrote. "It has been our position that standards and criteria should be developed to allow Soil Conservation District technical staff to evaluate a site, adequately design the pond to meet such criteria and advise the landowner about permit constraints. It is also our position that resource protection issues such as water quality and potential for fisheries must be balanced within the context of state program implementation."

Cawley went on to say, "We have been concerned that MDE denials of pond water quality certifications have been based on assumptions not scientific study."

The MDA secretary pledged his department's full support in trying to resolve the matter. He said to date, the only "criteria" MDE has developed for ponds on Class III streams is no discharge. "My staff advises me that the response of MDE and the DNR to sites suggested for alternative designs and study is taking longer than anticipated," Cawley wrote. In closing, he apologized that this process is still ongoing and has not brought any immediate relief to landowners in the county.

Several complaints and questions were presented to the commissioners by the directors, including the fact that thermal testing is being conducted on inappropriate ponds. In one case, information was gathered above and below the pond near the former Winters Dairy outside of Oakland. It was pointed out that this is not a farm pond, but is a part of the Wilson Run Flood Control Project. Other inappropriate testing, the directors said, is being done on Chisolm Run above and below a bever dam. They asked the commissioners what input the county has as to where the MDE and DNR testing is done.

Another complaint was that, in the case of the reclassification of Piney Creek to a Class III natural trout stream, the public hearing notice was advertised in the Maryland Register and the hearing was held in Hagerstown. The directors asked who has access to the Maryland Register and why a public hearing concerning a Garrett County issue was held in Hagerstown.

Also brought up was a paragraph in a letter sent to Delegate George Edwards by MDE Secretary Martin W. Walsh Jr. The paragraph reads: "The apparent conflict between MDE's requirement for no discharge from ponds and DNR's requirement for maintenance of base flow has been resolved by changing the DNR nontidal wetland regulations. The current language requires that farm ponds 'not cause a violation of applicable state water quality standards.' DNR's requirement for maintenance of base flows has been deleted."

The commissioners promised to look into the statement and see if laws or regulations had been changed.

One Farm Bureau representative noted that in a memorandum to the Allegany Soil Conservation District from the DNR's Tidewater Administration concerning a specific pond's design changes, it stated that in addition to no discharge, the pond must also be designed to hold a "10-year storm event." The directors felt this would probably be required of all pond designs and was not practical.

It was also brought out that in a recent article in "The Republican" on the trout rearing station at Jennings Randolph Lake, state officials said that one problem experienced in streams and tributaries in the county is that some of them heat up toward the middle and end of summer, resulting in an unacceptable mortality rate among trout and in poor fishing opportunities during those summer months. The Farm Bureau directors said it seems that the streams themselves heat up without a pond to take the blame, so why should pond permits be denied.

The commissioners promised to keep in touch with the state agencies involved, and to prod them into resolving the issue with Garrett County landowners' interests also included in their resolution. In the meantime, the commissioners suggested that Farm Bureau, both county and state, conduct a letter-writing campaign to Governor William Donald Schaefer, with copies of the letters sent to the heads of the MDE and DNR.

Farming In Maryland ..... Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

To Hold Annual Horse Sale May 18

The Garrett County Horsemen's Association, Inc., a nonprofit organization, will hold its annual horse sale at Friend's Stockyard in Accident on May 18.

A tack sale will begin at 6 p.m. followed by the sale of horses and ponies at 9:30 p.m. Used tack is limited to 10 items per person and all used tack must be sold. There will be a 15-percent commission on all tack.

A consignment fee of eight percent will be charged on the sale of horses and ponies with a no-sale fee of $8 for horses and $4 for ponies.

Acceptable negative test papers must accompany the horse or pony, or the horse or pony may be tested by an accredited veterinarian before leaving the sale; or the horse may be identified as a slaughter animal and consigned to slaughter, either directly or through a dealer approved to handle such horses. Buyers will pay all test fees.

Search To Begin For 1990-91 Garrett/Allegany Dairy Princess

All single young women between the ages of 17 and 22, and from a dairy farm background, are eligible to compete for the title of 1990-91 Garrett/Allegany Dairy Princess.

The contest covers Garrett and Allegany counties and the candidate must maintain residency within the territorial boundaries of these counties.

The winner of the Dairy Princess Pageant will be eligible to vie, at the state level, for the title of Maryland Dairy Princess.

Any young woman who has completed her junior year in high school, is at least 17 years of age and not over 22 years of age, and whose parents have been engaged in dairy farming where milk is produced within the last four years, is eligible to compete. The applicant must not be, or have been, married, and in order to continue her reign, a princess must remain single throughout her entire reign.

The applicant must be available for personal appearances during the year and must agree to meet reasonable requirements set forth by the area and state chairpersons.

Any applicant under 18 years of age must have written consent of her parents to enter the contest.

The winner of the Maryland State Dairy Princess title receives a $600 cash award from the State Dairy Princess Committee. The first-runner-up receives $75, and the other finalists receive $35. The out-standing skit presentation and "Miss Congeniality" each receive $15. The state title is honorary and does not involve the interruption of school or employment plans.

Young women interested in entering the Garrett/Allegany Dairy Princess Pageant should call 895-5952 after 6 p.m. or contact the Garrett County Extension Office at 334-1990. The deadline for entering is May 23.

"Transportation And Tourism" To Be Topic Of Local Government Exchange

"As we face the challenges of a changing society and evolving world economy and new technologies, we must restructure the transportation partnership to give other levels of government in the private sector the tools they need to address critical requirements in transportation," states the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service (MCES). "All of those that have a stake in efficient transportation must participate — federal, state, and local governments, private businesses, academic institutions, transportation interest groups, communities, and individuals," the MCES notes.

On May 17 and 18, at Frostburg State University, the MCES will be sponsoring its Sixth Annual Local Government Exchange. The theme of this year's program is "Transportation and Tourism." National and regional transportation officials from the public and private sector will come together to discuss transportation needs of the western region and how it will impact tourism.

Tony Kane, associate administrator for the Federal Highway Administration, is slated as the keynote speaker for the May 17 evening program. Kane was the National Task Force leader in developing the National Transportation Policy Statement issued by Secretary of Transportation Samuel Skinner. Kane will discuss the National Transportation Policy and the federal role.

Following Kane's presentation, a panel of notable speakers from the tri-state area will respond to his comments. On Friday, May 18, concurrent workshops will take place, discussing more of the local issues relating to transportation and tourism. Workshops will address issues such as regional airports, commuter rail, recreational rail, and highway travel.

Some of the local officials involved in the program include Delegates Casper Taylor and Tom Hattery; Dr. Herb Rienhard, president of Frostburg State University; Arthur Bond, president of Allegany County Commissioners; Dr. Harry Stegmaier, professor at Frostburg State University; Jerry Fouche, R.F. Kline, Inc.; Tom Jones, economic director for Garrett County; William Howes, Western Maryland Scenic Railroad; and Jerry Goodwin, Urban Programs director.

The registration fee for the program will be $15 for the May 17 dinner buffet, and $13 for the May 18 exchange program. For more information and to register for the program, interested persons may contact Michael L. Sowell at the Western Maryland Research and Education Center at (301) 432-2733.

Dairy Month Ads Show Support

Area dairy farmers and businesses will again show their support of the dairy industry by taking part in The Republican's Dairy Month Ad Campaign. The ad campaign was the "brain child" of Sheila Bender Miller when she was Maryland Dairy Princess in 1985-86, and has been carried on by Garrett/Allegany Dairy Princesses since that time.

Three size ads are available for the special prices of $7, $22, and $45, and for that price, the ad will run once during June Dairy Month.

Anyone wishing to show their support in this way during the month of June may call The Republican's Farm Editor Bernice Kepple at 387-9312, Garrett County Farm Queen Rebecca DeBerry at 334-3609, or The Republican's Advertising Department at 334-3963.

Farmers Can Help Barn Owls, Old Friends In Trouble

The Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service is encouraging farmers in Maryland to help an old friend in trouble, the barn owl. This beneficial bird of farm and marsh is declining in the state through the loss of hunting and nesting habitat.

Barn owls prey exclusively on pest species, such as mice and rats, that are responsible for considerable property damage each year. A nesting pair of barn owls with six young may consume more than 1,000 mice during a three-month nesting period. Furthermore, barn owls do not eat chickens!

Farm owners and operators can help by providing a safe place to raise young. Nest boxes can be placed in abandoned or infrequently used barns and silos. Barn owls will readily use nest boxes if they are available.

Plans for building nest boxes and instructions for placement are available in a free pamphlet distributed through Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service offices. Technical assistance is available through the Wye Mills office.

With farmers' help, the barn owl can be assured a prosperous future. For additional information or to report nesting barn owls, farmers may write the Maryland Forest, Park and Wildlife Service Non-game and Urban Wildlife Program, P.O. Box 68, Wye Mills, MD 21679, or call Scott Smith at (301) 827-8612.

Nominate Your Favorite Cow To Be Featured During Dairy Month

"Milk. Back to the Basics." is the theme for the 1990 celebration of June Dairy Month. A major "basic" of the dairy industry is the cow. These "basics" are all gold medal winners in the eyes of their owners, but every dairyman, his wife, children and hired help has a favorite gold medal cow. The Republican Newspaper would like to recognize these "basic gold medal cows" during June Dairy Month.

To nominate your favorite cow, send the following information to The Republican, c/o Bernice Kepple, farm editor, P.O. Box 326, Oakland, MD 21550. Information needed includes the cow's name, production record, reason for nomination, owners' name and address and phone number.

All nominations must be producing dairy cows, however, high-producing cows will not be the only ones picked to be featured. Your reasons for nomination may be that the cow was the first heifer calf born on your farm, or your child's pet cow, or a cow with unusual markings, or a variety of other reasons.

The owners of the cows chosen will be contacted and an appointment made for a photo to be taken. That photo and information about the cow and her owners will be used in The Republican's farm section sometime during the month of June. A 5" by 7" black and white copy of the photo used in the newspaper will be mailed to the owners of the cow as a keepsake.

Cows to be featured will be chosen by The Republican's editorial staff. All nominations should be mailed to The Republican by June 15.

All dairymen in Garrett and the surrounding West Virginia counties are invited to give their "gold medal" cows some recognition. Mail your nomination today.

Rancher
Has Maryland State Seal of Approval
Completely finished from the plate up on your foundation. We set all of our homes with a crane so there is no stress on your foundation.
All of our homes come with the energy package which is standard. Insulation is R19 walls, R19 floor, R32 ceiling, Andersen Thermopane vinyl-clad wood windows with storms and screens, a very big energy-saver, and they never need painting. Exterior doors are metal insulated with storm doors; total electric heat with thermostats in each room.
You have your choice of interior drywall, paneling or both. Drywall has two coats of the paint of your choice; beautiful, textured ½" drywall ceiling over a 3/8" plywood sub ceiling.
Nice selection of top grade carpet throughout home except for kitchen and baths. There we offer a no-wax linoleum by Armstrong. This is put over a super strong 1 1/8" thick floor. Floor joists are 2x10, 16' on center.
Kitchen and bath have your choice of vinyl wall coverings, beautiful kitchen cabinets with stainless steel sinks, 30" GE electric range; exhaust fans in kitchen and bath, vanity-in-bath, with a one-piece fiberglas tub and shower; 52-gallon hot water heater, aluminum wood grain siding, shutters, gutter and down spouts, 5/12 roof pitch on 25' and 28' wide models.
This home can be custom designed to fit your own needs at no charge. A home is a big investment today so shop around and compare. But before you buy, be sure and see a Keystone Home . . . we think it will speak for itself.

New Soil Test Being Evaluated In Maryland

The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and the USDA Agricultural Research Service are evaluating a new soil test which could save corn growers money and protect water quality.

Called the "Quick Nitrate Soil Test," the test measures the amount of nitrate present in the soil. The procedure is used to test soil samples collected from cornfields when the plants are between six and 12 inches tall. Growers can then adjust their nitrogen sidedress application rates based on the amount of nitrate already available in the soil.

"The test could remove some of the uncertainty involved in deciding how much nitrogen is needed," said Mitch Woodward, nutrient management program coordinator for the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. "Maybe it will calm the urge to apply just a little extra nitrogen as 'insurance,' and save growers some money."

The test also could help farmers reduce the risk of groundwater pollution, he added, since unused nitrogen would not be left in the soil after harvest, waiting for rain or melting snow to wash it down to the water table.

The soil nitrate test was developed in Vermont and has been successfully used in Iowa and Pennsylvania for a number of years. In 1989, demonstration plots were set up on 10 Maryland farms to evaluate the procedure. The plots, located primarily in Washington County, compared a farmer's normal nitrogen application rate to one based on the test recommendations.

The farmers, most of whom used a combination of manure and commercial fertilizers, were able to reduce their nitrogen application rates by anywhere from 45 to 155 pounds per acre. These reductions saved the farmers an average of $21 per acre.

"Last year's results were promising; there wasn't one case where a farmer lost money using the test," said Woodward. "But until we're positive that the test is accurate under the different soil conditions and agricultural practices throughout the state, we're not going to formally endorse it. Farmers can use the results if they wish, but they ought to keep in mind that the procedure is still experimental in Maryland."

This year, 50 test plots will be installed on farms throughout the state. Soil samples will be collected at planting, just before sidedressing and after harvest.

"By sampling three times during the growing season, we hope to not only optimize nitrogen rates, but also gain some information on the quantities of nitrogen available at different times of the year," said Dr. Jack Meisinger, a soil scientist with the USDA Agricultural Research Service in Beltsville.

"The test will give us a better idea how the weather and other factors during the growing season affect the nitrogen availablilty in the soil."

Those interested in the test should call their county Extension office. Although most of the demonstration plots for this year have been chosen, farmers can try the experiment on their own and have one field tested free of charge. They must simply select one field and split it in half. Use the nitrate test to adjust nitrogen applications on one half, and on the other half follow their usual fertilization practices.

Since the soil nitrate test is still an experimental procedure, they will be required to get a standard soil test and enroll the field in the Extension Nutrient Management Program.

"It's important to make arrangements for sampling at least three to four weeks before sidedressing," cautioned Woodward. "It only takes about a day to get results, but if everyone waits until the last minute, our consultants could get swamped in a hurry."

He added that farmers who are serious about increasing their efficiency should really look into enrolling their entire farm in the Extension Nutrient Management Program. The program has hired county consultants who take soil and manure samples for analysis, collect farm records, and develop comprehensive nutrient management plans.

"Currently, farmers are saving an average of $24 per acre in fertilizer costs through our nutrient management program," said Woodward. "If this new quick test works out, we may be able to save them even more."

Fair Directors Appointed To Unfinished Term

Dale Glotfelty, president, presided over the May 1 meeting of the Garrett County Fair Board with 12 directors attending. Two directors, George Bishoff and Dennis Glotfelty resigned as of that date. The board appointed Charles McCrobie and Fred VanSickle to fill their positions for the rest of the year.

Discussion and final planning of activities coming to the fairgrounds this summer took place at the meeting. Activities scheduled include: The Scottish Highlanders, June 2; a loggers' fair, June 15 & 16; AIITCO Pow Wow, July 7 & 8; The Garrett County Fair, August 13 - 19; and a circus on September 8.

Entertainment for the 1990 Garrett County Fair will include: a return by "The Hollanders" on Monday, August 13; "The Bever Creek Boys" on Tuesday, August 14; "The Pfeifers," a gospel group, on Wednesday, August 15; a return by "The Jubilators Gospel Quartet on Thursday, August 16; another returning group, "Don Gabriel & The Memories," on Friday, August 17; and the "Gentlemen of Note Barber Shop Quartet" on Saturday, August 18.

New Extension Director, Center Head Announced For Western Maryland

University of Maryland graduate Dr. Thomas M. Blessington will become a regional Extension director and head of the Western Maryland Research and Education Center on June 1.

Blessington, 43, will be responsible for operating the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station's 546-acre research facility located near Keedysville.

As Region I Extension director, he will be the administrator in charge of four regional specialists located at the center, as well as seven Cooperative Extension Service offices in the counties of Garrett, Washington, Allegany, Carroll, Baltimore, Frederick and Harford.

"Dr. Blessington's educational background and unique training make him ideally suited for this new administrative assignment," said Dr. Craig Oliver, director of the Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. "Under his leadership, the Extension Service will meet the challenges and needs of Western Maryland citizens in our rapidly changing society."

"We are especially pleased with Dr. Blessington's management experience at the academic department and regional center level," said Dr. Robert Kennedy, director of the Maryland Agricultural Experiment Station. "His extensive background of dealing with capital construction is important as we continue our over $1 million building program at the Western Maryland Center. And his horticultural background makes him an excellent choice for overseeing our research benefiting Western Maryland agriculture."

Blessington earned his bachelor's, master's and doctoral degrees in horticulture from the University of Maryland at College Park. His doctoral and current research focus is on developing post-production systems for interior ornamentals.

He is a former professor and plant science department head at the University of Nevada, and was resident director of the Texas A&M University's Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Weslaco, Texas, before returning to Maryland.

"My career has progressed through agricultural support, teaching and research to now include an active role in administrative leadership and management," said Blessington. "I look forward to providing leadership and management for the people and programs of the Western Maryland Research and Education Center, the Agricultural Experiment Station and Cooperative Extension Service."

The Western Maryland Research and Education Center was established by the Agricultural Experiment Station in 1984. Supporting the diverse agricultural segments of Western Maryland, research at the center includes fruit cultivar and rootstock trails, integrated pest management, and biocontrol studies.

Good Progress On Fieldwork Reported

The week ending April 29 was a good week for fieldwork. There was an average of six days suitable for fieldwork according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. At the end of the week topsoil moisture was surplus in five percent of the state, adequate in 84 percent of the state and 11 percent was short. Subsoil moisture was surplus in five percent of Maryland, 90 percent was adequate and five percent was short.

Seventy-one percent of the acreage had been prepared for spring planting, ahead of last year's 53 percent on April 29th and the normal of 67 percent. The use of minimum tillage and government programs causes the acreage prepared figure to be difficult to measure and less meaningful. A portion of the acreage is not conventionally tilled.

Wheat, barley, oats and rye were generally in good condition throughout the state. Powdery mildew has been reported in some wheat fields. Field corn was 23 percent planted, ahead of last year's 11 percent and the three year average of 16 percent. Spring oats were 93 percent planted, ahead of last year's 83 percent and the five year average of 81 percent. Peaches were 97 percent in bloom, behind last year and the normal of 100 percent. Ninety-six percent of the apples had bloomed, ahead of 44 percent a year earlier and the four year average of 62 percent. Strawberries were in bloom on 80 percent of the crop, ahead of 45 percent a year earlier and the three year average of 48 percent.

Sweet corn was 13 percent planted, behind the 14 percent of a year earlier and the 18 percent normally planted by the end of April. Farmers had planted 73 percent of the potatoes, down from 83 percent a year earlier and the average of 93 percent.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ended April 27 was warm with light precipitation. Precipitation averaged 0.20 inch. Western and North Central Maryland received 0.13 inch and 0.16 inch respectively.

Temperatures averaged 65.5 degrees for the week, 8.9 degrees above the normal of 56.6 degrees. Minimum temperatures were mostly in the mid to upper 40s.

My View

From The Barn Door

by Bernice Kepple

Local farmers, you've proven yourselves to be an active, interested force in the farm community and the county this past week. I'm proud of all of you — all types of farmers — for the support you gave a program being planned by a small group of Frostburg State University students who wanted to present both sides of the animal rights/animal agriculture issue. The planned program was called A Panel Presentation on Animal Agriculture and would have been held last Sunday night at the university. It was cancelled at the last minute, unfortunately, because animal rights groups could not, or would not, send representatives to be on the panel.

I'm dissapointed for two university students who worked very hard: Tim Kepple, who organized the program and obtained panel members for agriculture, and Robin Summerfield, who made an honest effort to obtain panel members for animal rights. I'm especially dissapointed for the college students, who showed a genuine interest in hearing "the other side of the story," after animal rights activitists, sponsored by the campus radio station, visited the university, passed out information and showed videos on March 15. I was very dissapointed that the top notch panel of speakers representing animal agriculture had to be told not to come. As it was also to be open to the public, the program could have given consumers much "food for thought."

As good farmers trying to make a living, we're all proponents of animal welfare. We must be. We want to be. Unfortunately, we can't deny that there is an occasional case of animal cruelty found by organizations and authorities. And I say that these cases should be found. However, it is wrong for animal rights groups to take one case of cruelty and present it as the normal method of animal agriculture used by all farmers. Non-farmers may understand better if I suggest that because some parents abuse their children, all parents be considered child abusers. Or that because one person tosses a tin can from his automobile, all drivers litter the highways. Or because one person in Garrett County committed a crime, all who live here are criminals. I could go on and on.

But, my point is that as farmers, you all supported an opportunity to show the public that farmers care about animals, that a farmer's livelihood depends upon his animals as much as his animals depend upon him, and for this reason, if no other, animals must be cared for properly.

Sen. Paul Sarbanes Introduces Bill To Strengthen Conservation

Senator Paul Sarbanes has introduced legislation to promote and support soil and water conservation programs throughout the United States. The bill would establish a National Soil and Water Conservation Foundation to strengthen public involvement in soil and water conservation activities by encouraging a partnership between the public and private sectors.

"The conservation of our soil and water resources represents one of the most pressing needs facing our nation today," Senator Sarbanes said. "According to some estimates, annual soil losses due to erosion now exceed the dust bowl days of the 1930s when prolonged drought and poor conservation practices caused much of the nation's topsoil to blow away. The Department of Agriculture recently estimated that, at current rates of erosion, crop yields in some states could fall by about one-third in the next 50 years. Erosion rates in certain parts of the nation have been estimated at up to 70 times the acceptable levels, causing agricultural production to suffer as well as choking our streams, lakes and estuarine waters with sediment.

"Equally as serious is the condition of our water resources," Sarbanes said. "Water is not an unlimited resource, as the massive drought of 1988 dramatically illustrated. Our ground and surface waters are being increasingly threatened by wasteful extraction, drought, excessive demands and a whole host of environmental impacts. Saltwater intrusion, leaking underground storage tanks, acid rain, hazardous waste disposal, soil erosion, sewage contamination, non-point pollution from agricultural chemicals, and destruction of aquifer-replenishing wetlands are hurting our 15-year effort to upgrade water quality.

"Fully one-fourth of the nation's waters still do not meet standards for drinking and many other uses,' Sarbanes noted when introducing his bill. "These complex problems threaten to have greater consequences for future generations of Americans if they go unchecked.

"Unfortunately, much of the public is not aware of existing federal soil and water conservation policies and programs," he said. "The public needs to be better informed of conservation practices that contribute to improvements in soil and water quality, quantity, and management.

The legislation Senator Sarbanes introduced would create the National Soil and Water Conservation Foundation to work along with the Soil Conservation Service and organizations such as the National Association of Conservation Districts and the American Farm Bureau Federation, coordinating public and private efforts in the national conservation movement.

The Foundation would foster efforts to protect the soil and water resources on non-federal lands in the United States. The Foundation would be authorized to receive, accept, and administer private gifts of property for the benefit of the Soil Conservation Service and to further the conservation and management of soil and water resources. "With budget restrictions reducing the ability of the Soil Conservation Service to address soil and water conservation problems, the need for such support is clear," Senator Sarbanes said.

The Foundation established by the senator's legislation will be modeled on two other successful programs — the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Foundation and the National Parks Foundation. Similar to these other foundations, the National Soil and Water Conservation Foundation would be a charitable, nonprofit corporation. It would be administered by a board consisting of 13 members appointed by the Secretary of Agriculture, who are educated in the principles and practices of soil and water conservation.

"Our soil and water resources are the lifeblood of our nation and the conservation of these resources is in the interest of every American," Sarbanes concluded. "The National Soil and Water Conservation Foundation provides a means for the American people to actively participate in protecting and improving these resources."

Prowl Herbicide on Corn

Be careful in using Prowl on your corn. Some injury can occur to the seed if it is not well covered with soil. Prowl can also be applied early postemergence in water until corn reaches the four leaf state and the weeds are less than one inch high. The mixture I would suggest for postemergence application: Prowl 1 qt. + Atrazine 4L 1 qt. or Bladex 90 DF 2 lbs. per acre.

Do You Need the Wholesale Vegetable Prices?

I now have available the Pittsburgh Wholesale Fruit & Vegetable Market Report. Each Monday morning I receive the current prices. If you need market information, give me a call at 334-1990.

Warning!!

There is a good chance that we will start spraying the Gypsy Moth next week. For those of you who have horses, I would like to remind you that they are very easily "spooked" by the sound of the helicopters. Once we start spraying you can follow the area spraying schedule by listening to WFRB Frostburg radio at 6:45 a.m., 12:30 p.m., and 4:20 p.m. daily; WXIE & WMSG Oakland at 6:59 a.m., 11:59 a.m. and 4:20 p.m. Also, we will have a 24 hour message recording by calling 334-1988.

Postemergence Herbicides on Corn

The trend of using postemergence herbicides is increasing. Machinery dealers indicate there has been an increase in sales of spraying equipment to individual farmers. Postemergence spraying advantages: 1) you can select the herbicide for the specific weed problem, 2) generally, less cost per acre, and 3) reduced herbicide build-up in the soil. One of the disadvantages for postemergence spraying is the timing of application is critical to successful weed control. In our area the weather conditions are not the best at the time the spray should be applied. Also, several of the postemergence herbicides require directed spray patterns rather than over-top applications. Banvel is a good over-top herbicide for many of the broadleaf weeds (no grass control). For best results, spray when weeds are 2 inches or less in height. For corn less than 8 inches high, you can use Banvel at the 1 pt/A rate. More than 8 inches high, cut the rate back to ½ pt. Don't use a surfactant. Banvel now also comes as a mix with Atrazine under trade names of Marksman.

Yeutter Announces National Hearings On Dairy Orders

Secretary Clayton Yeutter has announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture will hold national hearings on possible changes in the pricing provisions of federal milk marketing orders.

"In recent years, the milk order program has come under increasing criticism. Many believe that the program's pricing arrangements do not treat dairy farmers in all areas of the country fairly," Yeutter said.

The federal orders set minimum prices that milk processors must pay for Grade A milk received from dairy farmers, based on the way the milk is used. The highest price is paid for milk used for drinking (Class I). Milk in "soft" products such as cottage cheese, yogurt and ice cream (Class II) is priced lower. A still lower price applies to milk used in "hard" products such as butter, hard cheese, and nonfat dry milk (Class III). A few orders price both soft and hard manufactured products at the same level.

"Some of the criticism arises because important elements of the orders have not been reviewed at a public hearing for many years, and changed marketing conditions may warrant updating them," Yeutter said.

Recent studies by the Government's General Accounting Office and USDA's Economic Research Service recommend a comprehensive review of the pricing provisions through a national hearing process.

"It is desirable that pricing and other issues be reviewed in light of current marketing conditions so that the order program will continue to serve the best interests of dairy farmers and the general public," Yeutter said.

The public hearing will cover milk order issues that are national in scope. These include, but will not necessarily be limited to, the following: Class I price differentials, the possible use of multiple base points for setting Class I differentials, Class II price differentials, and the pricing of reconstituted milk.

The hearing will provide all interested parties — including dairy farmers, their cooperatives, milk processors and consumers — the opportunity to present information on the proposals under consideration.

Interested parties must submit proposals to be considered for inclusion in a notice of hearing no later than May 31 to: Administrator, Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS), P.O. Box 96456, Washington, D.C. 20090-6456.

Following those submissions, USDA will issue a hearing notice announcing the time and place of the hearings and the proposals that will be considered. It is anticipated that the hearings will be held in several regions throughout the country, including the central United States, the Upper Midwest, the Northeast, the Southeast, the Southwest, and the West. The first session could begin in early September.

4-H CLUB NEWS

BITTINGER 4-H CLUB
by Patty Lohr, reporter

The Bittinger 4-H Club meeting was called to order by Jenny Weller.

Coby Brenneman lead pledges and Carla Miller called roll. We had 11 members, four leaders and one guest present. Jim Simms gave a report about pesticides.

Under new business, Patty Lohr gave a report on the Achievement Dinner, Jenny Weller gave a report on the Public Speaking, and Coby Brenneman told us about his new puppy that he won from the collie dog giveaway. Some members talked about their new projects.

Steer camp is June 7 and 8. A scholarship for 4-H camp was won by Julia Atkinson for our club. We decided to make a booth for the Fair and we will talk about the theme at the next meeting.

The next meeting will be June 4 at Jenny Weller's home.

YOUGH VALLEY

Yough Valley 4-H Club had its regular meeting on April 25, 1990 at the Friendsville Fire Hall. David Bennett called the meeting to order and Brandi Frazee led pledges. Roll call was answered by Luke Selby, Terry Rodeheaver, David Bennett, Christina Umbel, Dawn Umbel, Brandi Frazee, Heidi Frazee, Billy Nedrow and leader, Jack Teats.

The Club met May 1 at the Friendsville Fire Hall and traveled to Oakland for dinner. They had dinner at McDonald's and then went on to the greenhouse of Jane Simms. The trip was very interesting. She showed and told a lot about the flowers and what to do about bugs.

Jack Teats, leader, made the arrangements. Members going were Billy Nedrow, David Bennett, Stephanie Bennett, Luke Selby, Dawn Umbel, Christina Umbel, Heidi Frazee, Brandi Frazee, Angie House, Amanda House, Terry Rodeheaver, Danielle Rodeheaver, Brian Sines, Stephanie Evans. Parents who helped with transportation were Mary Ann Umbel, Brenda Frazee, Connie House, Jim and Judy Selby, and Jack Teats. Each member planted a flower and brought it home.

Flowery Vale Senior Center Notes Activities

The Flowery Vale Senior Center members have been busy for the past two months with various activities, including a litter pick-up on Rt. 219, a picnic at Deep Creek Lake State Park, and participation in blood pressure and blood sugar testing performed by the Garrett County Health Department during the month of April.

Two presentations were also given to the senior center over the past two months, one by Ann Sherrard from the Garrett County Health Department on the subject of nutrition, and one by Beverly Beard, from the Department of Social Services on income maintenance.

During the month of March, 441 meals were served.

Some members also took part in a March trip to the Pittsburgh Civic Center to watch an Ice Capades performance. A trip to Washington D.C. was held in April where seniors visited many of the historical sites there.

Tole painting classes are held Monday mornings from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Exercise classes are held Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Lunches are served Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays at noon, followed by games.

Trip To Carroll County Senior Day Scheduled

The Area Agency on Aging is sponsoring a trip to the Carroll County Senior Day at the Farm Museum. They have scheduled a full day of activities, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., including tours, games, crafts, and demonstrations.

Any Garrett County senior citizen is eligible to join the group in the Community Action vans on Friday, May 18. Seating is limited and reservations are on a first-come, first-served basis. The fee is $15, which includes transportation and admission charge only.

Vans will depart at 7:30 a.m. from Oakland Senior Center, Mountain Lake Park; 8 a.m. from Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident; 8:15 a.m. from Friendsville and Grantsville; and 8:30 a.m. from Finzel.

The deadline for reservations is Monday, May 14, at 2 p.m. For more information, seniors should contact their local Senior Nutrition Program "Eating Together" site or call the Agency at 334-5856 or 334-9431.

CPA Association Slates Meeting

The Western Maryland Chapter of the Maryland Association of Certified Public Accountants will meet Wednesday, May 23, at the Silver Tree Inn, Deep Creek Lake, beginning at 4 p.m., with dinner served at 6:30 p.m.

The technical session will be presented by Randle A. Rodeheaver, CPA, Rodeheaver and Associates, on selected tax topics for contractors and developers. New CPA's will be welcomed.

For more information, contact Tim Michaels at (301) 722-4455.

Federal Spending In Md. Totals $23.7 Billion

The federal government spent $23.7 billion in Maryland during FY88, up slightly from FY87's $23.2 billion, according to the data released this week by the Maryland Office of Planning.

The FY88 totals, the latest date for which data are available, ranks Maryland 11th in the nation in receiving federal spending. California ranked first with $102.3 billion, while Vermont ranked 50th with $1.6 billion.

"Federal government spending has always been a significant part of Maryland's economy and will continue as such in the foreseeable future," Ronald M. Kreitner, director of the Maryland Office of Planning, said.

"As the nation's defense needs diminish, our challenge now is to draw up plans to shift defense-related jobs into the non-defense economy," he added.

The largest share of federal spending in Maryland, $8.3 billion, was in direct payments to individuals for such services as Social Security, Medicare and food stamps. In FY87 direct payments amounted to $7.8 billion.

Defense department spending accounted for $6.3 billion in FY88, down from FY87's $6.9 billion.

Federal employees salaries, wages and benefits amounted to $5.4 billion, up five percent from the previous year's $5.2 billion.

The balance of federal spending in Maryland, $1.7 billion, was for research, grants, agricultural subsidies, federal employees' life and health insurance, national endowments for the arts and humanities and other programs. In FY87 all of these programs totalled $1.3 billion.

Per capita federal expenditures in Maryland in FY88 were $5,137, which is approximately 50 percent above the national average of $3,597, ranking Maryland fourth in the nation in this category.

Nationally, the federal government spent more than $884 billion in FY88. Maryland's share of those expenditures amounted to 2.8 percent.

YA LOAD 12 BIG TONS, WHADDYA GET? — Hopefully, in this case, a lot of good feedback from the community and a lot of self-satisfaction. The Youghiogheny Chapter of Trout Unlimited recently participated in the state-wide campaign, "Give A Day For The Bay," by cleaning up a total of three miles of stream and along the road at the Casselman River in the Grantsville/New Germany area. According to Sull McCartney, member and past president of the chapter, this three mile section was "probably one of the trashiest places in the county." He added that the team filled New Germany's garbage truck with approximately 20 cubic yards of garbage. Shown above are some of the members who participated in the effort, left to right, Ralph Burnett, an unidentified participant, Gary Yoder, Earl F. Sebosa, secretary of the Department of General Services; George C. Charubas, also with the Department of General Services, and William Ferry, president, Trout Unlimited.

MATH TEACHERS ATTEND NATIONAL CONFERENCE — Four mathematics teachers from Garrett County Schools recently attended the National Teachers of Mathematics Conference in Salt Lake City, Utah. The theme of the conference, "Climbing to New Heights in Mathematics," provided participants with the chance to learn new methodologies for general math instruction at all grade levels and also gave teachers a chance to share new insights. Funding to attend the conference was made available through a state math/science grant submitted by Ed Green, supervisor of staff development. Pictured above, left to right, are: Maureen Sharps, fifth grade teacher, Dennett Road Elementary School; Kent Huber, sixth grade math teacher at Northern Middle School; James Morris, third and fourth grade teacher at Kitzmiller Elementary School; and Barbara Perfetti, math/science teacher at Northern High School.

MSTA Head Says Maryland Schools Are Improving

The release May 2 of the U.S. Department of Education's "wall chart" on educational improvement shows that Maryland does well when compared with other states, Jane Stern, president of the Maryland State Teachers Association, said this week. MSTA, which has more than 36,000 members statewide, represents teachers in every Maryland county.

Maryland's 1989 average SAT score, 914, rose 6 points over last year's, and its ranking among the 22 SAT states rose from fourth to third. The state's SAT scores have risen an average of 25 points since 1982. Data released earlier this week showed that Maryland teacher salaries had recently climbed to sixth in the nation.

"Obviously, Maryland has made progress," Stern said, noting that the Maryland public and the school community has embarked on a major effort to improve the quality of education in our state.

Stern said she was not surprised to learn that the Maryland graduation rate of 74.1 percent had declined slightly from last year's 74.5%. "We've increased graduation requirements," she said, "so we need to give our at-risk students extra help if they are to receive a diploma. This is something the state department of education and local school systems have been grappling with in recent years."

The "wall chart" also shows that the percentage of state funding for education has declined significantly since 1972. Maryland ranked 27th in 1972 with 39.3% of the education dollar coming from the state. The amount in 1988, the last year for which numbers are available, ranks Maryland as 41st with 38.7% of education funds contributed by the state.

The state will have to find additional funds for education improvements, Stern pointed out. "State Superintendent of Schools Joseph Shilling has handed us an ambitious plan for improving our schools," she said. "While some of the details would have to be worked out to make the plan fully acceptable to teachers, the main challenge will be to obtain the substantial infusion of state funds for implementation. The Maryland State Teachers Association will be working closely with the Governor and the state legislature to secure the needed funding."

GCC Alumni To Organize

A meeting to organize the Garrett Community College Alumni Association and to elect officers for the coming year will be held on May 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Bausch & Lomb Art Gallery of the College, Room 010.

According to Rob Michael, pictured above, who is spearheading this effort, all GCC alumni are invited to attend this meeting. Plans will be discussed for an alumni newsletter, social events, and other projects in which the group might be interested.

Approximately 20 alumni attended a dinner held at the college in February, and it is hoped that an additional number will attend next week's meeting.

Vacation Bible School Slated

Pleasant View Baptist Church, located two miles south of Oakland on Rt. 219, will hold Vacation Bible School the week of June 4-8, beginning each day at 6:30 p.m. and ending at 8:30 p.m.

All children and teens, ages three to 19, are invited to attend.

Anyone needing additional information is asked to call 334-8515.

Walk For Life To Be Saturday

The second annual Walk For Life will be held this Saturday, May 12, at the Mt. Top Crisis Pregnancy Center at 9 a.m. The five-mile walk will begin at the center and end with a picnic at the center.

Walkers have been getting sponsors for several weeks, as this is the organization's primary fund-raiser of the year. A flea market will be held in conjunction with the Walk, on the corner on G Street and Rt. 135. Volunteers are still being accepted for walking, donating items for sale, and sponsoring walkers. Persons are asked to call 334-1034 for details.

Swallow Falls State Park To Charge Fees

Beginning on Memorial Day weekend and continuing until Labor Day, Swallow Falls State Park will be charging a day use entrance fee to all visitors on weekends and holidays. The fee will be $4 per car for Maryland-tagged vehicles and $5 per car for out-of-state vehicles. These are the same fees that are charged at Herrington Manor, Deep Creek Lake and New Germany State Parks.

Swallow Falls has always been a heavily used park and the implementation of facility use fees will help to offset the cost of maintaining clean facilities and providing quality park services.

The new toll gate turnaround will be established on the entrance road before the parking lot. This will reduce the traffic flow through the parking lot that posed a danger to pedestrians and created congestion.

Park Manager Roger Riley stated, "We hope visitors continue to enjoy Swallow Falls year round, but is time the park begins to contribute to its operating funds during the heavy use season."

The environmentally sensitive area of the Hemlock Forest and the stream valleys of the Youghiogheny River, Muddy Creek and Toliver Creek create an area where people feel they can "get away from it all." Without the congested conditions, park employees hope visitors will enjoy a better experience at this beautiful site. Anyone needing more information, is asked to contact the Herrington Manor office at (301) 334-9180.

DeBerry Named Award Winner

Rebecca DeBerry, Deer Park, has been named a national award winner by the United States Achievement Academy in band.

DeBerry attends Southern High School and was nominated for the award by Richard Clever, band director at SHS.

The academy selects winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the standards of selection set forth by the academy, which include academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability and recommendation from a teacher or director.

She is the daughter of Everett and Harriet DeBerry, Deer Park.

Applications For Surplus Commodities Now Being Accepted

Garrett County Community Action is currently accepting applications for the June Surplus Commodity Distribution. Income eligible households may apply at the Community Action Office in Oakland. Applications will be accepted Monday through Friday between the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Households who received Maryland Energy Assistance or received commodities in March need not reapply. The deadline for accepting applications is May 15.

Wildflower Walks Scheduled At State Parks

The Herrington Manor/Swallow Falls State Parks will be offering two spring wildflower walks Saturday and Sunday, May 12 and 13.

Saturday's walk will start at the Herrington Manor park office and Sunday's walk will originate at the Swallow Falls park pavilion. Both walks will begin at 2 p.m. and will be guided by Clarissa Harris, park naturalist.

Anyone needing additional information is asked to call Swallow Falls State Park at 387-6938.

THE COLLEGE CHORALE of West Virginia University at Parkersburg will present a spring concert Monday, May 14, at St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland. The 7:30 p.m. concert, featuring sacred as well as secular selections, is free and open to the public. The College Chorale is a select chamber choir with membership open to all WVU-P students by competitive audition. Formed in 1976 by H.G. Young III, it provides students an opportunity to perform the finest choral music of all periods and styles. Chorale members represent all academic division of the college, majoring in such diverse fields as business administration, elementary education, music and liberal arts. The ensemble annually participates in a spring tour of surrounding states before returning to Parkersburg to sing at WVU-P's commencement exercises. Professor Young earned his bachelor's degree at West Virginia Wesleyan College, masters' degrees at WVU, and has done additional graduate study in music at Ohio University, the University of Florida, and Westminster Choir College. He is a member of the American Choral Directors Association and is active as a guest conductor, lecturer and adjudicator. At WVU-P, he teaches music theory, literature and appreciation.

"Small Business Finance" Class Is Re-Scheduled

A class offered by Garrett Community College designed to help prospective business owners learn the basics about obtaining SBA loans has been re-scheduled. It will begin on May 14th. The two-session class will focus on: types of financing available; how to apply for an SBA loan; and how to meet the criteria established by the agency. The second session of the class will meet May 21 from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the McHenry Campus of GCC.

This is the final class in a series which have addressed the issues vital to starting a small business. The classes have been especially designed for those who are now starting or considering starting a business. The classes are co-sponsored by the Continuing Education Division of GCC, the Small Business Administration, and the Western Maryland Small Business Development Center.

Anyone wishing to register for this course or obtain additional information, should call Sandy Major at the Continuing Education Division of the college at 387-6666, ext. 169.

WELCOME BACK ELLIE! — Local resident, Ellis Nazelrod, who was recently involved in an automobile accident, was the guest of honor at a welcome back party held by his classmates in an adult education class at the Oakland campus of Garrett Community College. Ellie has faithfully attended his classes there for over 10 years and, according to program coordinator, Patricia Baer, "He loves class and is seldom absent." She described Ellie's homecoming as "emotional" for both his classmates and instructor, Jeanne Gilbert. Ellie has expressed his appreciation and gratitude for all those who sent cards and showed their concern.

Contributions To Chesapeake Bay Still Climbing

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said contributions to the Cheaspeake Bay and Endangered Species Fund on 1989 state income tax returns total $676,806, but the count will continue to grow as the last tax returns are processed and returns filed with extension requests are received.

"Contributions continue to run ahead of this time last year, when they totalled $529,688. This is significant because most states experience a falloff in contributions during the second year of a tax checkoff program," Goldstein said. Maryland's contribution began on 1988 state tax returns.

So far, 62,154 taxpayers have contributed an average of $10,89 each to the fund. At this time last year 51,102 taxpayers had contributed an average $10.37.

"More than 1,000 taxpayers have donated $50 or more, including two returns which included donations of $1,000 each," Goldstein said.

Eighty-one Garrett County taxpayers have donated a total of $700.58, an average of $8.65 each.

Montgomery County leads the way with the largest number of taxpayers contributing (12,898), and the largest amount contributed ($172,369). Baltimore County has the second largest number of taxpayers contributing (10,674) and the second largest amount donated ($101,237).

Howard County had the highest percentage of participation, with 4.3 percent of its taxpayers whose returns have been processed contributing to the fund.

The highest average contributions are coming from Talbot County, where 293 taxpayers have donated an average of $13.86. Montgomery countians have donated the second highest average, $13.36.

"About three percent of the tax returns we've processed so far have contained contributions to the fund, just about the same participation rate as last year," the comptroller said.

Taxpayers contribute to the fund by reducing the amount of their refund or adding to any additional tax they owe. Contributions made on tax returns filed in 1990 are deductible on federal and state income tax forms filed next year.

Receives Awards From Academy

Teresa Knox, a seventh grade student at Northern Middle School, has been named a United States National Award winner in English and science by the United States Achievement Academy.

She was nominated for the awards by Mrs. Nancy Frank, English teacher at Northern Middle School, and Mr. Williams, science teacher. Her picture and biography will appear in the Academy's yearbook.

Teresa is the daughter of Flora Kay Knox and the late Earl Carl (Bear) Knox.

Council Slates Meeting On Grant Proposals

The Maryland Humanities Council will hold a public meeting on Friday, May 19, from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., at Allegany Community College, Cumberland. The meeting will cover the council's procedures and guidelines for submitting grant proposals.

The Maryland Humanities Council is an affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities, which annually awards $400,000 for projects in history, literature, philosophy, languages, jurisprudence, ethics and archeology.

The council has funded a number of programs in Allegany and Garrett counties which include "Architecture in Allegany County: A History," a traveling exhibit sponsored by Allegany Community College; "Africa! A Celebration of Human Spirit," a series of special events sponsored by Frostburg State University; "America: Cultural Roots and Offshoots," a lecture series sponsored by the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, Inc.; and "From the Old Country to the New Country," a series of presentations sponsored by Deep Creek Lake/Garrett County Promotion Council.

The meeting will be held in the Continuing Education Building, Room 8, at Allegany Community College.

For more information, contact Judy Dobbs, assistant director of Maryland Humanities Council at (301) 625-4830.

Social Security Seminar Set At Flowery Vale

The Area Agency on Aging (AAA) sponsored a Social Security/Medicare Seminar at the Oakland Senior Center in March, and because of the positive response, the AAA has scheduled Social Security/Medicare Seminar II to be held at Flowery Vale Senior Center in Accident on May 15 at 10:30 a.m.

Jim Wilson, from Social Security Administration, will be discussing various issues relating to Social Security and Medicare. The seminar will follow a question and answer format. Following the presentation. Wilson will be available for a brief period to discuss individual concerns about Social Security or Medicare.

The Agency is encouraging senior citizens, the general public, and individuals approaching retirement age, to attend this presentation.

Individuals planning to attend the presentation are requested to contact the center to allow for adequate seating. Persons 60 plus years of age who wish to participate in the Nutrition Site Meal at noon must contact the center at 826-8824 for a meal reservation no later than 2 p.m. on May 11.

Swimming Pool, Spa Operator's Course Offered

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College, in cooperation with the Garrett County Health Department, has scheduled a Swimming Pool — Spa Operator's Course for May 23 and 24. Individuals who are renewing their certificates will attend the session on May 23 while those who are obtaining first-time certification will attend both sessions. The course will meet in the Center for Community and Continuing Education, Room 305, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Successful completion of this course will prepare an individual to supervise the operation of a public swimming pool or spa in Maryland. Topics will include pool water chemistry, testing, recordkeeping, Maryland regulations, plan review processes, equipment, facility operations, maintenance and safety.

Maryland law requires all public swimming pools to be under the direct supervision of a certified operator. Students who successfully complete the course and exam will receive two-year certificates that are valid throughout the state.

Rodney B. Glotfelty, assistant director of Environmental Health at the Garrett County Health Department, will be the instructor for this course. Glotfelty has been the head of the swimming pool and recreational sanitation program at the Department since 1979. He is a registered environmental sanitarian and a member of the State Licensing Board for this profession.

The tuition for this course is $1 for Garrett County residents. A differential fee for out-of-county Maryland and out-of-state residents will apply. The course text, which costs $25, may be obtained from the Environmental Health Services office (334-8980) before the first session if desired. Additional information may be obtained from the Continuing Education office by calling 387-6666, ext. 169.

FRIENDSVILLE STUDENTS PLANT SEEDLINGS — As part of the Earth Week Celebration, Friendsville Elementary School students planted seedlings as part of a project developed by Megan Sines, fifth grade student. Sines researched the topic "Global Warming, the Greenhouse Effect." Her study was on display at Garrett Community College on Sunday, April 22. The seedlings for the planting were donated by Westvaco. Pictured above, left to right, are: Kerri Sines, Megan Sines, Bralynda Hayes, Jennifer Vitez and Mindy McCarty.

Rosson Attends Residential Real Estate Course

Cindy Rosson, of A&A Realty Better Homes and Gardens, just returned from attending a two-day course on residential real estate. The course, held at the Ramada Inn in Hagerstown, was presented by the Residential Sales Council of the Realtors National Marketing Institute.

The RS 202: "Sales Strategies for the Residential Specialist" course provides skills in successful real estate sales transactions. The senior instructor for the course was Leroy Hauser of Richmond.

The newly revised and updated RS 202 is one of a series of courses which leads to the CRS (Certified Residential Specialist) designation.

During two days of lecture, discussion and workshop sessions, Rosson acquired skills to better handle the residential sales efficiently and professionally. The course included such essential topics as showing the property, strategies for timely closings, advertising, follow-up and after-the-sale servicing.

Residential Sales courses are presented in various cities throughout the year by the Residential Sales Council of the National Association of Realtors. The Residential Sales Council is dedicated to the education of the real estate sales professional.

Rosson is a marketing coordinator with A&A Realty/Better Homes and Gardens, Deep Creek Lake.

Ms. Donetta Nice, teacher at Northern High School and advisor to the VICA Club, Miss Pam Wilburn, Grantsville, and Miss Lee Ann Schmidt went to Baltimore on Saturday to make final plans for the trip to Tulsa, Oklahoma, in June. Miss Schmidt won the Maryland State Championship in the Job Application/Interview category and received a gold medal at Westminster earlier this year. She will be in the national competition with other high school students from all over the United States at Tulsa. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmidt and sons spent Saturday at the Garrett County Fairgrounds where they met with the Indians and other persons planning the annual Pow-Wow to be held there in July.

Corey Yoder spent Monday with his grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Oren Bender, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Yoder, and son, Shane, were at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where Shane had tubes inserted in his ears and had his adenoids removed, and returned to his home here on Tuesday.

A guest of Mrs. Vernon Richter for a few days was Jim Richter, Catonsville. They visited with Vernon at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, and also visited with him at Monongalia General Hospital, Morgantown, W.Va., where he was transferred on Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft also visited with Vernon at Oakland on Wednesday and also visited with Mrs. Catherine McCrobie, Hoyes, at the same hospital.

A guest of Ralph Georg from Wednesday until Sunday was Mrs. Iola Schmidt, Bridgeville, Pa. They visited with their sister, Mrs. Catherine McCrobie, at Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she remains a patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Glover visited with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Newton Griffith, Cumberland, at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland, where she underwent hip surgery on Monday.

Miss Sherri Golden, Cumberland, and her father, Edward Golden, visited during the weekend with the latter's father, Gilbert Helt, Lykens, Pa., at Holy Spirit Hospital, Camp Hill, Pa.

Betty Darlington has returned to her home here after being a patient for several weeks at Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bender were Mr. and Mrs. George McDonald. The four of them and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Bender accompanied a group from the Cherry Glade Mennonite Church to Meyersdale Manor Nursing Home on Sunday afternoon where they sang to the residents there.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock and daughter, Donna McClintock, Luther McClintock and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schwing were among those attending the Hospice covered dish dinner and program at Camp Hickory on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Everett McClintock took Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richter to Cumberland on Tuesday where Albert underwent a medical examination.

A FRENCH AND SPANISH LANGUAGE FAIR was held recently by the French and Spanish classes at Northern High School, with a special presentation of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" by the French III and IV students. In addition to this live performance, there were also poster contest displays, music videos (supplied with lyrics), a souvenir table with student-produced magazines, recipes and other memorabilia, class videos, French movies, Spanish cartoons, and cooking demonstrations where enchiladas or crepes were available for sampling. Pictured in the above photo are some of the student participants, left to right, Ed Shoemake, Sally Shaulis, Tracy Resh and Sherri Beachy. Below, same order, are Olila McElroy, Brock Yommer and John Friend.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. McClintock and Luther were Kristen Hanft, Addison, Pa.; Karl Oester and Gary Lowrey, Meyersdale, Pa., Miss Kimberly McClintock and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft. Emerson McClintock visited several times during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hanft were Saturday afternoon visitors of Rev. and Mrs. William Wilson, Accident, where their son, William Jr., continues to recuperate after being a hospital patient for several months at Baltimore, Cumberland, and Oakland. Mrs. Donald Ringer was also a recent visitor of the Willsons. Sunday supper guests of the Hanfts were Karl Oester, Meyersdale, Pa. and Kristen Hanft, Addison, Pa. The four of them were evening visitors of Misses Esther and Claudine Opel. They also visited the Carroll Hanft family at Addison.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Take notice that the Town of Mountain Lake Park, on Tuesday, May 8th, 1990, introduced an Annexation Resolution, in accordance with the provisions of Section 19 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, for the annexation of the area known as The Andrew Fike Subdivision to be annexed to the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

The Resolution provides for the annexation of all that lot, piece or parcel of land situated and lying in Election District No. 7, of Garrett County, Maryland, west of Broadford Road and north of Mary Drive, including the lands of Andrew Fike, as described in a deed dated September 19, 1984, and recorded in Liber 449 at Folio 727, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and including 1.63 acres, more or less.

Under the Resolution, the land will be annexed to the Town, with a zoning designation as Suburban Residential, in accordance with the Town's Zoning ordinance.

The Resolution provides that after the effective date of the annexation, all persons residing within the annexed area shall become citizens of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, subject to the provisions of the charter, along with any amendments thereto, and that all real property to be so annexed as well as the personal property thereon, shall be subject to the municipal property taxes of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, and the said property will be taxed as all other property, both real and personal, within the Town of Mountain Lake Park at the tax rate legally set by the Mayor and Town Council.

The Resolution further provides that the Mayor and Town Council shall extend such service to the residents of the annexed area as are extended to other residents of the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

The Resolution shall become effective, and the annexation completed on the 46th day following the adoption of the said Resolution.

TAKE NOTICE THAT THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL SHALL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON THIS RESOLUTION AND THE ANNEXATION OF THE ANDREW FIKE SUBDIVISION, ON JUNE 26, 1990, IN THE MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK TOWN HALL LOCATED AT 1007 ALLEGHENY DRIVE, MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, MARYLAND, BEGINNING AT 6:00 p.m.

MARYLAND STATE DEPARTMENT OF THE ENVIRONMENT HAZARDOUS AND SOLID WASTE MANAGEMENT ADMINISTRATION

Public Hearing on an Application for a State Discharge Permit.
PUBLIC NOTICE NO.: MD 2366
ISSUE DATE: 5/10/90

The Hazardous and Solid Waste Management Administration (HSWMA) has made a tentative determination on an application for a State Discharge Permit listed below and has scheduled a public hearing as indicated. Persons who wish to present information about this tentative determination may speak at the hearing and/or submit a written statement to HSWMA no later than five days following the hearing. All comments will be considered in HSWMA's final decision concerning this application.

Any person who feels adversely affected by the following tentative determination and wishes to contest the determination may request that contested issues be adjudicated. Each request must be in writing to the address given below, must contain the name, address, telephone number of the requesting person, the specific rights, duties or privileges of the individual which are adversely affected by the tentative decision, the name of the other party whom the requester represents, the issues proposed for adjudication, and must be received by HSWMA within fifteen days immediately following the public hearing. The Secretary of the Department of the Environment will decide whether a request presents valid issues for adjudication, notify all parties of his decision, and may schedule a pre-hearing conference.

Significantly altered determinations would initiate further opportunity for adjudication.

All information concerning permit applications and tentative determinations is on file at the Department of the Environment (2500 Broening Highway, Baltimore, Maryland 21224). Upon appointment, the files may be inspected Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Facilities for obtaining copies at a reasonable cost will be available.

Written requests for information or adjudication concerning Industrial Discharge Permits may be addressed to Mr. Ronald Nelson, Director of the Hazardous and Solid Waste Management Administration, at the above address. Telephone requests should be made to Ms. Gail Castleman at (301) 631-3305.

The Department will provide an interpreter for the deaf or hearing impaired persons provided that a timely request is made for such service.

A public hearing on the following tentative decision will be held:

Wednesday, June 13, 1990
At 9:00 a.m.
Bureau of Mines
(Conference Room)
60 Hill Street
Frostburg, Maryland 21532
GARRETT COUNTY

Discharge Permit Application No. 90-DP-2769 (NPDES No. MD0064904): The Masteller Coal Company, P.O. Box 370, Keyser, WV 26726 proposes to operate an underground coal mine four miles northeast of Swanton, MD. The outfall authorized by this permit will discharge a variable amount of stormwater runoff and infiltrated groundwater to Laurel Run (Basin Code 02.14.10.05, Stream Use III-P).

Tentative Decision: Issue permit with limitations on pH, turbidity, total iron, total manganese, and total suspended solids. These effluent limitations are chosen to protect the water quality of Laurel Run.

DID YOU KNOW?

by Karen F. Spiker

The Better Homes & Gardens Real Estate Service is celebrating the month of MAY as "BETTER YOUR HOME MONTH."

Since 1926, Better Homes & Gardens magazine has been known as the magazine for home and family. It is interesting to note a few of the following statistics:

Better Homes & Gardens readers have contributed more than $1.6 million to The Better Homes Foundation for the Homeless.

Since July of 1937, BH&G readers have submitted 800,000 entries to the Prize-Tested Recipe Contest.

The 1988 Home Improvement Contest attracted 43,000 inquiries, representing nearly 100,000 projects. Of these, 9,160 homeowners completed formal entries, with a total investment of more than $172 million.

Locally, we recognize the impact that the name Better Homes & Gardens has throughout the nation, and we are cooperating fully in their projects. Our celebration of "MAY IS BETTER YOUR HOME MONTH" includes FREE Home Market Analyses, the introduction of the complete Home Merchandising System, introduction of our FREE Home Merchandising Library System, and another OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY on May 20, 1990.

Next week, watch for details on our HOME MERCHANDISING SYSTEM and celebrate "MAY IS BETTER YOUR HOME MONTH" with us. We'll help give you ideas for remodeling, painting, wallpapering, landscaping, and accessorizing so that you can enjoy your home even more while you're living in it.

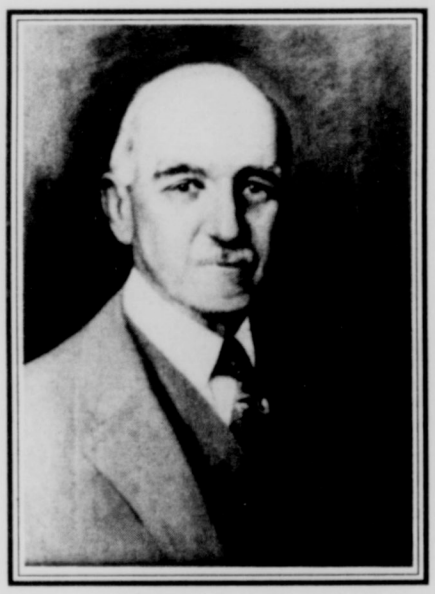
The Caring Begins . . .

"A Wise and Understanding Heart"

Through his will, George W. Loar bequeathed the sum of $175,000 to Garrett County to be used to construct a community hospital. Spending the last years of his life as an invalid, Mr. Loar devoted that time to perfecting his plan behind this bequest. So strong was Mr. Loar's interest, that he had had an architect prepare some preliminary sketches about two years prior to his death. He had also indicated the site where he felt the hospital should be located, one which the town authorities had purchased as the possible site for a community building.



This generous gift carried many stipulations. The will stipulated, "the building to be of a design and type suitable and appropriate to the county and its ability to support and maintain the same." It was stated that $160,000 was to be made available for construction, $10,000 for landscaping and $5,000 to assist in supporting the hospital during its opening period. The hospital was to be operated under the joint supervision of the County Commissioners and a five-person committee. It further provided that the bequest must be accepted within a one year period or else it would revert to another legatee.

The Board of County Commissioners set up an advisory committee of representative citizens to study the advisability of accepting the bequest. This committee investigated the matter and recommended the generous offer be accepted. April 2, 1946, the Board of County Commissioners went on record as accepting the bequest according to the various stipulations.

George W. Loar (1865-1946) -- "A Wise and Understanding Heart" reads a bronze plaque located at the main entrance to the Hospital in commemoration of this generous gift and the beginning of Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

MEMORIES

By George H. Hanst
Chairman, Contributing Committee, "1947"

Although it has been forty-three years since I was named county chairman of the first contributing committee for Garrett County Memorial Hospital I still get a real thrill whenever I think of what was accomplished then and what has been accomplished during the intervening years and what is occurring today.

It is difficult to imagine how people and organizations burst forth with money and pledges in support of a proposed hospital during that period, 1946 to 1948. Back in those early days people had been compelled to go to Cumberland, Meyersdale, Morgantown or Baltimore for any hospitalization and yearned for a better solution when it was announced in 1946 that the late George. W. Loar had bequeathed $175,000 toward construction of a hospital in the Oakland area. With it was a stipulation that it must be accepted within a year or the money would go elsewhere.

In less than a month the County Commissioners had agreed to accept responsibility and the city of Oakland had agreed to convey the former Harry Helbig farm property at the north edge of town to the commissioners, as recommended as the location by Mr. Loar, a longtime resident of Oakland and a retired businessman of Grafton, West Virginia.

Mr. Loar's philosophy and plans were revealed to me prior to 1948. My wife and I with our two sons, probably about four and five, visited the Loar home during a Christmas holiday season. Mr. Loar said to our boys, "Save your money, so that in the future you will accumulate enough to do something good for mankind." So, even in the late 1930's Mr. Loar had in mind what he would do with some of his savings. Mr. Loar died July 18, 1944.

So the possibility of a hospital entered the thoughts of many individuals, businesss people and organizational leaders. Contributions and pledges began to pour in but it was not all clear sailing. Preliminary plans were not approved until January 1947, with final plans being approved the same year. But bids for construction, from $447,198 to $518,063 in July 1947 were too high and construction plans had to be revised. It was not until November 1947 until the hospital got top priority from the Federal government. A federal subsidy of $163,000 was approved in 1948. Finally a low bid of $426,000 was approved in 1948.

We recall when the Loar family added $21,000 to the original bequest. Among the early donors of $1,000 was the Moose lodge in February 1946. Knights of Phthias quickly followed, then Ministerial Association, American Legion, many business men and individuals. Donors were all recorded in weekly stories in The Republican Newspaper. As editor at that time I endeavored to give wide publicity, which apparently paid off.

Each week brought new thrills and a particular one easy to remember occurred in June, 1947, when a gift of $10,000 came from the Bahama Islands from Elizabeth Nelson Lofthouse, a daughter of Andrew and Anne Nelson, a concert singer, former Oakland residents.

Originally the local goal was $80,000 but contributions were so numerous and liberal the goal was boosted to $100,000. On August 12, 1947, the total reached $101,380.84. All committee members were highly elated and thoughts of an addition to the Hospital became widespread. Ground was finally broken August 12, 1948. Committees were asked to continue to function.

My memory was reactivated by a search through the files of The Republican for years 1946 through 1948 and brought real satisfaction in realizing what had been done at that time. It seems very slight today compared to what has been done in the past few years by the present Hospital Committee.

Assisting me in that first county committee were Lawrence M. Fraley, mayor of Oakland; Bernard I. Gonder, Richard C. McComas, and Mrs. E.Z. Tower, all now deceased. Committees that were named at that time in each town in the county also worked diligently.

The Tradition Of Giving Continues . . .

George Loar's generosity of a $170,000 bequest established a tradition of giving which has been maintained throughout the years. His brother, Charles Harry Loar, left $5,000 of his estate to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in 1950 and his sister, Grace Loar, bequeathed $2,558.83 to the Hospital in 1959, both gifts to be used to assist indigent patients with their hospital bills. In 1947, Elizabeth Nelson Lofthouse bequeathed $10,000 to assist in the construction of the original Hospital building. Her bequest was made in memory of her parents, Andrew and Annie Dickie Nelson.

Many other community service-minded people have made bequests to the Hospital. Georgia Grove Clayton left the Hospital $29,000 in 1956. In 1958, a bequest from John H. Miller established a $75,000 fund to assist indigent patients with their hospital bills. In 1964, Sarah V. Wilt bequeather 1/2 interest to the Hospital in two properties in Swanton, including 140 acres known as "Pea Patch." When the properties were sold the Hospital received $36,000.

In 1967, the will of the late Susan B. Pattison, Bloomington, provided for the Hospital to receive a major portion of her estate valued at $252,225.54. In 1972, Bess Smith left $25,077.89 to the Hospital to be used specifically to fund its equipment needs. A bequest of $50,606.85 was received from the estate of Louis Selby.

The estate of Lillian Chisholm provided $99,665.47 for the Hospital to use to benefit children, and in 1987 Alvin Breuniger left the Hospital $65,456.39. Both of these bequests have been placed under the management of the Hospital's Foundation.

Not all major gifts to the Hospital have come in the form of a bequest. In late 1955, a 700-acre farm in McHenry was donated to the Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. and Helen B. White in memory or Charles Frank and Estelle Jarboe White. The county pruchased 200 acres of the White Face Farm in late 1959 for the Garrett County Airport, and one acre in 1962 for a dumpster site.

In 1980, the Deep Creek Lions club purchased 32 1/2 acres to establish a community park. Although all of the livestock and buildings have been sold and removed from the property throughout the years, the remaining acreage has been put to many uses. Pine trees have been planted and harvested, Texas Eastern Corp. has used the property for underground natural gas storage, and Garrett Community College routinely uses the property for nature studies. Proceeds from these transactions have been used to purchase needed equipment throughout the years.

In 1974, Bernice Hesser made a $25,000 gift to establish a nurses training fund to be managed by the Hospital.

Spencer Graham in 1976 established the Spencer W. and Margaret M. Graham Memorial Trust in the amount of $25,000, with the Hospital receiving the earnings from the trust for 50 years and receiving the principal at the end of the 50-year period.

The Scholler Foundation, Philadelphia, Pa., has been very generous to the Hospital, making grants for specific pieces of equipment from 1969 to 1984 totalling $41,500.

The Hospital Opens

The following is an excerpt from the story written by Dr. E.I. Baumgartner in the late 1950's entitled "The Story of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital." This story was reportedly written by Dr. Baumgartner as a script for an educational movie.

On February 19, 1947, the Board of County Commissioners adopted a motion to sponsor an application for the granting of federal funds. At this time preliminary estimates were received for construction costs; the low was $426,000.

Early in May of 1947 the final plans were approved by both the State and Federal agencies for a 34 bed structure to have as patient facilities 4 cribs, 8 bassinets, 4 private rooms, 9 semi-private and 3 four bed wards. It was announced the Federal grant would be $163,000. It was estimated the total cost for the structure would be about $536,000 -- of this about $445,000 for construction, $54,500 for equipment, and the balance for architect fees and other expenses incidental to supervision and construction. The contract for construction was awarded to Moyer Brothers of Altoona, Pennsylvania, and on August 12, 1948, ground was finally broken for the building.

Mr. John Francis Gallagher of Cumberland was named as administrator on September 22, 1949, and charged with the duty of purchasing the equipment and operating the institution.

Late in 1949, Mr. J.J. Baldwin became ill and was forced to withdraw as architect. His place was taken by Mr. Fred Tilp, of Washington. Thinking of possible future additions the utilities of the structure were designed for possible expansion to a 65 bed facility and certain corridor walls were constructed in such a manner that they might be easily knocked out for the addition of a wing in the rear should this become necessary.

On May 15, 1950, the Garrett County Memorial Hospital opened its doors for patients. The total amount having been expended at this time was $525,000. Your author of this report is happy to have had the honor of delivering the first baby in the new hospital.

The staff was composed of Drs. E.I. Baumgartner, James H. Feaster, Thomas F. Lusby, Andrew E. Mance and J.W. Wenzel of Oakland -- Dr. Charles E. Smith of Terra Alta, W. Va. -- Drs. Harold and Blanch Miller of Eglon, W. Va. In addition, there was a courtsey staff composed of physicians and surgeons from Cumberland, Md., Morgantown, W. Va. and Phillipi, W. Va. In 1952, Dr. Joseph Alvarez moved to Oakland and became a member of the active staff.

From the beginning the hospital has been successful in taking care of the medical and surgical needs of the county and surrounding territory.

Further gifts and bequests have been granted the institution. In 1953, Mr. John H. Miller of Bloomington, Md., set up a trust fund that provides for the hospital to receive $3,000 a year for a period of 25 years.

Mr. Gallagher served as administrator until early in 1952, when he resigned to accept a similar position at the Community Hospital, Meyersdale, Pa. He was succeeded by Miss Irene Sharp of Houtzdale, Pa.

Early in 1953, it was realized an addition would be necessary because of crowded conditions. Patients were being placed in the corridors, and there was overcrowding tn the obstetrical suite. Accordingly, as a result of action taken by the Board of Govorners, Johannes and Murray, architects of Silver Spring, Md., were consulted and preliminary plans drawn for the addition of a wing to provide for 25 additional patient beds, as well as increased bassinet space in the nursery.

An act was passed by the State Assembly granting the County Commissioners the right to borrow $200,000 as its contribution for additional construction. Application was made for another Hill-Burton grant. This was forthcoming, and in 1954 a contract was let for the construction of the new wing providing for 25 additional beds, as well as space for other necessary ancillary services. The cost of construction of the wing was $300,322.83. Equipment costs were $30,029.02.

The completed plant is carried on the books by our auditors as having an overall value of $908,971.61. Of this amount, the actual costs to the taxpayers of the county for construction and equipment has been just a little over $200,000. At the present time we have 4 four-bed adult wards, 1 four-bed pediatric ward, 16 two-bed semi-private rooms, and 7 private rooms, for a total of 59 beds. In the nursery, there are 26 bassinets, 4 incubators and 1 isolette. In addition, the solaria on the two upper floors are so constructed that, should the need arise, they can be converted easily into five-bed wards. Our obstetrical and operating suites are air-conditioned, as well as both nurseries. In addition, the nursery has modern incubators, including two isolettes. With the addition of the new wing, which has been occupied since August 1955, the County Health Department now occupies half of the first floor of the new wing. Their facilities, which have their own entrance and waiting room, are more ample and entirely separated from the hospital.

The hospital was visited by Dr. J.W. Nelson, of the Joint Accreditation Board, in May 1956. At the present time we have provisional accreditation. It is our hope that means may be taken to insure complete accreditation by the time of the next inspection.

Miss Sharp was succeeded by Mr. Henry W. McComas, Jr., as administrator on October 15, 1956. Mr. McComas is the son of the late Dr. Henry W. McComas, a well known practitioner of the county.

In 1953, 494 babies were born in this delivery room. Pictured are Norma Gnegy RN and Sue Teagarden RN.

The Hospital Grows To Meet the Needs of the Community

By 1964, discussions were underway regarding the need to expand and renovate some of the ancillary service departments and to increase the bed complement. The original building which opened in 1950 contained an emergency room, laboratory, x-ray department, operating room and 30 patient beds. The addition which opened in 1955 added 20 beds, making Garrett County a 50-bed acute care hospital. As the population in the area increased and the health care needs of that population increased, it became clear that another addition to the Hospital was needed.

Planning consultants were contacted in early 1965. Based on the findings of the planning study, the architectural firm of Johames and Murray was asked to do the architectural plans for the addition. Plans were completed in December of 1967 and submitted to the appropriate state and federal regulatory agencies for approval and funding. Regulatory approval was received in April 1968. The project was then put out for bid, and the construction contract was awarded to the Carl Belt Co. Total project cost was $1,409,298.

Instrumental in enabling the Hospital to fund its portion of the project cost was a bequest from the late Susan B. Pattison of Bloomington, Maryland, of approximately $250,000.

The construction was completed in late 1970, adding 22 inpatient beds, upgraded equipment, expanded emergency rooms, new Laboratory, X-ray, Accounting and Dietary Departments, Recovery Room, Cardiac Care Unit and additional operating and delivery rooms. The Garrett County Health Department was also located on the first floor of the new wing. The Garrett County Memorial Hospital became a 72-bed hospital.

December 25, 1950, the first Christmas baby born at Garrett County Memorial Hospital was Susan Frances Meyer. Susan was delivered to Herman A. "Jim" and Mary Frances (Eubank) Meyer of Davis, West Virginia, by Dr. Irving Baumgartner.

Growth Continues . . .

In 1977, a 4-bed coronary intensive care unit was installed through renovation of an existing wing. This gave the Hospital its current total bed complement of 76.

By the mid-1970's both the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department were "bursting at the seams." The Health Department had to rent office space elsewhere to house many of it programs. The Hospital's ancillary departments were becoming overcrowded and outdated as volumes increased and medical technology became more modern. The physical plant also needed to be renovated and modernized to conform with increasingly stringent State, Federal and Fire Marshall Codes.

In early 1977, the architectural firm of Cannon Design, Inc., of Grand Island, New York, acted as principal architect for the project. Working cooperatively with Coopers & Lybrand, a financial consulting firm, Cannon Design developed plans that involved 41,000 square feet of new construction and the renovation of about 15,000 square feet of the existing facility. Upon completion of the project, approximately 25,000 square feet of the existing facility would be transferred to the Garrett County Health Department, creating the Garrett County Health Complex.

The project included new facilities for laboratory, radiology, physical therapy, and cardio-pulmonary departments.

Also included in the project were:
new operating and recovery rooms;
renovated and enlarged facilities for post partum, labor and delivery and nursing suite;
new emergency room and coronary/intensive care unit;
new departments of Central Supply, General Stores;
renovated and enlarged department of pharmacy;
new patient rooms to re-locate 34 medical/surgical beds, including 4 pediatric beds, and replacement and upgrading the power plant.

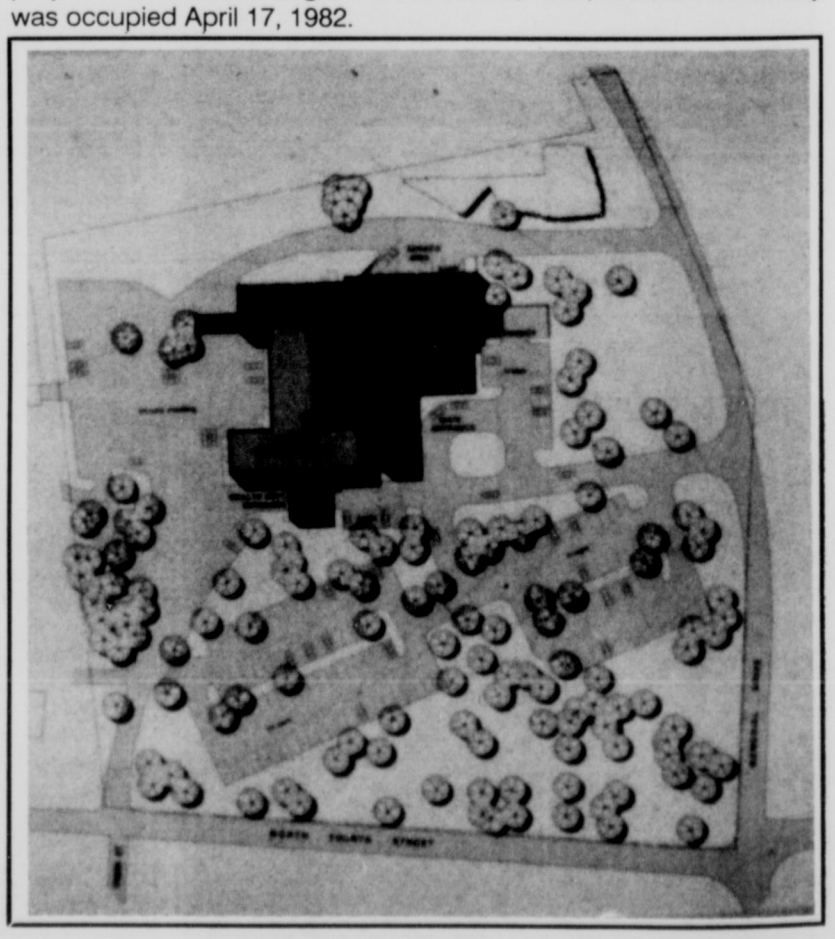
Funding and regulatory approval of the project were pursued. On July 27, 1979, the Maryland Health Planning and Development Agency granted a Certificate of Need for the Project. Funding for the $7,368,000 project included an Appalachian Regional Commission Grant of $2.5 million and a County Bond Issue of $4,810,000. The registered voters of Garrett County demonstrated their overwhelming support for the project by a 2 to 1 favorable vote in a referendum on May 13, 1980, to allow the county government to sell bonds on behalf of the hospital to help finance the project.

A community fund raising campaign, Project G, was also extremely successful, raising $250,000, exceeding the goal by $10,000. This outstanding act of generosity from not only the residents of Garrett County, but also of Grant, Tucker, Preston and Mineral Counties in West Virginia overwhelmingly showed the community support for the Garrett County Memorial Hospital and the Garrett County Health Department.

The Mellon-Stuart Co., Fairmont, W. Va., was engaged in December of 1979 to provide construction management services for the project. Construction began November 23, 1980, and the new facility was occupied April 17, 1982.



EXPANSION AND RENOVATION PROJECT

GROWING FOR A HEALTHY TOMORROW

Garrett County Memorial Hospital Today

Today, Garrett County Memorial Hospital is a modern, efficient facility which serves a population of over 30,000 in Garrett County, Maryland, and Tucker, Mineral, Grant and Preston Counties in West Virginia.

The Hospital is directed by a 16-member Board of Governors. This dedicated group spends many volunteer hours not only making decisions on major hospital policies and setting the direction to be taken in the future, but also on keeping up-to-date on the ever-changing issues in health care today. The Board members include elected officials, bank representatives, county commissioner appointees, and several members-at-large, who convene at least once each month for a full board meeting and on many other occasions for committee work. The receive no compensation for their time and effort, other than the satisfaction of being a part of such a professional, dedicated "hospital family."

Over half of the current medical staff came to the Garrett County area during the decade of the "80's." These new physicians are predominatley Board Certified, American trained Family Physicians, perfectly suited to the rural community. The highly skilled surgeons, again predominately Board Certified and American trained, brought a diversity of surgical skills which either enhanced existing surgical services (vascular, orthopedics, general) or added new services such as Ophthalmic surgery or reconstructive Orthopedics.

The rest of the 1980's brought explosive growth in the Hospital's outpatient services, fueled by the never-ending addition of new equipment and services. Some of the more major or these include Angiography, Nuclear Medicine, IPG's, OPG's (vascular), Mammography, Carotid and Cardiac Dopler (ultrasound), Computerized Tomography (CT scanner), Mobile Medical Services (home oxygen, equipment rentals and mobile testing), the Wellness Programs including chemistry profile, health checks, health promotion and the Wellness Calendar.

The Garrett County Memorial Hospital ranks among the top job-providers in the area with over 300 full- and part-time employees. The Hospital's payroll tops $7 million; its purchases within the area are close to $1 million. More than $100,000 is spent in the county by visitors whose friends or relatives are patients in the Hospital. The Hospital spends more than $13 million in payroll and purchases; close to 50 cents of every dollar spent in the county. County experts have determined that the hospital generates almost almost $26 million in related spending in the local economy.

The Hospital is fully accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Through this voluntary system of regular visits to inspect every aspect of the Hospital's operation, patients are assured quality hospital care provided by a competent staff.

The Hospital is licensed by the State of Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. It is certified by the Health Care Financing Administration and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for the care of Medicare and Medicaid patients. As part of its commitment to providing care without regard to a person's ability to pay, the Hospital provides charity care to those unable to pay for needed services. The Hospital is a member of the American Hospital Association and its Center for Small and Rural Hospitals. The Hospital is also a member of the Maryland Hospital Association.

The rates and charges established by Garrett County Memorial Hospital are carefully monitored and regulated by the Maryland Health Services Cost Review Commission, an agency appointed to help control health care costs in Maryland. The Hospital cooperates fully with the HSCRC in its attempt to provide the highest quality of services to the patient at the lowest possible cost.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation

The Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation is, today, a strong and vital part of the success of Garrett County Memorial Hospital. While the Hospital celebrates its fortieth anniversary, the Foundation enters only its fourth year. The concept of a Foundation was advanced by Board Member Jacquelyn Shirer in 1987. The community rallied behind the idea and within a short period of time, the Foundation was organized with members coming from all walks of the Hospital family. Under the chairmanship of Robert P. Sharps, the Foundation mounted a successful campaign in 1988 which generated over $1 million in pledges and provided an awareness of the Foundation by the community.

Since that campaign, the Foundation has continued to serve the Hospital in a number of different ways. It continues to engage in efforts to increase the public's awareness of the capital needs of the Hospital, as well as facilitate the collection of funds to meet those needs.

Through its public relations committee, chaired by Richard Peake, the public is informed on a regular basis of the various activities of the foundation, including fundraising successes, acquisition of needed equipment, and deferred gifts. Various special events are coordinated by Elaine McDonald. Last year's barbecue at Del-Acres afforded everyone in attendance with an enjoyable evening and the opportunity to learn more about and support the Foundation.

The Foundation executive committee still meets about every other week to update themselves on the operations and to plan for Foundation activities. The full Foundation meets quarterly to review the progress of the Foundation and provide direction for the executive committee for the succeeding quarter. Day to day operations of the Foundation are ably handled by Kathy Greaser and other members of the Hospital staff. The financial status of the foundation is reviewed carefully by Carl Fike, the Foundation's treasurer, and reported to the executive committee at each meeting.

Thus far, the Foundation has made several equipment purchases for the Hospital, including the new dedicated mammography unit and the blood gas unit.

As the newest member of the Hospital family, the Foundation is greatful for the support which it has within the community and looks forward to the opportunity of future service to the Hospital and the people it serves.

Surgery

Three fully equipped suites, an endoscopy room and recovery room comprise the surgical services available at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. Highly skilled surgeons, nurse anesthetists, nurses and technicians provide close monitoring, sterile environment, technical proficiency, and both emotional and physical support.

Outpatient and inpatient surgical services are performed in a safe, efficient, economical manner.

Emergency Services Department

The Emergency Services Department at Garrett County Memorial Hospital is professionally staffed and equipped to deal with any emergency that occurs.

Qualified registered nurses, trained nursing assistants, emergency room technicians and an emergency room physician all form the team that awaits each patient as they enter the Emergency Services Department. An emergency room physician is available at all times with surgical and specialty physicians on back-up call. The emergency room staff maintains a close working relationship with pre-hospital care providers. Through the 911 Emergency Medical Services VHF/UHF radio system, medical direction is provided to the ambulance personnel by Garrett Memorial's emergency room physician.

The emergency room suite consists of 8 patient care areas, each designed for efficiency during an emergency situation. In keeping with technological advancements, cardiac monitoring, specialized trauma and routine diagnostic equipment is upgraded as enhancements become available.

Nursing Care Units

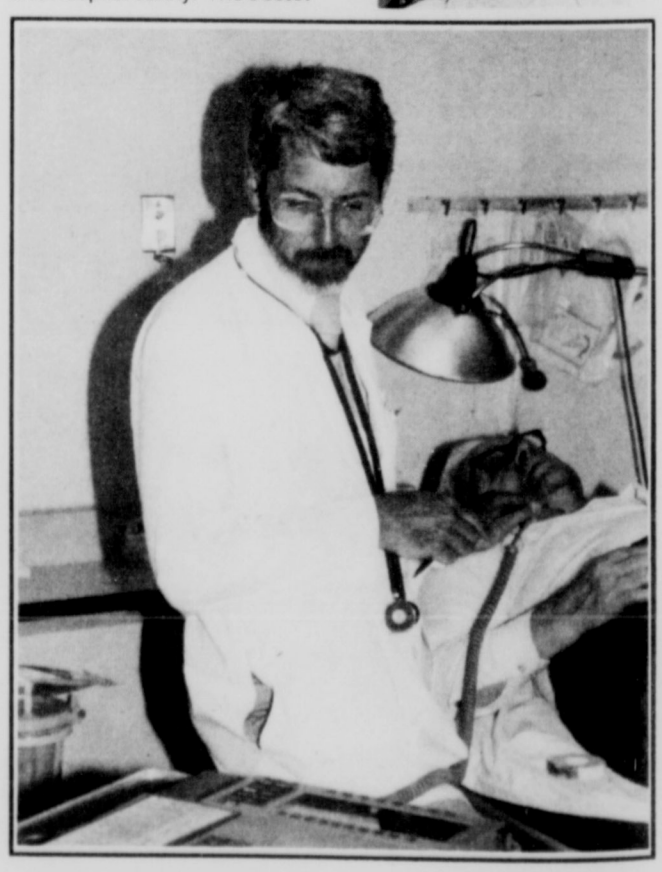
As a full service, acute-care community hospital, Garrett County Memorial Hospital provides 76 beds for treatment of general medical illness and injuries and for surgical an OB patients. The professional nursing staff offers the patient the emotional and physical support they need.

Cardiac telemetry monitoring is available on these units for those patients who do not need to be in the Cardiac/Intensive Care Unit.

The four bed Coronary/Intensive Care Unit offers one of the most advanced monitoring systems available. Highly trained physicians, nurses and nursing assistants are team members providing indepth patient care.

The Obstetrics Department provides the qualified personnel and modern equipment to assist in a safe and rewarding birth experience. Personnel strive to meet the individual health needs of all patients during their stay throughout labor, delivery, post-partum and discharge. An alternative birthing service is offered in the birthing room for those who choose the home atmosphere with family support and hospital safety. The obstetrical suite consists of seven beds, a labor room, a birthing room and a delivery room, all fully equipped with the most modern equipment.

The four bed Pediatric Unit is a well-equipped, efficient area offering the "little people" a friendly atmosphere in which to get well. The staff is acutely aware of the special needs of children and every effort is made toward meeting those needs.



Respiratory Therapy Procedures

Respiratory therapy can help people with lung problems, other respiratory diseases and some heart conditions. Treatments which include oxygen therapy, treatments for breathing problems, and resuscitation, are performed by highly trained technicians.

Pulmonary Function Testing

This type of testing is available to determine lung volumes and capacities as well as assess arterial blood gases.

Electrodiagnostic Tests

An electrocardiogram (EKG) measures the activity of your heart, and an electroencephalogram (EEG) measures your brain waves. Both of these tests are performed by specially trained technicians.

Stress Testing

Walking on a treadmill to exercise your heart while the physician monitors your EKG.

Holter Monitoring

A portable recording device worn by a patient for 24 hours to capture irregular heart beats on tape.

Pacemaker Insertion

A device to make your heart beat if it goes too slowly.

IPG

A test to check lower legs for blood clots.

Mobile Medical Services

Testing and services for patients with non-emergency situations are performed at home such as: apnea monitoring for SIDS (Sudden Infant Death Syndrome), home oxygen and related pulmonary procedures and equipment; blood specimens for laboratory testing, basic x-ray procedures, ECG, IPG, EEG, Holter monitoring and pacemaker analysis for non-ambulatory patients.

X-Ray Department

X-rays are performed by physicians or trained technologists on modern state-of-the-art equipment. These x-rays are interpreted by a physician specializing in radiology. These reports are then given to your doctor.

Arteriography

A procedure performed to visualize the major arteries in the body. It is often performed to determine the presence of a blood clot and possibly prevent a stroke or other blockage from occurring. The procedure requires the introduction of a small tube into a designated artery and the injection of a substance into the artery which enables the doctor to visualize the inside of the vessel. X-rays are taken during the procedure to record the results.

Mammography

A low dose x-ray of the breast may be ordered. This procedure is performed by a trained female technician on a dedicated mamography machine.

Ultrasound Procedure

An ultrasound machine uses sound waves instead of x-rays for such procedures as a sonogram in pregnancy to give a picture of the developing fetus or an echo-cardiogram which is a sonogram of the heart activity.

Nuclear Medicine Tests

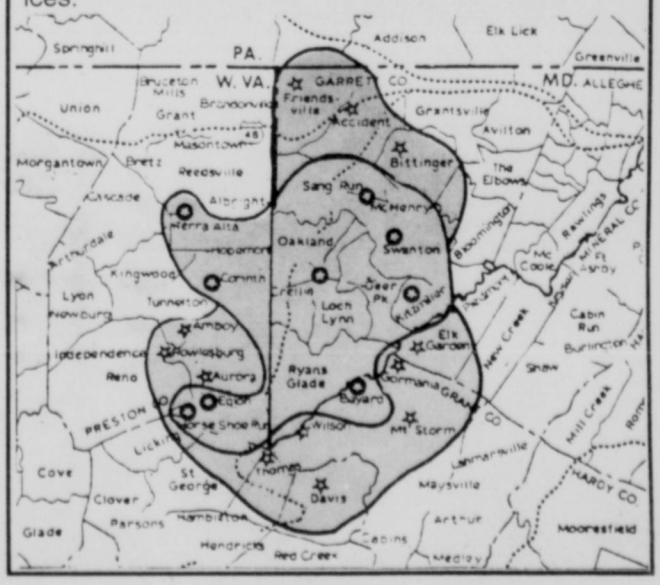
This branch of medicine helps to diagnose problems that other tests cannot find. A very small amount of radioactive materials administered either intravenously or by mouth is traced by sensitive radiation detectors. This procedure is always done by professional medical specialists.

C.T. (Computerized Tomography)

C.T. is a sophisticated x-ray system that utilizes a computer to analyze information and produce a cross-sectional image of any part of the body (similar to a slice of a loaf of bread). The cross-sectional image can be used to diagnose tumors, strokes, bleeding in the brain, some fractures, ruptured discs in the back and to guide the placement of biopsy instruments, just to name a few. The images are initially viewed on a small TV monitor and then printed on x-ray film for interpretation by a radiologist who is specially trained to interpret C.T. scans.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital Coverage Area

As you can see from the map below, the Hospital serves the population of not only Garrett County, Maryland, but also portions of Preston, Tucker, Grant and Mineral Counties in West Virginia. The circles on the map indicate communities in the Hospital's primary service area. The stars on the map indicate communities in the Hospital's secondary service area. The residents in the primary service area use Garrett County Memorial Hospital for 90% of their needed hospital services while residents in the secondary service area use Garrett County Memorial Hospital for about 50% of their needed hospital services.



Laboratory

Laboratory testing is done by highly skilled technicians using modern sophisticated equipment. They work under the direction of a physician who specializes in this field. The laboratory is comprised of several specialized areas:

(1)BLOOD BANK -- A well-stocked blood bank is operated by the Hospital laboratory. Blood is supplied by the Johnstown Regional Blood Program. Donations of blood can be made to the Red Cross Blood Mobile at their regularly scheduled quarterly visit at various locations throughout the county.

(2)CHEMISTRY -- Tests including blood sugar, potassium and calcium are performed in this ares. At least 143,000 chemistry tests are performed each year at Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

(3)HEMATOLOGY -- The Couldte JT, a recent equipment addition, allows Garrett County Memorial Hospital to offer more rapid platelet counts as well as the usual blood counts.

(4)SPECIAL CHEMISTRY --With the technology provided by the Abott TDX and IMX the laboratory is capable of offering a complete menu of therapeutic drug testing and thyroid profile. 95% of all testing ordered is done at the Garrett County Memorial Hospital laboratory.

(5)MICROBIOLOGY -- This area of the laboratory determines what antibiotics will kill bacteria, for such diseases as infectious mono, syphilis and rubella.

Pharmacy

Medication is prepared in the Hospital pharmacy by registered pharmacists.

Physical Therapy

Physical Therapy is essential to patients recovering from heart attacks, accidents and some operations. Rehabilitation programs are evaluated and monitored by licensed physical therapists. Treatments include exercise, massage, heat, ice and gait training.

Admitting Department

Information essential for medical, legal and financial records is obtained by trained admitting clerks. All information is held in the strictest confidence.

Patient Accounts Department

Patient account representatives aggressively work on behalf of the patient to assure that legitimate insurance benefits are utilized in payment for treatment.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital attempts to assist those patients who do not have insurance or whose insurance will not cover the full cost of hospitalization. Once eligibility has been established, charity care may be authorized or a hospital bill may be paid in monthly payments.

Medical Records

Patient care records are maintained by efficiently trained clerks. These records are often a vital tool to ensure continuity of care. All patient records are held in the strictest confidence.

Discharge Planning/Social Worker

The Department of Patient and Family Services offers, without fee, the support of a professional Social Worker/Counselor. This individual will help with any problems that may arise during a hospital stay. We offer assistance with financial problems, information about community services, assistance with Nursing Home or Rehabilitation placements, and help with planning for home care and equipment.

Chaplain's Services

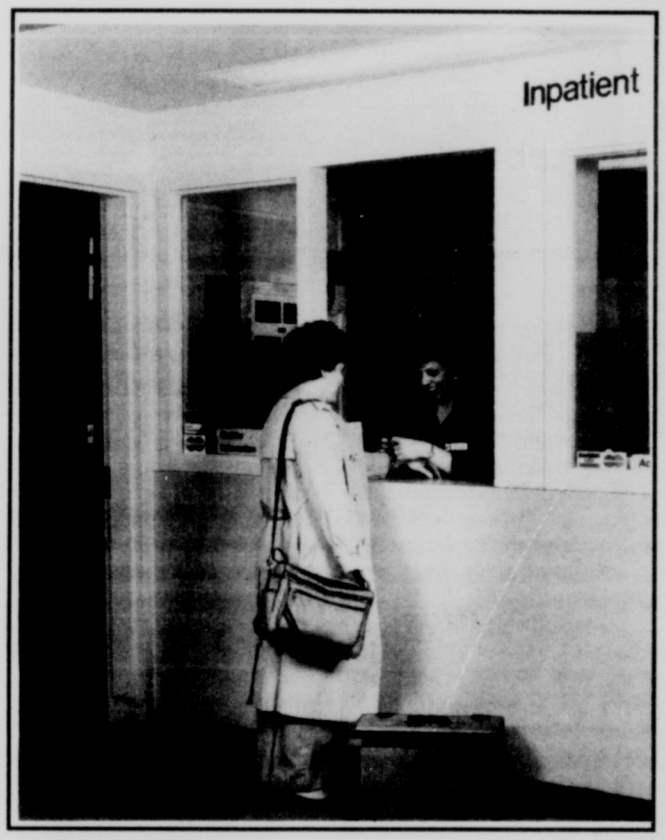
An important part of a patient's care is provided by the Chaplains. For private meditation, a chapel is provided in the lobby area.

Quality Assurance/Risk Management Program

The Board of Governors is ultimately responsible for establishing and maintaining an organized Quality Assurance/Risk Management Program. The purpose of the Quality Assurance/Risk Management Program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital is to provide an integrated and comprehensive Hospital-wide process designed to monitor and evaluate, objectively and systematically, the quality and appropriateness of patient care, pursue opportunities to improve patient care and clinical performance, and resolve identified problems. The Quality Assurance/Risk Management Programs fulfill the Hospital's responsibilities to its patients, its medical and dental staff and to the community it serves. Quality assurance has rapidly become an integral component of modern health care.

In addition to Quality Assurance/Risk Management Programs, the Utilization Review Program reviews all admissions to ensure that no patient is hospitalized longer than necessary. This review process is in compliance with state and federal regulations, and is an effort to assure efficient use of services.

This review process is a powerful tool to ensure quality while attempting to control the rapidly increasing cost of medical care.

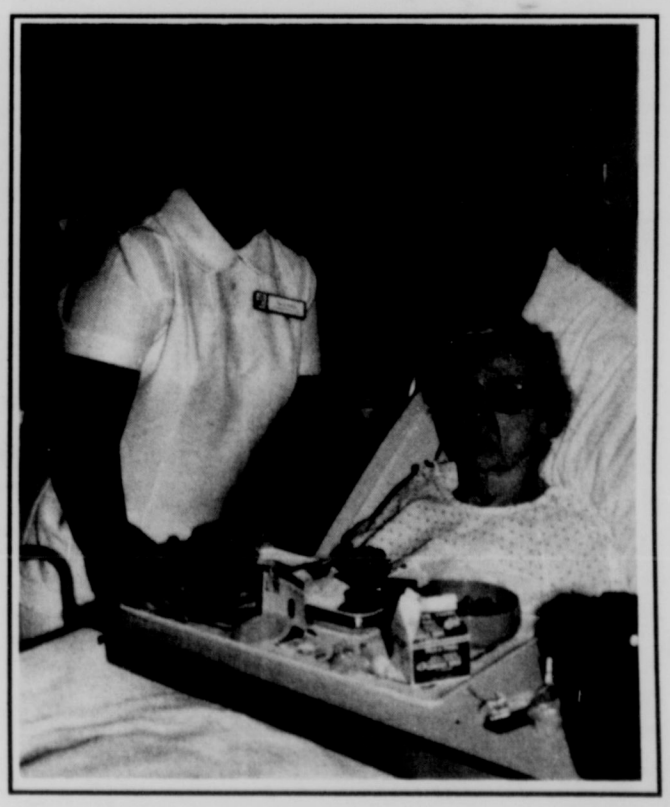


Dietary Services

The aim of the dietary department is to serve patient meals in accordance with physician's orders and to meet the Recommended Dietary Allowances of the Food and Nutrition Board, National Academy of Sciences.

Food is prepared by methods that conserve nutritional value, prepared and transported under high standards of sanitation and served in an attractive and palatable manner. This department is staffed with a registered dietitian who is available for nutritional consultations.

The department also prepares food for the community Meals On Wheels program which serves 24 housebound people. The Hospital cafeteria is open to visitors seven days per week as follows: lunch - 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m., dinner - 4:30 to 6:00 p.m.



GARRETT COUNTY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL "WELLNESS TOGETHER" GARRETT COUNTY HEALTH DEPARTMENT

"Wellness Together"

One of the Hospital's top priorities is to maintain a good relationship with the community by providing the needed health care services and by educating the community on what the Hospital has to offer.

New residents to the area receive a packet of information on the medical services available in the community and a personal letter of welcome from the Hospital Administrator. Visitors to the area are made aware of the Hospital and its services through ads in the Vacation Guide, feature articles, and ads in local newspapers.

Members of the Hospital staff are always available to provide tours of the Hospital facilities to interested area groups. These have included girl/boy scouts, Brownies, 4-H clubs, childbirth classes, service groups, Cumberland Area Health Education Center groups and interested individuals.

A Children's Hospital Orientation Program (CHOPS) has been developed so that every first grade class in the area is invited to tour the hospital and become more familiar with the Hospital at an early age.

Child care information and resource materials are provided to all obstetric patients through the Hospital's Positive Parenting Program. The Parent Helpline is available 24 hours a day for support and newborn information. Each new mother receives a monthly "Amanda the Panda" parenting newsletter for one year after the birth of their child. The Parent's Resource Guide was developed by the Hospital to provide information on services in the area of interest to parents. This guide is widely distributed at the Hospital as well as through Head Start, Chaplains, the library and many other groups.

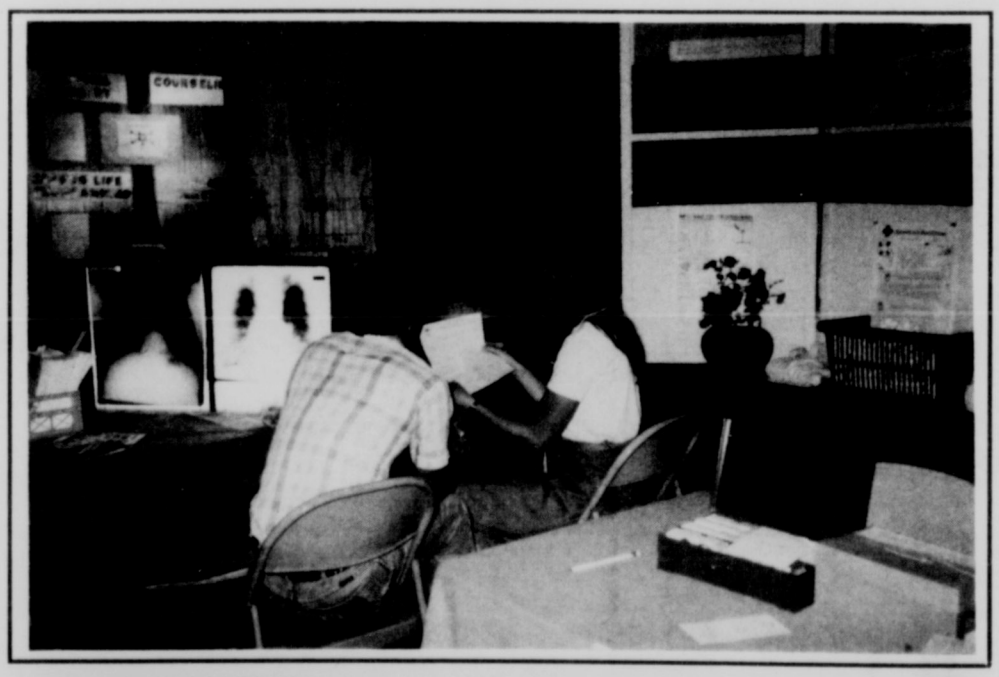
The Hospital works cooperatively with the Garrett County Board of Education, Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, Hagerstown Business College and Fairmont State College by providing on-site classes, training and work experience for students.

Wellness Together is a cooperative effort spearheaded by the Community Relations Department of the Hospital in cooperation with the Garrett County Health Department to bring together local and regional health resources to provide education and health screenings for the community. Each year in December a Wellness Together calendar full of valuable health-related materials and activities is mailed to every household in the Hospital's service areas.

Class offerings include Smokestoppers, Stress Management, Weight Control, Culinary Hearts Cooking Class, Emergency Child Care, and the Heart Treasure Chest Teaching Kit for schools.

Screenings are designed to enable early intervention in the disease process. They include the blood chemistry screening, blood pressure screening, men's health check, women's health check, and health risk appraisal. Also offered are Nutritional Assessments, a new program designed to reduce the risk of heart disease, and Heartworks, which provides a comprehensive screening for risk factors such as cholesterol level, blood pressure, weight and smoking history and provides follow-up counseling and referral for needed treatment.

Avoid smoking, manage your stress, exercise regulary, eat balanced meals -- maintain good weight, wear safety belts, don't drink and drive, be informed!



Loar Auxiliary: 1990

The Loar Auxiliary to the Garrett County Memorial Hospital has been in existence almost as long as the Hospital itself. Article III, Section 2 of the By-Laws reads: "A charter member shall constitute a member who has paid dues prior to the annual meeting of September, 1951."

The Loar Auxiliary Gift Shop in the Hospital was initiated in 1976. Until late 1981 it was run totally on a volunteer basis by the Auxiliary, with approximately 2,000 donated hours per year.

In 1981 the Auxiliary Gift Shop was relocated in the new Hospital. It was anticipated that with the design of the shop and the location, that activity in the shop would increase dramatically. With this in mind and in preparation for the increased business, the Hospital agreed to hire, at their expense, paid staff to work in the shop. This paid staff, of course, was to be supplemented with the Auxiliary Volunteers. This would insure that the shop would be open daily.

In November of 1981, a full-time Gift Shop Manager was hired. The Auxiliary owns, operates and supervises the Gift Shop.

Each year the Auxiliary sponsors many fund-raising activities, such as flea markets and bake sales.

Each year at Christmas the Auxiliary members beautifully decorate the Hospital. They also participate in the Hospital employee Christmas party and in the past served refreshments.

In conjunction with the Gift Shop, the Auxiliary provides a "mini-department store on wheels" to the patients three times a week.

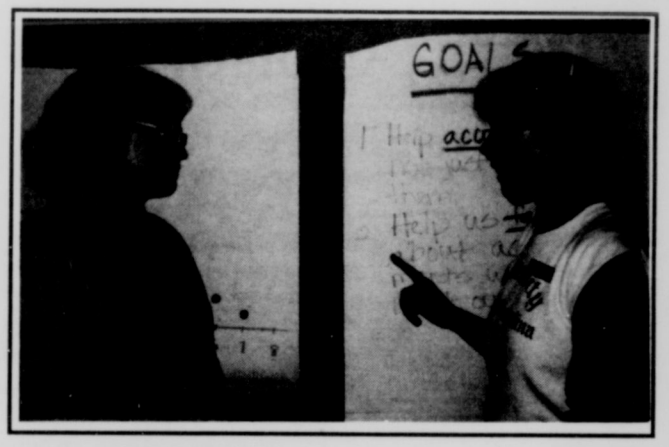
In the past eight years, the organization has donated over $100,000 to the Hospital, $50,000 of which went for the building expansion; $10,000 toward a $50,000 pledge to the Foundation; and the remainder for various pieces of equipment.

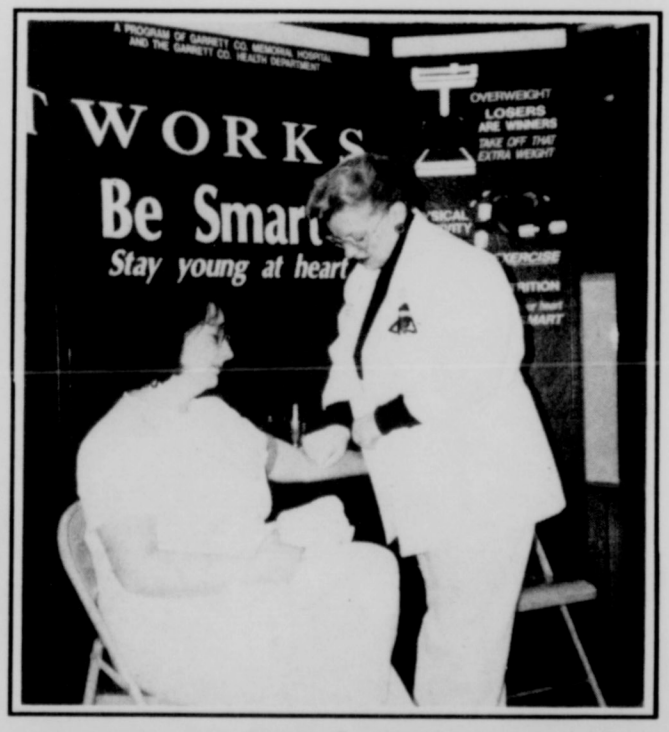
Some of the equipment purchases made possible by the Loar Auxiliary are as follows: sigmoidscope, gastroscope, transport crib, paintings in private rooms, cardiac bed, and embosser for patient ID Cards.

Our Auxiliary members provide an extra special touch in helping the Hospital meet the needs of the community by performing useful and thoughtful tasks that help the Hospital continue to provide its outstanding care.

Our membership is open to anyone (man or woman) over the age of 18. Our current membership is 48 active members, 17 sustaining members and one life time member.

For the year 1989 our members gave 4,697 hours of volunteer time.





Chaplaincy Formed 1984

February of 1984 the newly formed Chaplaincy Committee held its first meeting. The primary topic of discussion at that time was to evaluate the need for a Chaplaincy Program at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. A need was clearly indicated. The Committee spent the following year developing the program and writing the by-laws.

The Chaplaincy Program officially began on June 2, 1986. The Rev. Ray Ursin was scheduled as the first Chaplain for the week. The original number of Chaplains participating in the program was thirteen. That number has now grown to twenty-two.

Assigned a week at a time, the Chaplains daily visit the newly admitted patients in the Hospital as well as any patient who requests a visit. A positive working relationship exists between the chaplain, physician and nurse.

The Rev. Manning Smith currently serves as the Chairman of the Executive Committee of Chaplaincy Service. This service has proven to be an asset to the hospital family and to the patients.

Caring Continues Into The Future

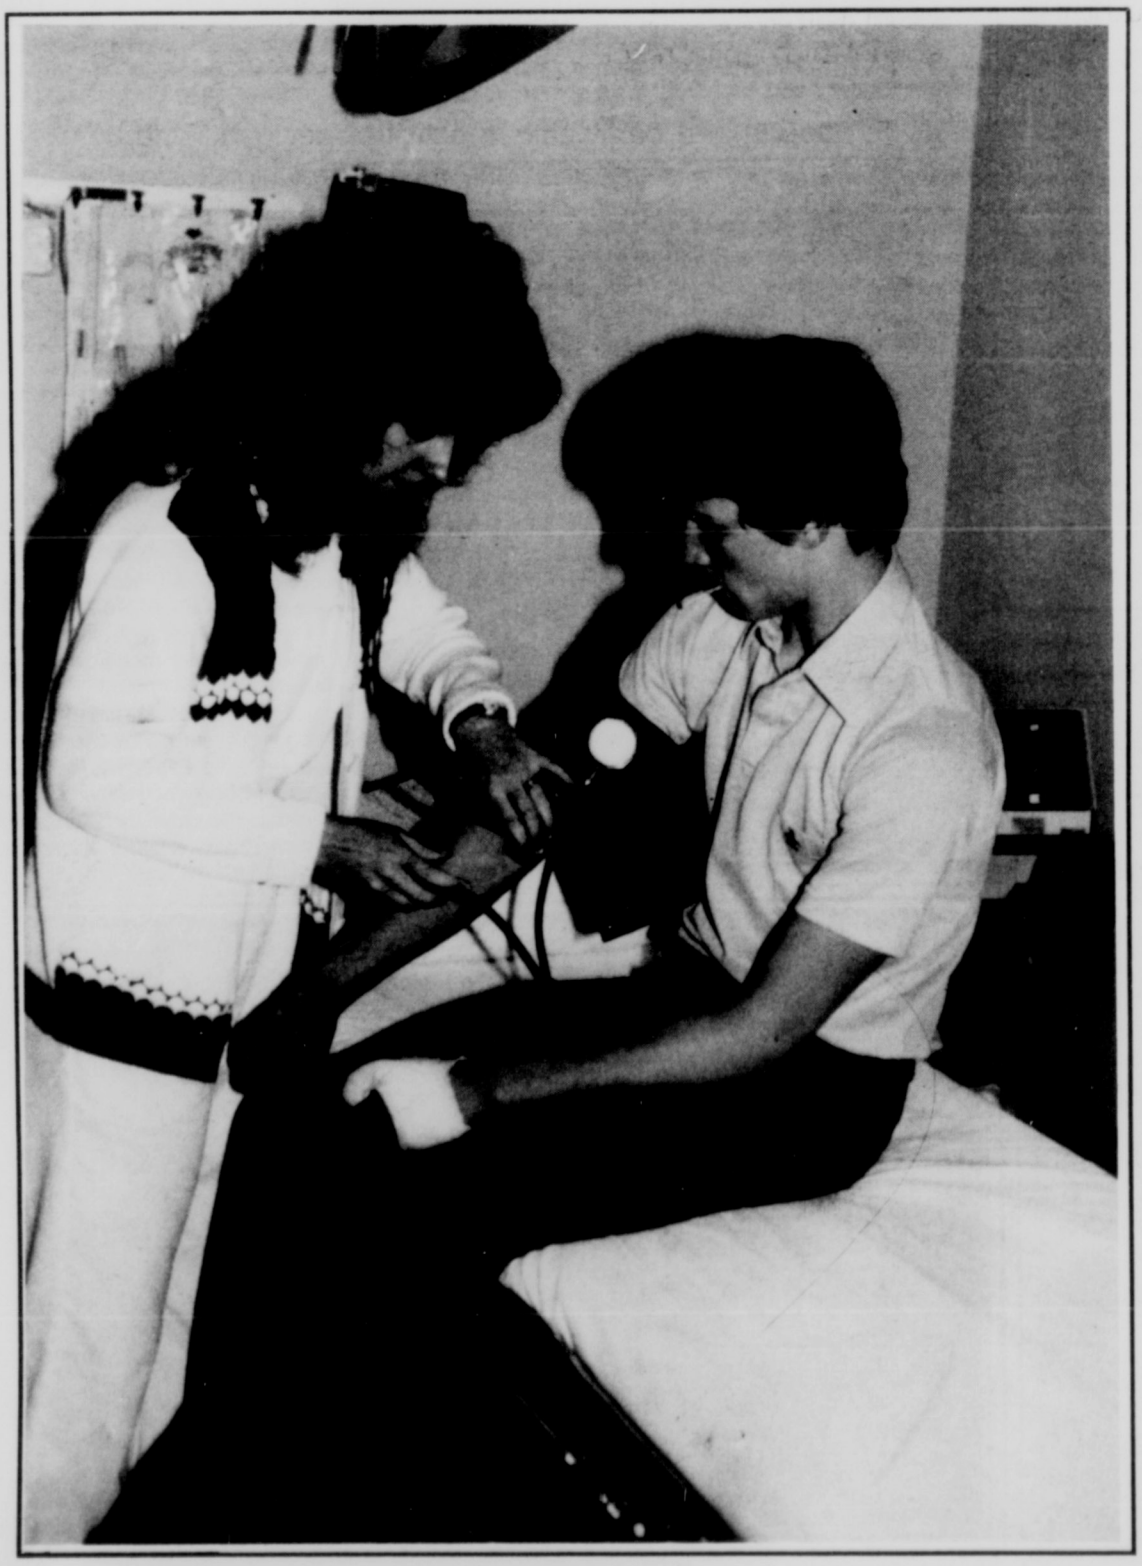
Other future plans at Garrett County Memorial Hospital include the renovation and/or expansion of several of our existing departments; Cardio Pulmonary, Radiology, Computerized Tomography, Inpatient-Outpatient Registration, Medical Records, Pharmacy and the cafeteria.

Looking ahead a few years, psychiatric services at the Hospital may finally become a reality, and perhaps even an MRI (Magnetic Resonance Imaging) may be offered.

Swing Beds

The development of a "Swing Bed" program at Garrett Memorial is nearing completion. The purpose of the program is to bridge the gap between the acute care setting and whatever care the patient might be going into, such as a nursing home, home care, etc. Garrett County Memorial Hospital qualifies for this program and hopes to implement swing beds as soon as regulatory approval is secured.

The patient would be "discharged" from acute hospital care into transitional care, but would actually stay in the same bed at the hospital for up to 5 days. The intensity of nursing care is less and the charge is less than for a traditional hospital stay.



Progressive Care

The Department of Nursing at the Hospital is working on the implementation of a Progressive Care Unit. This Unit would care for patients who have a need for more intensive nursing care than is available on the medical/surgical units, but not as closely monitored as patients in the Cardiac Intensive Care Unit. As an example, the ratio of nurses to patients in the CIC Unit is 1:2, the ratio of nurses to patients in progressive care would be 1:4, the ratio of nurses to patients on the med/surg unit is usually 1:10. This would not increase the Hospital's number of patient beds since 4 existing patient beds located near the CIC Unit will be used. Plans are for the unit to open near the end of the year.

Renal Dialysis

In answer to growing community concern about the availability of renal dialysis in the local areas, the hospital is currently working closely with West Virginia University Medical Center to provide outpatient renal dialysis. Patients in the area must currently drive to Cumberland or Morgantown 2-3 times per week for this 3 hour procedure. A location for the unit within the Hospital, training for the nursing staff, leasing of equipment and purchase of supplies are all being worked on and planned for. It is hoped the unit will be ready by the first quarter of 1991.

Deep Creek Medical Center

As the tourist population at Deep Creek Lake increased and the resultant patient load in the emergency room of the Hospital increased, it became clear that a medical facility was needed at the Lake to care for minor illnesses and injuries. The Deep Creek Lake Medical Center is scheduled to open in late spring of this year and will be geared toward treating those minor illnesses and injuries which do not require the extensive capabilities of the hospital emergency room. It is planned for the center to be open 12 hours per day, 7 days per week. Diagnostic capabilities include EKG, minor lab tests and limited x-ray procedures. Conveniently located at the intersection of Route 219 and Deep Creek Drive across from the Point View Inn, the Center should prove to be of great service to the population, both tourist and local, in that area.

Physical Therapy

With the advances in technology and treatments in the field of physical therapy, the Hospital's Physical Therapy department layout has become crowded and inefficient. When Dr. Dona Alvarez, an orthopedic surgeon, opened her practice last September, her increased patient referrals for Physical Therapy further taxed the capabilities of the department.

To address this problem, plans have been developed this summer to renovate an area of the first floor of the Hospital, currently occupied by Nursing Administration and Personnel, for the Physical Therapy Department. This will almost triple the working space and allow for more efficient scheduling and treatment of patients. The department's complement of physical therapists will increase from two to three this fall, which should further enhance the capabilities of the department.

The Future Of The Foundation

As the article on page 7 shows, the Garrett County Memorial Hospital Foundation has gotten off to a very good start. Plans are underway to chart the future of the Foundation. It is well understood that the needs of the Hospital will continue to escalate over the years to come, and many of these needs may not be met by current funding which is governed by regulations. One of the purposes of the Foundation is to step into this void and provide funds for capital acquistions which are needed to maintain a high level of quality care service. One of the standing committees of the Foundation is the major gifts committee, chaired by Robert P. Sharps. The mission of this committee is to continue to examine various opportunities for major gift donations, either from individuals or various organizations. Through their ongoing efforts, there remains a high degree of awareness of the Foundation's mission and purpose.

In addition, there is also a committee designed for the purpose of facilitating deferred gifts or planned gifts to the Foundation. This committee was formed out of a need to provide a means for allowing individuals to make gifts on a deferred basis to the Foundation. Such gifts might come through bequests under will, life insurance policies, or various types of trusts. The committee has designed a brochure which further explains the function of the deferred giving committee, and various deferred giving opportunities. This brochure is available through the Foundation Office.

It is the hope of the deferred giving committee to provide training and awareness to individuals who might be interested in this type of service. Studies indicate that an active deferred giving committee can, over time, generate significant contributions for the Foundation and futher undergird the ability of the Foundation to meet the Hospital's needs.

The Foundation began as a vision of Jacquelyn Shirer, and, through the hard work of many individuals, has grown into a successful member of the Hospital's family. As the Foundation now turns its attention toward the 90's, and beyond, it is confident that it will be able to play an active roll in helping to assure the highest level of care possible for the people served by Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The Mission Of The Garrett County Memorial Hospital

A) To operate, maintain, support and conduct an institution providing diagnosis, treatment and care for patients with illnesses or disabilities for which they require hospital care and associated inpatient and outpatient services.

B) To conduct and support educational activities related to the rendering of health care to the patient community. These educational activities shall be rendered to the extent that facilities, personnel and capital resources are available.

C) To support and participate in activities designed and conducted to improve and promote the general health of the community which are justified by the facilities personnel, economic resources and other requirements which are, or may be, available.

Many Hands And Many Skills:

At any hour -- at dawn, through the day, at dusk, in the middle of the night -- the people of our county hospital are ready to answer any emergency.

When you or your loved ones enter the Hospital, the help of many hands and many skills are mobilized at once. The services of the entire Hospital family are here to aid you. And this Hospital family is made up of many people whom the patient never sees.

There are many skilled teams behind the scenes, some concerned with tests and treatments, some planning and preparing the regular and special diets, others seeing to it that all the complex services are ready when called upon.

From the Governing Board of volunteer community leaders, which sets policy for the Hospital, to the young worker just employed who is learning a new Hospital skill on the job, Hospital care for each patient is the product of the thought and devoted effort of many people with many kinds of skills.

We hope you will all join with us in saluting the dedicated volunteer and career workers who constantly strive to give us the best in our modern Hospital care.

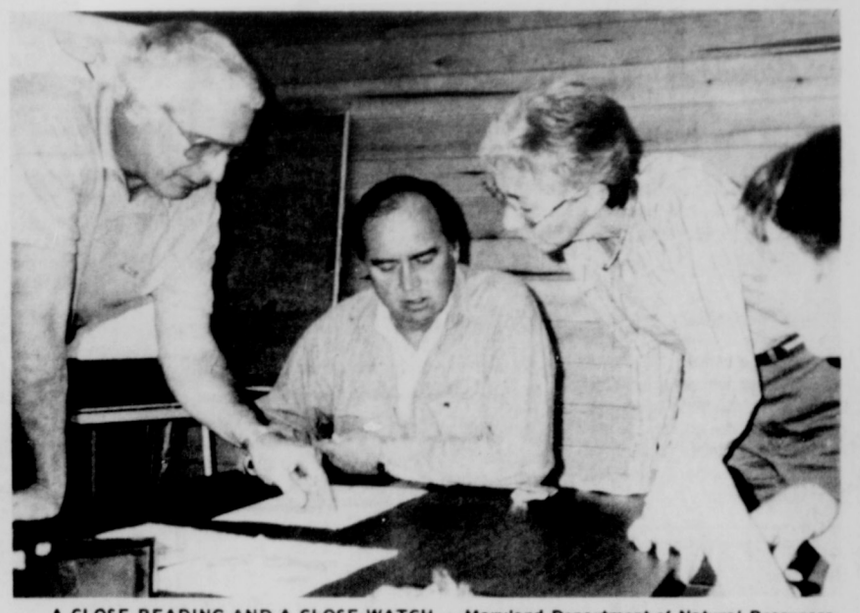
County Receives Major Grant To Remove Asbestos

Senator Barbara A. Mikulski has announced that the Garrett County Board of Education received a grant totaling $276,632 and a loan of equal value from the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for asbestos removal. The funds will be used to remove asbestos from classrooms, boiler rooms, lounges, shops, storage areas, and library cafeteria administrative offices at Southern High School.

Mikulski wrote a letter earlier this year to EPA supporting Garrett County Board of Education's request for a grant for asbestos removal. "It's great to see the Garrett County school system receive the money for this important project. It is a good preventive measure that cleans the air and protects our children in their learning environment," she said.

The grant was made available under the Asbestos School Hazard Abatement Act (ASHAA). ASHAA's goal is to provide financial assistance to education agencies which have serious asbestos problems and to reduce the risk of school children and employees inhaling dangerous asbestos fibers.



A CLOSE READING AND A CLOSE WATCH — Maryland Department of Natural Resources Secretary Dr. Torrey C. Brown and several members of the Herrington Manor State Park Advisory Board met last week to discuss concerns over the proposed timber cut of an area which includes part of a recreational trail there. Board members offically oppose the cut but, as one member stated, "We can live with it if the operation is closely monitored and the area is restored following the cut." Shown above, left to right, are Bill Nemith, board member, Dr. Brown, and board members Fran Pope and Sheila Hughes.

Bridge To Close For Replacement

It was announced this week by the Garrett County Commissioners that the Herrington Manor Road bridge, which crosses the Youghiogheny River just west of Oakland, will be closed for construction beginning in early June.

According to Commission Chairman, Ernest J. Gregg Jr., the bridge is slated to undergo a complete reconstruction and replacement because of the deterioration which, he said, was to the point of providing "a very limited weight capacity."

Gregg noted that even though there is "never a good time" to carry out this type of project, the best possible time was determined to be after county schools closed.

The bridge is scheduled for completion four to six weeks after it is begun.

DNR Secretary Brown Promises Close Watch Of Park Timber Cut

by Sherry Frantz

Maryland Department of Natural Resources Secretary Dr. Torrey C. Brown last week told members of the Herrington Manor State Park Advisory Board that, even though the decision to cut timber around an area of recreational trails there would not be reversed, the operation would be performed in such a manner that Brown promised would "improve, not destroy" the stand of trees there.

Board members requested the meeting with Secretary Brown in order to voice concern over the scheduled timbering and to hear, first-hand, the final decision regarding the tract of land — a part of Garrett State Forest surrounded by Herrington Manor State Park. The trails are used by walkers, runners, cross-country skiiers and mountain bikers.

Advisory board member Wendy Bauer began the meeting by explaining to Dr. Brown that this was "an opportunity to let you know how we still feel about imcompatible uses." She added, "We are still hopeful that the decision to log (this area) will be turned around."

Board member Bill Nemith stated, "We don't understand why this area has to be logged. We feel very strongly — and have received support from all over the state — that it is disruptive to a recreational use area."

Nemith continued, "What upset us the most was that the original timbering plan was set up as a standard logging operation with no consideration to the users of the trail."

To this, Dr. Brown asked, "What do you mean by a 'standard logging operation?' "

"Damage to trails," replied Nemith.

"Unmonitored," said Bauer.

Giving carte blanche to loggers when they go in," added Nemith.

"They go in, and it's a mess when they come out. The trails are not fit for anything," he said.

Brown replied by stating, "You say 'cut timber' like this is automatically bad. Cutting timber in the right place, at the right time, in the right way, is an appropriate management

Commissioners Respond To Charges Of Toxins At Landfill Site

The Garrett County Commissioners this week announced their reaction to a press release from the Environmental Protection Agency citing the Garrett County (Round Glade) landfill for discharging toxic chemicals into Round Glade Run as pure "sensationalism."

According to reports, EPA issued their report Monday on toxic pollutants in Maryland's waterways and the sources of that pollution. Besides Round Glade landfill, G&S Coal Company in Bloomington and Winner Brothers Coal Company in Frostburg were also placed on the list which totaled 24. Winner Brothers was cited for discharging zinc into George's Creek and Vale Run and G&S Coals for also discharging zinc into Three Forks Run and Jennings Run.

According to Elwood L. Groves, county commissioner, Round Glade was charged with contributing higher than allowed levels of silver and selenium into Round Glade Run.

Groves stated, "The thing that makes that kind of news story bad is the fact that these issues have been raised through the appropriate governmental channels in the past and have been addressed by various communications between the board and other agencies."

He continued, "Then you learn second-hand from a one-sided story that you've been put on some kind of dubious list which gives the people of Garrett County the idea that we are operating the landfill in a manner insensitive to the environmental impact. We want to go on record as saying such is not the case."

Commissioner Ernest J. Gregg Jr. also commented on the report, stating, "Being placed on this list makes us appear to be culprits and violators of the environment. This is purely sensationalism and we resent those kinds of potshots."

Gregg explained that the county landfill is managed by the Garrett County Roads Department and is monitored closely. He said testing is conducted in the area cited by an independent testing company who has reported that the silver and selenium amounts found in the stream below the landfill are less than the amounts found upstream of the facility.

"In particular," he said, "the presence of silver is so insignificant that many laboratories cannot test that minute a quantity."

Commissioner Groves stated that the level of those two substances in the stream above the landfill were "greater than the perimeters they want us to meet — which makes their perimeters somewhat questionable."

Also in response to the EPA charges, Brent Oltjen, project manager with the Maryland Environmental Service (contractual manager of the landfill), sent a letter to the Maryland Department of the

Garrett County Receives $725,000 Grant To Build Industrial Facility

The Garrett County Board of Commissioners announced this week that the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED), has agreed to finance a $725,000 new manufacturing facility at the Southern Garrett Industrial Park near Mtn. Lake Park. The new facility will be located on a six-acre lot adjoining Commerce Drive in the Industrial Park and will encompass some 30,000 square feet of production and office area, according to Tom Jones, Garrett County Economic Development Corporation director.

The grant was made through the Maryland Industrial Land Act (MILA). MILA provides low cost loans to Maryland's local jurisdictions for the purchase and development of industrial parks when private funds are not available.

"Both Garrett and Allegany counties have exciting projects planned, which will enhance the economic growth of Western Maryland," said Arthur S. Drea Jr., DEED's assistant secretary of financing programs. "All of us in Maryland's financing programs, the M-team, are particularly pleased to be a part of that growth as we help to put their plans in action."

Construction activites are scheduled to begin in mid-July and bids will be solicited from contractors during the month of June. The facility is planned to be completed and ready for occupancy by winter, the commissioners stated.

"We are in the final stages of negotiations with Garrett Optical, Inc., our Oakland-based opthalmic products manufacturer, to move into this facility upon its completion," Commission Chairman Gregg commented.

"Garrett Optical has been a good steady manufacturing employer in Oakland for some eight years, and plans to expand its operations. The physical constraints upon its operations in its current location on North Third street forces Garrett Optical to look towards a new location, and this board wishes to cooperate with this good employer to suitably accommodate their needs," explained Commissioner Elwood Groves.

"The pace of business, along with the development of new product lines looks positive for Garrett Optical which will, in the long run, translate into many more jobs for Garrett Countians," remarked Commissioner John Braskey. "We expect to supply further details of this expansion as we get into the construction process this summer," added Commissioner Gregg.

Oakland Man Sentenced To 12 Months In Jail

An Oakland man was sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail for a charge of battery by Judge Jack Turney during recent trials at Garrett County District Court.

Jeffrey Allen Maddocks, 18, Oakland, was found guilty of a charge of battery during a trial held March 15. Judge Turney ordered a pre-sentence investigation. During a recent trial, Maddocks was fined $100 for the charge and sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended all of the sentence except 48 hours and placed Maddocks on 24 months supervised probation. A charge of misdemeanor theft was not prosecuted.

The charges were filed by Thomas Browning, Hometown Market, after an incident which occurred January 15. John R. Toston represented Maddocks.

Edward Donald Shuttleworth, 24, McHenry, was found guilty of a charge of possession of CDS (controlled dangerous substance) at a trial held March 21. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Shuttleworth was fined $200

GCC Receives Grant For Child Care Training

The Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College recently received a $6,850 grant for school age child care provider training. According to a GCC spokesman, this grant, which has been awarded by the Maryland Department of Human Resouces, will be used to promote the availability of quality child care for school age children. Funds will be used to provide training for providers of school age care and to establish a library of resources for providers.

Training sessions scheduled in conjunction with this grant will focus on: marketing school age care; creative programming for school age children; behavior management for school age children; and creative "long day" programming for school age children. The first training session will be held this fall.

The resource library will be established this summer. It will consist of a variety of educational books, audio tapes and video tapes which can be borrowed by providers of school age child care. This library will be housed in the Garrett County office of the Office of License and Regulation.

This new grant program is being administered by Sandy Major, a program coordinator for Garrett Community College.

Education Board Submits Budget For An Additional $2,880,181

The Garrett County Board of Education this week submitted their budget request to the Garrett County Board of Commissioners for fiscal year 1991 amounting to an approximate 36 percent increase — or $2,880,181 — in additional funds. Of that amount, approximately $960,000 — or 12 percent — is included as a one-time expenditure for fees relating to the Southern High School renovation project.

The reaction of the board of commissioners to this request, according to Chairman Ernest J. Gregg Jr., was one of "surprise." As Gregg explained, if the budget request were to be fully funded, it would mean an increase of approximatley one to one and one-fourth percent in the county tax rate, which is currently set at $2.28.

"The tax rate would be $2.22 just to fund the education budget," Gregg said, adding, "We are very supportive of education, but you must bear in mind that our responsibilities are to administer the needs of the entire county and we cannot become 'one-issue' commissioners."

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II response reflected a similar sentiment. "The request represents a significant increase and will play a major role as we develop our budget for the upcoming year," he said.

As stated in the proposed budget, the request has been tentatively approved by the education board pending their contract agreement with the Garrett County Association of Educational Support Personnel concerning salaries and wages. As a result, the total amount requested reflects the board's "final offer" of a five percent increase.

A five percent increase for supervisory support personnel and for administrators and supervisors, and an average 7.7 percent increase for teachers has been offered by the education board and agreed upon by the groups.

Of the "one-time expense" funds requested for Southern High School ($960,000), $71,604 is being requested for A/E (architectural and engineering) fees, $553,000 for new equipment and $336,000 for asbestos removal.

Garrett County Superintendent of Schools Dr. Jerome Ryscavage explained to the commissioners that the education board had been "unofficially notified" last week that Gar-

County-Wide Clean-Up Slated This Weekend

The Garrett County Commissioners announced this week that a county-wide clean-up will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 19 and 20. This is in conjunction with the Deep Creek Lake clean-up being sponsored by the Deep Creek Lake Property Owners Association.

According to commissioner John G. Braskey, all six dumpster sites in the county will be open from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m., with Garrett County Roads Department personnel available at the sites to receive large bulky items, such as appliances and water heaters.

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II stated that this is a "real oppurtunity for the people around the county to do some spring cleaning and to get rid of the more difficult items. We appreciate the county's cooperation."

Commissioner Gregg also stressed that this is the only weekend that large items (which would normally have to be taken to the landfill) will be accepted at the dumpster sites.

MARYLAND TOURISM WEEK was proclaimed on a state and local level for May 13-19 to draw attention to the importance of the tourism industry on the economy. Among the local activities associated with the observance are arts and crafts exhibits, regional and local displays, concerts, and give-aways all at the Youghiogheny Overlook Information Center along U.S. Rt. 48 east of Friendsville. The GCC Pipes and Drums will perform there this Sunday afternoon, May 20. Diane Wolfe, executive director of the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, participated in a WXIE Radio program entitled "Breakfast on the Air" on Monday, when she spoke about local tourism. Liz Gilbert, events coordinator for the Promotion Council, is at the Youghiogheny Overlook Center today helping to promote the McHenry Highland Festival, slated for June 2. Pictured above, seated left to right, are the Garrett County Commissioners Ernie Gregg, Elwood Groves, and John Braskey. Standing are Mrs. Wolfe and George Evans, who serves on the Promotion Council board of directors.

CIRCUS DAY IN OAKLAND — Oakland Mayor Asa McCain has signed a proclamation naming Tuesday, June 5, as Official Circus Day in Oakland. GOBA (Greater Oakland Business Association) has arranged for Roberts Bros. Circus to visit Oakland on June 5, as announced by GOBA members M.D. "Jack" Jones, president; Rob Michael, vice president; Robin Witt, secretary; and Linda Sanders, treasurer. Proceeds from the advance sale of tickets will be used for the many community activities and charities which the organization assists in the community. Proceeds from tickets purchased before Circus Day benefit GOBA. A community wide sale will be held as Circus Day approaches. The GOBA Garrett County Black Bear will be in Oakland on May 26 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the corner of Second and Alder Streets with treats for the kids. Pictured above, left to right, are: the Black Bear, Mayor McCain, Jack Jones and Rob Michael.

GCC Board Meets To Discuss Code Of Conduct; Selection Of Auditor

The Garrett Community College Board of Trustees met Tuesday evening to discuss the student code of conduct and choose an auditor to conduct the audit for fiscal year 1990.

CODE OF CONDUCT

The Board approved the student code of conduct.

A minimum penalty for various misconduct has been set and a due process procedure outlined for students to appeal decisions by the college, to ensure fairness and to protect the rights of all members of the college community.

AUDITOR

GCC is audited every year, and every three years the audit is put out for bid. GCC received bids from 15 firms interested in conducting the audit.

Members of the Board of Trustees Charles Bender and Marjorie Fratz reviewed six bids from auditors to conduct the audit for fiscal year 1990.

The two board members then narrowed the search down to three accounting firms. Representatives of the three firms were interviewed and the firm of Rollins and Gerwig, Cumberland, was chosen to conduct the audit.

"It is fairly customary for a non-profit institution to advertise for bids every three years," Fratz explained of the audit procedure.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION

The State Board of Community Colleges (SBCC) has approved a policy to promote affirmative action student enrollment. The policy was approved on June 8, 1989.

Dr. Stephen Herman, president of GCC, announced that GCC has been meeting and surpassing standards set by the SBCC with a full-time enrollment of 3.3 percent and a part-time enrollment of .3 percent.

COURSE SCHEDULE

The course schedule for the upcoming academic year, 1990-91, has been released.

The schedule includes the complete listing of courses for summer, fall, intersession and spring.

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Donna Rohrer, Ph.D., has been hired as the new assistant professor of English.

"We are very excited about Ms. Rohrer joining our staff. She is someone with a keen interest, enthusiasm and desire for teaching writing," said Dr. Herman.

RESORT MANAGEMENT

The college has announced that approval has been received for the resort management program. GCC will continue with its search for a director of resort management.

Enrollment in the resort management program will be limited to 20 students for the first year, since it is a new program.

BOARD MEMBER

The Board has received notice from Thomas Gearhardt that he is resigning from the Board of Trustees.

Gearhardt has withdrawn from the Board because he has taken a job out of the state.

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees has been scheduled for June 19.

State, County Jobless Rates Down In March

Nearly 2.5 million Marylanders were employed in March 1990, an all-time high for any March, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development (DEED). The month's statewide count is surpassed only by employment estimates seen in July 1989.

During March, unemployment dropped by 14,257 people to 84,772, lowering the jobless rate from 3.9 percent to 3.3 percent, the lowest unemployment rate on file for a March since record-keeping began in 1970. Employment climbed by 26,950 and the labor force grew by 12,693 to 2,553,194.

In fact, every county in the state and Baltimore City enjoyed lower unemployment rates during March.

Garrett County's jobless rate dropped from 9.6 percent in February to 8.0 percent in March. The March 1989 rate was 9.6 percent. Of a total workforce of 13,427 in March, 1,070 persons were unemployed, compared to a workforce of 13,460 in February, with 1,287 without jobs.

"Maryland is in an enviable position with one of the strongest economies in the country. We must continue an aggressive strategy to develop our workforce in order to assure our leadership position," said J. Randall Evans, secretary of DEED.

The statewide unemployment rate for March remains below the national rate of 5.4 percent.

Compared to a year ago, Maryland's employment this month increased by 71,998 and the unemployment rate dropped by 0.6 percentage points from 3.9 percent.

Most of the employment gains observed March occurred in nonmanufacturing, specifically in services, construction and retail trade. Mild weather enabled the construction industry to gain about 4,000 jobs. Retail trade reported higher payrolls in eating and drinking establishments and in stores selling garden and building supplies. Hiring activity was up, particularly in health, personal and educational services. Recall activity in education accounted for increases in government hiring.

Oakland Police Arrest Woman For Assault, Battery

Oakland police officer Shawn Groves arrested a 42-year-old Oakland resident Sunday night, May 13.

Sharon H. Porter was arrested for assault and battery on a police officer as a result of incidents occuring that night. Groves was summoned by Brenda Dunham to her home at 549 South Third Street after Porter refused to leave the premises during a domestic dispute. While Groves was removing Poter from the house, she allegedly acted in a uncooperative manner, attempting to kick Officer Groves. Porter was taken to the Oakland police station where she allegedly attempted to assault and batter Officer Roger L. Lewis.

Porter was later released on her own recognizance by the court commisioner.

The Oakland Police also reported that Milton C. (Tilton) DeWitt, 38, Oakland-Rosedale Road, was arrested Thursday, May 10, by Chief John K. Sines on a charge of felony theft for allegedly stealing eight milk cans worth $525 from Tableland Milk Producers located on Route 39 west of Oakland. DeWitt was released later that evening on his own recognizance.

and sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail by Judge Turney during a recent trial. Judge Turney then suspended all of the sentence except 10 days and placed Shuttleworth on 24 months probation. A charge of possession of CDS paraphernalia was not prosecuted.

The charges were filed by Deputy J.D. Murphy, Garrett County Sheriff's Department, after an incident which occurred November 12. Richard Green represented Shuttleworth.

Zane Thomas Riggleman II, 18, Deer Park, was found guilty of a charge of possession of CDS. He was fined $50 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended all of the sentence except 48 hours and placed Riggleman on 12 months probation. Another charge of possession of CDS was not prosecuted.

The charges were filed by Tfc. P.R. Brown, Maryland State Police, after an incident which occurred January 20.

William Lee Guthrie, 28, Oakland, was found guilty of violating an ex parte order. He was fined $100 and sentenced to 30 days in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Guthrie on 12 months probation.

Charges of breaking and entering and theft were not prosecuted per plea agreement. The charges were filed by Melinda Gank, Deer Park, after an incident which occurred January 27.

Gary Sylvan Warnick, 27, Reisterstown, was found guilty of a charge of theft. He was fined $25 and sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Warnick on 24 months supervised probation. The charge was filed by Sheetz Convenient Store after Warnick supposedly stole gasoline valued at less than $300 on October 24. William M. Manks represented Warnick.

Annalesia Marie Warnick, 26, Reisterstown, was found guilty of uttering a bad check. She was fined $25 and sentenced to 12 months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Warnick on 24 months supervised probation. The charge was filed by Davidson's Army and Navy Discount Store after Warnick apparently uttered a check for $189.85 on July 24, 1989. William M. Manks represented Warnick.

John Eugene Derossett, 24, Oakland, was found guilty of a charge of theft. He was fined $25 and sentenced to six months in the Garrett County Jail. Judge Turney then suspended the sentence and placed Derossett on six months unsupervised probation. The charge was filed by Sheetz Convenient Store after Derossett apparently stole merchandise valued at less than $300 on January 31.

A charge of battery against Terry Andrew Wolfe, 37, Mt. Lake Park, was not prosecuted. The charge was filed by Gerald Gingrich, Baltimore, after an incident which occurred January 25.

Charges of disorderly conduct on the land of another and wanton trespass against Olive Lucille DeWitt, 28, Oakland, were not prosecuted. The charges were filed by Milton Charles DeWitt, Oakland, after an incident which occurred January 23.

Deer Park Man Arrested On Numerous Charges

Maryland State Police arrested a Deer Park man early Sunday morning on numerous charges, including fleeing and eluding a police officer and making a false report of a crime.

Neil Ray Savage, 22, Deer Park, was stopped for a traffic violation at 1:30 a.m. Sunday by Tpr. S.H. Anderson, when he fled with his vehicle up the Browning Quarry Road and through a field. Savage then apparently fled on foot through the woods, then reported to the Garrett County Sheriff's Department that his vehicle had been stolen.

Savage apparently later admitted to Tpr. Anderson that he was the driver of the vehicle and had filed the false report.

Savage was charged with fleeing and eluding a police officer, making a false report of a crime, driving without a license, driving with no insurance, driving with no registration, reckless driving and attempting to elude a police officer. He was then taken before a court commissioner, then released on $500 bond.

Dean Francis Norton, 27, McHenry, was charged with disorderly conduct and disorderly intoxication after an incident which occurred May 12.

Norton was apparently acting in a disorderly manner in the parking lot at Checkers Lounge and Humberson Apartments on the evening of May 12.

Tfc. D.W. Broadwater investigated the incident and Norton was subsequently charged and taken to the Garrett County Jail, where he was released after one day on his own personal recognizance.

Grantsville Post Plans Memorial Day Activities

Grantsville Post 214, American Legion, will celebrate the Memorial Day Holiday on Monday, May 28, as the members will pay tribute to their departed comrades by visiting the following:

Monument to B-52 Flyers at Little Crossings, 8 a.m.; St. Ann's Cemetery at Avilton, 8:20 a.m.; Mt. Zion Cemetery on Long Stretch, 8:40 a.m.; Johnson Cemetery on Little Savage Mountain, 9 a.m.; Finzel Cemetery at Finzel, 9:20 a.m.; Bittinger Cemetery at Bittinger, 12:20 p.m.; and New Germany Cemetery at Twin Churches, 1 p.m.

A parade will form in Grantsville at 10:45 a.m. and proceed to the Grantsville Cemetery for services at 11 a.m. Principal speaker will be Garrett County Commissioner John G. Braskey. Everyone is invited to attend and participate in the ceremonies.

At the Post's regular meeting on May 8, Garrett County Commander Debra Dixon, assisted by Randall Kahl from Proctor-Kildow Post No. 71, Oakland, installed the following newly-elected officers of Post 214 for the Legion Year of 1990-1991: commander, Randolph S. Kitzmiller; 1st vice commander, Stephen A. Bender; 2nd vice commander, Roger C. Resh; adjutant, Charles C. Bender; finance officer, William D. Sipple; service officer, Ira M. Stark; sergeant-at-arms, William T. Frickey; judge advocate, Matthew Stieringer; historian, Wayne H. Durst; chaplain, Kenneth R. Buckel; and color bearer, Paul L. Durst.

Commander Kitzmiller has requested that all members of the Post attempt to attend the regular meetings, which are held the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. at the Post home.

Property Recovered By Sheriff's Dept.

The Garrett County Sherriff's Department recovered approximately $600 worth of personal property from a secluded wooded area off the Twin Churches Road Wednesday, May 9. The recovered property is suspected to have been stolen from previous breaking and enterings, however, ownership has not been determined.

Md. State Police Investigate Malicious D.O.P.

Maryland State Police investigated one malicious destruction of property incident which occurred last week.

Michael Eyler Shane, 17, Deer Park, reported that on the night of May 9, someone spray-painted the exterior of his truck and knocked out the rear window of the truck, while it was parked in the driveway of his home.

Tpr. S.H. Anderson is continuing the investigation.

James Feist, Grantsville, reported that someone entered his home in the Hemlock Acres development on May 11 and removed numerous items, including clothing, jewelry and money. No value was given in the police reports for the items which were removed.

Tfc. G.R. Chaney is continuing the investigation.

MSP Investigate Accident On Sang Run Road

Maryland State Police investigated an accident which occurred Saturday morning on the Oakland-Sang Run Road.

Melody Dawn Kitzmiller, 19, Oakland, was southbound on the Oakland-Sang Run Road in a Mazda RX-7 when she apparently saw a deer in the road and swerved to miss it. Her vehicle then skidded out of control, traveled off the right side of the roadway and struck a tree with the front end.

Kitzmiller was taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by private vehicle where she was treated and released.

Tpr. G.S. Becker investigated and Kitzmiller was charged with failure to control speed and failure to be restrained by seatbelt.

A More Subtle Threat . . .

With the collapse of communism occurring around the world, the fear of nuclear conflict, at least in the foreseeable future, has diminished accordingly. This is a source of great comfort not only for citizens of the United States and the Soviet Union, but also for all peoples of the world who have nervously followed the tension between these two super powers for over three decades.

While the threat of nuclear war has subsided, we believe there is another major crisis that has taken its place, one which is far more subtle to the average person on the street. We refer to the dramatic increase in the economic strength of the country of Japan, and how that nation is sitting in the driver's seat of our own economy. We have commented on this situation in the recent past, but learned of some startling statistics just this week.

According to a piece in the National Program Letter, published by the National Education Program, Japan's total assets were nearly $44 trillion in 1989, compared to the United States' $36 trillion.

In 1980, only one Japanese bank ranked in the top ten world banks. By the end of 1988, the top ten banks in the world were all Japanese banks.

Japan's stock market continues to rise and the bank of Japan presently has a 4.5 percent interest rate, less than one-half of ours.

During the 1980s, Japan began producing Honda cars in Ohio and Toyota joined General Motors in an auto plant in Fremont, Calif. In the past four years, Japan investors have purchased such "American" institutions as the Tiffany Building and Rockefeller Center in New York City. Sony, a Japanese company, has purchased CBS Records and even Columbia Pictures.

How has this island nation with half the population of the United States surged to the forefront in economic development so rapidly? The NE Letter article suggests that it is because Japan has "educated each generation well, it outsaves Americans about five to one, its workers work longer hours, they re-invest their profits, they dream big, they are free, they enjoy ownership of private property, and they are willing to compete in the world marketplace."

The column concludes: "It is time for America to restore the work ethic, thrift, competitiveness, excellence in education, and risk-taking on a grander scale than has been shown in the past decade, or Japan will soar even higher in the decade ahead and we shall fall further behind."

There are other ways for nations to be conquered than via military attack.

The Mind Wanders

MAN VS. BUGS
by Pam Ashby

While I remain quite fearful about the spraying of dimilin to eradicate the gypsy moth caterpillar (gmc) population in these parts, I have waged my own war on the obnoxious creatures — so obnoxious that birds and spiders indigenous to this area after tasting the gmc say, "Yuk, ptooey."

Greatly aggravated, my daughters and I, armed with the safest insect killers known to man (flyswatters), eliminated about 10,000 of the quarter-inch creeps from the siding on house this week.

We also disgustingly hand-picked another 10,000 of the dreaded gmc's off the laundry on the clothesline the other day. It's interesting to note that gmac's are particulary fond of blue jeans and 100% cotton underwear. They also enjoy plummenting from the sky onto people.

I can handle the inconvenience of having the gmc's all over my house and clothesline, but when I noticed the miniature, munching monsters had riddled my apple, plum and maple trees, I was really steamed. They even attacked my lilacs and other assorted bushes.

At this point, I ran into the house and mixed up a batch of organic bug killer. I then proceded to drench my precious trees. The stuff didn't seem to affect the gmc's. I even saw a few of them doing the back stroke in the stuff that had collected in a curled leaf, and I swear I hear one of them remark, "Go ahead, spray this tree. Make my day."

By now, I'm stark-raving buggy. I discussed my problem with my microbiology instructor. He told me to try liquid Sevin, a chemical insecticide that will kill the gmc's. He said the Sevin would be so diluted by the time it reached ground water supplies that it would be essentially harmless to humans.

For the sake of my priceless trees and shrubs, I think I'll try it. I'll continue to use the trusty flyswatter on the house, and it's back to the electric dryer for my laundry.

But, alas, I suppose we're all doomed to this ill-researched Dimilin. County and state officials are convinced we need it. One official even said, "It's not like we're asking the people to put it on their breakfast cereal."

Perhaps we do need it; however, my limited knowlege of Dimilin tells me this stuff inhibits the formation of chitin, a horny polysaceharide that forms part of the hard outer integument of insects. In other words, it's what makes a bug go "crunch." Will we be creating teenage ninja mutant gypsy moths? We can only hope that future generations of the animal kingdom won't be similarly affected, for a baby born with genetic mutations is indeed a pitiful sight.

Man, with his superior knowledge, has studied the natural order of the environment for centuries. When, oh when, will he stop trying to alter perfection in the name of progress?

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I am a citizen of Bloomington and would be happy to pay $43.00 per quarter for water. We pay $20.00 for the first 2,000 gallons and $3.50 per thousand thereafter each month. For a family of two, my bill for April was $27.00, March, $23.50, and Feb., $20.00, for a total of $70.50 a quarter. We have a new system which was outdated when completed and there are those who haul their drinking water and take their laundry elsewhere. I will also mention that some of these families have eight or 10 in the household, so just imagine their water bills.

The cost of water in Bloomington must be the highest in Garrett County, but with breakdowns, and the high cost of treating the water due to mine drainage etc. we are not breaking even. I cannot even think of $43.00 per quarter in the near future.

Gorman water may be like Bloomington's, with costs determined by costs to operate.

William L. Reed
Bloomington

To the Editor:

I object to the proposed timbering at Herrington Manor.

The whole philosophy of managing public lands to generate profits from timber sales is false. Our forests do not exist as a source of state revenue or a concealed subsidy for the wood industry. Certainly there are many instances where a responsible harvesting is good for the public and for the forest. But these forests are not farms planted to achieve a harvest; they were established to restore and conserve land which had been devastated by irresponsible timbering.

The primary purpose of state-owned forests must be to preserve the very small remaining portion of our forest-land heritage. These forests are preserved and managed with our tax monies to regenerate the air, preserve the water table and provide shelter for a host of necessary life. If they have any other purpose, it should be the physical and spiritual well-being of the citizens.

The one possible benefit of the Herrington Manor controversy is that it has radicalized a number of citizens who have been willing to let DNR manage our parks and forests as it saw fit. The case at Herrington is a horrendous example of the arrogant assertion of bureaucratic power over citizens' protests. There's nothing quite like that to set one's teeth on edge.

Sincerely yours,
Fred C. Bolton
Grantsville

To the Editor:

I think it should be brought to the public attention that there are people listening in on your telephone calls. If you have a cordless phone or are talking to others that have a cordless phone, then you are being heard by most of Garrett County or farther, by people who have scanners. All they have to do is program in a certain code number and then sit back and listen. This certain code number was given over the C.B. radio one night for all ears to copy down and use.

Sincerely,
Arbutus Sullivan

To the Editor:

The article in your paper which concerned the chemical Dimilin and others such as Dipel (B.T.) and which instructed the average homeowner to use the chemical Liquid Sevin while caterpillars are starting to hatch is the same as instructing the property owner to load up a gun and place it to their heads. Not long ago, I was in a local store and I overheard a pregnant customer ask the clerk what she could use on the hatching gypsy moth caterpillars that were all over her and other's homes. I immediately cautioned her that she herself should not be applying any type of toxic chemical and she should make sure that whomever she had apply the chemical had the knowledge and understanding of the chemical and its proper use.

Now it just so happens that I have personal knowledge of different chemicals and their usage, and I informed this lady that Liquid Sevin is a very highly toxic chemical to humans, animals, birds, honey bees, and etc. In other words, when using Liquid Sevin, a person should wear protective clothing, such as a person who handles nuclear waste! While under the Maryland Forestry supervision, I and my fellow workers of major tree expert companies have applied thousands of gallons of chemicals to trees for the purpose of maintaining utility line clearance. The chemicals we applied, Tordon 155 and Banvel OS, were mixed with hundreds of gallons of fuel oil to make our concentrated kill. We were instructed and properly trained in the applying and usage of these and other chemicals we would use to devastate the area to be cleared and trees to be killed. But until it was outlawed in Maryland, we were not informed that this had dangerous effects on humans, animals, birds, etc. So I and others have been exposed to chemicals perfected by some idiot who said that it was okay but would never personally spray these chemicles or carry a very leaky tank on their back! Like the chemical Chlordane, used to control termites, these chemicals were outlawed not too many years ago. Chlordane causes cancer and has other harmful effects, yet at the time it was easily obtained no one was informed that just one drop of this chemical on your skin could cause cancer. In 1983, I can easily say that I had even larger amounts get on me while spraying cavities in trees infested with termites and other borers.

The Garrett County Commissioners, sitting on their duffs in their office, encourage the homeowner to use a chemical such as Liquid Sevin and to pay to have their homes sprayed with Dimilin. They caution school areas and water ways not to be sprayed, yet say it's alright to spray your domain. Then I say, Mr. Commissioners, get your hands wet and your lungs infested too by putting a tank on your back and spraying with this chemical. I ask you then, if down the line and years to come they find that Dimilin and other such chemicals have a harmful effect on humans and others, will the commissioners take full responsibility and be held accountable for this crime to humanity and possibly the environment itself? Fact...I have trimmed and removed trees that had a high concentrate of Dimilin applied to them, and I have had rashes and severe itching from working in these trees, but never from working in or being around trees that have gypsy moth larvae which never had Dimilin applied to them. So people, you better ask yourselves: Do you want these commissioners to play "God for us all?" After all, if you go to the store and read the back of a Dimilin can, it will say...harmful or hazardous to humans!

Timber Cut

tool to improve state land. It is characterized as destructive and it's not. That's what has bothered me the most."

Fran Pope noted that, even though the area is legally designated as state forest, it is used as a state park. "We would ultimately like to see that area incorporated into state park and to possibly include even more area. A lot of people are not aware that the areas of state park and state forest are managed differently. We feel they ought to be treated the same," she said.

Pope added that people come to the park to see forests — as they are now, and not as they look when timbered.

Brown responded, "Yes, people see this park and say, 'Isn't this fantastic?' Well, it's fantastic because we manage it, because we take care of it."

Board members expressed concern that, even though the timbering plan had been modified from its original form to include twice as much buffer area, there was a fear that the timbering job still might be performed improperly.

Brown stated that the trees would be cut according to Department of Natural Resources criteria.

"That's the contract," said Bauer, "but, in reality, that's not what happens."

"Well, it'll happen," stated Dr. Brown.

In fact, Brown assured the board members that the job would be monitored very closely, and that he wished to be informed the moment anything was not being properly done.

"I want you all to take my phone number and, the first time you hear or see anybody not do what they say they're going to do, let me know."

Brown also promised the group they would have input in this and future projects at Herrington Manor, stating, "I absolutely guarantee it. We may even get you to work with us in the planning.

Brown further explained that input from citizens and environmentalist groups over the past few years has caused the loggers to be more anxious. As a result, he said, the loggers are becoming more responsible.

He indicated that this project may become the prototype for future projects, stating, "I believe that a couple of years from now, people will come back and say, 'It looks very different than the usual cut. It looks better.' "

As loggers are held more accountable for their cuts, Brown stated, the irresponsible companies will be forced out of the business, leaving only the most responsible to cut timber.

Brown informed the group that he had, indeed, been listening to environmentalist concerns and that the logging industry, as well, had indicated a fair share of displeasure with some of his past decisions.

He continued, "If we keep doing it this way — with so much input, and so carefully — the whole industry will be doing it in an entirely different way than they did." He added, "It's slowed things down for awhile but it will improve things in the long run. It'll help."

Brown further noted that the Maryland Department of Natural Resources is currently reforesting a lot of acreage and plans to do more. He stated, "We are building a new nursery where we will be able to raise 15 million seedlings. Our plan is to increase the production of seedlings and try to reverse the net loss of trees."

"I predict," Brown said, "that the United States will eventually adopt the German system of forest management." He explained that, in Germany, the foresters know every single tree. All operations, for practical purposes, he said, are individual tree cuts, rather than cutting an entire area (which is the way America has done it). "That's got to change," he said.

Pope asked, "Do you think this will become the new standard of care for loggers in Maryland?"

"I sure do," Brown replied. "More and more of this kind of precision will take place." He added that, eventually, the public — and the advisory board — would be so impressed with the quality of the cut that is scheduled in the rest of the park area, they would want the buffer area at the trails to be thinned in the same manner.

Bill Nemith inquired as to why logging is not as regulated as mining has become, and Brown assured him that the industry is regulated now, and is restricted by reforestation requirements, wetlands laws, stream-crossing concerns and sediment control, to name a few.

He stated, "What you're asking for has already started. It will become even more restrictive, resulting in a more time- and money-consuming effort on the part of the logger."

Logging now has a bad connotation because of what people have seen some loggers do, Brown stated. "More and more, monitoring will be done until all loggers comply," he said.

He closed the meeting by stating, "If I had my druthers, the whole state would look like a park. That's why I put forests, parks and wildlife people together in the same department. We are now doing wildlife plans in the same way for both forests and parks. We're moving toward more multiple uses everywhere."

The advisory board announced this week that three bids had been received before the deadline and, according to Wendy Bauer, the Maryland Board of Public Works, will review the bids and award the timbering contract in two to six weeks.

Education Board

rett County would receive a combination grant/loan from the Environmental Protection Agency which could result in as much as $189,285 in federal assistance for the purpose of asbestos removal, scheduled to begin June 1.

Dr. Ryscavage explained, however, that although $553,264 was offered by the agency, only $190,000 will actually be available to the county in grant money because the bid for the project was $387,000 and only one-half of that money can be obtained.

In other areas, approximately $404,000 is being requested locally to fund new staff additions or to fund postions formerly paid for by state monies. Following are the new staff positions requested: one director of personnel — a primary recommendation of the recently completed administrative staff study; one MSDE-LEA liaison — this position was formerly funded by the state and is critical to the Maryland School Performance Program, according to the education board; one traveling art teacher; three foreign language teachers — considered necessary for the completion of the middle school foreign language program; two media specialists — positions at the middle school level which would meet the staffing recommendations of the MSDE media evaluation team; one half-time computer resource teacher — this position would make Northern High School comparable to Southern High School in terms of computer programming opportunities, and was requested by an NHS student; one elementary teacher at Broad Ford Elementary; two assistant principals at the elementary school level; one elementary school level guidance counselor; four part-time custodians — these funds for four existing part-time custodial positions at Kitzmiller, Loch Lynn, Red House and Swan Meadow, will extend services to a full-time basis, and one special education teacher.

According to Dr. Ryscavage, these positions, as well as the FY91 budget, are based on an estimated student population of 5,285 students or an approximate 160-student increase.

The budget request report further stated, "As is customary, the largest need for additional funds is due to the granting of salary/wage increases. In order to provide an approximate 7.7 percent average increase for all teaching staff, approximately $853,000 is required. Since additional state basic aid only increased $497,184, the balance of the teacher increase, the new staff and the total increase for both administrative and support staff will have to come from local funds."

The report also stated, "We believe that we have, once again, responsibly developed a statement of needs for the young people in our public schools. We are hopeful that you agree with us and will support this request in the full amount."

Commissioner Gregg told reporters this week, "We certainly are aware of the requests — and of the needs — of the departments but we absolutely cannot go the general public with such a large increase in the tax rate."

Gregg continued, "One significant factor to consider is the financial impact the SHS renovation will have on the County Roads Department budget. With split shifts, road use by the school buses will double." He noted that it cost the county $75,000 to implement the split shift at Northern High when it was undergoing renovation, and that Southern's student population and geographic coverage was considerably larger than Northern's.

Gregg concluded by stating that, even though there is a recognized problem and many unmet needs in the educational system, "Throwing money to a problem will not necessarily solve it."

Landfill Site

Environment, stating, "By limiting the outfall from the landfill to 4.1 ppb of silver, you have not allowed for dilution in Round Glade Run. Although the average flow from outfall 001 is reported to be 54,000 gallons per day, this is only a visual estimate and is rarely this high."

He further stated, "The quality of a waste stream from a sanitary landfill is highly variable. At times the pollutant loading can be very low, other times high. This makes treating the waste stream very difficult. Although the technology exists for treating organic pollutants to very low concentrations, the technology still has not been developed to a point where a widely fluctuating waste stream can be treated to a point where heavy metals, in particular, silver and selenium, can be removed to levels you propose on a consistent basis."

He concluded his letter by calling the regulations "unreasonable."

Commissioner Groves told reporters Tuesday, "This is not the last word you will hear on the subject."

LWV THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

EARTH DAY 1990 & RECYCLING

The League wishes to thank all those who stopped by our booth during the Garrett County Earth Day celebration at GCC on April 22. Hopefully, we were able to pass on some recycling ideas and information to use as individuals, as Garrett Countians, and as citizens of Planet Earth.

We asked participants to tell us what they do to recycle or to reduce solid waste. Below are some of their responses:

— Bob Rowan takes newspapers and grass clippings to Frostburg for their recycling program.

— Southern Middle School (7A team) recycles aluminum.

—Jolene Scofield uses newspapers for guinea pig bedding and recycles aluminum and glass.

—"Jane Doe" (anonymous) recycles newspapers and aluminum.

— Judy, Jan, Jenny and Jon Finnel turn in aluminum cans to Broad Ford School.

— R. Sanders takes magazines to the library for sharing; separates trash; saves newspspers for recycling; and doesn't use styrofoam.

— Phil Ouellette recycles aluminum and glass.

— Carol Tuomisto uses cloth napkins.

— Cosette Harman recycles aluminum and glass.

— Marvin's Men's Wear takes all corrugated cardboard to Paul Dove Enterprises.

— Gandy Dancer saves all glass bottles for the LWVGC.

We wish to thank all "recyclers" who drop off items at our office on Alder Street in Oakland. The amount is growing daily. We would, however, like all contributors to keep a few points in mind when recycling, and especially for turning in recyclables to us:

1. Use paper bags (doubled) or boxes for glass and tin cans. Plastic bags are OK for aluminum cans, but they break through easily with other metals and glass. Besides, paper products are better for the environment.

2. Separate aluminum from tin, from glass, from newspspers, and separate glass by color.

3. Rinse well or wash containers to minimize the possibility of bugs, rats, and rancid odors.

4. Remove lids, caps, and rings for recycling separately, but labels may be left on.

5. Bind or bag newspapers. Colored newsprint is OK, but please remove the shiny inserts (not recyclable).

6. Drop off clean paper bags here — Stewart's General Store (next door) can use them.

Thanks, and remember: If you aren't recycling, you're throwing it all away.

NOTE: No plastic containers — No market yet.

Senior Citizens' Menus

The Area Agency on Aging/Garrett County Community Action Committee announces the Senior Nutrition Program menus for the week of May 21-25 follows:

May 21 — Tomato juice, Hawaiian chicken, rice, white bread, and cantalope wedge.

May 22 — Salisbury steak with gravy, whipped potatoes, mixed vegetables, roll, and vanilla pudding.

May 23 — Tomato soup, chicken salad on lettuce bed, roll, mixed fruit, and brownie.

May 24 — Cole slaw with carrots, country style barbequed, pork ribs, baked potatoes, wheat bread, and apricots.

May 25 — Carrot sticks, pasta salad with cheese, creamed tuna (or chipped beef), on biscuit, stewed tomatoes, and ice cream.

Milk, coffee, and tea are served with all meals.

"Eating Together" sites that operate five days per week will be following the menu as is. Those that operate only two or three days per week have the option of choosing menus within the same week.

On occasion, a site may opt to make a substitution in the menu. Senior citizens who wish to eat at one of the "Eating Together" sites are asked to call the individual site to check the menu for the day and to make reservations.

Telephone numbers of individual sites are as follows: Flowery Vale Senior Center, Accident, 826-8824; Bull's Restaurant, Bloomington, 359-3035; Finzel Fire Hall, Finzel, 689-8388; Old Mill Grill, Friendsville, 746-5414; Old Mill Restaurant, Gorman, 334-4865; Casselman Restaurant, Grantsville, 895-5092; Jennings Community, Jennings, 245-4204; Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller, 453-3445; Oakland Senior Center, Oakland, 334-3399; and Swanton Community Building, Swanton, 387-9191.

Municipality Update

Deer Park

The town of Deer Park held the municipal election for the offices of mayor and two councilpersons.

Out of 93 registered voters, 21 persons voted.

Jack Hinebaugh was the only person to register for the office of mayor. He was re-elected for his fourth term.

As no one registered to run for the two openings for councilperson, write-in votes will be accepted.

Lonnie Rodeheaver, Robert Moore, Mason Madigan and Edward Sollars received write-in votes for the office of councilperson.

Rodeheaver received 11 votes, Moore and Madigan tied with eight votes each and Sollars received five votes.

The four persons receiving write-in votes have until the end of the month to decide if they will accept the position of councilperson. It will then be determined who will serve the two-year term as councilmember.

Mason Madigan and Robert Moore are the two councilpersons going out of office. Miles Madigan and Arlene Wilson have one year left to serve for their two-year terms.

COMMISSIONERS VISIT

The Garrett County Commissioners visited at the regular monthly meeting held Monday.

The commissioners discussed road improvements and purchasing equipment with the town council members.

The next regular meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Deer Park will be held June 11.

Pam Nelson Is CAC Employee Of The Week

Pam Nelson has been named as Employee of the Week for the Garrett Transportation Program of Community Action. Mrs. Nelson has been employed by the agency for 12 years. She is currently positioned as director of operations.

"In my position I have the opportunity to be involved with the operation of all CAC programs," she said. "I work closely with Housing, Transportation, Area Agency on Aging, Energy Services, and Food Resources, overseeing their daily functions. I am particularly proud of the services offered by our Transportation Department. It is very personally rewarding to know that Community Action is there when someone needs a ride to the doctor's office, or to one of our senior citizen meal sites."

Duane Yoder, executive director for Community Action, added, "What impresses me most about Pam in terms of her work is her ability to grasp a wide range of issues, which enables her to coordinate and direct her programs into successful ventures. She has always given her best effort. I appreciate the fact that Pam is both creative and analytical. In her position, she is called upon to work with many kinds of people, including those on staff and customers and clients. I am satisfied that Pam handles these situations very well, and we can count on her to work with patience. In summary, our operations director is committed to our purpose, and we certainly appreciate her dedication."

Linda Green, transportation director, stated, "Pam has a genuine concern for our clients. She is always willing to offer her assistance towards the programs welfare. As the transportation department expands, Pam keeps a watchful eye over our operation, looking for the ways and the means to keep our clients linked to the community through transportation."

Mrs. Nelson is a graduate of Frostburg State University. She resides in Mtn. Lake Park with her husband, John, and their two children.

Legal Aid Bureau Announces June Outreach Schedule

Staff members of the Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., will be available to discuss legal problems with persons during June in Oakland on June 5 and June 19 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Community Action Center in Oakland.

The Legal Aid Bureau, Inc., provides legal assistance in civil matters to eligible persons. Services are available at no cost to those whose income and property holdings are below certain federally-mandated levels.

The Western Maryland Office of the Bureau is located at 110 Greene Street in Cumberland. The office can be reached in Garrett County by calling 334-8832. Residents of the Grantsville area may call the Cumberland office at 777-7474.

Whenever possible, persons needing assistance should call in advance to schedule an appointment for the Outreach location or for an appointment at the Cumberland office, according to Bureau officials.

Landowners Are Encouraged To Plant For Wildlife

A program has been designed by the Maryland Farm Game Advisory Committee to promote habitat management for quail, rabbits, pheasants and doves on private land. As an incentive to landowners to devote part of their land to wildlife habitat, seed packets for wildlife plot plantings have been made available to the public, distributed on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Garrett County resident Bill Nemith is the Western Maryland member of the Maryland Farm Game Advisory Committee. According to Nemith, the group of 12 individuals, mostly farmers, was appointed to advise the Department of Natural Resources Forest, Park and Wildlife Service in promoting habitat management for quail, rabbits, pheasants and doves on private land. Nemith says the pheasant population is the committee's main concern. He reported that the DNR's hope is to stock a breed of pheasant native to the midwest, which likes marginal areas and old farmsteads and might prove to be ideal for Garrett County.

Seed packets may still be available at the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service Office. Three different packets are available. One will contain buckwheat, one will contain sorghum, and one will contain a millet mix. Each packet holds enough seed to plant 1/16 of an acre. Packet distribution is limited to three per individual and no more than one kind of packet per individual. Planting instructions are included in each packet. Each person obtaining seed packets must give his/her name, address and telephone number. Random checks will be made by the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service during summer months to determine if seeds were used as intended.

Cooperating with the Maryland Farm Game Advisory Committee is the DNR Forest, Park and Wildlife Service at Mt. Nebo, and Southern States Cooperative of Oakland, where a sign was posted early this spring to inform the public of the program.

Tourism Week In Maryland Now Underway

Lieutenant Governor Melvin A. Steinberg officially launched Maryland Tourism Week, May 13-19, at a news conference held last week at the Lexington Market in Baltimore. Special events and workshops at the state's nine Visitor Information Centers will be a focus of Maryland Tourism Week, which runs concurrently with National Tourism Week. In addition, Maryland's regions have scheduled special events to celebrate Maryland Tourism Week.

At the news conference, the lieutenant governor announced that Scott McDowell of Hagerstown is the winner of a photo contest for high school students sponsored by the Maryland Tourism Council. The prize is a weekend for four donated by Wisp Resort in McHenry. Steinberg also recognized the Coca-Cola Bottlers of Maryland for their corporate funding of Maryland Tourism Week activities.

Other highlights of the news conference were booths showcasing tourist attractions in each of Maryland's six regions, as well as exhibits by the Forest, Park and Wildlife Service, the Maryland Department of Agriculture, the Maryland with Pride Program, the Maryland You are Beautiful Program, the Maryland Tourism Council and the Department of Economic and Employment's (DEED) Office of Tourism Development.

According to DEED Secretary J. Randall Evans, the number of visitors at Maryland's information centers has soared over the past year. There was a 31 percent increase in the number of visitors, which rose from 54,550 in February 1989 to 80,043 in February 1990. The number of visitors at Maryland information centers thus far in the 1990 totals 392,367, an overall increase of 18 percent for the year to date.

"Every dollar we spend promoting tourism generates $4 spent by tourists," said Evans. According to a survey by DEED's Division of Research, 33 million tourists visited Maryland in 1988. The total economic impact of tourism in Maryland that year amounted to more than $8.3 billion in gross sales, $2.5 billion in employee income, approximately 103,000 jobs and nearly $310 million in selected state and local tax revenue.

Maryland Tourism Week, the purpose of which is to educate the public about the broad-based economic impact of the travel industry, is coordinated by the private-sector Maryland Tourism Council. The Annapolis-based organization is comprised of representatives of the hospitality industry throughout the state.

Rams Wrap Up Successful Season By Defeating Spartans And Huskies

The Southern High Rams concluded another outstanding season on the baseball diamond this past week; however, because of the calibre of competition in the Region I Class B division, Coach Jim Bosley and his squad did not qualify for the playoffs, despite losing only four of 17 games.

The Rams recorded a 13-8 win on Saturday over visiting Bishop Walsh and then rallied to nip arch rival Northern, 3-2, in eight innings on Monday at the Cove.

The Rams took a 1-0 lead in the first inning against Bishop Walsh, as Brett Rice came home when the second baseman mishandled a grounder by Kevin Green.

The Spartans moved out to a 3-1 advantage in the second inning when Robbie Boyle rapped a three-run homer that scored Ray Spriggs and Brian Caporale.

The lead exchanged hands again in the bottom of the second when the Rams scored on an error, an RBI double by Dave Upole, and a wild pitch to make the score 4-3.

Then BW came back to score three runs in the third on a long ball by Greg Powell.

The Rams assumed the lead for good and by a wide margin in the bottom of the fifth by scoring nine times.

Green and John Stem initiated the rally by recording singles and Britten Martin followed with a walk to load the bases. After an out, James Bateman stroked a two-run double to tie the score.

Mike Fulmer gave the Rams the lead for good with a squeeze play. Upole then walked to load the bases again, Rice followed with a single to score a run, Charlie Plauger walked to force a run, and Green stepped up and put the game away with a grand slam homer.

Bishop Walsh added its final two runs in the seventh on a bases-loaded error and a fielder's choice.

The loss dropped Bishop Walsh to 13-8.

The Rams had to come from behind to tie the score against Northern on Monday and they went on to win it in the eighth inning on a Husky error and an RBI single by Green.

A MAJOR FINANCIAL BOOST was received recently by the Northern Athletic Boosters from the Deep Creek Lake Lions Club. Above, Bill Graham, left, representing the Boosters, accepts a check for $2,501 from Duane Weaver, president of the Lions Club. The funds will be used to help cover the expenses of Northern High School's new track, improvements to the football field, and new entrance building at the field.

Northern took a 1-0 advantage in the first inning and missed an opportunity to score at least one more run in that frame. Chad Sines, the first batter for the Huskies, walked when he was struck by a pitch and Wes Loar followed with a single. Sines was thrown out at home on the play, however. Loar then stole third base and later came home on a double steal, as Dennis Deigert, who had walked, stole second.

A two-out RBI double by Harrison Foy in the second inning gave the Huskies a 2-0 lead.

It appeared that the Huskies added another run in the third when a base runner was safe at home on a squeeze bunt, but the batter was called out at first when the umpire ruled that he wsa in the field of play when he was hit by the throw to first.

The Rams tied the score in the fifth inning when Rice was singled home by Bateman and Plauger scored on a fielder's choice by Martin.

Upole led off the eighth inning with a fly ball that was mishanded by the left fielder. Green, who went the distance on the mound for the Rams, then singled home Upole to win the game.

Green gave up seven hits in recording the win over Northern starter, Jerry Uphold, who was relieved by Dave Yoder in the eighth.

The Huskies, who also whipped Bishop Walsh on Saturday, went on to upset Beall on Tuesday (see separate story).

Rams, Huskies Participate In Bi-County Event

The Northern and Southern high school tennis teams were among those who participated in the annual Bi-County Tournament, held Sunday and Monday at Frostburg State University.

The Northern boys' and girls' teams placed third in the five-school tourney and both Southern teams finished in fifth place.

The Beall High boys' team won the championship with 48 points, Allegany placed second with 43, Northern finished with eight points, Fort Hill recorded six, and Southern, five. In girls' competition, Allegany placed first with 53 points, followed by Fort Hill with 20, Northern with 18, Beall with 10, and Southern with nine.

The best finish by the Northern girls was by the doubles team of Tammy and Pam Brenneman, who lost to Jenni Stafford and Laura Mehanna of Allegany in the finals, 6-2, 6-4, and the mixed doubles team of Kristin Edwards and Jim Stephens, who lost to Allegany's Maura Clark and Jim Miller in the championship match, 6-2, 6-1.

The Southern girls' doubles team of Nancy Alvarez and Tammy Rosenthal made it into the semi-final round, where they lost to the Brenneman sisters., 6-1, 6-0.

The winners and runners-up of each division advance to the Regional Championships, slated for this Saturday at 9 a.m. at North Hagerstown High School.

NHS Alumni Game Friday

Northern High School fans are reminded that the second annual NHS Alumni Baseball Game will be played this Friday, May 18, at the Northern diamond, beginning at 5 p.m.

The contest will feature some three dozen former Huskies from several years past. Players wanting to participate who have not contacted Coach Phil Carr are requested to do so immediately at 387-5693.

The public is invited to attend the game free of charge.

SGAA To Host Annual Sports Banquet May 27

The Southern Garrett Athletic Association will be hosting its annual Sports Banquet on Sunday, May 27. The banquet will honor all the athletic teams and the individual athletes from each of the 10 sports Southern High School offers.

Tickets may be obtained at the high school from the athletic office. The price is $9 each. Each athlete will be reimbursed when they arrive at the banquet.

Huskies End In A Flurry With Big Wins Over Bishop Walsh, Beall

It has been a long season for the young Northern High School baseball team under new head coach Phil Carr, however this past week the Huskies put it all together and recorded a pair of major wins and nearly pulled off a third victory over arch rival Southern.

The Huskies first rolled over Bishop Walsh in Accident on Saturday, 16-1, then dropped a 3-2 heartbreaker to the visiting Rams on Monday (see separate story), and then upset Beall, the number two rated team in the area on Tuesday, 8-3, in Frostburg.

The BW Spartans came into Saturday's game with a 13-8 record, Southern currently holds a 13-4 mark, and the Mountaineers had only lost two of 13 games before meeting the Huskies.

The results left the Huskies, whose starting nine include six sophomores, with a final 4-10 record.

Against Bishop Walsh, the Huskies ripped the Spartan defense with 16 hits behind a four-for-four, three-RBI performance by Mark Beals, while Jon Houser went the distance on the mound, yielding only five hits, striking out two, and walking two.

Dave Yoder, Wes Loar, Dennis Deigert, Houser, and Rich Schofield each finished with two hits for the Huskies.

Northern took a 6-0 lead in the first inning behind a three-run homer by Yoder, a fielder's choice by Doug Brenneman, a single by Schofield, and a pair of Spartan errors.

BW recorded its only run of the day in the second inning when Greg Powell walked and came home on a single by Ray Spriggs.

The Huskies made it 12-1 in the bottom of the second, as Loar led off with a single, Deigert singled and Loar scored on an errant throw on the play, Beals singled home Deigert, and Houser followed with a two-run homer. Loar followed later with a two-run single.

Northern added four insurance runs in the fourth on RBI singles by Deigert and Yoder and a two-run triple by Beals.

Against the number two ranked Beall Mountaineers, the Huskies wasted little time getting on the scoreboard, recording two runs in the top of the first. With the bases loaded, Yoder rapped a sacrifice fly that sent Chad Sines home, and Beals followed with a sacrifice fly that plated Loar.

Loar also sparked the Northern defense in the bottom of that inning by making a pair of diving catches at shortstop.

A double by Beall's Shannon McKenzie that scored Greg Carter and a run-producing single by Bryan Lewis in the third frame knotted the score at 2-2; but the Huskies quickly regained the lead for good with three runs in the fourth inning and three more in the fifth.

Todd Burdock doubled in the the fourth to send Beals home and Sines later smacked a two-run double that scored Brenneman and Burdock.

Burdock recorded his second and third RBI of the day when he rapped a single in the fifth that scored Deigert and Beals. Houser concluded the scoring when he singled home Harrison Foy.

McKenzie accounted for Beall's final run when he singled to score Jeremy Robison.

The Huskies finished with 10 hits off of Carter and Mike Kitis.

Rams, Huskies Compete In Track Meet At SHS; Southern Boys Win

The Southern Rams hosted a six-team boys' track and field meet and an eight-team girls' meet Friday afternoon and the Southern boys' team recorded a total of 142 points to easily win their competition. The Southern girls squad finished in second place behind Beall.

Cross-county rival Northern was also a participant and the Husky boys placed third while the girls finished sixth.

Beall took a distant second in the boys' competition with 109 points, edging Northern with 108 points. Central Preston was third with 97 points, followed by Union with 33 and West Preston with 19.

The Beall girls amassed 181 points, followed by Southern with 150, University with 107, Union with 24, Westmar with 23, Northern with 21, West Preston with 13, and Central Preston with six.

The Southern boys won only two events — Mark Upole in the 110 hurdles (21.5 seconds) and the 400-meter relay team — but they placed high in nearly every other event.

Northern's Darren McKenzie won the 100- and 200-meter dashes, while Beall's Ray Rase won the shotput and discus and Central Preston's Chris Marton won the 800- and 1,600-meter runs.

In the girls' competition, Southern's Tonya Shreve was the top competitor of the day, placing first in the 200-meter dash, triple jump, and long jump, and also being a member of the winning 400-meter relay team. Khrystie Browning won the 100 and 300 hurdles for the Rams, while Lori Close led the Beall girls to their win by placing first in the shotput and discus.

Fred Steiding Sailboat Regatta Slated May 26

The Fred Steiding Sailboat Regatta will be held Memorial Day weekend, May 26-28, on the southern portion of Deep Creek Lake, starting at the Deep Creek Lake Yacht Club on Turkey Neck. Races begin at noon Saturday and Sunday; and 1:30 p.m. Monday.

The Fred Steiding Regatta, which is the first race of the June and summer seasons, kicks off the sailboat regatta season on Deep Creek Lake. Any sailboat may participate in this race, and the Fred Steiding trophy will be awarded to the winner.

Sailboat regattas are held each weekend during the summer, beginning at noon Saturdays and 1 p.m. Sundays. Participants and spectators are welcome, and races may be seen best from boats near the Yacht Club.

For more information, persons may contact Terry Bell at (301) 387-9400, or the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Courthouse, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

West All-Star Shrine Football Meeting Slated

All West Shrine Football players, queens, and cheerleaders from Allegany, Garrett, Mineral, Hardy, Hampshire, Franklin, Grant and Preston County high schools are invited to attend a meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club, Cumberland, in the main Ball Room Wednesday, May 23, at 7:30 p.m.

The coaches and advisors will be present to discuss the 18th Annual East/West Shrine Football Game, to be played at Greenway Avenue Stadium on July 21. Player physical examinations, practice schedules, and other information concerning the pregame and halftime ceremonies will be a part of the discussion. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

The game is sponsored by the Ali Ghan Shrine Temple, with the net proceeds going to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children in Philadelphia.

Fishing Contest Winners Named

Weekly Garrett County fishing contest winners for the week ending May 13 were announced by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council and are as follows:

Largemouth bass, 2 lbs., 13 ozs., 17¼ inches, caught by James Smith, Swanton.

Crappie, 1 lb., 2 ozs., 13 inches, caught by David Baker, Swanton.

Walleye, 6 lbs., 2 ozs., 27½ inches, caught by Rick Stewart, Deer Park.

Rainbow trout, 4 lbs., 20¾ inches, caught by Ronald Roy, Oakland.

Winners are named weekly and each receives a citation and patch. The fishing contest, sponsored by Johnny's Bait House and the Promotion Council, began May 1 and will end September 30. All fish must be registered at Johnny's Bait House on Route 219 at Deep Creek Lake.

Bass season at Deep Creek Lake is closed until June 15.

First W.C.I. Mountain Bike Event Held In Green Ridge State Forest

Mountain bicycling enthusiasts from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the District of Columbia braved rain and muddy conditions as part of the first effort by World Championships, Inc., to move beyond whitewater kayak racing into a broad range of adventure sport promotions in Western Maryland.

Seventy-nine competitors entered Sunday's Dogwood Classic and challenged the rugged 15-mile course through Green Ridge State Forest, which was composed of about 35% forest trails and 65% dirt roads.

Two Garrett County racers placed among the top three in their respective age classes, as Nick Pope, Mtn. Lake Park won the Junior Male title and Brian Hesselbach, McHenry, finished third in the Senior Sport Male division.

The overall winner, Chris Gaydos, Harmony, Pa., returned to the Green Ridge State Forest Headquarters in an official time of 1:15:23.

The country's third ranked professional women's racer, Darcy Wright, of Ohiopyle, Pa., covered the distance in 1:28:34. Wright's national ranking was earned just one week ago at the U.S. Nationals held at Big Bear Lake, Calif.

More importantly, as far as the local civic sports organization is concerned, the race served as a strong introduction for WCI to the community of mountain bike racers, sanctioners and sponsors. "This is a national caliber course," said Wright, wet and muddy after her exploits through the 60,000 acre forest.

Wright, whose professional career is aided by sponsorship from Cannondale, Suntour and Michelin, said that racers who participated Sunday were impressed by the organization and the course. She was confident that the first Maryland State Championships scheduled for the same venue in October will benefit from the good experiences of cyclists who competed this weekend.

"Word of mouth among the racers will definitely be positive about WCI and Green Ridge," she concluded.

Those sentiments were echoed by West Virginia Mountain Bike Association representative Jon Leyton who consulted on race operations.

"This race ran like a clock," he said. "WCI could have handled 500 riders with their timing and scoring system . . . their international whitewater experience was definitely a plus in their approach to competition and hospitality.

"Maryland appears to be taking a very progressive attitude toward providing quality mountain biking experiences. We look forward to working in close cooperation with DNR and WCI in the future," Leyton commented.

Similar to the path they followed in preparation for the 1989 World Whitewater Championships, WCI is beginning a program of mountain bike racing designed to ultimately bring national and international competitions to Western Maryland.

"WCI is extremely grateful to the State of Maryland and nearby land owners for their help and encouragement as we begin our work to make Western Maryland the hub of regional competitive mountain biking," WCI President Senator John Bambacus (R-Allegany/Garrett) told onlookers.

RAIN AND MUD did not seem to pose a great problem for the 79 competitors in the Dogwood Mountain Bike Classic, held Sunday afternoon in Green Ridge State Forest and sponsored by World Championships, Inc. The event included professional and amateur racers from three states and the District of Columbia, including the nation's third ranked female competitor, Darcy Wright, of Ohiopyle, Pa., who was the overall top female finisher. Wright, pictured below, completed the rugged 15-mile course in a time of one hour, 28 minutes, 34 seconds. Pictured above is Tim Willis, who placed third in the men's senior expert division. Photos by Tom Darden.

The Dogwood Classic was sponsored in part by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development, Elliott's Amazing Juices, Witmer Foods, Tyler Mountain Water, The Wisp Resort, the Grantsville Holiday Inn, the Cumberland Holiday Inn, and Bausch and Lomb.

A team of Maryland Forest Park and Wildlife Coordinators including Liz Griffith, Francis Zumbrum and regional forester John Mash, worked with WCI event development director Fred Stemple to organize the event.

The same course will be used in early October as World Championships, Inc., promotes the first ever Maryland State Mountain Bike Championship.

Other 1990 WCI adventure sports promotions include a return of international whitewater competition to the Savage River in July and the "Best of the West" Triathlon scheduled in Oakland during August.

Southern Girls Finish Fourth In PVC Track Meet, Boys Seventh

The Southern High School track teams were among the 22 boys' and girls' squads in the annual Potomac Valley Conference Track and Field Championships held Tuesday at Hampshire High School in Romney, W.Va.

The Southern girls' team, led by Coach Bob Quick, placed fourth in the event with a total of 71 points, while the Southern boys, coached by Carl Booth, finished seventh in the standings.

Tonya Shreve led the Southern girls with a first place in the long jump (15'4"), a second place in the 200-meter dash, and a tie for third place in the high jump. She was also on the second place 400 relay team.

Khrystie Browning placed second in the 300 hurdles, while Susan Umstot took third in the 3,200-meter run and fourth in the 1,600-meter event.

In boys' action, the best individual finishes were third places by Jon Hegeman in the 3,200-meter run and Mike Freyman in the pole vault.

Keyser won both the boys' and girls' team championships. The Golden Tornado boys finished with 117 points, followed by Hampshire with 91, Frankfort with 86, Musselman with 85, Berkeley Springs with 54, Tucker County with 47, Southern with 30, Franklin with 22, East Hardy with 13, Union with 12, and Petersburg with one.

The Keyser girls finished with 120 points, followed by Frankfort, 109; Hampshire, 82; Southern, 71; Berkeley Springs, 38; Franklin, 36 and one-half; Tucker County, 22; Petersburg, 11; Union, five; and East Hardy, two and one-half.

Information as to how it works, what it can provide, and the cost to the individual and the county will be available. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and ask questions.

Donations during the last month to the Aurora VFD were made by the Guy Lipscombs, Stemple Ridge Ladies Aid, Union District Senior Citizens, and Lonnie Shaffer.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The Aurora Cemetery Association will hold its annual meeting May 30, at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church. All concerned individuals are requested to attend.

PASSING BLIMP CAUSES EXCITEMENT

A low hovering Goodyear Blimp caused anxiety among emergency personnel on Saturday, May 12, when it passed through Aurora and Brookside communities heading toward Oakland. The blimp, enroute to an eastern air show, had come this way because of the weather and to excape the higher mountains, but because of its very low altitude, caused persons sighting it to be concerned that it would crash or snag on the tree tops. Before anyone could read its number, it had passed safely down the valley and was safely on its way beyond Oakland.

PERSONAL MENTION

Homer Mullenax was taken from his Horse Shoe Run home to Garrett County Memorial Hospital on Sunday.

The Spring '90 Concert of the East Preston Chorus was presented on Thursday evening, May 10, at the school. Those from the Aurora area who participated were JoAnn Bennett, Tina Conrad, Dawn Dillsworth, Debbie Gank, Traci Hartsell, Rachel Knotts, Tammy Slaubaugh, Traci Smith, April Snyder, and Carl Snyder. Jennifer Whitehair is also a member of the chorus, but was unable to be present.

Directing the chorus is Elizabeth Marshall and numbers presented by the senior group included "Let There Be Peace," "When We Believe," "That's What Friends Are For," "The Wind Beneath My Wings," "Morning Has Broken" and "Everything's Coming Up Broadway," a variety of Broadway tunes.

Jennifer Whitehair escaped serious injury last Tuesday night when her 1983 Renault hit a pickup, drived by Hans Goehl of Terra Alta, went off the road and down a steep hill on the Ralph Feathers' farm, coming to a rest at the bottom of the hill. Jennifer was flown by Health Net to Ruby Memorial and returned on Thursday to the home of her parents, Walter and Jeanne Whitehair, Brookside.

A birthday-anniversary get-together honoring George and Jessie Winters of Eglon was held Saturday evening in the home of their daughter, Rhonda, and Larry Channell and sons, Christopher and Ryan at Hutton. Other family members attending were Neil and Bonnie Winters, Hutton; Kevin Winters, Oakland; Kim and Henry Hostetler and Kaylie, Terra Alta; David and Lois Layman and Aaron of Eglon, Delbert and Madge Sims of Warren, Ohio, and Jim and Alberta Moore of Newark, Ohio. The latter Ohio couples are Mrs. Winters' brother and sister, who were visiting them for the weekend.

Honored with a Sunday Mother's Day dinner in the home of David and Lois Layman, Aaron and Jim, at Eglon were Sheridan and Nina Layman, Aurora, George and Jessie Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Sims and Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

Visiting last weekend with Frank and Wilda Blamble and son, Charles, Aurora, were their daughter and family, Brenda and Jeff Thayer and son, Ryan Jeffrey of Brunswick, Ohio. Before returning to their home on Tuesday, they also visited her grandparents, Viola Harsh and Elwood and Hazel Blamble.

Youth of Maple Spring Church assisted in the morning worship and gave tribute to their mothers. The younger children of the church distributed plants to the mothers present at the close of the services.

Visiting with Mrs. Mildred Wilt in Eglon this weekend were her son-in-law and daughter, Gene and Thelma Simpson of Martin's Ferry, Ohio.

Connie (Mrs. John) Fint of Aurora was taken by ambulance Sunday night to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

PICNIC AT MAPLE SPRING

On Sunday, May 20, Fred Beachy will be honored by the congregation at Maple Spring Church with a picnic in his honor. Mr. Beachy celebrated his 90th birthday on February 12 while in Florida. Anyone who wishes may join the celebration.

KING AND QUEEN POTATO

A new contest is being proposed this year for the Potato Festival which is an annual event sponsored by the Mt. Grove Volunteer Fire Department. There will be a contest for men with the grower of the largest potato a winner, one for women with a recipe for a potato dish being a requirement, both open to persons 18 years and older. To sign up for the contest, persons should contact Letha Helmick at 735-5247 by July 1. This year's Potato Festival will be the 9th celebration and held on September 8.

MULLENAX COUPLE HONORED

A birthday party on May 6 honored Homer and Lela Mullenax of Horse Shoe Run whose birthdays fall on the 1st and 11th of May, respectively. The party was given by their children and held in the home of Roger and Renee Mullenax. Present were their four sons and their families: Allen and Carolyn, Donna and Patty Mullenax, Dale Mullenax, Ron and Kay Mullenax, Erin and Barry, Roger, Renee, Christopher and Joshua Mullenax.

Also attending were 12 brothers and sisters of the honored guests. Those present were Lawrence and Reatis Mullenax, Ralph and Paula Mullenax, John Mullenax, John Mullenax, Richard and Reba Mullenax and Rachel, Ellen Stewart, Evelyn Wilson, Emmitt and Margaret Fox and Robbie Kittle, Leota Keller, Roy and Marie Mullenax, Wayne and Melissa Mullenax and Heather, Geneva Feather, Barbara Hunt, Joyce Lantz, Helen Ridder, Milan and Essie Evans, Mary Hauser, George and Jo Roth, Orville and Mary Evans, Grover and Nada Evans, Larry and Stanley.

Homer and Lela also received many cards from family and friends in the community.

PTO SPRING CARNIVAL

The Spring Carnival will be held June 2, at Aurora School. There will be chicken barbecue dinners, homemade ice cream and refreshments for sale, along with games for children and adults, plus bake sale items. Hours for the carnival will be from 2 until 8 p.m. and a rain date of June 9 has been selected.

Aurora-Terra Alta VFW Post 578 Schedules Tributes

GRAND MASTER VISITS OAKLAND — B. Hope Harrison, the Most Worshipful Grand Master of Masons in Maryland, and some 18 other Grand officers, were guests of Oakland Masonic Lodge No. 192, Ancient, Free, and Accepted Masons, the weekend of May 5-6. One of the special events of the weekend was the presentation of a 60-year membership pin to Robert T. Hoffman, a Past Master and past secretary of Oakland Lodge. Hoffman is pictured above, center, being congratulated by Grand Master Harrison. Seated at right is John M. Smith Jr., Right Worshipful Deputy Grand Master. Standing are Reaford Purbaugh and George Hanst, both Past Masters of Oakland Lodge. Hanst is also the current treasurer of the lodge. Pictured below are Grand Officers with present officers of Oakland Lodge. Seated left to right are Theodore Raynovich III, Senior Warden; Lewis M. Marks II, Junior Deacon; James C. Ashby, Junior Warden; Jeffrey W. DeWitt, Senior Steward; James E. Seboid, chaplain; and George H. Hanst, treasurer. Pictured standing in the second row, far left, is Jack W. Fridinger, secretary, and at far right is Andrew M. Baker, tyler. In the center (with the top hat) is Grand Master Harrison and to his immediate left is James R. Shafer, Worshipful Master of Oakland Lodge. Other Grand officers present were: James L. Sadler Jr., Senior Grand Warden; Paul G. Shircliff, Junior Grand Warden; Jack R. Frazier, Grand Secretary; Wayne D. Gingrich, Grand Treasurer; Lunda W. Laird, Assistant Grand Chaplain; Charles J. Dukehart Jr., Senior Grand Deacon; Maxwell V. Frye, Senior Grand Steward; Larry L. Theis, Grand Standard Bearer; Joseph A. Dubritton, Grand Pursuivant; Donald R. Young, Junior Grand Deacon; Harvey M. Davidoff, Junior Grand Steward; Charles C. Gordon, Grand Sword Bearer; John F. Buchanan, Grand Director of Ceremonies; Edward B. Kraft, Grand Lecturer; Wayne F. Allen, Grand Marshal; and Lewis M. Marks, Deputy Grand Lecturer (and Past Master of Oakland Lodge). Among the Past Grand Officers present were: A. Wayne Reed, Past Grand Master; and Clarence O. Theis and Kenneth Robertson, both Past Junior Grand Wardens.

their leaders have accepted an invitation to attend the West Virginia Annual Conference of the United Methodist Church in Buckhannon, W.Va., during the second week in June.

Barbara Rexrode, Betty and Harley Wildesen and Mary June Harvey attended the Romney District Conference in Moorefield, W.Va., last Saturday. The South Garrett Parish won the "Parish of the Year" award. Barbara Rexrode is president of Garrett Parish.

Boy and Girl Fellowship Director Crystal Teets announced that Wednesday afternoon May 23 will be the last meeting until school resumes in the fall.

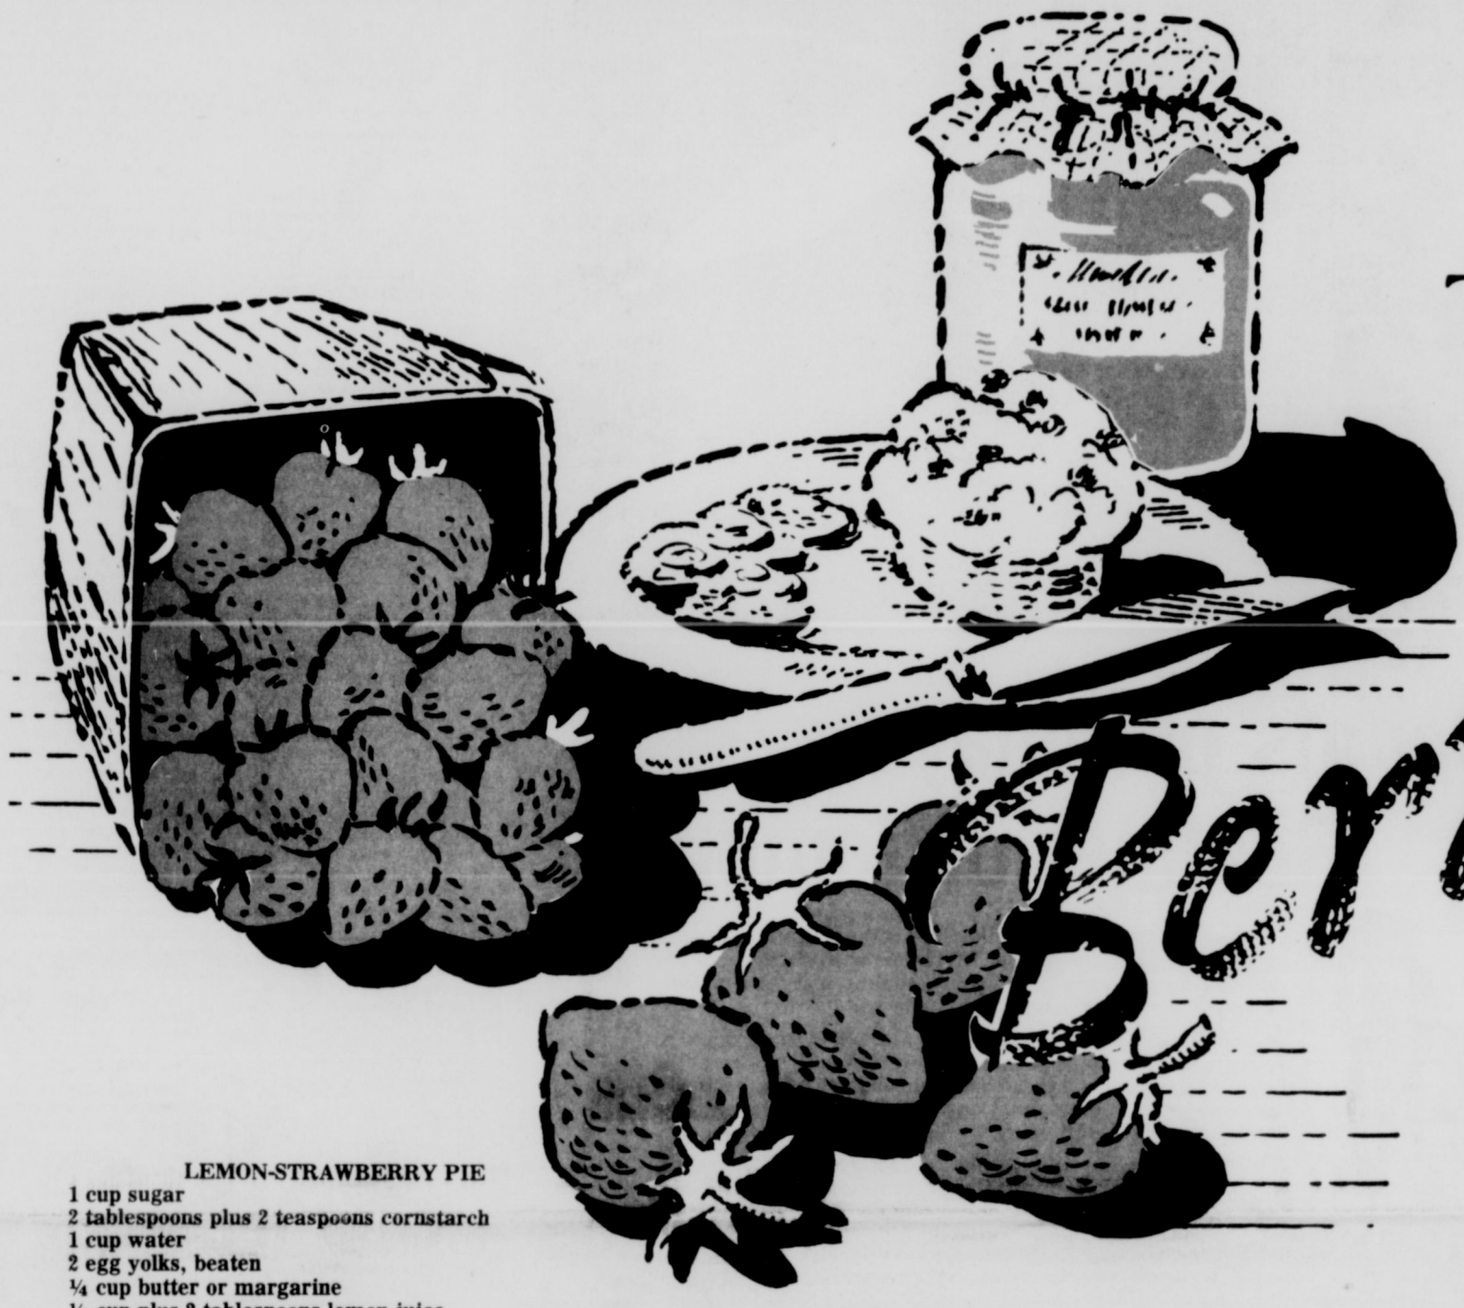
Good Food and how to prepare it!



These desserts are really the Berries!

LEMON-STRAWBERRY PIE

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 cup water
2 egg yolks, beaten
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
2 (3-ounce) packages cream cheese, softened
¼ cup sifted powdered sugar
⅓ cup flaked coconut
¾ cup whipping cream, whipped
¼ cup flaked coconut, toasted

Combine 1 cup sugar and cornstarch in a heavy saucepan, gradually stir in water, egg yolks, and butter. Cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil, cook 1 minute stirring constantly. Remove from heat, and stir in lemon juice. Pour into cooled pastry shell, cool. Arrange strawberries on top of filling. Combine cream cheese and powdered sugar, beating at medium speed of an electric mixer until smooth. Fold ⅓ cup coconut and whipped cream into cream cheese mixture. Carefully spread over strawberries, and sprinkle with ¼ cup toasted coconut. Cover and chill. Yield: One 9-inch pie.

EASY STRAWBERRY TRIFLE

1 (7-ounce) package jelly rolls
1 (3½-ounce) package vanilla instant pudding mix
1½ cups milk
3 cups frozen whipped topping, thawed and divided
2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
Additional strawberries (optional)

Cut each jelly roll into 3 slices, arrange cut sides of slices around sides and bottom of a 2½-quart souffle or trifle dish. Fill in with remaining jelly roll slices. Prepare pudding mix according to package directions, using 1½ cups milk, let stand 5 minutes. Fold in 1 cup whipped topping. Arrange half of sliced strawberries over jelly roll slices, top with pudding mixture. Arrange remaining sliced strawberries over pudding mixture, dollop or pipe remaining whipped topping on top. Garnish with additional strawberries, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE JUBILEE

2 cups fresh strawberries, hulled and sliced
⅓ cup sugar
1 cup bixcuit mix
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup milk
1 tablespoon butter or margarine melted
¼ cup frozen whipped topping, thawed

Combine strawberries and ⅓ cup sugar, stir gently. Cover and chill at least 45 minutes. Combine biscuit mix and next 3 ingredients in a small bowl, stir to make a soft dough. Turn out onto a lightly floured surface, knead about 5 times. Roll out to ½-inch thickness, cut into two 3-inch circles. Place circles on an ungreased baking sheet, bake at 425° for 10 to 12 minutes or until golden. Split warm shortcakes horizontally, place each on an individual dessert plate. Spoon sweetened strawberries between layers and on top. Dollop with whipped topping. Yield: 2 servings.

STRAWBERRY MERINGUE TORTE

¼ cup butter or margaring, softened
½ cup sugar
2 eggs, separated
1¾ cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
Dash of salt
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon almond extract
½ cup sguar
1 quart strawberries, sliced
¼ to ½ cup sugar

Cream softened butter, gradually add ½ cup sugar, beating well at medium speed of an electric mixer. Add egg yolks, one at a time, beating after each addition. Combine flour, baking powder, and salt, add to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour mixture. Mix after each addition. Stir in vanilla and almond flavorings. Spoon batter into two greased and wax paper lined 8-inch cakepans. Set aside. Beat egg whites (at room temperature) at high speed of an electric mixer 1 minute. Gradually add ½ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating until stiff peaks form and sugar dissolves. Spread half of meringue over cake batter in each pan. Bake at 350° for 25 minutes. Cool in pans 10 minutes, remove cake layers from pans. Remove wax paper, and cool cake layers, meringue side up, on wire racks. Combine strawberries and ¼ to ½ cup sugar in a bowl. Place one cake layer, meringue side up, on a serving plate, spoon half of strawberries over cake layer. Top with second cake layer, meringue side up, spoon remaining strawberries over cake layer. Yield: one 8-inch cake.

ENGLISH TOFFEE DESSERT

¾ cup sugar
½ cup whipping cream
¼ cup light corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 (1-1/8 ounce) English toffee-flavored candy bars, crushed
4 cups fresh strawberries, halved
1 cup commercial sour cream

Combine first 4 ingredients in a small saucepan, cook over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Boil 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add candy. Stir well, cool. (Sauce thickens as it cools). Place strawberries in serving dishes, dollop each serving with 2 tablespoons sour cream. Top with 2 to 3 tablespoons toffee sauce. Yield: 8 servings.

FAVORITE STRAWBERRY SHORTCAKE

4 cups strawberries, sliced
¼ to ⅓ cup sugar
2 tablespoons shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cups self-rising flour
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup whipping cream, whipped

Combine strawberries and ¼ to ⅓ cup sugar, chill. Cream shortening gradually add ½ cup sugar, beating well at medium speed of an electric mixer. Add egg, beating well. Add flour to creamed mixture alternately with milk, beginning and ending with flour. Mix after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Spoon batter into a greased and floured 9-inch cakepan. Bake at 350° for 25 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from pan. Cool on wire rack. Slice shortcake crosswise into equal parts. Place bottom half of shortcake, cut side up, on a serving plate, spoon half of strawberries onto bottom layer. Top with second layer of shortcake, cut side down, spoon on remaining strawberries. Top with whipped cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

STRAWBERRY ANGEL PIE

1 (3-ounce) package wild strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
½ cup cold water
1 (8-ounce) container frozen whipped topping, thawed
1 cup fresh sliced strawberries
1 (9-inch) graham cracker crust
Additional sliced strawberries

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add cold water, stirring well. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in whipped topping and 1 cup strawberries. Spoon into graham cracker crust. Chill at least 4 hours. Arrange additionally strawberry slices on top of pie. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

STRAWBERRY COCONUT NESTS

1½ cups sliced fresh strawberries
1 tablespoon sugar
1 (8-ounce) package cream cheese, softened
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
6 (3-inch) commercial shortcake cups
½ cup flaked coconut, toasted

Combine strawberries and 1 tablespoon sugar, stir gently. Set aside. Combine cream cheese, ½ cup sugar, milk, and vanilla, beat at medium speed of an electric mixer until smooth. Spread over top and sides of shortcake cups, sprinkle with coconut. Place on individual serving dishes, spook ¼ cup strawberries onto each. Serve immediately. Yield: 6 servings.

Dreams of Today . . . ...Realities of Tomorrow

Acts
13:26-41

The crowded school auditorium is hushed as the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" fill the air with excitement and anticipation as each graduating student marches proudly down the aisle in the traditional cap and gown.

Some of these young people are our future doctors, scientists, poets and presidents. Others will operate our factories or farm our land. Whatever the endeavor, each will leave his or her mark upon our world. Through them, the dreams of today shall become the realities of tomorrow.

As we honor our new graduates, let us praise God as He continues to guide them along their chosen paths and strengthens them with His loving touch.

"SMALL BUSINESS WEEK"

"Small Business — Everybody's Business"

Our pharmacy is very proud to be recognized as part of the small business community. Smaller businesses are the backbone of the national economy. They account for over 43% of the gross national product (GNP) and provide livelihoods directly and indirectly for more than 100 million Americans.

We join with our friends and competitors in recognizing the contributions of the small business community and pledge to maintain the high standards that have been set for us.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WE CAN OVERCOME!

May 20, 1990

Background Scripture: 1 John 5:1-15.
Devotional Reading: 2 Peter 1:1-11.

Do you ever pick up the morning paper and, after scanning the depressing headlines, think to yourself: "The world is going to hell in a handbasket"—or words to that effect? Or perhaps a similar mood sweeps over you while watching the late evening television news. Nothing seems to be going right anywhere we look—inflation, the national debt, bank closings, acid rain, strife in Northern Ireland, civil war in Lebanon, apartheid in South Africa, corruption in Washington, D.C., and drugs everywhere in America.

It is so difficult for us when on every side things seem to be getting steadily worse. Yet, at the same time, our Christian faith counsels us to believe that God's kingdom will come and his will will be done. We believe that with our minds, but our gut level feeling is sometimes something else. So we try to hang on, trusting in the promises of God, looking for a sign that will dispel our gloom and permit us to survive.

MORE THAN SURVIVAL

Human beings are great survivors. Sometimes I marvel at the true life stories of people who surmount all kinds of perils and dangers in order to survive. Somehow, these people manage to hang on. But the Christian promise is not about survival, but victory. Not only will we endure, but we will overcome: "Every one who believes that Jesus is the Christ is a child of God...For whatever is born of God overcomes the world..." (5:1a,4a).

By love—God's love for us and our love for others—we are as close to him as it is possible to get. 1 John calls this closeness abiding "in him and he in us" (4:13). If we abide in him and he abides in us then we will share the ultimate victory that will be his. If we live close to him, loving as he loves, then the victory will be ours, too. "Who is it that overcomes the world but he who believes that Jesus is the Son of God?" (5:5).

BEYOND BELIEF

So, ultimately it boils down to faith. Not just belief, but faith. This is not just a matter of the ideas that we cling to, but that which we permit to empower our lives. One of my seminary professors, Paul W. Hoon, has said: "...the battlefield on which the believer overcomes the world is ultimately not that of thought or theology but the sphere of his daily living." It is much more than the faith we profess—it is the faith by which we live.

To me, that's what makes Christianity so vital. It has a theology, but it is essentially practical. It is a way of life much more than it is a way of speaking. And the essence of that way of living is love, the way we treat one another, the way we respond to each other's needs, the way we regard God's other children. When we are unloving it means we simply do not have sufficient faith in God. It means that we believe in ourselves and our fears more than we believe in him.

But, on our own we will not survive, let alone be victorious. We can only overcome if we first learn to love.

Alan Rachins and Tim Reid join Raymond Burr in Perry Mason: The Case Of The Silenced Singer, a World Premiere Movie to be telecast Sunday on NBC.

Perry Mason investigates young singer's murder

Alan Rachins plays suspect

By Shelia Odak

Two of television's legal eagles—past and present—meet when Alan Rachins (L.A. Law's Douglas Brackman) becomes a suspect in Raymond Burr's newest Perry Mason outing The Case Of The Silenced Singer. The film airs May 20 on NBC, and also stars Vanessa Williams and Tim Reid.

When a rising young pop singer (Williams) is found dead, her husband (Reid), a former law student of Mason's, is the first suspect. However others, including the head of her recording company (Rachins), had reasons to want her dead.

Rachins admitted to being a fan of the Perry Mason series while growing up, and stated that it gave him a "strange feeling" to be part of something he had enjoyed as a young man. "I remember those moments in Perry Mason where he would ask those questions, and his eyes would kind of flicker as he's filing away information about the answers he gets. I had that moment in a scene where he was asking me questions and I was answering them and I saw his eyes flicker and I thought 'Ah oh, I'm in trouble.'"

Rachins will be doing an especially interesting project after L.A. Law winds up the season—La Cage Aux Folles in Florida. "It's my first musical and it's my first time wearing a dress."

The hardest part, he said of this daring new role, will be learning to walk in high heels. "I'm just about to get them and start practicing wearing them around the house," he stated with a laugh. "I hope my son is able to understand that this is all for art."

Civilians risk own lives in drama

Valiant rescue retold in movie

By Anne Wheeler

As despicable as events in the Vietnam war became, even that war produced some happy endings. Last Flight Out, airing Tuesday, May 20, on NBC, tells the true story of a brave group of people who risked their lives to evacuate others just before the fall of Saigon.

James Earl Jones and Richard Crenna portray American Pan Am employees who organized their own unofficial, separate evacuation efforts, but combined them to help 463 Vietnam nationals escape certain death at the hands of the communist Khmer Rouge.

Jones plays Allan H. Topping, the director in charge of operations in South Vietnam who was organizing the evacuation of Pan Am employees and their immediate families. It proved a bittersweet task, since Vietnamese include any relative as an immediate family member, so more people wanted to leave than room allowed.

"The process took place by reducing the numbers to immediate families, basically people living within the same household: mother, father, sister, brother, and in some cases, grandmothers," Topping explained. "That was a very difficult process because people were aware of the fact that Saigon was deteriorating rapidly, and they wanted a way out."

A happier ending brought about by the evacuation, however, was the story of Dan Hood, who piloted the plane safely to the Philippines.

Hood had personal reasons for riding the last plane into the country, but had no intention of piloting the craft out of Vietnam. He had gone to Saigon at the request of a former classmate, a doctor who was caring for children of an orphanage injured earlier in an airplane accident. Hood was to help take the children to Medivac planes so they could leave the country. He was able to help many, but many were left behind.

Richard Crenna and K. Pramote star Sunday in NBC's Last Flight Out, a fact-based drama about a small group of heroic Americans who rescued nearly 500 Vietnamese and American civilians from Saigon.

"We were on the airplane, we were taxiing out of Saigon, and all I could think of is all those little kids that we left behind, who didn't have a chance—half- American, half-Vietnamese—who are shunned by their own society over there. And I wish I could have done more. And that stuck with me all these years," Hood said.

Hood made quite a change in the life of one of those children, however—he adopted a little boy. Now 20, Hood's son was not quite 5 during the evacuation. He said he has spoken with the boy's mother twice since that day in 1975.

"The Vietnamese had a tremendous underground pipeline of communication, and she was able to get a letter out to me through France, and all she wanted to know was, 'was her son OK, and what was his situation?'" Hood said. Then he got another letter in 1985. "I received another letter just requesting a picture and wanting to know if he was OK, which—I sent a picture back and told her that he was doing just fine."

TV PIPELINE

There's reason for resemblance between Rossellini, Bergman

By Polly Vonetes

Q: Could you please tell me if Isabella Rossellini (of Cousins) is Ingrid Bergman's daughter? She looks so much like her. —Janice McCarty, Nauvco, Ill.

A: You are right. Isabella Rossellini is a twin daughter of the late screen star Ingrid Bergman and her second husband, the late film director Roberto Rossellini.

Q: I would like to know more about Bruce Boxleitner. I saw him in a miniseries not long ago and I know he's the model for Estee' Lauder for men, but what else is he doing? Where and when was he born? Is he married? What are some of his past credits? I don't know how many fans he has, but I sure am one of them! —Christina Wingfield, High Point, N.C.

A: To all Boxleitner fans: Bruce was born May 12, 1950, in Elgin, Ill., but soon moved with his family to Mt. Prospect, in the Chicago suburbs, where he grew up. He received his first theatrical experience in a high school play. Following graduation, he didn't give college a second thought, but headed straight for Chicago and the famous Goodman Theatre. After touring in the play, Status Quo Vadis, and a short stay in New York, in 1972 he decided to head west. Making his TV debut on The Mary Tyler Moore Show, he was next cast in the TV movie The Macahans, which evolved into a series of 24 movies under the title How The West Was Won. Best known for his role in Scarecrow And Mrs. King, he has also starred in the TV movies The Town Bully, Red River, Kiss Me, Kill Me, Happily Ever After, Passion Flower and three Gambler movies with Kenny Rogers. His miniseries include The Last Convertible, East Of Eden and Bare Essence, and feature films include Tron and The Baltimore Bullet. He was scheduled to appear in a new series on CBS a few weeks ago, but it was canceled before it ever aired. He lives in the San Fernando Valley where he enjoys raising and riding quarter horses. He is presently divorced and the father of a son.

Isabella Rossellini

Q: In* Dirty Dancing *did Patrick Swayze's wife have a part in it? If she did, who was she? —Kristine Slothe, Anchorage, Alaska

A: Swayze's wife, Lisa Niemi, did not appear in Dirty Dancing. The two starred together in the futuristic action film Steel Dawn. It was a box office flop.

Q: I'd like to have the address for the 20/20 program on ABC. I think I have something they could use or at least look into. —Robert Stiegler, Antioch, Calif.

A: Write to: Ms. Elise Adde, Director, 20/20 ABC News, 77 W. 66th St., New York, N.Y. 10023.

Please send your questions about television past and present to: Polly Vonetes, TV Pipeline, P.O. Box 17748, Fort Worth, Texas 76102-0748. Because of the volume of mail, only questions of general interest will be answered.

HOROSCOPE

May 20 through May 26

By A. Murphy

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20)
Are you devoting enough attention to your personal spirituality? Spend time alone every day for writing or thinking about what you have and what you have to give.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22)
Make a list of the benefits you receive from working on your art. Most importantly, are you fulfilling yourself? Are you satisfied with the work and happy to be doing it?

LEO (July 23 - August 22)
Honesty should be foremost on your mind in virtually every situation. Remain true to your own feelings and let them be known unless serious danger could come of it.

VIRGO (August 23 - September 22)
Don't let the season bypass you without your ever smelling a rose. Take a walk around the neighborhood. Smell the rain. Sit in the shade and watch people walk by.

LIBRA (September 23 - October 22)
It may be time to consider a job change if you are unhappy where you are. List your qualifications and visualize yourself where you want to be. You deserve better.

SCORPIO (October 23 - November 21)
Plan a relaxing vacation that will relieve you of the stress from your job. Let those working around you know that they are appreciated.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 - December 21)
Instead of letting suspicions turn into colorful rumors, ask for a frank account of that which involves you and set the record straight. Respect for you will grow.

CAPRICORN (December 22 - January 19)
That job you have been putting off doing cannot wait much longer. You and all involved will feel great relief when it is done. Personal satisfaction will rise.

AQUARIUS (January 20 - February 18)
An education is not always fun and easy, but the benefits will last for the rest of your life. Study hard and pay attention to what is before you. Learning never ends.

PISCES (February 19 - March 20)
Look closely and carefully at what you are eating. The more simple and natural, the better. Take adequate time for thinking and try to make wise decisions.

ARIES (March 21 - April 19)
Look for meaning immediately around you. Remind yourself often of what you truly want and work toward it every day. Don't ever forget to appreciate the natural world.

TAURUS (April 20 - May 20)
Do not put off medical exams. Carefully evaluate your financial situation and live accordingly. Listen attentively to the problems of loved ones in need.

TIME OUT

Networks offer medley of live sports events

By Jeff Thompson

The sports world is busy these days:

•On ABC—The Winston Stock Car Race airs live from Charlotte, N.C. on Sunday, and Jeff Fenech takes on Antonio Esparragoza for the WBC World Super Featherweight Championship from Sydney, Australia.

•On CBS—Live coverage the Colonial NIT Golf Tournament continues on Sunday. NBA playoff games air both Sunday and Saturday.

•On NBC—Jorge (Cocas) Ramirez and Edward (Pee Wee) Parker battle for a junior lightweight title, and IBF junior lightweight fighters John-John Molina and Tony (The Tiger) Lopez also pair off on Sunday. The LPGA Skins Game airs Saturday.

•ABC Wide World Of Sports will telecast Coup de Hoop June 23 to find the nation's best 3-on-3 playground basketball players in the United States and Puerto Rico. Local tournaments are being held in 95 cities this month. Regional winners will compete in the national championships on ABC...

•Olympic swimming Gold Medalist Matt Biondi was so taken with the discoveries he made while filming the special Dolphins, Whales And Us, he decided to do something to save the sea creatures. He gathered 12 other Olympic athletes to form the Delphus Foundation, a non-profit fund-raising organization dedicated to preserving ocean life...

John Ritter has been set to host the American Red Cross Emergency Test special June 7 on ABC. The interactive special, featuring a bevy of guest stars, will ask members of the audience to test themselves on a series of safety questions.

TUESDAY: Richard Crenna stars in Last Flight Out, a true story of the last flight out of Saigon on NBC. Killing In A Small Town features Barbara Hershey in a CBS true-life drama.

WEDNESDAY: Joan Rivers and Alex Rocco star in the comedy The Beverly Hills Get-Rich-Quick Murders, airing on CBS.

Roseanne Barr's irreverent humor runs her household in Roseanne, Tuesdays on ABC.

Oprah Winfrey stars as Mattie Michael in Brewster's Place, Wednesdays on ABC.

Lily Tomlin plans to bring one-woman show to television

By Steven Alan McGaw

This is exciting, if it comes true. Showtime is entering the final stages of negotiations for the cable rights to Lily Tomlin's hit one-woman play, The Search For Signs Of Intelligent Life In The Universe...

Harry Hamlin and Nicollette Sheridan will star in Deceptions, a two-hour suspense drama scheduled to air on Showtime in June. Robert Davi will co-star in the story of a detective who investigates the murder of a wealthy businessman...

James Garner will star in Decoration Day for the prestigious Hallmark Hall Of Fame...

John Schneider will host something called Life! The World's Greatest Stunts, scheduled to air on FOX on June 20. Oh boy...

In other FOX network news, programming officials have announced a five-part animated miniseries on Marvel Comics' X-Men, the first of several such projects in the works...

Congratulations to Jack Nicholson and Rebecca Broussard on the birth of their baby girl. Jack Nicholson, a dad?...

And bravo to those who responded to a poll conducted by People For The American Way, saying emphatically that the majority of Americans support the National Endowment for The Arts. I wonder if now we could get a poll seeing who really supports Senator Jesse Helms?

Alex Rocco gives credit to co-star Joan Rivers

Actor enjoying career in comedy

By Mary Ann Townsend

Alex Rocco has put a considerable dent in the tough-guy image he created 18 years ago in The Godfather, especially this year. He played Al Floss in The Famous Teddy Z, and did a guest spot on Carol Burnett's new show.

Again he shatters the image of the heavy when he stars with Joan Rivers in The Beverly Hills Get-Rich-Quick Murders, a comedy airing Wednesday, May 23, on CBS.

In fact, Rocco gives credit to Rivers for being one of the people who recognized his comedic talents.

"I've been around Joanie, she's not new to me," Rocco said. "We're very comfortable together." In this comedy, Rocco plays a self-made millionaire and she plays his money-spending wife who, after a series of accidents, thinks he's out to kill her.

Their real-life friendship began 10 years ago on an episode of The Love Boat. Rivers later directed Rocco in Rabbit Test, and was executive producer for a series he was involved in called Husbands And Wives.

"We do a lot pranks on this set. We're like little kids. We trash each other's trailers. It really got ridiculous. She took my name off my dressing room—Alex Rocco—and put 'Men's Room' on it," he said. "What happened was, because we were silly, we brought the closeness together on film ... We didn't plan it that way, but you could tell we were loose and enjoying each other."

Mystery, macabre and drama highlight week's cable movies

By Shelia Odak

Fans of that master of the macabre Stephen King will want to tune in to HBO on Sunday, May 20, for Pet Sematary, starring Dale Midkiff, Mary Lambert and Fred Gwynne.

The film, which is based on the King bestseller of the same name, deals with a young couple who have just moved to a rural home. Their new life seems idyllic until they come under the spell of a mysterious pet cemetery near by. They soon learn that sometimes dead is better.

King scripted this horror extravaganza which is definitely not for the squeamish. Leave the lights on and put the kids to bed for this movie premiere.

Also on May 20 on Showtime, the Mickey Rourke film Homeboy premieres.

The film, which is based on an original story by Rourke, chronicles an aging boxer who gets one last chance at the big time. However, that chance could cause him permanent brain damage or death. Christopher Walken also stars.

On Wednesday, May 23, Showtime will present the premiere of the teen drama Lost Angels, which takes a look at how modern parents are unable, and sometimes unwilling, to try and cope with their children.

Adam Horovitz (of the rap group The Beastie Boys) stars as a teenager who, when he interferes with his mother's new marriage, is sent to a psychiatric home for troubled youths. It soon becomes obvious that he doesn't belong in this place which houses many much more troubled than he.

A caring psychologist (Donald Sutherland) tries to help him reconcile with his family, who don't seem to care what happens to him.

Also on Wednesday, USA Network features the premiere of the original film Dead Reckoning.

Fred Gwynne

Three people, trapped on a lighthouse island, find themselves involved in a love triangle that has become entangled with murder. Cliff Robertson, Susan Blakely and Rick Springfield star.

On Thursday, May 24, Showtime will feature a film that, though it is not a premiere, is well worth mentioning for the fine young actors it showcases. The film is Racing With The Moon, and the actors are Sean Penn, Elizabeth McGovern and Nicolas Cage.

The film was made in 1984 and is interesting to compare to the actors' more recent films. See this film back-to-back with Penn's Casualties Of War and you begin to understand what a broad range this young man has. Play Johnny Handsome and see how McGovern has grown away from the wide-eyed innocent in Racing. Rent Moonstruck and see how Cage has changed; or better yet wait for the release of the new David Lynch film which features the actor. I'm sure that performance will be light years away from Racing With The Moon.

Sarah Jessica Parker's talent not limited to acting

By Shelia Odak

To say Sarah Jessica Parker is just an actress would be a vast understatement. This talented young performer doesn't plan to fence herself in.

When she was growing up, Parker studied ballet with the Cincinnati Ballet Company and made her professional television debut when she was 8. Three years later she had moved to Broadway. There she starred in Harold Pinter's The Innocents and the musical Annie, in which she was eventually awarded the title role.

She has also studied ballet at the American Ballet Theater and danced with the great Mikhail Baryshnikov. As if that weren't enough to fill up a resume, Parker also spent two seasons singing with the Metropolitan Opera Company.

On television, Parker's credits include roles in the series Square Pegs, A Year In The Life and her newest role as JoAnn Harris in ABC's Equal Justice.

This last year was a banner one for Parker, with her portrayal of three characters in the Pulitzer Prize-winning play The Heidi Chronicles, and TV roles in Pursuit, opposite Ben Cross, Dadah Is Death, with Julie Christie and The Ryan White Story.

In her spare time, Parker is active in the American Civil Liberties Union, the Hollywood Women's Political Committee and the pro-choice movement.

Maryland Students Score Third Highest On Scholastic Aptitude Test

Maryland's college-bound students scored third highest in the nation on the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) last year, according to a U.S. Department of Education report on student performance in the states.

The comparison of state SAT scores were reported as part of the seventh annual State Education Performance Chart, popularly called the "Wall Chart."

Maryland students averaged 914 on the SAT last year, 11 points higher than the national average and up six points over the state's 1988 scores. This rises in Maryland's score on the college admission examination was the second highest gain in the nation, according to the national report.

Maryland's SAT scores in the past 10 years have gone up eight points on the verbal test and 16 points on the mathematics test. During this period, U.S. verbal scores have shown no gain and mathematics scores are up nine points.

Deputy State Superintendent of Schools, Claud E. Kitchens, said the SAT scores reflected accomplishment by a majority of Maryland's graduates. The national report shows that 57.6 percent of Maryland's high school graduates took the SAT.

Dr. Kitchens credited the SAT gains to education reforms and improvements that began in the late 1970s with Project Basic, which set minimum standards for graduation in the basic skills. Other efforts focused on improving the selection and training of teachers and administrators and curriculum improvements.

"We think teachers and administrators can take pride in this evidence that, even as we ask them to redouble their efforts, their past efforts have been effective in improving student achievement," Dr. Kitchens said.

State Superintendent Joseph L. Shilling last week proposed a major new set of education goals and strategies, called "Success for All Students," that would extend the school year, place more four- and five-year-old children in school, and keep students in school until they graduate or reach the age of 18.

The State Education Performance Chart reports that Maryland's graduation rate in 1988 was 71.1 percent and that 25 states had a higher graduation rate. Maryland's relative position among states has declined since 1982, when the state's graduation rate was 20th among the state.

Governor William Donald Schaefer in 1987 initiated Maryland's Tomorrow, a major program to attack the dropout problem. In its first year the program was credited with reducing the dropout rate by 45 percent among at-risk students who participated in the program. The program will be expanded next year following approval of an additional $1.8 million to the $3 million allocated for the program last year.

The State Education Performance Chart also reports on Maryland's rank in these other areas:

Expenditures per pupil: Maryland ranks ninth with a state average expenditure of $5,201.

Funds: Maryland ranks 41st in the state's share of aid for elementary and secondary education (38.7 percent) and 11th in the local share (56.3 percent).

Teacher salaries: Maryland's average teacher salary in 1989 of $33,700 was the eighth highest in the nation.

Sheepdogs To Be Part Of Annual Highland Festival

The Third Annual McHenry Highland Festival, which will be held Saturday, June 2, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, will feature sheepdog exhibitions by William Crowe of Aylett, Va.

Crowe is noted for working stock dog trials in Virginia, where he has won numerous awards. He is a farmer in King William County and owner of Wingmont Stables. He also raises and trains border collies. Jock, one of his most famous collies, is the only dog in Virginia to have received the Superior Merit Award. At the festival, Crowe puts the dogs through their paces with voice commands and a whistle. The border collie is a unique breed of dog which is trained not to bark, but to walk slowly up to sheep and control them with "the eye" and style alone.

The McHenry Highland Festival is sponsored and hosted by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Westvaco, and Wisp Ski Resort. It is funded in part by the Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council, Maryland Humanities Council, and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Local Delegates To Conference On Libraries Named

The planning committee for the Maryland Governor's Conference on Libraries and Information Services has announced the appointment of delegates and alternates to the conference, which will be held September 23-25, 1990, at the Omni Inner Harbor Hotel in Baltimore.

Delegates for Garrett County's public library system will be Sybilla Sharps of Oakland and Dana Shimrock of Grantsville.

A total of 202 delegates and 41 alternates, representing concerned citizens, library professionals, library and educational board members and government officials from across the state, will attend seminars and work sessions at the conference to identify key issues that affect the information services libraries provide. The conference will focus on Maryland's public, academic, school, special and state institutional libraries, as well as federal and military libraries located in the state.

Delegates will develop issue statements into resolutions to present to Gov. William Donald Schaefer and send to the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services, scheduled to take place July 9-13, 1991, in Washington, D.C.

For more information on the activities of the Western Maryland Subchapter, persons may call the coordinator, Rae Ellen Finn, at 777-7858 or the Maryland Lupus Foundation at 1-800-777-0934.

Mikulski Bill To Provide NSF College Grants

Senator Barbara Mikulski has introduced a bill to improve technical training in the nation's community colleges.

"To compete in the global marketplace, our country must maintain a world-class workforce," Mikulski said. "American industry, government, education, labor, small business, and the general employer community must work together to increase not only the number of Ph.D scientists in this country, but also the number of lab technicians and engineers."

Mikulski's bill, The American Leadership in Technology Act (ALTA), would authorize $30 million in the first fiscal year of operation for the National Science Foundation (NSF) to expand and improve advanced technician training programs in community colleges or associate-degree-granting colleges. The colleges must match each federal dollar with private funds or in-kind contributions.

These programs would expand and improve training in critical fields such as microelectronics, hydraulics, lasers, computers, and chemical technology.

The NSF would also designate 10 centers of excellence among community colleges to serve as clearinghouses and model training programs.

"Our country must take advantage of every resource we have," Mikulski said. "Community colleges have the most experience in providing workforce training and technological training in our education system."

Record Income Tax Receipts At Deadline Noted

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein says the April flood of individual income tax returns, estimated tax payments, and employer withholding returns produced a record amount of gross revenue for April 1990. "The actual amount of revenue received totaled $592.3 million, exceeding the old record for a single month's receipts by 6.7 percent," Goldstein said.

The comptroller attributed the record receipts to the quick deposit procedures practiced by the income tax division, where employees worked on the Good Friday holiday and two Saturdays to sort, open and deposit checks included with the 811,510 tax returns, estimated tax vouchers and employer withholding forms that arrived between April 13 and April 18.

"We record the payments and prepare the checks on special encoding machines so that the state earns interest on the deposits from 9 a.m., even though the deposit may not actually be made until afternoon," he said.

Goldstein noted that, after refunds are subtracted from the record gross receipts for April, net state and local income tax revenue amounted to $441,953,398, nearly one percent less than the $445,965,900 collected during April 1989.

"The reason there is an increase in gross receipts and a small decline in net receipts is the faster processing of refund checks this year," Goldstein said. "Throughout most of the filing season, Maryland income tax refund checks were in the mail within 12 days after we received the tax return. During the month of April 1990, we refunded $147 million to taxpayers, compared with $105 million during the same month last year."

For the first nine months of fiscal year 1990, net state and local income tax revenue totaled $3.30 billion, nearly two percent more than the $3.24 billion collected during the same period of the previous year.

ADVANCE TO HANDS-ON COMPETITION — The auto mechanics competition team at Southern High School has advanced to the "Hands-On" portion of the Maryland Finals of the 1990 Plymouth/AAA Trouble Shooting Contest, which is a competition between schools offering a high school level course in Automotive Technology. The contest is divided into two areas of competition — a written examination and a "Hands-On" competition. Qualifying teams compete against each other in diagnosing and correcting identical malfunctions deliberately installed in the electrical, starting, ignition, charging, fuel, emisssion control systems and body hardware of a Plymouth automobile. About 7,500 students will compete for more thatn $1.5 million in scholarships. The winning Maryland team will be judged in Washington D.C. on June 18 in a televised event. Pictured above are SHS team members, left to right, Jeff Helbig, the 1989 VICA Maryland State Champion in Auto Service Technology; William H. Thomas III, the 1990 VICA Maryland State champion; Tom Powers, instructor, and Roger Tichinel and Robert Crosco, alternates.

New Executive Director Named For SBDC

It was recently announced that Robert "Robin" Douglas has been appointed the executive director of the Maryland Small Business Development Centers (SBDC) Western Region, effective May 7.

The Western Region SBDC is dedicated to the betterment of small business through the referral of resources, private consultation and sound business education sponsored by a consortium consisting of Garrett Community College, Allegany Community College, Hagerstown Junior College, Frederick Community College, and the Potomac Edison Company.

Previously, Douglas was employed with the Allegany County Department of Economic Development as the manager of Small Business Programs and the Crossroads Venture Center, a small business incubator in Cumberland. He holds an MBA from Frostburg State Unversity and has 13 years experience as a small business person.

This position will entail the direction of small business consultation and training programs in the four western counties (Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick) in Maryland. Free-standing centers in these counties are sponsored by the local community colleges under a contract with the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development.

The SBDC program is a consulting and training program available to any new or existing small business (500 or fewer employees) who seeks assistance in a wide range of topics concerning the management of a business. It is a program of the Small Business Administration (SBA).

Further information about the offerings of the SBDC program can be obtained by calling Garrett Community College at 387-6666.

Garrett Forestry Board Convenes

The Garrett County Forestry Board held its monthly meeting at the Maryland Forest, Park, and Wildlife Office at Mt. Nebo on Tuesday, May 8. The board members welcomed Jim Allen, director of technology at Garrett Community College, as a new board member.

The School Reforestation Project sponsored by the Maryland Association of Forestry Boards, was termed a "great success." Seven schools in Garrett County, (Loch Lynn Elementary, Dennett Road Elementary, Southern Middle School, Northern Middle School, Camp Hickory, Grantsville Elementary, and Rt. 40 School), participated in the program to establish school forests. Each school has set aside an area for their plantings large enough to allow them room to add more trees in the future.

The Garrett Forestry Board will be hosting the Forestry, Conservation and Natural Resources Week, a program for high school students, grades 9-12, from across the State, who are interested in pursuing a career in a conservation related field. This program is sponsolred by the State Association of Forestry Boards, and it will be held at Camp Hickory, Garrett County's Outdoor Education Center, the week of August 12-18, 1990.

SHS STUDENTS RECOGNIZED FOR ACHIEVEMENT — Southern High School students were recognized recently at an assembly sponsored by First United National Bank & Trust, who honored the students for their high achievement on the Maryland Functional Citizenship Test. The Citizenship Test is one of four functional tests required of Maryland students for High School graduation. Other tests cover reading, writing and math areas. The Citizenship Test is divided into three areas: 1) Constitutional Government, 2) Principles, Rights and Responsibilities, and 3) Politics and Political Behavior. Shown above are the students who earned a perfect score on the test, front row, left to right, Brian Friend, Bill Cowgill, Shelley Harvey, Heather Lipscomb, Denise Bee, Erin Dabney, Johni Savage, and Jeannette Rody Fitzwater and back row, same order,David Conklyn, Mark Metz, Jeremy Groves, Michael Stauffer, Dan Cuppett, Albert Hatfield III, and Heather Gale Graham.

Accident Elementary School Students Complete Community Service Project

For some time, the Mayor and Town Council have wanted to assign numbers to all properties in the Town of Accident. Because of limited knowledge of the principles for house numbering and available staff time, the project was never undertaken. "We were delighted when the fourth-fifth grade class of Accident Elementary School expressed an interest in doing this project for us," stated Marjorie Fratz, town clerk. "It has been a most rewarding experience to work with them and observe the degree of competency and interest with which these elementary students approached the project."

Rosanne Sherwood, classroom teacher, explained that this was a community service project which followed the guidelines of "The Civic Achievement Award Program" established by the U.S. Congress as a response to national concerns about the need for greater civic literacy among America's young people. The program was created to increase civic knowledge and skills among fifth through eighth graders. Youth service as a central part of the curriculum is urged as a necessary link for promoting citizenship and connecting students and schools with their communities."

The activity followed Joseph Renzulli's Enrichment Triad Model that consists of: Type I, General Exploratory Activities; Type II, Group Training Activities; and Type III, Individual and Small Group Investigations of Real Problems.

Representatives from the Town were first invited to visit the classroom and answer questions about the need for the system and the information that was available to begin the project. Much research then followed on the part of the students. Using an enlarged map of the Town of Accident, the students worked in teams to assign property numbers to all buildings and vacant lots. In February, they traveled on a bus throughout the Town comparing their numbering system on the map to the actual properties.

In addition to preparing the map, the students created a computer data base, producing a report by street name, number and property owner. A separate listing was also prepared of each property owner's mailing address. The completed project was formally presented to the Mayor and Town Council during the May 7 business meeting.

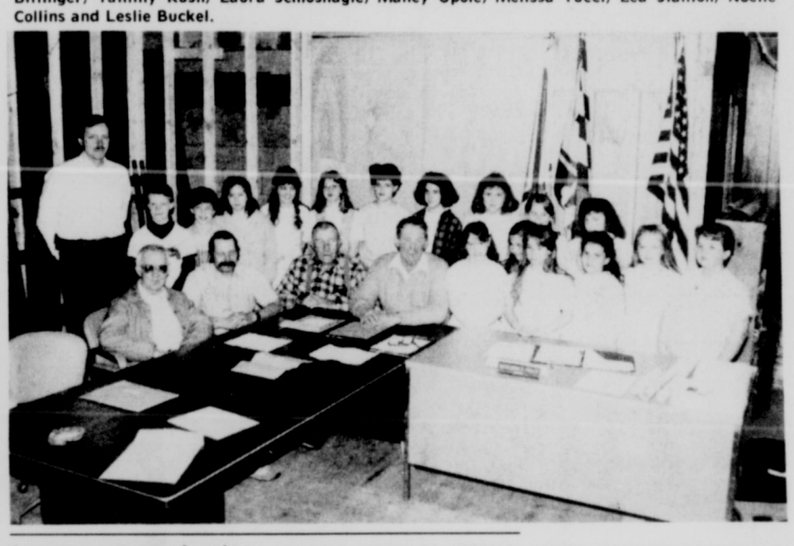
Mrs. Sherwood summarized her thoughts with these words, "The project was a major undertaking that required some painstaking work, thought and application. We have been successful."

Robert Wilson, principal of Accident Elementary, stated, "To promote civic responsibility many schools have, over the years, encouraged various groups of students to develop activities that are community oriented. The project that this group has just completed represents one such effort. To say I am extremely proud of their work would be a gross understatement. When one considers how limited their initial knowledge base was for this type of endeavor, one can really appreciate the persistence, patience and perseverance they have displayed in developing the necessary computer and map-making skills needed to complete their project. It is indicative of what our students are capable of accomplishing when challenged. All they need is an idea, the community resource persons to work with, cooperative parents, and competent, dedicated teachers to guide their efforts. In this particular case, I believe that all involved have done an outstanding, extremely creditable job."

Assistance on the project was provided by Sheila Russell, gifted and talented teacher, and Chuck Trautwein, computer resource teacher.

Town officials will next review the information presented for the new property numbers and then proceed with adopting an ordinance to implement the system throughout the municipality.

ACCIDENT STUDENTS COMPLETE SERVICE PROJECT — The fourth and fifth grade classes at Accident Elementary School recently completed a community service project for the town of Accident. The students assigned property numbers to all buildings and vacant lots and created a computer data base, which included the street name, number and property owner, along with a separate listing of each property owner's mailing address. The students presented the entire project to the Mayor and Town Council at the recent monthly meeting. Pictured above are students presenting the project to Mayor Wayne Fratz. Pictured left to right are: Melissa Tucci, Avery Hamilton, Mayor Fratz, Chad Montgomery and Lea Stanton. Members of the town council are pictured below with the fourth and fifth grade classes. Pictured in the front row, left to right, are: Councilmen Hobart Bowser, Tom Georg, Fred Kahl, Mayor Fratz, and students Avery Hamilton, Valerie Bender, Rachel Leverenz, Kista Knox, Angela Otto and Jessica Stemple. Back row, same order, are: Councilman Richard Carlson and students, Zach Leverenz, Chad Montgomery, Kim Bittinger, Tammy Rush, Laura Schlosnagle, Maney Upole, Melissa Tucci, Lea Stanton, Noelle Collins and Leslie Buckel.



Visit To Old Growth Forest Slated Saturday

As part of the Community Discovery Trip program, the Appalachian Enviornmental Laboratory Regional Center for Natural Sciences Learning, based at Frostburg State University, will sponsor a field visit to the Cathedral State Forest near Aurora, W.Va., this Saturday, May 19, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Cathedral State Forest is located about 10 miles from the Maryland line in West Virginia on a 14-acre reserve of old-growth Eastern deciduous forest that has never been cut. The discovery trip will provide participants with an opportunity to view this remaining piece of the once-extensive Eastern hardwood forest in its natural state. Old-growth ecosystems and their importance to the overall ecology of forested regions will be discussed.

Trip letter will be Jack Slocomb, coordinator for Environmental and Outdoor Education Programs at the Appalachian Environmental Laboratory. Participants should meet in front of the Ames Department Store at Frostburg Plaza at 9:30 a.m. They will car-pool to the forest site.

Participants should bring a lunch and beverage. They should wear walking shoes or boots, long pants and long sleeves. If the weather appears inclement, a raincoat or poncho should be included. Liquid insect repellent may come in handy as well, Slocomb said.

Anyone interested in observing interior forest nesting birds should bring field glasses. To register for the trip, persons should call Slocomb at (301) 689-3115.

To Attend Coast Guard Academy

Jeremy Biser son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Biser Jr., Marietta, Ga., has been offered an appointment as a Cadet at the United States Coast Guard Academy, New London, Conn. He will be a 1990 graduate of Alan C. Pope High School and is one of 290 appointees who will become members of the Class of 1994. Mrs. Biser is the former Pam Sears.

Approximately 4,800 applications were submitted for the class and the appointments are tendered based solely on the results of an annual nationwide competition with no congressional appointments or geographical quotas.

The competition is based on performance on either the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Assessment (ACT), high school academic achievement, and participation in school, community or other activities which demonstrate leadership potential.

Once at the Academy, Biser will join the more than 750 members of the Corps of Cadets striving to obtain a bachelor of science degree in one of seven majors and a commission as an ensign in the United States Coast Guard.

The four-year program begins July 9, 1990, with Swab Summer, a basic indoctrination in Coast Guard Service, and includes summer cruises on the sailing ship EAGLE and other Coast Guard cutters as well as summer on-the-job application of the training received during the winter months.

The Bisers are former residents of Oakland.

Backyard Wildlife Certification Program Started

Does something wild live in your backyard? If so, your property may qualify as a Maryland Wild Acre. Maryland's Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has initiated a program called Wild Acres which certifies backyards as wildlife habitats. Backyard wildlife enthusiasts can learn to tend to the needs of wildlife on their property and have their efforts recognized through this program. A certificate and outdoor sign proclaiming the property as a part of Maryland's Wild Acres is awarded to all those who qualify.

The Wild Acres program offers a packet of information on a variety of backyard projects geared to providing wildlife with food, shelter, and water. This packet includes information on flowers, shrubs, and trees that attract animals, guidelines on planning a backyard sanctuary, instructions on the building of several nest boxes for birds and other animals, how to feed wild birds, and much more. Once filling out the application form in the information packet and returning it to DNR's Forest, Park and Wildlife Service (FPWS), the homeowner or tenant will receive the certificate and outdoor sign. Members of the Wild Acres network of wildlife sanctuaries will continue to receive information sheets periodically.

Backyards are not the only kinds of open space that can be part of the program. Large private properties, community parks, school grounds and community open space can also become a part of the Wild Acres network.

"Over 60 backyards, schoolyards and community open spaces are certified participants in the Wild Acres program," reported Edith Thompson, DNR's urban wildlife biologist. "They all have a variety of wild animals using habitat created by the homeowners or community members. The Wild Acres program helps people to make a difference environmentally for the wildlife in their areas."

Homeowners can encourage cardinals, robins, hummingbirds, woodpeckers and other birds, as well as squirrels, chipmunks and even deer, to come to their backyards if appropriate food, shelter, and water are provided.

Wild Acres program information and certification are available free of charge from the DNR Urban Wildlife Program, Maryland Forest Park and Wildlife Service, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, MD 21401, (301) 974-3195. The program is funded by contributions made to the Chesapeake Bay and Endangered Species through the tax check-off program, line 63 of the Maryland state income tax form.

Dr. Richter To Speak To AD Support Group

The Garrett County Health Department hosts an Alzheimer's Disease monthly family support group meeting. The May 21 meeting will feature Dr. Donald Richter, a local family practice physician, as the speaker. Dr. Richter will offer medical perspectives regarding this disease.

Alzheimer's disease (AD) is a progressive, degenerative disease that attacks the brain and results in impaired memory, thinking and behavior. It is the most common form of dementing illness. The person with AD may experience confusion, personality and behavior changes, impaired judgment, and difficulty finding words, finishing thoughts or following directions.

According to the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, Inc., approximately four million Americans are afflicted with Alzheimer's disease.

Dr. Coughlin Retains AAFP Membership

Dr. Robert M. Coughlin, Eglon, W.Va., has completed continuing medical education requirements to retain active membership in the American Academy of Family Physicians (AAFP), the national association of family doctors.

The requirements call for members to complete a minimum of 150 hours of accredited continuing medical study every three years. The Academy, the country's largest medical specialty association with more than 68,000 members, was the first national medical group to require members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

As a family physician, Dr. Coughlin is qualified to work in all major medical areas and trained to treat up to 90 percent of all patients. Family physicians care for all family members — all ages and both sexes.

The Academy, headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., was instrumental in establishing the medical specialty of family practice in 1960. The Academy is the advocate for patients and endeavors to educate the public in all health-related matters. The organization works to preserve and promote quality, cost-effective health care. It promotes the science and art of family medicine and works to ensure an optimum supply of well-trained family physicians. The Academy also provides advocacy, representation and leadership for the specialty of family practice.

Northern Rescue Fundraiser Noted

To raise funds for aiding in the purchase of a new ambulance and other equipment, the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad is participating in a portrait program.

The rescue squad has authorized employees of Bower Precision Portraits of Confluence, Pa., to solicit orders for 8 x 10 inch color portraits, single parents, homemakers, displaced homemakers, and adolescent single parents and pregnant teens, who are eligible for the program and who wish to enroll in the class.

The shooting of portraits will be by appointment.

New Horizons Offering Career Planning Class

The New Horizons Program of Garrett Community College, serving single parents and homemakers, has scheduled a Career Planning class to begin Wednesday, May 23, at the McHenry Campus of GCC. The class will be offered through the Continuing Education Division of the college and is designed for participants who are interested in learning more about themselves, their career interests, training for employment and job skills awareness.

If a person is undecided about a career field, a career planning class will help participants, by means of interest testing instruments such as the Holland Code Self-Directed Search, GATB (General Aptitude Test Battery), and the Career Assessment Inventory Test, to discover career fields compatible with their own interests. Based on this information, decisions can then be made regarding training programs and employment, according to a New Horizons spokesman.

The class will meet for five weeks, meeting each Wednesday and Friday, beginning May 23, from 9 a.m. to noon. The curriculum will cover: Session I — Introduction to Job Hunting Strategy/Getting to Know Yourself; Session II — Self-Esteem, Stress Management, Employment Resources/GATB Testing; Session III — Self-Evaluation — Want Ad Evaluation/Combining Work with Family Obligations; Session IV — Financial Aid, Schooling/Resume Writing, Cover Letters, and Job Applications; Session V — Interviewing Fundamentals/Career Profiles — Setting On-going Career Goals.

Patty Glover Seeks Re-Election As Treasurer

Patty L. Glover, Garrett County treasurer, has announced her candidacy for re-election to a second term in that office.

Mrs. Glover received her education at Northern High School and has been a life-time resident of the county with the exception of 1½ years working in Washington, D.C., for the U.S. Air Force.

Mrs. Glover was appointed deputy treasurer by the previous treasurer, Arzella T. Parsons, and served 10½ years in that position. She is completing her first four-year term as treasurer. "I feel the knowledge and experience gained from Mrs. Parsons plus 14½ years of on-the-job training in the treasurer's office well qualifies me for the position," she said.

She is currently serving as a Fair Board director and assistant treasurer to the Garrett County Fair Association. She is the mother of four children and two grandchildren and resides near Deep Creek Lake. She also is an active member of the Oak Grove Church of the Brethren and a member of the church choir.

"My ultimate goal has been to operate the office as a successful business in a courteous and professional manner and serve the people of Garrett County to the very best of my ability," Mrs. Glover said. "I have made every effort to do this for you, the people. I would like to thank all who have placed their confidence in me as the top financial officer of the County and have supported and helped me through my first term. Also, a special thanks to my office staff, without whom I could never have accomplished my job. If re-elected, I pledge to you my continued dedication to fulfill the duties of treasurer."

Joseph H. Welch, Mtn. Lake Park, will serve as treasurer for the campaign.

THE TOURNAMENT OF TALENTS is the name of an annual competition held in Cabins, W.Va., and this group of youth from the Crellin Assembly of God participated in the event with young people from seven other churches from the Potomac District of Assemblies of God. The local youth competed in 18 different categories and were awarded numerous individual honors, plus captured the third place overall trophy. Pictured left to right above, front row, are Michelle Alexander, Autumn Mellott, and Sam Moon; second row, Carolyn Mellot (parent), April Snyder, April Sharps, Kristie Snyder, and Cathy Moon; third row, Virginia Snyder (van driver) and Jennifer Snyder; fourth row, Alex Mellott and Danny Moon; and back, Matt Wilt. Not pictured is Joyce Noel. Below, Kristie Snyder accepts the third place team trophy.

Crellin Assembly Youth Fare Well In Talent Event

A number of young people from the Crellin Assembly of God traveled to Cabins, W.Va., recently to compete with youth from seven other churches from the Potomac District in the annual Tournament of Talents. The local youth participated in 18 different categories and captured numerous awards, including the overall third place team trophy.

Winning a first place in the vocal group category were the Heroes of Faith, including Kristie and April Snyder, Michelle Alexander, Autumn Mellott, and Dan, Sam, and Cathy Moon, with their a cappella presentation of "John, The Revelator."

Other first places were won by: Danny Moon, piano solo, "Churches in the Wildwood;" Matt Wilt, Michelle Alexander, Alex Mellott, and Joyce Noel, with their "Teen Puppets" sketch entitled "Peace or Pieces;" Joyce Noel, for her pen and ink drawing; and Michelle Alexander and Joyce Noel, tie for first place in photography.

Second places were won by: April Snyder, flute solo, "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee;" April Sharps and April Snyder, instrumental duet; Michelle Alexander, in the floral arrangement division with her silk flower corsage; and Kristie Snyder, needlework category, for her quilt.

Third place awards went to: Sam, Danny, and Cathy Moon with their vocal number, "As for Me and My House;" and Joyce Noel, for her jumper and, in the floral arrangement category, for her silk flower centerpiece.

Southern High School Students Of The Month Selected

The Southern High School Student of the Month winners for the month of April were recently chosen by the faculty of the school. They are, pictured left to right above, Heather Hamilton, Paulette McIntyre, Sheila Butt, Kendra Wagner, Beth Dilley, Jason Beckman, and Cathy Moon.

Beth Dilley, a senior, received the English award. The daughter of Eugene and Judy Dilley, Oakland, she is a member of the colorguard and winterguard, where she is rifle line co-captain. She is also a member of the concert band and National Honor Society, and has received a $300 scholarship from the Citizen's Scholarship Foundation of America. Beth is a member of the Crellin Assembly of God youth group and plans to attend Garrett Community College for two years, and then transfer to Frostburg State University.

She plans to major in elementary education.

A junior, Heather Hamilton, received the social studies award. She resides with her parents, Katherine and Thomas Kierstead, Swanton. She is a two-year member of the Student Council and was vice president of her sophomore class. She is also a member of track and cross-country teams. She is a two-time winner of Who's Who Among American High School Students and participated in her junior class play. Heather is a two-year member of the Mock United Nations, and attends Bittinger Lutheran Parish where she is president of her youth group. She will be travelling to Belgium for the 1990-1991 school year as an exchange student. She plans to "find a decent school and be successful."

The science award winner was a senior, Kendra Wagner, daughter of Dale and Donna Wagner, Oakland. She is co-captain of the volleyball team, an honor roll student, a member of the National Honor Society, and Who's Who Among American High School Students. Kendra works at Super Value, Oakland, and is a member of Deep Creek Baptist Church. She plans to attend Allegany Community College and major in nursing.

Paulette McIntyre, a freshman, received the girls' physical education award. The daughter of Paul and Brenda McIntyre, Mt. Lake Park, Paulette is a cheerleader, a member of the track team, is on the honor roll, and has received a Cheerleading Achievement Award. She is a member of the Oak Park Brethren youth group. She plans to attend college.

A senior, Cathie Moon, received the vocational award. The daughter of Edward and Harriett Moon, Oakland, she is a member of the National Honor Society, Maryland Student Service Alliance, and has been on the honor roll every term this year. She is on the Southern Rescue Squad, and attends Gortner Union Church, where she is president of the youth group. Cathie plans to pursue a career in the field of health services.

The math award winner is Sheila Butt, a sophomore. The daughter of Dave and Bev Butt, Oakland, Sheila is a member of the ski team, volleyball team, and track team and is also an honor roll student. She is a member of St. Mark's Lutheran Church. She plans to become a certified public accountant.

Jason Beckman, a senior, received the boys' physical education award. The son of Milford and Louise Beckman, Oakland, he plans to go to college after completing a military career.

Stauffer Honored For Being Top Chemistry Student

Mike Stauffer has been named the Outstanding Chemistry Student at Southern High School for the 1989-1990 school year, and was honored at a special dinner meeting of the Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society held at Frostburg State University on Tuesday.

Stauffer is a member of the National Honor Society at Southern, having been on the distinguished honor roll each term so far this year. He has been the recipient of two "Student-of-the-Month" awards this year, one in science and one in foreign language. He is also the recipient of the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award. He placed in the top 10 in the ACC Math Competition.

His plans are to attend Bridgewater College and major in pre-med or psychology. He hopes to become a medical researcher.

Mike is a member of the Church of the Brethren Youth Fellowship and he resides with his parents, Paul and Betty Stauffer, in Mt. Lake Park.

Sheriff's Dept. Reports Arrests

Garrett County Sheriff's Department personnel recently filed charges of violation of probation and two counts of failure to appear in court.

An Oakland man, Duane Anthony Garlitz, 21, was arrested on Saturday, May 5, by Cpl. L.E. Gnegy on warrant of violation of probation.

Garlitz violated his probation by being convicted of malicious destruction of property, changing his job without permission, not reporting regularly to his probation officer, not regularly attending AA meetings, failing to appear in court on February 27, 1989, and he also admitted to using crack/cocaine during the probationary period.

In an unrelated case, Chief Deputy Harland Tichnell served a bench warrant to Joseph Eugene Gilpin, 38, Swanton, for failure to appear in court Wednesday, May 2.

Richard Parrish, 38, Loch Lynn, was arrested on a bench warrant from Garrett County District Court for failure to appear on Wednesday, May 2, for a traffic court case. Deputy D.L. Crossland served the warrant.

DEER PARK

HOMEMAKERS MEET

The Deer Park Homemakers held its May 8 meeting in the basement of the Deer Park United Methodist Church with 16 members present.

The demonstration "Salt: Too much or not enough," was given by Janet Browning.

Gift of the month was won by Nina Callis. A sympathy card was signed by everyone to be sent to Mary Rollman following the death of her sister, Jesse Lee.

Final plans were made for the Memorial Day service to be held May 27, at 2 p.m., at the Deer Park Cemetery.

Hostesses for this month were Priscilla Bell and Dottie White.

Gorman Church To Honor Pastor

The Gorman Church of God will hold its annual Poster Appreciation Day, Sunday, May 20, to honor its pastor, the Rev. J.T. Paugh and his family. Pastor Paugh has been at the Gorman Church for the past three years, according to one member, "the church has grown and prospered under his leadership."

There will be a special morning service, starting at 10 a.m., followed by a covered-dish lunch in the church fellowship hall. The public is invited to attend.

MSP Arrest One Person For DWI

Maryland State Police reported the arrest of one person for driving while intoxicated.

David Joseph Wojnorowski, 21, Bethel Park, Pa., was arrested for driving while intoxicated on May 13 by Tfc. D.W. Broadwater.

4-H CLUB NEWS

YOUGH VALLEY INDIANS
by Christina Umbel

The regular meeting of the Yough Valley 4-H Indians Club was held May 9 at the Friendsville Fire Hall. President David Bennett called the meeting to order. Pledges were lead by Stephanie Evans. Roll call was done by Stephanie Bennett and members answered by places they would like to visit. Twelve members, one leader, and three guests were present.

A special guest for the evening was Dr. David Rawe, veterinarian from Casselman Veterinary Service, Grantsville. He gave a lecture on small animals and how to care for them. A question and answer period followed his talk.

The next meeting will be May 23 at 6:30 p.m. at the Friendsville Fire Hall.

NORTH GLADE
by Adam Herbert, reporter

The North Glade 4-H Club met on May 9. There were five members and five adults present.

Under old business, seven members and their families attended the Achievement Night Dinner. Chris and Adam Herbert both received Reserve Champion at the District Public Speaking Contest in Cumberland last month. Chris also helped the County 4-H plant trees for Earth Day.

Clean-up at the North Glade Cemetery will be on May 14 and 21 at 6 p.m.

At the next meeting on June 13, Robert Rowan from the Department of Transportation will come to talk about the Adopt-A-Highway program. Some project demonstrations will also be given that evening.

June 16 will be farm visits and the rest of the demonstrations.

Following the meeting, several members presented Ellen Friend with a 30-year Service Award.

GCC Classes On Computer Applications Set

A new round of computer applications classes for manufacturers and constructors will be starting in June at Garrett Community College.

According to a GCC spokesman, these free mini-classes are designed to help local manufacturers and contractors improve productivity and profits by upgrading their use of technology. Classes which focus on understanding the basics, word processing, spread sheets, DOS and database will be held in mid and late June. Employees of local companies may participate in one or all of the classes which are either six or 12 hours long. The classes, which will meet in the GCC computer lab, can be followed by free individualized training at work sites during the summer months.

These sessions are being offered in conjunction with The Western Maryland Technology Transfer Program and are being funded by a grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission. Garrett Community College is one of five local colleges participating in this program in coordination with RESA (Regional Educational Service Agency.)

Local persons involved in small or intermediate size manufacturing or construction firms are invited to participate in this training program. Those wishing to register or acquire additional information should contact Sandy Major at 387-6666, ext. 169.

NEW LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED — Accident American Legion Post No. 208 recently installed new officers. Bausch & Lomb To Host Vendor Quality Day

Bausch & Lomb has announced that its local facility will be hosting its first Vendor Quality Day on May 23. Twenty-five of Bausch & Lomb's most critical vendors were invited and all have accepted.

The participants will be attending a kick-off dinner at the Will O' the Wisp on Tuesday, May 22. They will spend the following day in Bausch & Lomb in Mtn. Lake Park for a series of structured presentations relating to the company's philosophy on total quality and the company's new vendor certification process.

The day's activities will consist of an overview of the facility and a plant tour. There will also be a business review to inform the vendor about the company's performance and its direction for the future. The attendees will be provided with a total quality orientation, explaining what the importance of quality is to Bausch & Lomb and the comprehensive orientation that has taken place for all employees at Bausch & Lomb over the past two years. Finally, the vendor certification process will be explained to provide an awareness of what Bausch & Lomb expects from its vendors. Vendor certification is the process of reviewing and surveying a vendor's process and facility to eliminate the need for inspection of product from vendors directly associated with the manufacturing process at Bausch & Lomb.

Special guests from the Bausch & Lomb Eyewear Division Headquarters in Rochester will include: Dave Rucinski, vice president of Manufacturing Operations; Mike Tardugno, director of Manufacturing Operations; Ken Frederick, director of Procurement and Contract Manufacturing; Fred Woods, manager of Technical Services; and Steve Bamberger, director of Quality.

STUDENTS TOUR IN MORGANTOWN — The kindergarten classes of Accident Elementary School recently took a field trip to Morgantown, W.Va., to tour the Morgantown Airport and the West Virginia University Livestock Farm. They were accompanied by their teachers, Sharon Platter and Pam Livengood, teacher assistants, Nancy Fike and Joanna Ringer, and several parent volunteers. Above, they take a peek inside a single engine aircraft at the airport and below they watch young peeps do their exercises.

Pittsburgh Scottish Country Dance Society To Perform At Festival

The Pittsburgh Scottish Country Dance Society will perform at the third annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 2, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, McHenry. They will be accompanied by the Strath Mon Ceilidh Band. These groups have devised a dance and composed an accompanying tune in honor of the McHenry Highland Festival, both of which will be performed for the first time in public at the 3rd McHenry Highland Festival. The performances by both of these groups will be funded by the Garrett County Arts Council through a grant from the Maryland State Arts Council.

The Society originated in the early 1960's with a small group of friends getting together to dance in each other's homes. Today the group is affiliated with the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society, which was founded in 1923 to collect and revive the old authentic Scottish dances.

The actual steps of Scottish country dancing have their origin in the French ballet. Scottish country dancing have their origin in the French Ballet. Scottish country dancing is not folk or peasant dancing, but actually the ballroom dancing of Scotland.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and admission is $4.00 for anyone 12 years of age and over. The Society will also participate in the ceilidh (party) on Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the McHenry House of Wisp Ski Resort, hosted by Wisp Ski Resort (admission $3.00). The Golf Club at Wisp will host the First McHenry Highland Festival Scottish Scramble on Sunday, June 3rd, at 12:30 p.m., with over $1,000 in Scottish prizes.

This festival is sponsored and hosted by Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Westvaco, and Wisp Ski Resort. It is funded in part by Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland State Arts Council, Maryland Humanities Council, and National Endowment for the Humanities. For more information, persons may contact the McHenry Highland Festival, Courthouse, Oakland, MD 21550; telephone (301) 334-1948.

The public is invited to attend these services, according to Pastor Alvin Kyle.

SMS Students To Participate In Summer Program

Seven students at Southern Middle School have been accepted as participants and seven have been chosen as alternates in the Summer Centers Program, sponsored annually by the Maryland State Department of Education. Students who show promise in terms of personal qualities and academic achievement are considered for the programs.

In July, Adam Moomau will attend the Chesapeake Bay Studies program at various sites in the Chesapeake Bay region where he will study and travel the Patuxent River and travel by boat to a Chesapeake Bay residential island center. Eric Bendler will attend the same program in August. Carolyn Alvarez and Jessica Orr were selected as alternates.

Angie Comfort will participate in the Concert Band Program at Goucher College in Towson in late June and early July. While there she will rehearse and perform a variety of music as part of her ensemble that develops individual expression while refining performance skills.

Shannon Dabney has been accepted for the Ceramics and Pottery program at Goucher College from late June to early July. While there she will explore different ceramic techniques to produce functional and sculptural works of art.

Jennie Hesson and Meghan Price will attend the Creative Writing and Philosophy program at Washington College in Chestertown from late July to early August. They will participate in round-table discussions and creative writing exercises. Julie Hesson was selected as alternate.

Keela Pike will participate in the Strategies for Decision making on World Policy program at the University of Maryland College Park in July. SOVIETS ARE DISCOVERING THE REALITY OF HELL

From a translation of a newspaper article in Ammenusastia, a newspaper published in Finland, comes the following report. There follows also an evaluation by Martin Hunter. One thing is certain: hell is there, and sinners and careless "Christians" had better beware! (Quote):

Scientists are afraid that they have opened the gates to hell. A geological group who drilled a hole about 14.4 kilometers deep (about 9 miles) in the crust of the earth, are saying that they heard human screams. Screams have been heard from the condemned souls from earth's deepest hole. Terrified scientists are afraid they have let loose the evil powers of hell up to the earth's surface.

"The information we are gathering is so surprising, that we are sincerely afraid of what we might find down there," stated Mr. Azzacov, the manager of the project to drill a 14.4 kilometer hole in remote Siberia.

The geologists were dumbfounded. After they had drilled several kilometers through the earth's crust, the drill bit suddenly began to rotate wildly. "There is only one explanation — that the deep center of the earth is hollow," the surprised Azzacov explained. The second surprise was the high temperature they discovered in the earth's center. "The calculations indicate the given temperature was about 1,100 degrees Celsius, or over 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit," Dr. Azzacov points out. "This is far more than we expected. It seems almost like an inferno of fire is brutally going on in the center of the earth."

"The last discovery was nevertheless the most shocking to our ears, so much so that the scientists are afraid to continue the project. We tried to listen to the earth's movements at certain intervals with super-sensitive microphones, which were let down through the hole. What we heard, turned those logically thinking scientists into a trembling ruins. It was sometimes a weak, but high pitched sound which we thought to be coming from our own equipment," explained Dr. Azzacov. "But after some adjustments we comprehended that indeed the sound came from the earth's interior. We could hardly believe our own ears. We heard a human voice, screaming in pain. Even though one voice was discernible, we could hear thousands, perhaps millions, in the background, of suffering souls screaming. After this ghastly discovery, about half of the scientists quit because of fear. Hopefully, that which is down there will stay there," Dr. Azzacov added.

((Quote): Also, Joint European Science Drilling Project In Soviet Union Accidentally Taps Into Hell At 9 Miles Below Surface Of Earth. Biggest news story in newspapers recently in Finland and Norway. Leading geologist of Norway testifies after leaving drill site in Soviet Union. American newspapers refuse to report on biggest science news story ever to jointly hit both Finland and Norway.

A quick capsule summary. Leading newspapers of both nations in Europe were filled with stories of the great drilling project in Siberia that the Soviet Union suddenly cancelled after listening devices heard the human screams of the damned souls in Hell 9 miles below the surface of the earth. Half of the scientists on the drilling team were either Finnish or Norwegian. Soviet authorities fired them from this project and threatened their lives if they told what happened. Also, offered huge financial bribes to Finnish and Norwegian scientists to keep silent on this. Scientists took bribes because they feared Soviet authorities would execute them on the spot to silence them if they thought they couldn't be trusted to keep silent about this . . . hardened atheists in Finland and Norway became Christians after realizing Hell is for real! Top scientists were involved. They are not laughing in Finland and Norway! — Martin Hunter.

Westvaco Pleased To Be Removed From EPA List

Westvaco officials and Upper Potomac River Commission Waste Treatment Plant (UPRC) personnel expressed satisfaction this week in responding to an announcement by the United States Environmental Protection Agency that Westvaco and the UPRC plant at Westernport were not included in the final listing of those point sources that were not meeting or did not have a reasonable potential to meet the Water Quality Standards for toxic pollutants.

Westvaco, along with most other bleached paper mills in the nation, had originally been notified that they might be placed on this list of potential polluters because of the dioxin presence.

Roger Dandridge, Westvaco vice president and Luke mill manager, said, "I am gratified with the fact that the company at Luke has been formally and publicly relieved of the stigma originally raised with the question of dioxin."

Dandridge pointed out that the Luke mill has spent $15 million at Luke this past year to reduce its dioxin formation to the point where it was below detectable levels by the most sophisticated equipment presently available in the nation. He added that Westvaco has always felt that there was no potential harm to employees, the community, or any water supply.

Living History Military Encampment To Be Part Of Highland Festival

A living history military encampment representing 300 years of the Scottish soldier will participate in the 3rd Annual McHenry Highland Festival on Saturday, June 2, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds, McHenry. Their presentations will be made possible with funding from the Maryland Humanities Council through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Five living history groups will represent the Scottish soldier in five periods of history, revealing Scotland's heritage of music, dance, literature, uniforms, and equipment. This encampment will portray wars and campaigns from the English Civil War of the mid-1600's to World War II. The World War II "soldiers" will be a created unit of the 42nd Black Watch. Women accompany some units, especially the earlier ones, to commemorate the crucial role women played in maintaining the cleanliness, health and well-being of the troops and the willingness in which they often suffered the same hardships as the men.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and admission is a $4.00 for anyone 12 years of age and over. A ceilidh with entertainment will be held Saturday evening at 8 p.m. in the McHenry House at Wisp Ski Resort, hosted by Wisp Ski Resort (admission $3.00). The first McHenry Highland Festival Scottish Scramble, hosted by the Golf Club at Wisp, will begin at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 3, offering more than $1,000 in Scottish prizes.

This festival is sponsored and hosted by the Deep Creek Lake-Garrett County Promotion Council, Westvaco, and Wisp Ski Resort. It is funded in part by Garrett County Arts Council, Maryland Humanities Council, and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Sanjeev Magoon To Attend Georgetown

Southern High School student Sanjeev Magoon has been selected into the freshman class of Georgetown University for the fall of 1990, where he will major in business administration. Magoon was one of 10,000 candidates applying for only 1,365 spaces. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Prem Magoon, Oakland.

Earns Degree At Gardner-Webb

A Garrett County resident was among 300 students graduating Saturday, May 5, during the Eighty-third Annual Commencement Ceremonies at Gardner-Webb College, located in Boiling Springs, N.C.

Lori Ann Shaffer, daughter of Donald E. and Elizabeth A. Shaffer, Route 4, Deer Park, received a B.A. degree in French, cum laude.

Miss Shaffer is a graduate of Southern High School.

Earn Degrees At Potomac State

Four area residents recently received two-year degrees in the Eighty-Seventh Annual Commencement of Potomac State College of West Virginia University.

John M. Droppleman, Elk Garden, received an associate in arts degree in pre-social work. Receiving associate degrees in applied science were Lisa A. McIntee of Mt. Lake Park, majoring in secretarial studies/office administration, and Clara J. Evans and Christine L. Droppleman, both of Elk Garden and both majoring in business/management technology.

Dr. Joseph M. Gratto, president of the college, presided over the conferral of 108 degrees, including 68 associate in arts degrees, 39 associates in applied science degrees, and one certificate program. Dr. Stephen E. Haig, West Virginia's secretary of education and the arts, was the keynote speaker.

Grantsville Area Seniors Stay Busy At New Site

The Grantsville senior citizens have been participating in activities at the new Area Agency on Aging activities site in Grantsville. The seniors now meet in the Starner Hill Apartments community room at noon on Tuesday and Thursday following their Senior Nutrition Program lunch at 11:30 a.m. at the Casselman Restaurant.

Marsha McKinsey, R.N., Garrett County Health Department, visited the site on April 10 and May 9. The seniors received blood pressure screenings and health education. Ms. McKinsey will visit again on June 12 and will provide blood pressure and glucose tolerance screenings.

The monthly birthday party will be held May 22 at 2 p.m. Seniors who are celebrating May birthdays are Esther Durst, Stella Edwards, Mary Oester, and Alice Younkin.

Seniors have been working on pocket pillows in their craft class and will now begin to learn Norwegian embroidery. This will be taught by Maxine Ross, Finzel.

Norma Frazee will present a jewelry and scarf demonstration on May 24.

For additional information on activities, seniors may contact Lula Brown at 895-5092.

Earns Degree At St. Andrews

Jonathan Reneslacis, Kitzmiller, received a bachelor of arts degree from St. Andrews Presbyterian College, Laurinburg, N.C., May 13.

Reneslacis, son of the Rev. Earlean M. Reneslacis and the late Rev. Juris Reneslacis, was a mathematics major. He is a graduate of Southern High School.

St. Andrews is a four-year liberal arts institution in southeastern North Carolina.

C&P Co. Files Agreement For Rate Stability

The C&P Telephone Company of Maryland, the Office of People's Counsel, and the Public Service Commission which would keep basic telephone service rates at their current levels for two more years. The agreement between these parties must be approved by the Commission before it would become effective.

The plan also would allow telephone ratepayers to share earning with C&P through a credit on their bills.

According to C&P President Hank Butta, "This is a win-win proposal. It continues an existing freeze on rate increases for our customers and it allows them to share in our profits if we are successful."

Rates for local service, among other services, would be capped at existing levels for two years. While they cannot be increased, they could be decreased. C&P's last rate increase for basic service was in 1985. Since then, rates have been reduced twice.

The plan also allows C&P to have continued pricing flexibility on the services which the Commission has already found to be competitive. For these competitive services, C&P would continue to change rates on 14 days notice, and earnings would be determined by the market. For C&P's remaining services, earnings which fall into the range of 13.6% to 15.6% return on equity would be shared, with ratepayers receiving 50% on returns within the range. All earnings in excess of 15.6% would be returned to ratepayers. Up to ten percent of any refunded earnings could be given to interexchange carriers.

A DEDICATION CEREMONY was held recently to name the Learning Enhancement and Assistance Center at Garrett Community College for the Beitzel Construction Corporation, a major contributor to the challenge donor campaign of the GCC Foundation. Agriculture Secretary Named State Administrator Of The Year

Maryland Agriculture Secretary Wayne A. Cawley Jr. received the Maryland Chapter, American Society for Public Administration's Charles Mathias Award for Outstanding State Service in ceremonies held at the World Trade Center in Baltimore on May 10. As his award stated, Cawley was recognized "for his 12 years of sustained distinguished state service as secretary of the Maryland Department of Agriculture."

Accepting the award for Secretary Cawley was his wife, Barbara. "My husband works long and hard to serve agriculture and the people of Maryland. I can speak of the many days and nights he has not been home on our farm in Denton because duty called. He's proud of his department and the many services it provides to the farmers and consumers of Maryland," she said.

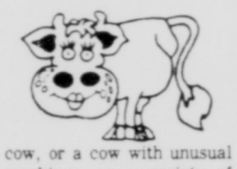
Secretary Cawley currently is in Eastern Europe with Governor William Donald Schaefer on a trade mission.

Cawley is only the second Secretary of Agriculture since the department was established in 1973 as a cabinet level agency. He was appointed initially in 1979. Cawley was cited in the award for "exhibiting extraordinary leadership in creating a work environment which promotes teamwork and encourages employee participation at all levels of the organization."

Some of Cawley's major achievements as Maryland's Secretary of Agriculture include worldwide promotion of the state's agricultural products, enhancement of the agricultural land preservation program, establishment of the Maryland Agricultural Education Foundation, creation of a State Aquaculture Office, expansion of the gypsy moth suppression program, establishment of regional farmers' markets, and implementation of the farmers market coupon program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) recipients.

Nominate Your Favorite Cow To Be Featured During Dairy Month

"Milk. Back to the Basics." is the theme for the 1990 celebration of June Dairy Month. A major "basic" of the dairy industry is the cow. These "basics" are all gold medal winners in the eyes of their owners, but every dairyman, his wife, children and hired help has a favorite gold medal cow. The Republican Newspaper would like to recognize these "basic gold medal cows" during June Dairy Month.



To nominate your favorite cow, send the following information to The Republican, c/o Bernice Kepple, farm editor, P.O. Box 326, Oakland, MD 21550. Information needed includes the cow's name, production record, reason for nomination, owners' name and address and phone number.

All nominations must be producing dairy cows, however, high-producing cows will not be the only ones picked to be featured. Your reasons for nomination may be that the cow was the first heifer calf born on your farm, or your child's pet cow, or a cow with unusual markings, or a variety of other reasons.

The owners of the cows chosen will be contacted and an appointment made for a photo to be taken. That photo and information about the cow and her owners will be used in The Republican's farm section sometime during the month of June. A 5" by 7" black and white copy of the photo used in the newspaper will be mailed to the owners of the cow as a keepsake.

Cows to be featured will be chosen by The Republican's editorial staff. All nominations should be mailed to The Republican by June 15.

ACP Sign-Up Period Changed

Sign-up periods for the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) have been replaced with a continuous sign-up, according to Kenneth Bachtel, chairperson of the Garrett County ASC Committee. The program provides technical and financial assistance to help farmers solve critical soil, water and pollution problems on their land.

"Producers who desire cost-share assistance to correct severe conservation problems may sign up for the ACP at any time," Bachtel said. The County ACS Committee may set up to six approval dates to consider requests for cost-sharing.

1990 funds will be used to control erosion, conserve water, improve water quality and install other conservation measures.

"The program is designed to encourage producers to voluntarily perform soil and water conservation measures to correct environmental problems on their farms," Bachtel said. ASCS identifies critical conservation problems in the county, determines priorities for cost-sharing to obtain the maximum solutions to the problems, and selects practices for the county program.

For further information, persons may contact the Garrett County ASCS Office at 334-1901.

Attempt To Kill Mite-Infested Honeybees Fails

State agriculture officials have admitted that their attempt last month to eradicate mite-infested wild honeybee populations in central Maryland has failed.

The officials laid out pots of insecticide-laced syrup, but the bees instead headed for the new crop of dandelions and other spring flowers.

"They preferred Mother Nature to the artificial substance," said William F. Gimpel Jr., the agriculture official in charge of the extermination effort.

Farming In Maryland ..... Bernice Kepple, Farm Editor

Bee inspectors had hoped to stem the spread in the Baltimore region of the deadly varroa mite, which feeds on undeveloped honeybees and is a serious threat to the state's thousands of domestic hives.

Certification Of Program Acres Due In June

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service ended the 1990 farm program sign-up period on April 13. "Producers who enrolled in the wheat, and feed grain acreage reduction programs should now prepare to certify their program acres," Kenneth Bachtel, chairperson, Garrett County ASC Committee said.

Maryland County producers have until June 1 to report the acres and intended uses of their wheat, barley, rye and other fall-seeded crops to the ASCS office and June 15 for oats. Those who fail to report by the deadline will be ineligible for program benefits, Bachtel said.

Prior to reporting the acreage, farmers can request that ASCS measure their program acres. The measurements are furnished at cost, and guaranteed for the crop year. "Measurement service is not only valuable to farm program participants, but to any producer who desires an accurate acreage for any reason," the ASCS official said.

Farm program participants are required to correctly certify their entire farm after planting to be eligible for price support loans, deficiency payments and other benefits. The reports contain crops and acreages planted, the uses to be made of these crops, and cropland acres to be devoted to the acreage conservation reserve. ASCS uses crop acreage reports to determine compliance with farm programs and also for history purposes.

Farmers who have not certified their fall-seeded crops are urged to do so before the June 1 deadline.

Pick Your Own Farm Market Directory Now Available

The 1990 "Maryland Direct Farm Market and Pick Your Own Directory" is now available at the county library or Cooperative Extension Service office. Published by the Maryland Direct Farm Market's Association in cooperation with the Cooperative Extension Service and the Maryland Department of Agriculture, the guide lists farms and farmer operated markets in 14 counties of the state. Each farm and market is listed with the varieties of fresh fruit and produce it offers along with pick-your-own crop. This year, 56 farms and markets in Maryland are listed, along with five adjoining areas. This year's edition shows that 40 of the farms offer items on the "pick your own" basis with some special crops available such as blueberries, cherries, snow peas, okra, Italian beans, fava beans, and rapini. In addition, 35 of the operations listed offer various forms of tours and six list special events and festivals over the season. Products sold at the farmers' stands run the complete range with some special items listed, such as grain fed beef, homemade sausage, Asian pears, nursery stock, bedding plants, straw, mulch, firewood, and Christmas trees.

Copies of the directory can also be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to: PYO Guide, c/o Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S. Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401.

Maryland Made With Pride

Guest Editorial: Farmers As Environmentalists

Editor's note: The following article was written by Stewart Truelsen for "Insight," a Farm Bureau commentary, and reprinted with permission of "Farm Bureau News."

Farmers are uncomfortable with the term environmentalist. It's often used to label someone who favors locking up natural resources and opposes the use of chemicals. Environmentalists use litigation and the bureaucracy to tie up badly needed construction projects, and would think nothing of spending millions of tax-payers' dollars to save a frog pond.

Let's put a different meaning on environmentalist. Let's say it's someone who cares about the environment. Then certainly you could apply the term to farmers and ranchers.

If you look at some of the things farmers and ranchers have done in the last 20 years, then you can certainly say they care about the environment.

Farmers were planting trees well before President Bush suggested it. Tree farming has become a major farming enterprise and many other farmers continue to plant trees for windbreaks that beautify the countryside and provide habitat for birds.

A recent Bureau of Land Management report says public rangelands are in the best shape of the century. Ranchers who pay fees to graze livestock on rangelands deserve much of the credit.

There's been a dramatic reduction in soil losses in the last five years due to farm conservation programs. And, the American Farm Bureau Federation has encouraged farmers to test their well water and safeguard this precious resource. Farmers are indeed environmentalists in the best sense of the term.

ALL-GAME SHOW PLANNED — The Mountain Top Saddle Club will hold its first All-Game Show beginning at noon on Sunday, May 20, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds. A current negative Coggins test is required for all horses. An entry fee of $4 will be charged for all classes except the Jackpot Cloverleaf Barrels, which requires a $5 entry fee and pays back 100 percent plus an added $100 (paid back 40 percent, 30 percent, 20 percent and 10 percent). Classes will include polebending, four-corner stake race, straight barrel race, cloverleaf barrels, dash for cash and flag race. Three separate classes will be held for young riders, 17 years and under. Action like that pictured above, Carol VanSickle on Miss Foxy Chicks, and below, Ray Wilt on Fox Buster, will be featured all afternoon.

Planting Progresses Across Maryland

Small grains entered the heading stage and field corn planting approached the halfway mark during the week ending May 6. An average of 2.7 days were suitable for fieldwork according to the Maryland Agricultural Statistics Service. At the end of the week topsoil moisture was surplus in 37 percent of the state, adequate in 63 percent of the state. Subsoil moisture was surplus in 32 percent of Maryland, and 68 percent was adequate. Eighty percent of the acreage had been prepared for spring planting, ahead of last year's 61 percent on May 6, and the normal of 77 percent.

Wheat, barley, oats and rye were generally in good condition throughout the state. Powdery mildew has been reported in some wheat fields. Field corn was 45 percent planted, ahead of last year's 19 percent and the normal of 44 percent. Spring oats were 95 percent planted, ahead of 83 percent a year earlier and the 91 percent normal. Wheat was 35 percent headed compared to 11 percent last year. Barley was 81 percent headed, above last year's 70 percent and the normal figure of 67 percent. Ninety-eight percent of the apples had bloomed, ahead of 88 percent a year earlier and the four year average of 84 percent. Strawberries were in bloom on 83 percent of the crop, ahead of 70 percent a year earlier and the four year average of 76 percent.

Sweet corn was 13 percent planted, behind the 14 percent of a year earlier and the 18 percent normally planted. Farmers had planted 95 percent of the potatoes, up from 83 percent a year earlier and the average of 94 percent. Snap beans were 41 percent planted, ahead of 18 percent for last year at this time and the 32 percent average.

WEATHER

Maryland weather for the week ended May 4 was unseasonably warm with heavy showers. Precipitation averaged 1.35 inch, ranging from 0.56 at Bel Air to 1.81 inch at Woodstock. Western Maryland received an average of 1.18 inch, North Central received an average of 1.42 inch, Southern Maryland west of the Bay received an average of 1.61 inch and the Eastern Shore received an average of 1.19 inch of precipitation. Temperatures averaged 63.6 degrees for the week, 4.8 degrees above the normal of 58.8 degrees. Minimum temperatures were in the mid to upper 40's in Western Maryland and the high 40's to mid 50's elsewhere. In Loving Memory Of who passed away four years ago

May 16, 1986

So many times we needed you, so many times we cried.
We can't understand the reason or the way you had to die.
So often we hear your footsteps or a knock on the door,
But it's only the memories of a long time ago.
We miss you and love you, you did not go alone,
For part of us went with you the day God called you home.

Your Loving Mother and Family

SINCERE THANKS

We would like to thank our children for the lovely reception they gave for our Golden Anniversary. Thanks to all our friends and relatives who joined us in this special celebration. Thanks to those who gave us the beautiful gifts and for the lovely cards we received. We feel really blessed to have so much love showered upon us.

God bless all of you.

Allegany County Beef Farmer Honored For Conservation Efforts

John Helmstetter, an Allegany County beef farmer, recently received a proclamation from Governor William Donald Schaefer in recognition of his efforts to manage his resources wisely thereby protecting the environment and the Chesapeake Bay.

The award was received at a dinner held by the Allegany Soil Conservation District in Helmstetter's honor. Rosemary Roswell, assistant secretary at the Maryland Department of Agriculture, presented the proclamation on behalf of the governor and Agriculture Secretary Wayne A. Cawley Jr.

The Soil Conservation District also awarded Helmstetter with a plaque and special farm sign identifying him as a "Cooperator" with the district.

Helmstetter raises approximately 60 beef cattle on the steep terrain of his 140 acre farm. When financial assistance became available from the MDA to install "best management practices" that protect water quality, Helmstetter was one of the first farmers in the county to participate in the program. He has installed a number of watering troughs and fencing to keep livestock from polluting farm streams. He also has provided streambank protection by using riprap for stabilization of the soil. Helmstetter prevents erosion on his steep slopes by using contour stripcropping and diversions to control water runoff.

The Allegany Soil Conservation District has provided the technical assistance needed to install these "best management practices."

Agriculture Gives Weights And Measures Presentations

Kenneth S. Butcher of the Maryland Department of Agriculture's Weights and Measures Section recently gave a presentation on the history, scope, and everyday functions of his office to a group of individuals as part of National Consumers Week. Butcher presented a 30-minute video tape outlining all of the facets of his profession, including how scales are calibrated and checked by state inspectors. Butcher commented that "From the many questions I received, I could tell that my presentation had educated the audience on how to be better informed consumers."

For more information on Maryland Weights and Measures, or to arrange for a showing of their new video presentation, contact Lacy DeGrange, Maryland Department of Agriculture, 50 Harry S Truman Parkway, Annapolis, MD 21401, telephone (301) 841-5790.

New Egg Regulations Affect Both Small And Large Producers

Since 1969, Maryland honey producers have had to comply with a registration program for their bee colonies to help control the spread of American foulbrood and other bee maladies.

In a similar vein, the state's egg producers are now being asked to comply with a registration program for their poultry flocks. The new rules and regulations became effective in April. Large commercial producers already are complying; but operators with small, backyard flocks may not be aware of recent modifications to the 1957 Maryland Egg Law.

For that reason, information leaflets and registration applications are being made available at county offices of the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service.

Compliance enforcement is a joint effort of the Maryland Department of Agriculture and the state Department of Health and Mental Hygiene.

Dr. John A. Doerr, acting chairperson for poultry science on the University of Maryland campus at College Park, notes that the new rules have a two-fold purpose:

—to instill consumer confidence that Maryland eggs are wholesome and safe;

—to provide a mechanism for tracking down sources of contamination and helping affected producers clear up potential disease problems at an early stage.

Dr. Doerr explains that the regulations apply to any person who sells eggs — whether one or a million — to retail outlets, distributors, restaurants, or directly to consumers. A three-step procedure is required. It involves registration, carton imprinting, and maintenance of invoices or sales slips.

Registration forms must be sent to the Maryland Department of Agriculture in Annapolis. They are available from county Extension offices throughout the state, along with a brochure explaining the new egg law requirements. Upon receipt of the completed application form, MDA officials will issue a registration number. This number must be printed on all egg cartons sold.

In addition to the registration number, cartons must be identified as containing eggs; they must be imprinted with the seller's name and address, lot number or date eggs were packed, number of eggs in the carton, and grade and size of eggs, along with instructions to keep eggs refrigerated.

A sales slip or invoice must be provided, and copies retained for at least 90 days. The invoice must include name and address of both buyer and seller, date of delivery, grade and size of eggs, lot number or date of packing, and seller's registration number. These last two items may be included on a packing slip inside the case, instead of on the invoice.

Dr. Charles J. Wabeck, poultry products specialist at Princess Anne for the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, adds two admonitions about the new regulations:

—If you purchase eggs for resale, get a copy of the producer's Maryland registration or plant number;

—When buying layer flock replacements, be sure to request a Pullorum-Typhoid Clean Flock certificate from the breeder.

Maryland Cooperative Extension Service agricultural agents can provide assistance in filling out the registration form, imprinting egg cartons, and preparing sales slips or invoices.

No Dramatic Changes Expected From BST Use

A recent USDA report indicates that the effect of bovine somatotropin (BST) on milk production, milk prices, and the cost of production should be much less dramatic than many have thought. ERS has projected that a cow receiving BST will average about 12% more milk. But even if BST were fully adopted by the year 2000, ERS says total milk production would not be raised by 12% because about one-third of the cows would not be receiving BST. Further, though milk prices are not expected to decline significantly, cow numbers should be reduced as a result of somewhat lower milk prices. USDA estimates BST may lower the price of milk by perhaps 25 cents to 30 cents per cwt. ERS projects that the cost of production might be reduced by only about 2.5% — from $10.19 to $9.93 per cwt (based on 1988 budgeted costs). That's because much of the reduced costs resulting from higher production per cow will be offset by the cost of treatment and the extra feed the cow will need to support increased production.

BST Temporarily Banned by Two States

A couple of weeks ago the Governor of Wisconsin signed into law a bill that bans the sale of BST for Dairy cows until June 1, 1991. This action triggered a standby law already passed in Minnesota that will also ban BST in that State for one year. FDA has delayed making a decision on BST. Clearance is at least a year away.

Crop Notes

—Orchardgrass is fast approaching the stage for harvesting. Don't sacrifice good nutrient quality for volume.

—If the weather stays cool and damp, keep an eye on slugs, cutworm and corn seed maggot populations.

—Gramoxone can be used on established pure stands of alfalfa for weed control. It must be applied within 5 days after cutting.

Maryland BPW Convention Set At Wisp Resort

The Maryland Business and Professional Women's 59th Annual Convention, hosted by the Western Maryland B.P.W. clubs, is being held May 18-20 at the Wisp Resort hotel in McHenry. Commissioner John Braskey will welcome the group Friday morning and colors will be presented by American Legion Proctor Kildow Post 71. Phyllis Harrison of B.P.W./U.S.A. will be the national representative to the convention.

Sessions to take place include approval of budget, election of state officers, nominating chairmen, election of a national convention delegate and alternates, consideration of state and national by-law ammendments, and adoption of the legislative platform and resolution.

The agenda also includes hearing top finalists in the I.D.P. I and I.D.P. II speak-off. Local clubs who have contributed to the success of B.P.W./Maryland will be recognized at the awards banquet on Friday, while new officers will be announced at the installation banquet on Saturday.

Convention Chair Lynn Stimmel, second vice president of B.P.W./Md., estimates attendance will be around 300 at the three day convention. Other women involved in the planning include Phyllis Trickett, Garrett County Club , co-vice chair of the convention and former state president; Patti Smith, sales coordinator Wisp Resort; and Betty Jo Swauger, Grantsville club and co-vice chair of the convention.

St. Paul's Church 500th Group To Join Adopt-A-Highway Program

A church group in Garrett County has become the 500th organization to join Maryland's Adopt-A-Highway program.

The group, from St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Oakland, has agreed to pick up trash periodically along a 2.2-mile section on U.S. Rt. 219 in Garrett County.

"A lot of our people have a lot of community pride," said Rev. Robert Johnson, the church's pastor. "We feel that joining Adopt-A-Highway would be a good way to get us outside the four walls of the church and contribute to the community as a congregation."

Since Governor William Donald Schaefer kicked off the program in April of last year, organizations of all kinds have "adopted" one- to three- mile segments of highways, over 860 miles in all, pledging to pick up litter along their assigned routes at least four times a year for a two-year period.

"Thanks to civic-minded groups like St. Paul's United Methodist Church, the Adopt-A-Highway program has far exceeded its goal of signing up 100 groups in its first year," said State Highway Administrator Hal Kassoff. "We sincerely appreciate the efforts of all 500 groups for volunteering to help keep Maryland's highways free of trash."

In addition to churches, groups joining Adopt-A-Highway have run the gamut from Scout troops, businesses and civic groups to families, fraternities and motorcycle clubs. Baltimore County leads the state with 50 groups, with Worcester County running a close second with 48 groups.

The State Highway Administration, which sponsors the program, gives the groups safety training and supplies them with trash bags, safety vests and hats. Each group's name is displayed on Adopt-A-Highway signs identifying its highway segment. SHA also provides signs alerting motorists when the groups are picking up trash, and picks up the trash bags filled by the volunteers.

SHA coined the acronym SWAT (Stop Waste And Trash) to describe the teams that help keep the roadsides free of litter.

Organizations that want to form an Adopt-A-Highway group should call the State Highway Administration toll-free, 1-800-222-5943, or write to the Public Affairs Office, 707 North Calvert Street, Baltimore, MD 21202.

Attends Annual Small Business Awards Event

Jeanine Shank, an 11th-grade student at Southern High School, was recently chosen from among 179 Maryland applicants to attend the sixth annual Small Business Awards Conference, held May 10 in Baltimore.

The conference was held in recognition of National Small Business Week, and selected students were honored by the Maryland Department of Economic and Employment Development who have demonstrated an awareness of entrepreneurship.

Jeanine was nominated by Lisa Bender, SHS marketing instructor, who stated, "Through the marketing education program, we focus on small business management. Jeanine is deserving of this honor because she demonstrates an interest in entrepreneurship and is an outstanding business student."

Bender continued, "I am impressed with her common sense approach to her part-time job after school and her contributions in class regarding small business application."

The awards program also recognized outstanding small business owners in Maryland. Student participants had the opportunity to interact with this year's award winners and to attend seminars relating to the "entrepreneurial spirit," according to Bender.

Jeanine is the daughter of Jim and Bunny Shank, Oakland.

More Students Pass Maryland Writing Test

Results of the Maryland Writing Test administered in January show continued improvement in students' writing skills, according to the Maryland State Department of Education.

The state pass rate for ninth graders taking the writing test increase to 88.2 percent in 1990, up from 83.1 percent last year. This means that 41,567 out of 47,127 ninth graders taking the test passed it.

The percentage of Garrett County students passing the test was 89.5, up from 88.2 percent recorded in January 1988.

This year is the first year the writing test is required for graduation. Information from local school systems indicates that 307 high school seniors have not passed the test. Many of these students have also failed to meet other graduation requirements, including passing three other state functional tests in reading, mathematics, and citizenship.

In releasing the writing test results, State School Superintendent Joseph Shilling said the 1990 pass rate "is a commendable improvement over last year's pass rate."

Dr. Shilling credited the higher pass rates to local school systems and students, "who have worked so diligently over the last few years to improve writing in Maryland."

Information released by State Superintendent showed pass rates by boys and girls and by racial and ethnic subgroups. The pass rate for girls was 91.9 percent and for boys 84.7 percent

Among racial and ethnic groups, Asian students had the highest pass rate, 92.6 percent. White students passed at a 92.2 percent rate, black students at a 80.9 percent rate, and Hispanic students at a 87.7 percent rate.

The Maryland Writing Test will next be given in July for students who did not receive a passing score in January. Students have until their senior year to pass the four Maryland functional tests.

DEEP CREEK REALTY

TIMETABLE TO PURCHASE!

Think back to the last time you had an appointment to keep. If you knew your appointment was at nine in the morning, you probably allowed time to get dressed, eat breakfast, and travel to the appointed place, arriving on time. You estimated the time each step would take, i.e. 45 minutes to dress, 30 minutes for breakfast and 30 minutes of travel time. Needing one hour and forty-five minutes to arrive on time, you set your alarm clock for 7:15 a.m.

Buying a home requires the same preparation. Once you decide to make a move to a new home, create a timetable for your purchase. First, decide on a proposed moving date, the date you want to actually occupy your next home. Mark that date on a calendar. Next, with the help of a REALTOR®, determine how many days will elapse from the time you sign a contract to purchase the home until moving day. This period should allow time to apply for a mortgage, get the mortgage approved, and to prepare all paperwork needed to close the transaction, i.e. sixty days.

Next, decide how long you will allow yourself to find just the right home. This period includes locating a REALTOR®, identifying and viewing houses which meet your needs, making a decision, and reaching agreement with the seller by signing a contract to purchase the home, i.e. thirty days.

If you need thirty days to locate a home and sixty days to close the transaction, allow yourself at least ninety days before your intended moving date to begin the process. The REALTOR® you choose can provide details about planning a move locally or across the country.

Understanding real estate dilemmas and their solutions is our business, and we'll happily share our knowledge with you. Why not give us a call at 387-5303, or drop by our office in McHenry, MD.

Attends O'Brien Youth Seminar

Erin Dabney, a Southern High School sophomore, recently attended the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation Seminar held in Timonium.

Students are selected on the basis of leadership ability, sensitivity to others and the desire to communicate knowledge to peers.

This year's seminar was centered around the theme, "The United States' Role in the World Community." The purpose of the foundation is to seek out, recognize and reward leadership potential in high school sophomores.

Erin stated that the four-day seminar was a "fun learning experience," featuring topics such as the environmental crisis, free enterprise, college plans and the importance of media in today's world.

Erin is the daughter of Tom and Dayle Dabney, Oakland.

Sheriff's Dept. Investigating Several Thefts

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department recently investigated several thefts in the area.

Sometime between April 20 and April 30, unknown persons removed a 3 point hitch sprayer with a 150-gallon, white, fiberglass tank attached from Kinsinger Central Tractor Equipment on the Paul Friend Road. The sprayer is an eight-row boom with an eight-foot stationary section and two ten-foot fold-down sections on each side. All metal on the sprayer is red, and the sprayer weighs approximately 400 pounds. The value of the sprayer was not reported.

In an unrelated theft, a Conico truck bed tool chest and contents was stolen from a truck owned by James Robert Stewart, 24, of Gaithersburg on Saturday, May 12, while it was parked outside of unit number 38 at Alpine Village. Stewart and three companions were going fishing at Deep creek Lake when they noticed that the tool chest was gone. Apparently, the culprit or culprits broke the locks on the two flip-top doors to gain access to the anchor screws, located one on each side.

Contents of the tool chest include a Milwalkee circular saw valued at $120 with the victim's name engraved on it, a Homelite 14" bar black and red power saw valued at $139, a Nakita three-eighths inch cordless drill and charger with victim's name engraved on it, and many other tools and items. Total value of loss is $781.

Robert Hadden, 45, of Deer Park, reported that on the night of May 10 person or persons shot two windows of the old radio Shack store in the Mid Town Plaza with a BB gun, causing four holes in one window and three in the other. The windows are valued at $500. There is no insurance to cover the loss.

Happy Birthday, Mom

MRS. PEARL PRITT

May 11

She Watches From Heaven

She always leaned to watch for us, anxious if we were late,
In winter by the window sill, in summer by the gate.
And though we mocked her tenderly, who had such foolish care,
The long way home would seem more safe because she waited there.
Her thoughts were all so full of us, she never could forget,
And so we think that where she is, she must be waiting yet.
Watching till we come home to her, anxious if we are late,
Watching from heaven's window sill, leaning from heaven's gate.

Happy Birthday, Mom
We Love You

Goldstein Urges Regional Meeting For Area Bankers

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein urged Maryland bankers to call "a regional meeting of Maryland, Washington, D.C., and Virginia bankers, regulators and state officials to outline a specific course of actions to resolve a potentially disastrous credit clampdown." The comptroller said federal over-reaction could be especially harmful in areas such as Maryland where banks have not been irresponsible.

"Let's seize the opportunity to make our views known," the comptroller told the members of the Maryland Bankers Association on Friday, May 18, at their 94th annual convention in White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.

"Economic and banking problems in the oil states and parts of New England together with the savings and loan scandal have prompted bank regulators to tighten their requirements on lending practices. In response, banks all over the country are asking for more collateral and turning down loans and lines of credit to commercial real estate developers, manufacturers, corporations, small businessess, and others," Goldstein said.

"But the federal regulators have over-reacted in regions such as Maryland, Virginia, and Washington, D.C., which have healthy economies and a strong banking industry — regions where excessive control isn't warranted.

"Many of us have been swamped with calls from businesses here in Maryland whose lifeblood lines of credit are being cut," the comptroller said. "Some of these businesses are in trouble or will be soon. If these businesses falter, so will the jobs they provide, the taxes they pay, the profits they pump into Maryland's economy.

"Fortunately, there is a glimmer of light that indicates federal regulators are beginning to realize that they may have given the wrong message to the banking industry. Last week, the top regulators met to urge the banking industry to continue lending to creditworthy customers. They said their doors were open to bankers seeking guidance on lending practices.

"I say, let's take them up on the offer. If the federal regulators have changed their point of view, I say, let's work with them," Goldstein said.

The comptroller pointed out that Maryland's healthy banks are undergirded by Maryland's fiscal stability and strong economy. "In April, Financial World magazine ranked Maryland as the best financially managed state in the nation — number one. They cited our top notch, competent management, excellent accounting system, capital debt and spending affordability guidelines, solid economic development, fiscal planning, and more.

"Why is that so important? Each year, about half a trillion dollars flows through the hands of the 50 states. If all the states were ranked as corporations, and then listed in the 'Fortune 500,' Maryland would rank 59th, ahead of such well-known companies as Johnson & Johnson, Purina, and Campbell's. We cannot afford to be poorly managed," Goldstein said.

Because Maryland's general obligation bonds are triple A rated, Maryland generally gets the best possible interest rates, according to the comptroller.

"I forced a cancellation of a bond sale back in September 1989, because I believed the interest rates were too high. And I was right, because when we re-scheduled the bond sale in February, we ended up saving about $2.5 million in interest costs over the life of the bonds," he said.

Goldstein also pointed out that the recent Maryland mini-bond offering, which he had long urged, was so over-subscribed that the Board of Public Works had to authorize more than twice the original amount of bonds for the sale. "That says a lot about how much confidence Marylanders have in our state government. They entrust us with their money, the same way they entrust you with their money."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Take notice that the Town of Mountain Lake Park, on Tuesday, May 8th, 1990, introduced an Annexation Resolution, in accordance with the provisions of Section 19 of Article 23A of the Annotated Code of Maryland, for the annexation of the area known as The Andrew Fike Subdivision to be annexed to the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

The Resolution provides for the annexation of all that lot, piece or parcel of land situated and lying in Election District No. 7, of Garrett County, Maryland, west of Broadford Road and north of Mary Drive, including the lands of Andrew Fike, as described in a deed dated September 19, 1984, and recorded in Liber 449 at Folio 727, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, and including 1.63 acres, more or less.

Under the Resolution, the land will be annexed to the Town, with a zoning designation as Suburban Residential, in accordance with the Town's Zoning ordinance.

The Resolution provides that after the effective date of the annexation, all persons residing within the annexed area shall become citizens of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, subject to the provisions of the charter along with any amendments thereto, and that all real property to be so annexed as well as the personal property thereon, shall be subject to the municipal property taxes of the Town of Mountain Lake Park, and the said property will be taxed as all other property, both real and personal, within the Town of Mountain Lake Park at the tax rate legally set by the Mayor and Town Council.

The Resolution further provides that the Mayor and Town Council shall extend such service to the residents of the annexed area as are extended to other residents of the Town of Mountain Lake Park.

The Resolution shall become effective, and the annexation completed on the 46th day following the adoption of the said Resolution.

TAKE NOTICE THAT THE MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL SHALL HOLD A PUBLIC HEARING ON THIS RESOLUTION AND THE ANNEXATION OF THE ANDREW FIKE SUBDIVISION, ON JUNE 26, 1990, IN THE MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK TOWN HALL LOCATED AT 1007 ALLEGHENY DRIVE, MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, MARYLAND, BEGINNING AT 6:00 p.m.

Public Hearing To Be Held On Tax Rate

The Garrett County Commissioners this week announced that a public hearing will be conducted Tuesday, June 12, at 7:30, in the Garrett County Courthouse to discuss the constant yield rate.

Commissioner John G. Braskey stated the meeting is "to inform the public we may not go below the constant yield rate."

Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II explained, "The State Department of Assessments and Taxations, based on the expansion of the tax base in the county, calculates what the tax rate should be to produce an equal amount of revenue from last year to this year."

He continued, "What we normally see, because the tax base is growing is that the constant yield rate always drops some. This year, our tax rate is $2.28. We recently received a document from the state that says the constant yield rate for Garrett County should be $2.20 for this year. This shows the tax base has increased."

Commissioner Braskey noted that one cent on the tax rate this year equals $50,000. Last year, he said, it was approximately one cent on $45,000.

Commissioner Chairman Ernest J. Gregg Jr. explained that the public hearing is required in order for the county to change the tax rate. He stated, "It doesn't mean we're going to but we would have that option if we conduct the hearing."

The public hearing will be held in the commissioners' meeting room.

WAS IT A TORNADO? Many residents of Friendsville believe that it was a twister that struck their town early Sunday morning, ripping out trees, tearing garage doors off, blowing doors off their hinges, and even knocking one house off its foundation. Pictured above is the Warren Thomas residence, located along Fearer Road, where at least seven trees were uprooted with one striking the house, breaking several windows and damaging the roof. Most of the damage in downtown Friendsville was caused by a fallen tree; however, about four miles north and west of town several houses were damaged in the 1 a.m. storm. There were no injuries reported.

Two More Rabies Cases Confirmed, Total Now 17

It was learned just this morning that two more rabies cases have now been confirmed, bringing the total thus far to 19 cases.

Sanitarian Tina Buckel of the Garrett County Health Department, stated that two raccoons were confirmed positive, one at the Ernest Beitzel residence on Mountain Road, between Bumble Bee and Foy Road, and the second one at the residence of Randall Wiley, whose home is located on Rt. 495, just north of Jennings.

Although no human exposure was reported, two cats and two kittens have been euthanized as a result of contact with the rabid raccoon at the Beitzel residence and two kittens were killed by the rabid animal at the Wiley residence. Wiley then shot the raccoon.

It was announced this week by Garrett County Health Department sanitarian Steve Sherrard that two more cases of rabies have been confirmed, both in the Bittinger area, bringing the total to 17 cases so far this year..

The first case involved a rabid raccoon at the residence of Lloyd and Joan Sussman, located along Rock Lodge Road between Accident-Bittinger Road and Beachy Road.

According to Sherrard, a raccoon entered the Sussman's yard May 27, fought with two dogs and then was shot by Lloyd Sussman. The raccoon was confirmed to have rabies by the Health Department May 31.

Both dogs had current vaccinations.

The second case also involved a raccoon which entered the yard of the George Shawley II residence, located on Rt. 495, just south of Bittinger, Saturday.

According to officials, the raccoon entered a dog house while a dog was tied in the vicinity. Positive confirmation was obtained Tuesday.

The vaccination status of the dog is still pending, according to Sherrard.

THIS LITTLE HIGHLANDER was just one of several hundred persons who enjoyed the many events and activities of the annual McHenry Highland Festival, held Saturday at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry. He is Ian Stuart Wallace (a good old Scottish name) and he is pictured here displaying four different flags — the Cross of St. Andrews, Rampant Lion, Maryland, and U.S. flags. Concerts by numerous bagpipe bands, Highland athletic competitions, a Scottish military encampment, sheepdog exhibition, Highland dance, and a ceilidh (Scottish party with entertainment) were among the many features of the festival. See more photo coverage in today's issue of The Republican.

County To Be Recipient Of $95,000 Grant

Maryland Governor William Donald Schaefer Monday announced that he would offer a one-time grant of $2.3 million to Baltimore City and the three poorest Maryland counties — Garrett, Allegany and Somerset — after previously vetoing a $12.5 million aid bill last month. Garrett is slated to receive $95,000 of that total.

Schaefer reportedly stated that he had "reluctantly" vetoed House Bill 134 but realized the importance of "helping the areas most in need." The money was intended for use in either education or drug abuse programs.

The funds, however, will not be available until next spring, upon approval by the 1991 General Assembly. The governor's proposal includes $2 million for Baltimore City, $93,000 for Allegany County and $143,000 for Somerset County.

The aid package previously vetoed by Schaefer had brought criticism from some legislators who questioned the bill's constitutionality. It was reported that the money could only be accepted by the targeted areas if local jurisdictions agreed not to lower the tax rate. Schaefer also reportedly did not favor the measure because 1990 legislators had not included the amount in the budget.

According to reports, local governments may budget the funds for fiscal year 1991, but the money will not be received until legislators act on the budget.

Three Plead Guilty To Drug Charges

Two men and one woman pleaded guilty of drug charges before Circuit Court Judge Fred Thayer recently.

Kathleen Louise Capan, 28, Oakland, pleaded guilty to charges of distribution of cocaine. The charges stemmed from an incident that occurred in August, 1989, when Maryland State Police Tfc. John R. Thomas purchased cocaine from Capan at the Oak Grove Tavern in Crellin.

In two other separate cases, Capan also pleaded guilty to charges of distribution of marijuana. The charges stemmed from two incidents that occurred in November 1989, when Tfc. John Thomas purchased marijuana from Capan at the Oak Grove Tavern.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in each of the trials, and Capan was remanded to the Garrett County

Commissioners Grant Tax Credit To Three Local Manufacturers

The Garrett County Commissioners this week announced the results of the recently instituted manufacturers' equipment tax credit, which has been granted to three local manufacturers: Bausch & Lomb, Yoder's Locker Plant and Bauer's Lumber Company.

"The results of this tax credit convincingly show that Garrett County manufacturers are not going to allow themselves to lose efficiency, and thus competitive advantage," stated Commissioner Elwood L. Groves II. "Maintaining these competitive levels was the driving force behind local government granting this generous tax credit," he added.

To qualify for the tax credit, a manufacturer must have purchased and placed into service during the calendar year preceding the tax liability, manufacturing equipment and/or tooling worth at least $100,000 or the equivalant of 25 percent of the value of all production equipment at the manufacturing location. The 50 percent tax credit would apply for a period of three years, according to the commissioners.

If the manufacturer is located in one of Garrett County's enterprise zones, the three-year credit would be at a rate of 75 percent.

The commissioners noted that a total of seven Garrett County manufacturers applied for the credit based on their 1989 investment in manufacturing equipment and/or tooling. The total 1989 investment made by

Bloomington's Water Problems Now Corrected

Garrett County Sanitary District Administrator Wendell Beitzel this week announced that the major problems plaguing the Bloomington water system have now been corrected following efforts to determine the source of its pollution.

Beitzel stated that a new pipe to the water intake system has now been installed, completely blocking off the ground water which had been coming into the system through the old pipe. The water, containing high levels of iron and mangenese, was "worse than we thought," stated Beitzel.

Beitzel explained that the pumps being used were "defective and had deteriorated to the point that Bloomington's water was coming from a bank along the Savage River." He further noted that the water

WCI Announces 1990 International Whitewater Events On The Savage

Top international whitewater canoe and kayak competitors will be returning to Garrett County's Savage River, the site of the successful 1989 World Whitewater Championships to compete in the Maryland International Canoe/Kayak Classic II.

At a recent press conference, State Senator John N. Bambacus (R-Allegany/Garrett), announced that the July 6, 7, and 8 sports event will be promoted and organized by World Championships, Inc., the same civic organization that managed a three-year, multi-million dollar effort to stage the 1989 World's.

Bambacus, Pesident of WCI, told reporters in attendance that the organization will operate a comprehensive transportation program similar to 1989 when they provided train and bus rides to the remote Savage River race site from nearby staging areas for all spectators

Popular shuttle trains staging from the Allegany County Fairgrounds and the Oakland B&O Station to the Savage River will operate Saturday and Sunday. Shuttle bus service from nearby staging areas will operate all three event days.

WCI drew positive reviews for logistics planning that smoothly moved spectators, officials and athletes in 1989.

"Thanks to the continued cooperation of many State of Maryland agencies, together with our volunteers and staff, we are happy to announce the return of international canoe and kayak racing to the Savage River," Bambacus said.

"By granting us these race sanctions, the American Canoe Association, the World Cup Committee and the International Canoe Federation have made a strong endorsement of our efforts in 1989–and have indicated their interest in ongoing events in Western Maryland," he added.

Last summer, world class whitewater racers brought national attention to the rugged Savage River as part of the first world whitewater paddling championships ever held in the United States. NBC Sportsworld, Sports Illustrated, and USA Today provided extensive coverage of the championships.

An estimated 45,000 spectators attended events during the two-week 1989 Whitewater Festival.

Since the 1989 World's, the pace of international

U.S. Navy Band's Country Current To Give Concert At GCC June 15

The hills of McHenry will be alive with the sounds of the banjo, fiddle, and steel guitar on Friday, June 15, at 8 p.m. when the U.S. Navy's premier country bluegrass band, Country Current, presents a free outdoor concert "on the green" at Garrett Community College. Being offered under the auspices of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival, the presenting sponsor of the concert is the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and co-sponsor is the Wisp Resort Hotel.

Country Current, a seven-member group, performed in concert for the Arts Festival last summer, as well as for the World's Championship Whitewater picnic. The group is returning to the mountaintop by popular request.

Acclaimed by audiences ranging from White House guests to state fair crowds, Country Current has performed with Charlie Daniels, the Statler Brothers, and Juice Newton. The group has also appeared on the Grand Ole Opry, the Wheeling Jamboree, the nationally televised "Nashville Now" and Academy of Country Music Awards shows. In February 1989, Country Current entertained senior Chinese officials at a dinner hosted by President and Mrs. Bush in Beijing, China.

The group is directed by Senior Chief Musician Bill Emerson who also performs on

Garrett Memorial's Deep Creek Medical Center To Open June 14

Garrett Memorial Hospital has announced that the Deep Creek Medical Center will open Thursday, June 14, at 8 a.m. Staff physicians at the center will be Dr. Mark Domenick, Dr. John Turski, and Dr. Lawrence Rentschler, pictured left to right.

Located along U.S. Rt. 219 and Deep Creek Drive, across the Point View Inn, the Deep Creek Medical Center will initially be open every Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. The Center will be staffed and equipped to provide treatment for minor injuries and illnesses, suturing of lacerations, X-ray testing, limited laboratory testing and EKG testing.

Appointments are not necessary and additional information can be obtained by calling the Deep Creek Medical Center at (301) 387-7911.

Dr. Domenick joined the staff at Garrett County Memorial Hospital in 1986. Dr. Domenick graduated from Frostburg State College, from the West Virginia University Medical School, and completed his residency at WVU Medical Center in Morgantown.

Dr. Rentschler has been affiliated with Garrett Memorial for the past year. He is a graduate of the University of South Dakota and the F. Edward Herbert School of Medicine in Bethesda. He completed a pediatric residency at the United States Air Force Medical Center in Biloxi, Miss.

Dr. Turski joined the staff at Garrett Memorial in March of 1990. He is a graduate of the Harrisburg Area Community College, Harrisburg, Pa., and the Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine. He completed a rotating residency and a surgery residency at the Metropolitan Hospital in Springfield, Pa., and completed a neurosurgery residency at the Metropolitan Hospital in Philadelphia.

CORPORATE SPONSORS OF GOLF TOURNAMENT — The Garrett National Bank Benefit Golf Tournament being held this summer will benefit the Ruth Enlow Library Children's Department. Last year's tournament reached its goal of $11,000 for the Garrett Organization for the Handicapped, and this year's goal is $15,000. Pictured above are team corporate sponsors, each business donating $500 to enter a team. Pictured left to right are Louise Messenger and Max Messenger, both of Wood Productions; Becky Glotfelty, Glotfelty Enterprises; Phil Davidson, Davidson's Army and Navy; Jim Wallin, tournament director; Cathy Lohr, Lohr Distributing; Luke Stuart and Gary Yoder, both tournament directors; and Milford Beckman, president Garrett National Bank. Special guest speaker at the banquet will be NASA astronaut Jon McBride. See story on page A-3.

Local Drop-Out Perseveres In Night School, Obtains High School Diploma

by Sandra Cusack

One student attended the graduation ceremonies at Southern High School on Sunday afternoon who probably has worked harder and will appreciate his diploma far more than most of the other graduates.

Charlie Lewis, 23, dropped out of school at the age of 19. He was a sophomore.

"I dropped out because of poor grades, the friends I was with at the time, and a lack of interest in work and school," said Lewis.

After dropping out of school in 1986, Lewis moved to Virginia, where he worked at a fruit stand. He then moved to Parkersburg, W.Va., where he worked at odd jobs for several months.

By the beginning of 1987, Lewis had moved back to Oakland and enrolled in evening school at Southern High School.

"When I'd try to put my application in for jobs, people seemed to look down on me for not having my diploma and didn't seem interested in hiring me," he explained. "Also, I wanted to go back to say that I had done it (received his diploma)."

After enrolling in the evening school program, the Career Employability Program helped him get a job that would give him credit in school while he worked. He was soon hired by Southern States Cooperative, where he worked full-time as a warehouse worker, maintaining an excellent work record, then attended school in the evenings for four nights a week.

"I did think about dropping out lots of times. My friends and family, mostly my family, made me stay with it. I'm kind of surprised I stuck with it. There were times I wondered if I would make it, especially in the evenings, after working all day. Sometimes I wouldn't get a chance to clean up before class . . I wondered at times if I would do it," he said.

Tom Woods teaches classes at Southern High School to the students working for their diploma on a part-time basis. Lewis was a student in Woods U.S. History class during the last semester.

"Charlie epitomizes what evening school is for; to allow those who, for whatever reason, have dropped out and have since decided to return to get their high school diploma.

"What impresses me, is the fact that he's held a full-time job and has gone to school for three to four nights a week and has maintained an excellent academic record and work record. On a more personal note, I don't think there was a person graduating who is more proud of their diploma than Charlie Lewis," said Woods.

"He's a pretty good teacher," said Lewis of Woods. "He's the best teacher I've ever had. He's just a polite teacher and a nice person. He made the work interesting. He brought in video tapes to watch and did other interesting things."

John Ledden, coordinator of the Career Employability Program with the Garrett County Board of Education, explained that the evening school program is for any resident of Garrett County who wishes to work toward a regular high school diploma rather than a GED (General Educational Development test).

"The program is designed for students who normally don't need more than two years of education to receive their degree. Students follow the same curriculum as the high school and the teachers are certified," explained Ledden.

This year, in addition to Lewis, 10 students graduated from the evening school program. They are: Shirley Van Brunt, Pam Easter, Carla Carr, Andrew DeWitt, Joyce Lewis, Lisa Gittere, Beverly Myers, Shirley Lucas, Mark Helbig and Patrick Kight. (Helbig and Kight graduated with courses from both the day and evening school programs.)

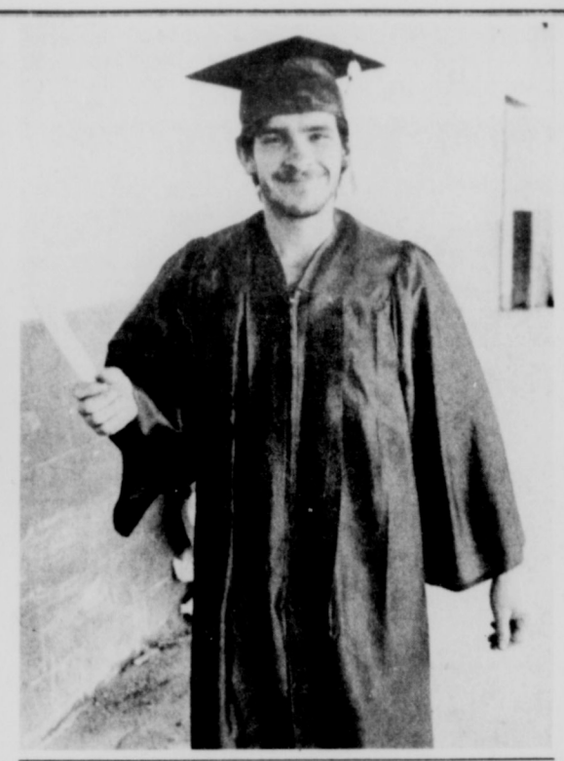
"Charlie Lewis is an outstanding example as he has earned more credits than any other evening school student. He has persisted in working at this since 1986 and has worked full-time while doing this," said Ledden.

"I'm glad I've done it. It's one of the best things I've ever done," Lewis said.

Lewis has made no plans at this time to continue with his schooling, either with vocational training or college courses.

Any person interested in more information on the evening school program should call the Career Employability Office at 334-8913.

"THERE WON'T BE A PERSON GRADUATING who will be more proud of their diploma than Charlie Lewis," said Tom Woods. "Charlie epitomizes what evening school is for." Tom Woods taught Charlie Lewis U.S. History during the most recent semester of evening school at Southern High School. Charlie dropped out of Southern High when he was 19-years-old. After a year of not being able to get a job, he decided to return to school to get his high school diploma. "I'd try to put my application in for jobs and people would look down on me for not having my diploma. I wanted to go back to say that I had done it," he explained. He did eventually get a job with Southern States Cooperative in Oakland, and worked there full-time during the day and attended classes three or four evenings a week at Southern High School. Charlie is pictured above left, loading some merchandise into Oakland resident Barney Dunbar's truck. Charlie is also pictured above right in his graduation cap and gown. Of his graduation from high school, Charlie said, "I'm glad I've done it, it's one of the best things I've ever done."



Four Electrocuted In Markleysburg

Tragedy hit the nearby Pennsylvania town of Markleysburg, Pa., Monday evening when four persons, three from the same family, were electrocuted.

Killed in the unusual accident were Robert Friend, 59, president of the Markleysburg Borough Council; his two sons, Randall Friend, 23, and Robert Friend II, 22; and Borough Councilman Keith Cuppett, 35, all of Markleysburg.

The four were removing a metal flagpole from the yard of the borough community building at about 8:30 p.m. to have it painted when it came in contact with a 7,200-volt power line overhead. The four were killed instantly, as horrified family members and other citizens watched.

Another of Friend's sons, Doug, 27, was injured and treated and released at Uniontown Hospital. A sixth man, Norris Riley, Markleysburg, was also assisting, but was uninjured.

Deputy Fayette County Coroner Donald Crawford pronounced the four dead at 10:30 p.m. The bodies were so severely burned that dental records were used to determine identification.

Reportedly, funeral services for the Friends were scheduled for today at Blooming Rose United Methodist Church in Garrett County, however details were unavailable.

Oakland Woman "Satisfactory" Following Mishap

An Oakland woman is listed in "satisfactory" condition at Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a two-car accident yesterday afternoon at 4:55 p.m. at the intersection of Rt. 135 and Sand Flat Road.

Bernice Kepple, 43, was a passenger in a car driven by Timothy Kepple, 20, also of Oakland, who was operating a 1989 Ford Fiesta eastbound on Rt. 135. According to police reports, Kepple was attempting to make a left-hand turn onto Sand Flat Road when he turned directly into the path of a westbound 1980 Chevrolet Chevette, driven by Christine Tasker, 29, Oakland. Tasker also received injuries and was taken by Southern Rescue Squad to GCMH where she was treated and released.

Kepple was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way by Maryland State Police Tfc. Larry Rosage.

MSP Charge Two Persons With DWI

Two persons were arrested by Maryland State Police and charged with driving while intoxicated over the past week.

Michael Wayne Kent, 30, Kitzmiller, was charged with driving while intoxicated on June 2 by Tfc. J.K. Moore.

Donald Allen Resnik Sr., 37, Finleyville, Pa., was charged with driving while intoxicated on June 3 by Tfc. J.K. Moore.

Md. State Police Investigate Theft Of ATV, Mower

Maryland State Police are investigating the theft of a lawn mower and all-terrain vehicle from a Friendsville man.

Martin Lawson reported that someone removed an International riding lawn mower and a Kushman trackster all-terrain vehicle from his property between May 26 and June 2.

Tfc. J.E. Foley investigated.

Lonaconing Man Charged With B&E By Police

A Lonaconing man was arrested for breaking and entering by Maryland State Police on Saturday.

Harold Lee Spiker, 28, apparently broke into a cottage along the Savage River Road which belongs to Mary Lee, Shallotte, N.C.

Spiker apparently used a crowbar to break the lock on the door and entered the cottage. Police were notified when Spiker returned the next day and Tfc. D.W. Broadwater responded and arrested Spiker for misdemeanor breaking and entering. He was released on his own recognizance.

Diane Elizabeth Delaney, 28, Frostburg, was arrested Saturday morning about 1:30 a.m. in the parking lot at a tavern on the Long Stretch portion of Route 40, near Frostburg, for possession of marijuana and paraphernalia.

She was released on personal recognizance after the arrest.

Rae Mary McCombs, 20, and Steven Jeffrey Hughes, 19, both of McHenry, were arrested on May 29 on charges of disorderly conduct and failure to obey a lawful order.

Tpr. S.H. Anderson responded to Murray Apts., McHenry, for reports of loud profane screaming, causing a disturbance to neighboring residents. The profanity and screaming apparently continued in his presence. The subjects apparently then became belligerent and refused to cooperate.

NASA Astronaut Jon McBride To Speak At Golf Tourney Banquet

The organizing committee of the Garrett National Bank/Friends of the Ruth Enlow Library Charity Golf Tournament has announced that Jon A. McBride, NASA astronaut, veteran combat pilot, and business man, will be the banquet speaker of the July 14th event being held at the Oakland Country Club.

McBride is a veteran NASA astronaut and was the pilot of the first seven-man crew of the Orbiter Challenger launched in 1984, from the Kennedy Space Center. During their eight-day mission, crew members deployed the Earth Radiation Satellite and conducted a variety of scientific observations. McBride was scheduled to fly next in March of 1986 as crew commander, but the flight was deferred by NASA in the wake of the Challenger accident in January 1986.

A native of Charleston, W.Va., McBride graduated from Woodrow Wilson High School, Beckley, W.Va., in 1960, and received a bachelor of science degree in aeronautical engineering from the U.S. Naval Postgraduate School in 1971. He did graduate work in human resources management at Pepperdine University.

McBride's naval service began in 1965 with flight training at Pensacola, Fla. After winning his wings as a naval aviator, he was assigned to Fighter Squadron 101 based at Naval Air Station, Oceana, Va., for training in the F-4 "Phantom II" aircraft. He was subsequently assigned to Fighter Squadron 41 where he served three years as a fighter pilot and division officer. He has also served tours with Fighter Squadrons 11 and 103. While deployed to Southeast Asia, McBride flew 64 combat missions.

He attended the U.S. Air Force Test Pilot School at Edwards Air Force Base prior to reporting to Air Test and Development Squadron Four at Point Mugu, Calif., where he served as maintenance officer and Sidewinder project officer. He has flown over 40 different types of military and civilian aircraft and piloted the Navy "Spirit of '76" bicentennial-painted F-4J "Phantom" in various air shows during 1976, 1977, and 1978. He holds current FAA ratings which include commercial pilot (multi-engine), instrument, and glider; and he previously served as a Certified Flight Instructor (CFI).

He has logged more than 5,200 hours flying time — including 4,700 hours in jet aircraft.

Selected as an astronaut candidate by NASA in January 1978, McBride became an astronaut in August 1979.

He was pilot of STS 41-G, which launched from Kennedy Space Center on October 5, 1984, aboard the Orbiter Challenger. This was the first crew of seven.

In July 1987, McBride was assigned to NASA Headquarters to serve as acting assistant administrator for Congressional relations, with responsibility for NASA's relationship with Congress, and for providing coordination and direction to all Headquarters and Field Center communications with Congressional support organizations. He held this post from September 1987 through March 1989.

In May 1989, Captain McBride retired from NASA and the Navy, in order to pursue a business career. He is currently president and chief executive officer of the Flying Eagle Corporation in West Virginia.

Special honors include: the Defense Superior Service Medal (DSSM), three Air Medals, the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat V, a Navy Unit Commendation, the National Defense Medal, the Vietnamese Service Medal, and the NASA Space Flight Medal; recipient of West Virginia Secretary of State's "State Medallion" and appointed "West Virginia Ambassador of Good Will Among All Men" (1980). Received Honorary Doctorate in Aerospace Engineering from Salem College (1984); Honorary Doctorate of Science from West Virginia University (1985); Honorary Doctorate of Science from University of Charleston (1987); Honorary Doctorate of Science from West Virginia Institute of Technology (1987).

McBride is married to the former Sharon Lynne White of Nacogdoches, Texas. They are the parents of three sons and one daughter.

"We are absolutely thrilled that Jon has agreed to be our speaker for the tournament banquet," said Gary Yoder, tournament spokesman. "Jon is a native West Virginian and an excellent speaker.

"We are also delighted that Ray Mansfield, veteran Steeler linemen, has agreed to attend the tournament," Yoder added. "Ray was our guest speaker last year and will be joining us for the day."

Each year Garrett National Bank sponsors a golf tournament to benefit local charities who do not receive funds from larger national organizations. Proceeds from the 1990 tournament will benefit the Children's Book Fund of the Ruth Enlow Library.

Anyone interested in sponsoring a team or becoming an associate sponsor should contact Luke Stuart at the Garrett National Bank (334-9483). Stuart said the field is "filling up rapidly" and only 36 teams can be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Individuals are also welcome to enter teams.

VEHICLES CRUSHED — A violent storm, thought by many residents to be a tornado, hit Friendsville at about 1 a.m. Sunday, causing this large tree along Walnut Street to break in half and fall on two vehicles, the Ford pick-up truck visible in the photo and a van believed to be owned by Garrett Heating. Inspecting the damage are George Nedrow and Joe McCrobie. The doors on Old Mill Restaurant were ripped from their hinges during the storm and many homes in and just northwest of the town were damaged. Below, Warren Thomas inspects damage done to his roof by a fallen tree, while Randy Thomas checks the situation on the ground and Mrs. Warren Thomas sweeps pine needles out of her house. A spokesman for the Elkins office of the National Weather Bureau stated that 95 percent of the time damage like this is caused by high winds associated with a thunderstorm; "although it is possible that this was a tornado," he said. There were no injuries reported.

Corrections Noted

It was incorrectly reported in a recent issue of The Republican that a perjury charge against Juanita Stinson was prosecuted in a May 21 case. The case was, in fact, not prosecuted.

The Republican regrets the error.

Bureau Offers One Last Chance To Be Counted

Were you and all members of your household counted in the 1990 census? If not, the U.S. Census Bureau is offering one final opportunity for Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey and Pennsylvania residents to respond to the 1990 census through its "Were You Counted?" (WYC) campaign, June 11 to July 10, 1990.

The campaign is designed to provide an opportunity for those individuals and households to be counted who believe they were not counted through previous census operations. This campaign follows an intensive door-to-door canvas of those households that did not mail back their questionnaires.

"If you believe a census questionnaire was not completed for your household or that some people living in your residence were not counted, there are simple abbreviated forms you can fill out, or toll-free numbers you can use to provide the information over the telephone," said LaVerne Vines Collins, Philadelphia regional director of the Census Bureau. "It takes only three minutes to complete the form."

Special "Were You Counted?" forms will be distributed primarily through community based organizations, the print media, and special "Were You Counted?" (WYC) Centers. Forms are available in English and seven other languages.

Toll-free telephone assistance is available seven days a week between 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. from June 11 to July 10 at 1-800-999-1990 and for hearing impaired, 1-800-777-0978.

When the seven-question "Were You Counted?" forms arrive in a census office, they will be checked against already counted households to prevent double counting. Persons counted during this operation will be added to the appropriate housing unit in their city and county before the final results are announced later this year. According to federal law (Title 13 of the United States Code), falsifying or deliberately duplicating information on a census form is illegal.

For site information on local "Were You Counted?" Centers, persons may contact Frank Ambrose at (215) 597-1990.

Oakland Man Struck By Hay Wagon

In an accident that occurred Saturday, Robert H. Schmidt, 20, Oakland, was struck by a hay wagon as he was changing a flat tire on the wagon.

Schmidt was changing the flat tire on the empty wagon while it was parked in a parking lot located at the intersection of Third and Water Streets in Oakland. A small hand jack that was supporting the wagon slipped, causing the wagon to strike Schmidt on the back.

Schmidt was transported to Garrett Memorial Hospital by Southern Rescue Squad, where he was treated and released.

Wetlands Justice? . . .

There has been much attention given recently to the federal government's Clean Water Act, better known as the wetlands legislation. The Republican carried a feature article by Bernice Kepple recently about just one item governed by the legislation — farm ponds. The article revealed that the new restrictions currently make it almost impossible for farmers to legally construct and utilize these ponds.

While we rarely turn this column over to another editor or writer, we came upon an editorial in the May 29 issue of The Delmarva Farmer that we thought describes so well the utter absurdity of the present wetlands legislation. The editorial, reprinted with permission from The Delmarva Farmer, is as follows:

The federal bureaucracy seems to have gone a bit mad.

Item: John Pozsgai, a 58-year-old Hungarian immigrant and a self-employed truck mechanic, was sentenced to three years in jail and fined $202,000 in a federal court for violations of the Clean Water Act . . . the infamous wetlands legislation. It was the longest prison sentence ever imposed in the U.S. for environmental "crime."

Pozsgai was convicted of clearing a five-acre tract of land near Trenton, N.J., which he had purchased, of a 20-year accumulation of 7,000 used tires and replacing the junk with clean fill and topsoil. The EPA claims Pozsgai's land is "wetland" because it is adjacent to a tiny stream which borders the property on the east. The stream is dry most of the year. However, it was susceptible to flooding in heavy rains because the old tires created a dam.

Pozsagi was convicted July 13, 1989, in U.S. District Court. He appealed. The U.S. Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit upheld the conviction on Jan. 12, 1990. The appeal was been carried to the Supreme Court. Pozsgai remains on bail pending a final disposition of the case.

Item: Not so fortunate is Ocie Mills, a 58-year-old Florida retiree. He and his son were convicted of "water pollution" for placing 19 loads of sand on his property without a permit. Bail was denied. Mills already has served one year of his sentence in a federal penitentiary while his appeal works its way through the courts.

Item: In a New Jersey case, a retired couple was prevented from developing a lot they purchased years ago for retirement because environmental officials recorded the sound of an owl on their property. The couple's suggestion that the owl could easily have flown across the street from 16,000 acres of preserved wildlife refuge fell on deaf ears of the authorities.

Item: The Senate Agriculture Committee, in an apparent burst of compassion and common sense, has proposed, for inclusion in the 1990 Farm Bill, modifications of the sanctions against farmers caught planting on drained wetlands.

Current law allows the government to terminate a farmer's federal subsidies for wetlands draining. Under the new proposal, first-time violators would be fined and required to restore the land. A second offense would cancel a farmer's subsidies. After 10 years (of "probation"), the farmer's record would be expunged.

Meanwhile, the House Age Committee has proposed that a wetland area on which a crop had been raised for at least six years, between 1976 to 1985, be exempt from the wetlands law.

The police-state fervor with which the wetlands legislation is being enforced, and which the Senate and House are spending so much time attempting to mollify, has little place in a society of law and presumed justice.

President Bush, read our lips. Your kinder and gentler nation is going to hell in a hand-basket.

To the Editor:

Last year I wrote a letter to Governor Shaefer expressing concern about the inefficiency of gypsy moth spraying. I maintained that it imposed a health risk, and accomplished little to abate the gypsy moth problem. The basis of these statements lay in the memory of 20 years ago fighting gypsy moth in Connecticut. There it has been found that cold winters, disease prompted by overpopulation, and emerging predators are the only significant deterrents. Despite massive spraying that has contributed according to recent studies to polluting the ground water in 80% of the state little has been accomplished by spraying. Garrett County was sprayed last year, but we have more moths this year. The director of the Department of Natural Resources, Torrey Brown, replied to my letter saying that spraying was safe. He was wrong.

On the Sunday before Memorial Day I was polishing my car in Friendsville enjoying the fine weather alongside dozens of residents when a helicopter flew directly over my head spraying the town, then proceeded up wind to spray the hills. Everyone got a dose. One needs only to feel the burning nazal passages, see the rashes on the arms, and feel the choking sensations that result to know this spraying is harmful. We have been sprayed several times since then.

Several of my patients began to gag and choke as they drove down the mountainside into the Friendsville valley. The spray seems to settle into the hollows where people live. More people are reporting unexplained respiratory problems. An asthma patient is having aggravated responses.

A group of tourists, about 25 rafting customers, were subject to the effects of spraying in the Yough basin a few days later. They were not pleased with this experience of beautiful Garrett County.

Last year the Dominion Post reported the accidental low level spraying of a group of 30 children near Morgantown. Five children were hospitalized for respiratory problems, but the paper only commented that these had weaker respiratory tracts.

Now we read that the lake residents are sprayed with a less harmful, more expensive spray that does not kill aquatic life. What about the aquatic life in Bear Creek, the Yough Basin and the numerous other springs and watersheds in our area? What about the less visible residents of Garrett County who drink water? That people with breathing difficulties and sensitive skin have strong reaction should warn the rest of us that these sprays are harmful to us and to other beneficial insects that contribute to the food chain.

As a health practitioner and resident with years of gypsy moth living behind me, I condemn the harmful and ineffective general spraying of Garrett County. By now we should realize that all isolated chemical pesticides are harmful to human health. Low concentrations of many chemicals add up to a high concentration of health risk in our culture. When we combine power line spraying, roadside spraying, farm chemicals which have now been effectively replaced throughout California, hair mousse, paint sprays, fumes, etc., we have a problem. Gypsy moth spraying is not safe. A few wealthy logging interests and naturophobic high profile people have argued that spray is the only effective way to fight the gypsy moth. It is merely the only method they have cared to try. These people should perhaps have the right to spray themselves and their land, but to impose general spraying on people who do not benefit and who rely on socially responsible leadership results only in survival of the richest. At the very least everyone in Garrett County deserves the same "quality spraying" received at the lake.

Sincerely,
William Wadsworth

To the Editor:

The Garrett County Forest Conservancy Board is one of 24 Conservancy Boards in the State. These boards serve as an advisory group to the Maryland Forest, Park, and Wildlife Service and strive to promote conservation, or the wise use of our forest resources, through information and education.

The recent letters to the editor in many newspapers on forest management prompted the Garrett Forest Conservancy Board to write this letter to try to answer some of the questions raised and to correct some of the misinformation.

The forest management activities for a five-year period on the three Western Maryland State Forests (Green Ridge, Potomac-Garrett, and Savage River) was the subject of a public hearing held at Allegany Community College in June 1987. Seventy-five to a hundred people attended the meeting and close to a hundred people sent in written comments. The meeting dealt with the state's forest management plans for applying the latest silvicultural information over the next five years to cope with the gypsy moth problems. This hearing was advertised locally as well as statewide, inviting public participation. The Garrett County Forest Conservancy Board has supported the state in its efforts to gain input from the public.

The timber sale on Potomac-Garrett State Forest, adjacent to Herrington Manor State Park, is a part of this five-year plan. This tract consists of approximately 400 acres. Originally 200 acres of this tract was planned for silvicultural treatment. The Garrett Forestry Board supported the original proposal, which has now been reduced to an 86-acre sale.

The monies generated from state forest timber sales, state park gate receipts, camping, etc., go into the Forest and Park Reserve Fund. Each forest and park unit submits a budget request based upon their projected income. The budget request becomes a part of the Governor's budget pending approval by the legislature. The monies in the Forest and Park Reserve Fund can only be spent with legislative approval.

There seems to be a lack of knowledge of basic forest management on the part of the general public. This lack of information and education, was addressed recently at The Governor's Conference on Forests and Trees. Several members of the Garrett County Forestry Board participated in the conference. The Forestry Boards in the State of Maryland are going to be participating more in public information and education, trying to reduce or ease this communications problem.

The forests of Maryland represent one of our greatest natural resources. As the demand for development increases, the pressures on our forest land base will increase. In order to maintain our forest land base in a healthy condition, it will be necessary to manage our forest land under multiple-use management. This includes following sound silvicultural prescriptions.

There is a big difference between preservation and conservation. Conservation is the wise use of our natural resources, and preservation implies simply locking up the resource and doing nothing with it. This Garrett Board advocates sound conservation practices.

Sincerely,
Garrett County
Forestry Board

To the Editor:

Where is our pride in our school system?

I attended the graduation of the class of 1990 at Southern High School. I graduated from Southern in 1980.

I really can't believe how the school graduation has changed. There was no seating for the parents. When the class came in, I felt like they were herding cattle in. When the kids received their diploma, there was no time to even see who was receiving it. The kids were so cluttered up it was terrible. I thought when you graduated from any place, you walked across a platform, not the gym floor.

I really can't believe that the school board and the Board of Education let something this uncoordinated even happen. Give our kids a proper and formal graduation. They deserve it.

To the Editor:

For years I have been reading letters in your newspaper with views I do not agree with. But the letter written by "Buddy" Duckworth is by far the most distressing.

It filled me with rage to read Mr. Duckworth's (although I don't think he deserves to be called Mr.) clear cut downs on environmentalists. People with such closed minded views as "Buddy" scare me. These people run our government and society, as Mr. Duckworth so proudly showed us with his list of titles.

"Buddy" stated that he loves the forests and wildlife. If this is true, then why does he so happily cut those forests down and kill off the wildlife by logging and hunting. The excuse of "for the food will just not work. Surely Mr. Duckworth, wildlife lover that he is, could plant a successful garden that would supply him with any food he could not purchase in the store."

It also seems as though "Buddy" is very defensive or unsure of his accusations, seeing he considers an environmentalist view as an attack on sportsmen.

I would also like to add that I will gladly join R.W. Hicks in anything he/she would like to do to help. There are others who believe in environmentalism!

Sincerely,
Max Dubansky

Water Problems

going in was groundwater from a maintenance and woodyard owned by Westvaco Corporation.

"The water treatment plant was just now designed to remove those high amounts of minerals coming in," said Beitzel. He noted that the incorrect pipe had been installed when the system was built.

Upon discovery of the problem, the Sanitary Commission obtained an emergency permit from the Maryland Water Resources Administration.

Previously, Beitzel said, it was suspected that the problem was coming from Aaron's Run but it is now believed that Aaron's Run presents a significant impact on the town's water when the rains are especially heavy, causing sediment to flow into the system.

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission took control of the system several months ago at the request of the town. According to Beitzel, the town could not afford to complete the system on its own.

Beitzel stressed that the water tanks were full of the contaminated water when the new pipe was installed so that it might take a couple of weeks for the water to be completely free of the minerals. He did note, however, that there was an immediate improvement in the water quality upon installation of the pipe.

The commission will continue checking the system periodically and may eventually have to move the intake system to completely solve the problem.

WCI Announces

whitewater competition has increased in anticipation of 1992 Olympic status for whitewater slalom events. WCI officials are currently negotiating for future international competitions and United States Olympic teams activities to be held in Western Maryland.

WCI announced earlier this year that they have also expanded their mission into promoting a broad range of adventure sports that include a mountain bike competition, to be held October 27 and 28 at Green Ridge State Forest; a triathlon, to be held August 25 at Broadford Recreational Park for adults and August 26 at the Wisp Resort for youth; and various other outdoor activities.

The Maryland International Classic is actually two whitewater races both held during the first weekend in July. The United States Wildwater Championships are scheduled for July 6. Wildwater athletes compete against the clock over the four and half mile length of the Savage River Dam and the Potomac River confluence near Bloomington.

On Saturday and Sunday July 7 and 8, the second stop in the five-race International World Cup Slalom Series will be stages in the quarter-mile stretch of the Savage River that has been developed to accommodate spectator boardwalks and 25 slalom gates suspended over the river.

Slalom whitewater paddlers compete in short runs similar to downhill ski slalom competition with time penalties being issued for hitting or missing gates.

The leading national teams from Western Europe, the Eastern Bloc, and North America are expected to enter the 1990 Maryland International to compete for the World Cup Series title. That championship will be determined from the best finishers in two North American and three European races during 1990.

Spectator tickets for the event are now on sale through Ticketron and local ticket outlets throughout Western Maryland including the Book Center in Cumberland, Failinger's Hotel Gunter in Frostburg, Photo-Genics in the Country Club Mall, the Chamber of Commerce in Keyser, W.Va., The Highs Dairy Store in Oakland and Geroge's Deli in McHenry.

Tickets are limited to 6,000 per day because of transportation and river bank space limitations. Ticket prices include the cost of train or bus transportation. There will be no spectator parking on the race site, with satellite parking available at all train and bus staging areas.

Credit card ticket orders and event information can be obtained by calling World Championships, Inc., at 301-387-4282

The Mind Wanders

All The Mail That's Fit To Print
by Sherry Frantz

This week's column is devoted to correspondence — most especially the kind one receives through the mail — and, even more appropriately, the kind that is unsolicited, which, I am sure, accounts for a good two-thirds of the mail we all receive.

The most recent piece of "that kind of mail" I received deserves an honorary place at the top of the list. It was a letter from a major retail store informing me that, since I was a very special customer of theirs, I had been selected to receive a prize.

Now, before I divulge what this wonderful prize is, let me first explain that about a month ago, I got a call from this store telling me I would no longer have charging privileges with them since "You've been late with your payments ELEVEN TIMES, Ms. Frantz!"

Well, excuse me, but I believe I have paid dearly and out both ears for the privilege of being late. I mean — really — I checked my balance to date against the balance I owed a year ago (after having made no purchases in that year) and it was about $20 less, so don't use that tone with me!

I can tell the suspense is mounting, so I'll share with you the store's prize offer to me, their most valued customer: It was a CUBIC ZIRCONIA RING!

How could I have been so lucky as to have won a fake stone when I'd been such a naughty girl? Ain't America great?

Tears of joy still well up inside me when I think about it. Just think of what I could have won if I had written ELEVEN bad checks! (Come to think of it, I have written eleven bad checks.)

Envy will surely overtake you when I relay another of my recent encounters with the mail. I got a sweepstakes letter (which I tossed) and, a few weeks later, another one from the same company arrived telling me I'd been selected as a "first round finalist" in the drawing (which I tossed) and then a third one several weeks later that listed my name as ONE of SEVEN in the final, final drawing. (This one I opened — only to find it was never clearly stated what I had won.) In fact, the whole letter was so ambiguous, I soon became suspicious and tossed that one too.

Hey, I wasn't born yesterday.

This one really confirmed my patriotism. There I was, down to the wire, on the verge of becoming a millionaire after I had survived round after round in the drawing and I had done DIDDLY!

No way could that have happened in Russia.

Let's do one more.

Back in the fall I ordered a pair of pantyhose (which I hate, but since I was again going to be working in an office, thought a pair might come in handy. After all, what's a woman's worth at a desk job if she's not wearing panty hose?).

I've digressed.

So, O.K., I ordered the panty hose which were advertised for a mere one dollar. But I got more than I bargained for because, when the package arrived, lo and behold, there were THREE pairs of panty hose and a note explaining that if I didn't want the extra two pairs at the phenominally low cost of $3.29, I could mail them back! (At my expense, of course).

So I did nothing — except wear one pair and give away the other two because they were a pukey color anyway.

Boy, did I get some letters then — letter after letter after letter until, you guessed it, they turned me over to a collection agency to extract that $3.29 from me.

I took the challenge, and am still waiting to have all my worldly goods repossessed. I might decide to pay the money when I've determined that they've used $3.29 in postage to threaten me.

Or not.

Kinda gives new meaning to "home of the free and the brave," don't you think?

Board Issues Reminder On Registration

The Garrett County Board of Education reminds parents that their children who will be entering school for the first time this fall should be registered soon.

"If you did not register your kindergarten or new first grade student during the recently held pre-registration program, you may do so by contacting the principal of your local school to arrange an appointment. This should be done as soon as possible," stated a Board spokesman.

Parents must take the child's birth certificate, social security card, and immunization records with them at the time of registration.

Any child who will be 6 years of age on or before December 31 of this year must be enrolled in school; and any child who will be 5 years of age on or before December 31 may be enrolled in kindergarten.

Families who are planning to move during the summer should check with the local school or Pupil Services Office to see whether or not the children will be attending the same school this fall. If the new residence places the child in a new school district, it would be better to make the transfer during the summer rather than after school begins, the spokesman said.

the banjo and vocals. A member of the Virginia Country Music Hall of Fame, Emerson was the founder of the "Country Gentlemen" and later enlisted in the Navy to help establish Country Current. He was twice selected by "Muleskinner News" bluegrass magazine as "Banjo Player of the Year."

Persons are invited to bring lawn chairs or blankets for the concert on the grass. In the event of rain, the concert will be given in the college gymnasium. The event marks the opening of the Garrett Lakes Arts Festival summer season. GLAF is funded, in part, by the Garrett County Arts Council and the Maryland State Arts Council.

Local Scouts Participate In "Civil War" Camp

Tri-Valley District recently hosted the 1990 Spring Webelosree held at Ian Reikie's farm, Flintstone. Fifty-seven from throughout the Council participated in two days of activities with a Civil War theme. Packs represented included Pack 70, Swanton, and Pack 49, Grantsville.

After lunch and an opening flag ceremony on Saturday, the Scouts participated in "infantry maneuvers" in preparation for the next day's Civil War battle. Suppers were cooked over open fires and during the following campfire activities 26 boys "crossed the bridge" from Cub Scouting into Boy Scouting. An adult leader portraying Abe Lincoln distributed medals to the scouts.

Sunday morning, the packs broke camp and after a religious service prepared for the battle. The ammunition was water balloons, which were propelled by hand and water cannon.

Adult leaders who organized the outing included Roberta Manning of Deep Creek District and Shelly and David Grapes, Tri-Valley District. This was the second annual spring event exclusively for fourth and fifth grade Cub Scouts.

Tri-Valley District is a part of Potomac Council, BSA, a County United Way agency.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my gratitude and thanks first to my doctor who was treating me for the lung infection and pneumonia following my car accident, to Bill for his thoughtfulness and calling the ambulance, and to all who administered to me there. My hospital care was the very best. The cards, flowers, letters, visits from family, friends and ministers were all appreciated. To Hazel and Ivadine for the tender loving care and to Cathy for the devotion and food provided during my recuperation at home. My sincere and grateful thanks to all. I'll remember you in my prayers.

Zimmerman Files For Judge Of Orphans' Court

George R. Zimmerman, Star Route 2, Oakland, has announced his candidacy for the office of Judge of the Orphans' Court for Garrett County.

Zimmerman is a World War II veteran, having served in the South Pacific with the 7th Division of the U.S. Army, and is now a member of V.F.W. Post 578. He is a member of the Crellin Assembly of God Church. He is a trustee for Woodmen of the World Lodge 11 and will be representing the W.O.W. as a director with the Maryland/DC Fraternal Congress for the next three years. He is also treasurer for the United Community Services, Inc. (Crellin Community Building), and charter member and secretary for the Tablelands Milk Producers, Inc.. He served as a member of Southern Rescue Squad for nine years and has served on the board of Southern States Oakland Cooperative.

After researching the qualifications of the office, Zimmerman says he believes he can render "fair and just decisions" in matters which may arise while performing the duties of this office. He also said serving in this capacity this will give him an opportunity to become better acquainted with the people of the county while performing the duties of the office.

A life-long resident of Garrett County, Zimmerman will be running on the Republican ticket. He resides of a farm near Hutton with his wife, Ellen. They have four children, two sons and a daughter who live in the county and a son serving with the U.S. Navy stationed in San Diego, Calif.

Robert F. Rodeheaver will serve as Zimmerman's treasurer during the election campaign.

Scholarship To GCC Offered To Westvaco Company

An opportunity for the son or daughter of a Westvaco Luke Mill employee to apply for a scholarship to Garrett Community College has been announced by Crystal Filer-Ogden, financial aid officer of the college.

An amount of $1,000 has been given by Westvaco for this purpose. Two scholarships of $400 each to full-time students and $200 to a part-time student have been designated. To be eligible, an applicant must not be receiving any other grant money and must maintain a satisfactory grade point average. Deadline to apply for the Westvaco scholarships July 1.

Applications and further information may be obtained by calling Ms. Filer-Ogden at 387-6666.

Fundamentals Of Applied Art For Seniors Offered

Fundamentals of Applied Art Senior Adults courses are currently being offered by the Continuing Education Division of Garrett Community College.

Three courses focusing on ceramics are currently being offered at three locations in Garrett County. The first course will be held each Friday at Flowery Vale Senior Center in Accident. The second offering will be held each Monday at the Swanton Community Center. The third of these courses will be held at the Oakland Senior Center each Wednesday.

Maryland Senior citizens, persons 60 years of age or older, may attend these courses tuition-free, but must supply their own material. A tuition fee of $10.00 plus materials will be charged for others wishing to enroll.

Prospectve students are encouraged to attend the class of their choice. For more information, they may call 334-8304.

Free Canner Testing Offered

The Garrett County Cooperative Extension Service will again offer free testing of pressure canner gauges at the Extension office in the courthouse. Testing takes about 20 minutes if the agent is in, or the canner lids may be left at the office and picked up later.

The Service recommends that the gauges be tested annual.

Also available at the office is information on canning and free recipes. The office is open Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. (telephone 334-1990).

Filemyr Earns Master's Degree

Steven Filemyr, Mtn. Lake Park, was among 318 individuals who received degrees May 12 during The College of Santa Fe's 41st commencement ceremonies held at Sweeney Center. The class of 1990 was the largest graduating class in the college's history.

Filemyr, son of Harry and Marilyn Filemyr, Mtn. Lake Park, received a master of business adminstration degree.

The College of Santa Fe, in Santa Fe, N.M., is a liberal-arts based institution offering two-year associate, four-year bachelor and graduate master of business administration degree programs.

Boat Registrations Now Performed At Deep Creek Lake

Boat registrations and transfers will now be performed at the Deep Creek Lake Park Office, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

This service will be available on Fridays only, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. until Labor Day. Personnel from the DNR Regional Service Center in Cumberland will be available at the State Park Office to handle the registrations.

"It is DNR's hope that this service will make it more convenient for Deep Creek Lake users to register their boats at a location in the county rather than having to travel to Cumberland," a DNR spokesman said.

For more details concerning this service, persons may contact the Deep Creek Lake State Park Office at 387-5563, or the DNR Regional Service Center in Cumberland at 777-2134.

C&P Seeks To Protect Identities Of Some Callers

C&P of Maryland filed a tariff this week with the Public Service Commission (PSC) which will provide organizations and individuals with unique needs the ability to protect their identities when making telephone calls.

According to C&P spokeswoman Nancy Nemith, "Certain organizations, staff, and volunteers that are certified by the Maryland Department of Human Resources (DHR) as requiring special identification arrangements will receive them at no charge. Others who may require special arrangements include certain federal, state and local law enforcement personnel."

Battered spouse, rape crisis/sexual assault and child abuse programs administered by DHR are eligible for the arrangements proposed in this filing.

Ms. Nemith said the tariff represents the culmination of a commitment C&P made to the Maryland General Assembly to address the concerns expressed by certain individuals and organizations that they need to maintain anonymity and confidentiality.

Evick, Dawson To Play Ball For GCC Lakers

Melinda Evick and Tracy Dawson, both outstanding athletes at Southern High School, have signed letters of intent to play women's basketball for Garrett Community College next fall.

Evick was Southern's top scorer this past season, averaging 11.6 ppg, and also contributed 6.4 rebounds, two assists, and four steals. She was ranked eighth in scoring in the area and was the number four career scorer in Southern's history.

Dawson also contributed to Southern's 12-7 record this past season. The 12th, leading career scorer in Southern history also averaged 8.1 points, 4.6 rebounds and two assists per game. She also received area recognition as the third leading free throw shooter at 70% for the season.

Southern Coach Don Stemple said he enjoyed working with both Tracy and Melinda and felt they "contributed greatly" to Southern's 43-20 record over their three-year careers.

"Melinda was one of our more offensive minded players but she played an excellent all-around game," he said "Tracy, however, was always matched up with the opponent's top scorer, which took away from her offensive concentration." He added, "Both will benefit greatly by attending Garrett. In the right roles, I am sure they will excel. All they need is to gain confidence in their abilities."

GCC Baseball Camp June 11-15

Garrett Community College baseball coach, Lawrence Nesselrodt, issued a reminder this week that the GCC Laker Baseball Camp will be held at the McHenry Campus next week, June 11-15, for area youth ages 7 through 14.

The day camp will run from 9 a.m. to noon each day. The cost is $50 per camper and registration can be accomplished by contacting Nesselrodt at the college (387-6666) or by coming to the college at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

The camp will provide all the fundamentals of baseball and promote the development of individual skills and team play.

Mick Bayle Of GCC Selected All-American

Mick Bayle, freshman first baseman for the Garrett Community College Lakers, has been named a first team All-American by the National Junior College Athletic Association, according to Lawrence Nesselrodt, GCC coach.

Nesselrodt, who received word about Bayle's selection late yesterday, said that he is the first GCC athlete ever to be named a first team All-American. Bayle was one of the nation's leading hitters during the spring season.

Nesselrodt also noted that Bayle was named to the first team All-Region XX and three other Lakers were named to the All-Region XX second team. They are sophomore shortstop Tony Warner, freshman outfielder Buddy Leichliter, and freshman designated hitter D.G. Largent.

More details about Bayle and the other Laker honorees will appear in next week's issue of The Republican.

Central Garrett Drops Three In Bi-State Action

The Central Garrett baseball team dropped three games in a row this past week in Bi-State Pony League action, falling to Ellerslie last Thursday, 13-9, being edged by Hyndman on Monday, 5-3, and being crushed by Lonaconing last evening, 16-3. All three games were played at Northern High School.

Ellerslie wrapped up the game early against Central, scoring eight runs in the first inning. Winning pitcher Larry Kennell's two-run double and a two-run single by Jim Goebel highlighted that inning.

Derrick Mason recorded a home run and a double and Dave Butler added a double to lead Central's seven-hit performance.

A two-run single by Deeman in the sixth inning gave Hyndman the win over Central on Monday. Bingman and Sisk finished with two singles each for the winners, while Anderson rapped two singles for Central.

Lonaconing recorded seven runs in the second inning of last night's contest, and Central was held to just three hits.

Todd Snyder rapped three singles and a double and Justin Kiddy finished with three singles to lead Lonaconing, while Larry Wakefield recorded a double for Central.

After winning their first two games of the season, Central Garrett dropped to 2-3 on the season and will play at Keyser on Friday.

Oakland Opens With Sweep In Pen-Mar Action

The Oakland Oaks opened their Pen-Mar Baseball League season with a bang Sunday afternoon in Keyser, W.Va., by hammering 25 hits and rolling over Keyser in both ends of a doubleheader, 13-2 and 15-2. Keyser managed just four hits on the afternoon against Oakland hurlers Troy Hammonds, Jim Farkas, and Rod Cooper.

Oakland started slowly and was down 2-1 until the fifth inning of the first game, but recorded 12 runs in the final three innings to win easily.

Hammonds allowed only one hit and recorded five strike-outs in going the distance. Leading Oakland's 10-hit effort were manager/player Terry Helbig, one of the senior members of the team, who rapped a double and a single, Buddy Leichliter with a pair of singles, Brad Basinger with a home run, and Lawrence Nesselrodt and Tony Warner who each doubled.

Mark Tysinger was the only Keyser play to hit off Hammonds, a single in the second inning.

Farkas fanned 12 batters in the first six innings of the nightcap for Oakland, while the Oaks smacked 15 hits. Corky Sweitzer went four-for-four on the day, with a two-run homer, two doubles, and a single, while Warner added a two-run blast and a double and Nesselrodt and Phil Carr each singled twice.

Sweitzer's homer and double came in the sixth inning when Oakland scored nine runs after taking a 6-1 lead in the fifth.

PARTICIPATE IN TORCH RUN FOR SPECIAL OLYMPICS — Twelve area police officials recently participated in the 5th Annual Law Enforcement Officers Torch Run For Special Olympics. Over 1,000 officers in the state of Maryland will participate in the run, which started at the Garrett County/ Pennsylvania line on Monday and will conclude at Towson on Friday. The officers will relay an official Olympic torch, symbolizing the eternal flame of hope for Maryland's Special Olympians. This will occur simultaneously across the nation as other officers in other states conduct runs of their own. OBITUARIES

Homer Woodrow Mullenax, 78, Horse Shoe Run, died May 22, 1990, at Ruby Memorial Hospital, Morgantown.

He was born at Parsons May 1, 1912, a son of the late William C. and Ethel Knotts Mullenax.

He was a member of Bethel United Methodist Church at Horse Shoe Run and served the U.S. Army in World War II.

Mr. Mullenax is survived by his wife, Lela Evans Mullenax; also four sons, Allen, Dale and Roger Mullenax, Horse Shoe Run, Ronald Mullenax, Terra Alta; three brothers, John and Roy Mullenax, Horse Shoe Run, and Lawrence Mullenax, Parsons; three sisters, Ellen Stewart, Elkins, Leota Keller, Terra Alta, and Jean Toothman, Fairview; and six grandchildren.

Services were held at the Bethel United Methodist Church on May 24 with the pastor, Rev. Dennis Mahaffie, officiating. Interment followed in the Texas Cemetery, Horse Shoe Run. Hinkle Funeral Home of Davis was in charge of arrangements.

Orval Willard Winters, 68, Clarksburg, died May 30, 1990, while playing volleyball at the First United Methodist Church.

He was a son of Clarence Winters, Clarksburg, and the late Bessie Florence Gnegy Winters and was born February 28, 1922, at Mt. Lake Park.

He attended Oakland schools before moving to Clarksburg as a teenager. In Clarksburg he was active in civic organizations, the Antique Car Club, was retired from Union National Bank, and an active member of the First United Methodist Church.

Besides his father, he is survived by his wife, Joann Summerville Winters; three children, Gary Winters, Clarksburg; Carol Julian, Atlanta, Ga.; and Kristina Winters, Gainesville, Fla.; four brothers, Harold Winters, Columbus, Ohio; Robert and Dale Winters, Clarksburg, and Claude Winters, Eglon; and three grandchildren.

The Revs. Arthur Backus and Harper T. Carlson officiated at the June 2 funeral services held at the First United Methodist Church, Clarksburg. Interment was in Bridgeport Cemetery.

SLAUBAUGH REUNION

The 31st Annual Slaubaugh reunion will be held July 1 at the Mt. Grove Pavilion on U.S. 219. For those who wish to attend services at Mt. Grove Church, Sunday School is at 10:30 with morning worship at 11:15 a.m. A basket dinner will be served at 1 p.m. There will be gifts, games, and prizes for children. All friends and relatives are invited.

NOTICE OF BUILDINGS FOR SALE

Garrett Community College will accept separate sealed bids on 2 buildings constructed at the college during the 1990 school year. Either building would be excellent as a hunting or getaway cabin or a small office building. Both buildings are well insulated, finished with wiring, windows and drywall and are on skids and ready to move.

Description

Building A: This building is 24'x12' and consists of 3 rooms. Room sizes are approximately 11'x14' with closet, 3'x5'10" and 7'9"x8'10". It is frame construction covered with T1-11 siding. The interior is drywall. The building contains 4 windows and 2 doors. Electrical wiring and outlets are installed.

Building B: This building is 24'x12' and consists of 3 rooms. Room sizes are approximately 11'x14' with cathedral ceiling, 8'9"x7'7" and 5'4"x3'1". It is frame construction covered with cedar siding. The interior is drywall. The building contains 4 windows, 2 double hung, one awning, and one 4'x6' picture window, and 2 3'x6'8" doors. Electrical wiring, outlets and light fixtures are installed.

Viewing/Bid Forms

Buildings may be viewed Monday through Friday between 9:00 and 4:00 at Garrett Community College or at other times by appointment. Those wishing to view the building should come to the Continuing Education Office in the Center for Community and Continuing Education at the College. For an appointment, call 387-6666, ext. 169. Bid Forms are available at the Continuing Education Office and must be submitted in person or by mail to the Continuing Education Division, Garrett Community College, McHenry, Maryland, 21541, no later than July 2nd.

Minimum Bid

A minimum bid of $4,500.00 for each building will be required. Only bids received by 9:00 a.m., on July 2, will be considered. Bids will be opened publicly at noon on July 2nd, and high bidders will be immediately notified. 15-3t

Municipality Update

Accident

The Mayor and Town Council of Accident held the regular monthly meeting Monday evening to review and approve the budget for the town of Accident.

The general operating budget has been set at $119, 942.

The general budget includes a capital expenditure to replace the town's grass mowing equipment.

The water and sewer operating budget has been set at $73,810.

The contract with Maryland Environmental Services (MES) for supervising the water and wastewater operations and laboratory testing was approved by the town council.

PROPERTY NUMBERING SYSTEM

An ordinance to uniformly number properties and buildings within the town of Accident was introduced at the meeting.

The system was developed by the fourth/fifth grade class at Accident Elementary School, under the direction of Roseanne Sherwood, teacher.

A summary of the ordinance will be published and copies will soon be available for public review at the Ruth Enlow Library, Accident Branch, and the town clerk's office.

MUNICIPAL PARKING LOT

Work will begin this month to clean up the land area that was the former State Highway Administration (SHA) property on the Accident/Bittinger Road.

The buildings were disassembled and removed from the lot last year.

The property will be used for a municipal parking lot.

PROCLAMATIONS

June 14 was proclaimed as National Flag Day in Accident. The local American Legion Post 208 will coordinate the observance and will fly the American and Maryland flags at the memorial in the Accident Community Park East.

All residents are urged to pause at 7 p.m. for the Pledge of Allegiance and to participate by flying a flag on this day.

Also proclaimed is June 6 as Woodmen of the World Day in appreciation of the contributions made by the society to the community and the nation.

TOWN PARK PAVILION

The facilities in the Accident Community Park West, on Deakin Street, are being well-utilized with many reservations already made for using the pavilions for reunions and picnics.

The Accident Concert Band will present its summer concert in the park in the pavilion on Sunday, July 22, beginning at 5 p.m.

The concert is open to the public and there will be no charge.

The next meeting of the Mayor and Town Council is scheduled for July 2.

SENIOR WRITERS HONORED — The Garrett County Area Agency on Aging and the board of Garrett County commissioners honored local participants in the third annual "Maryland is Beautiful" Senior Citizens' Creative Writing Contest during a luncheon last Thursday at Red Run Inn, Deep Creek Lake. Each participant received a certificate and the county winner, Anne Neville, also received a plaque and a get-away vacation certificate for Bethesda. Mrs. Neville's winning essay will be published in a future issue of The Republican. In the photo above, left to right, are Nita Ridder and Edgar Lotz, participants; Mrs. Neville, County Commissioner Ernie Gregg, and Don Wassmann, deputy director, Maryland State Office on Aging.

Oakland

The Garrett County Commissioners attended the regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland as part of their annual visit to each town within the county.

The commissioners discussed giving assistance on Broadford Park, the Mt. Fresh Produce Market and the tax differential.

As part of a joint effort by Oakland, the Greater Oakland Business Association, the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and the commissioners, a building will be built for the market. Plans are currently underway to construct a building for the market, which will open in mid-August until after the first frost, selling locally grown, fresh produce.

The town council will make a decision on whether to ask the commissioners for a tax differential by June 18.

TOWN BUDGET

The council adopted the town's budget of $1,301,575, which is based on the tax rate which has been in effect for several years.

The general budget has been set at $689,621, for operation of the Oakland City Police Department, the Oakland Road's Department and general operating expenditures.

The water budget has been set at $378,133 and the sewer budget has been set at $233,821.

ANNEXATION

The council approved a petition to annex a new subdivision which is to be constructed in the Dennett Road area. The subdivision will be called Oak Breeze.

Property owners will be contacted by the town to determine if the property owners are interested in being annexed by Oakland.

The next meeting of the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland is scheduled for July 2.

Kitzmiller

The Mayor and Town Council of Kitzmiller met last Thursday evening for the regular monthly meeting. The meeting was moved to Thursday as the normal meeting day was a scheduled holiday, Memorial Day.

The council voted not to pursue the tax differential with the county.

The council sent a letter to the State Highway Administration requesting that the "Welcome to Maryland" sign, located within Kitzmiller corporate limits, be moved.

The sign currently blocks the view of motorists turning from East Main Street on to Rt. 38. The SHA will send a representative to the town to discuss the moving of the sign.

The council has also requested that the SHA raise the speed limit along Rt. 38 from the current limit of 40 m.p.h.

The SHA is conducting a survey, which will be completed in August.

The Mayor and Town Council are continuing work on completing the 1990-91 Fiscal Year budget report.

The next meeting of the Mayor and Town Council is scheduled for June 25.

MARY HAD A LITTLE BOY

Mary had a little boy, his soul was white as snow;
He never went to Sunday School, 'cause Mary didn't go!
He never heard the tales of Christ, that thrill the childish mind,
While other children went to class, this child was left behind.
As he grew from babe to youth, she saw to her dismay,
A soul that once was snowy white, became a dingy gray.
Realizing he was lost, she tried to win him back,
But now the soul that once was white, had turned to ugly black.
She even then went back to church and Bible study, too.
She begged the preacher, "Isn't there a thing that you can do?"
The preacher tried — failed and said "We're just too far behind,
I tried to tell you years ago, but you would pay no mind.
And so another soul is lost, that once was white as snow."
Sunday School could have helped, but Mary wouldn't go!

UNEXPLAINED WEIGHT LOSS PUZZLES SCIENTISTS

FINLAND - The unexpected weight loss experienced by members of a test group has puzzled medical researchers at a leading Finnish university. Scientists were testing a naturally-occurring compound for its ability to lower blood cholesterol levels when, to their surprise, they found that every person who took the formula had lost a significant amount of weight.

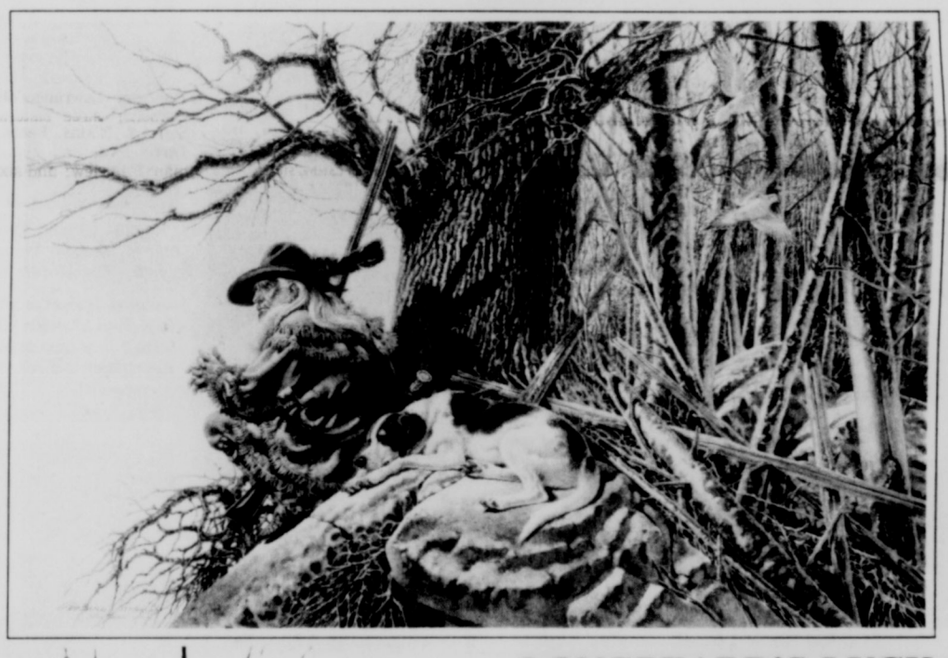
The formula was then tested at another prestigious European university hospital. Again, all patients lost weight even though they did not change their eating habits. The report detailing this study, published in the British Journal of Nutrition, stated: "Body weight was significantly reduced even though the patients were specifically asked not to alter their dietary habits."

While it is still not entirely clear how the formula induces weight loss, some scientists believe this compound actually alters the way the body digests food: when taken before mealtime it bonds with food and suppresses calorie absorption. Unabsorbed calories would pass through and out of the digestive system.

The formula is marketed in capsule form in the United States under the trade name Cal-Ban 3000. A firm located in Tampa, Florida has exclusive North American distribution rights to Cal-Ban 3000. A company spokesman reported that the formula is 100% natural and has been clinically tested for safety. Review of the customer files of this company revealed the names of hundreds of people who have lost as much as 20, 40 or 80 or more pounds overall with Cal-Ban 3000. This appears to be a golden opportunity for people who are plagued by fat and cellulite that they can't seem to lose by conventional methods.

Cal-Ban 3000 is reasonably priced at $19.95 for a 3-week supply and $38.95 for a 6-week supply. Postage and handling is $3. VISA, MC, AMEX and COD orders are accepted. To order call TOLL-FREE 1-800-537-3723 or purchase locally at Englander's Pharmacy, 205 E. Alder, Oakland, MD or Friendsville Pharmacy, 248 Maple St., Friendsville, MD.

A Gift For Dad That Will Last Forever



LONGBEARD'S LUCK

Stepping out of the winter woods, a long-bearded hunter with his long-bearded prey pauses for a moment's rest, secure in the knowledge that tonight he and his companions waiting at their campsite by the river will feast.

This frontiersman may have traveled from the far north, his knit cap and Hudson's Bay Company blanket capote showing French-Canadian influence. That coat has four short indigo marks or points underneath the front flap indicating the value in prime beaver pelts of the blanket from which it was made. Worn over clothing and footwear made from buckskin, it has proven its worth in this harsh winter of hunting and trapping down the narrow valley of the icy Ohio River.

Shown recreating the hunter in this painting is a native of the Ohio Valley, a steelworker today who would have fared quite well had he been born two centuries ago. He makes his historically accurate clothing and tells of its superiority to its modern equivalent in warmth and durability, camps in the style common to the eighteenth century, and hunts with the muzzleloader, relishing the challenge of its limited firepower forcing the pursuer to match wits and woodcraft with his prey.

Glen Barnes has for nearly thirty years lived in New Martinsville, West Virginia, an Ohio River town in the Western foothills of the great Appalachian mountain chain. An artist who has always preferred to work in a realistic, almost photographic style, Barnes has chosen to record events which occurred in an age before photography. Using models who have retained the appearance, personality, and sometimes the lifestyle of their forebears, and doing careful research so that clothing and equipment shown would have been appropriate for the last half of the eighteenth century, he creates a visual record of a little known but colorful period of our nation's history.

Tax Credit

these seven manufacturing firms amounts to $2,462,613.70. This new equipment investment resulted in total tax credits of approximately $27,000 being granted to the qualifying firms.

Commissioner John G. Braskey stated, "This tax credit has proved to be a valuable addition to the financial incentives we offer new and expanding manufacturers. Garrett County currently offers one of the most attractive financing programs around for these vital manufacturing employers."

Commissioner Chairman Ernest J. Gregg, Jr. was also pleased with the results, stating, "We are extremely pleased with the response to the tax credit program. The aggregate investment by these firms shows that Garrett County companies are aggressively modernizing their equipment to maintain those vital manufacturing jobs."

BRING IN THE CLOWNS — Several Garrett Lakes Arts Festival board members were introduced this week to the art of clowning, or at least the required make-up, by local residents Dave and Darlene Terlizzi, for whom clowning is an avocation. The Terlizzis taught the ladies how to apply their make-up for the GLAF's Circus Gala, slated for Saturday, June 23, at the McHenry House, Wisp Resort. All residents and summer guests are urged to attend the dinner/dance and auction of art which are held annually to benefit the musical, theatrical, and other performing arts programs sponsored by GLAF. In the photo above, seated left to right, are GLAF board members Jenianne Shift, Nancy Nemith, Ann Englander, Charity Janssen, Ginger Gehr, and Diane Thayer. Standing are Dave and Darlene Terlizzi. Tickets for the Gala are available from Ann Englander who can be reached at 334-2515.

Loggers Field Day, Expo Set For June 15-16

Western Maryland's first annual Loggers and Forestry Field Day, set for Friday and Saturday, June 15 and 16, at the Garrett County Fairgrounds in McHenry, will feature more than 30 forestry industry exhibitors, but it is also being billed as a family event with continuous music, prizes drawings, refreshments, and special attractions also scheduled.

Running from noon to 8 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, the field day is sponsored by the Maryland Forests Association and will feature horse logging demonstrations, chain saw competitions and "old time" steam powered equipment. There will also be crafts and educational fishery and forestry exhibits.

Admission to this event is $5, which entitles the purchaser and his family access to the Field Day on both days and also qualifies for entry into door prize drawings each day. In addition, the first 1,200 persons purchasing advance tickets will receive a baseball cap imprinted with the words "Western Maryland Loggers/Forestry Field Day."

Field day participants will also be able to vote for their favorite poster in a "People's Choice" poster contest with entries from Garrett public school students (K-8) who submitted posters under the theme, "Man and Forests Working Together." There are $100 savings bond prizes for poster contest winners in three categories: grades K-3, grades 6-8, and the "Peoples Choice." Visitors may vote by coins in appropriate cans near each poster entry with all proceeds going to the Garrett County Habitat for Humanity.

Billed as the largest exhibit of its kind in the area, the Loggers and Forestry Field Day will have suppliers demonstrating the latest in trucks, skidders, loaders and other forestry related equipment. There will also be chainsaw safety and maintenance workshops, Maryland Department of Transportation truck safety inspections, and Maryland hunting and trapping tips. For more information, persons may call 387-4588 or 729-2121.

M. Josephine Long, Accident, announced this week that she will seek her third team as a Republican candidate for judge of the Garrett County Orphans' Court.

A life-long resident of Garrett County, she is a member of the Northern Garrett County Republican Women's Club and a member of the Maryland Association of the Judges of the Orphans' Court of Maryland. Mrs. Long is familiar with the Maryland Code State and Trust Laws, attending seminars in Annapolis for the association twice a year.

Mrs. Long is the mother of three children: Linda North, Manassas, Va.; James Dunithan, Manassas Park, Va.; and Melvin Dunithan, Friendsville. She is a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Deer Park.

Lions Receive More Donations For Grantsville Days; Sat. Events Noted

The Grantsville Lions Club, coordinator of the annual Grantsville Days, recently received checks totalling $2,850 from several Grantsville businesses and individuals to help pay for the annual Saturday night fireworks and entertainment at Grantsville Days on June 23.

Casselman Lumber and Diehl's Ford, sponsors of last year's event, and Tom and Pat Schroyer each donated $500 toward the fireworks display and Liberty Bank donated $350 which will pay for the musical entertainment that same evening by Perry Kamp and Company.

Other events on Saturday will include the Bluegrass bands, featuring Dick Yoder of WFRB Radio as MC. Paul McCloud, WXIE disc jockey, will also entertain.

The annual Tractor Pulling Contest will begin at noon, with weigh-in between 9:30 a.m. and noon. Interested participants can call 895-5797 or 895-5371 between 5 and 8 p.m. for further information. Also this year, along with the tractors, there will be a new event — a truck pulling contest.

Food sales will begin at noon with the annual Lions chicken barbecue and other local organizations selling hamburgers, hot dogs, French fries, pies, apple fritters and sausage sandwiches. There will also be an assortment of games sponsored by the Grantsville Fire Department and a junior tennis tournament, horseshoe pitching tournament, basketball 3 on 3 tournament, and other games for children of all ages.

Any group or individual desiring a booth at Grantsville Days should contact booth chairman, Walt Schoenian,at 689-9442 or Gerry Beachy at 895-5177 or 826-8204. There is still space available for food vendors, crafters, and other booths.

Drug Charges

Sheriff's Department, where she is being held without bail. She was represented by Robert C. Hesson.

In an unrelated case, Benjamin (Butch) N. Wilt, 36, Oakland, pleaded guilty to two counts of distribution of marijuana. The charges stemmed from an incident that occurred in September 1989 at Erv's Place, Deer Park, when Wilt sold marijuana to Tfc. John R. Thomas and Tfc. Brian Moser, both of the Maryland State Police.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Wilt was represented by John R. Toston.

In a separate case, Randy M. Mayle, 30, McHenry, pleaded guilty to charges of distribution of marijuana. The charges stemmed from a August 1989 incident that occurred at Erv's Place in Deer Park where Mayle sold marijuana to Tfc. John R. Thomas.

Mayle was sentenced to the Department of Corrections for one year. He was represented by Robert C. Hesson.

In an unrelated case, William M. Golden, 18, Hancock, pleaded guilty to an escape charge after waiving the right to a jury trial. He was sentenced to the Department of Corrections for three years, two years suspended, and to one year in the Garrett County Jail, transferred to Washington County Detention Center. He was also sentenced to two years supervised probation.

The charge stemmed from an incident that occurred in January, when Golden escaped from the Backbone Mountain Youth Center and was arrested by Tfc. J. K. Moore, Maryland State Police. He was represented by John R. Toston.
